

1-1-2016

What is a Fairytale

Brittany Bustos
University of the Pacific

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/calliope>

Part of the Poetry Commons

Recommended Citation

Bustos, Brittany (2016) "What is a Fairytale," Calliope: Vol. 47 , Article 24.
Available at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/calliope/vol47/iss1/24>

This Poem is brought to you for free and open access by the College of the Pacific Journals at Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Calliope by an authorized editor of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

WHAT IS A FAIRYTALE

BRITTANY BUSTOS

Once upon a dream,
Is when we met,
Almost like Cinderella and the charm.
A poor girl,
Who just wanted to be
Pretty as a princess,
A girl who lives in a castle,
With the man every girl wants to spend the rest of life with.
We danced through life,
As if evil could never look through our eyes.
We blocked them out so no one could make us see otherwise.
We were so in love,
Every affection was true.
And in that moment,
Was when I realized,
Fairytales do exist,
Cinderella wasn't some fictional lie,

I loved this charm, I never wanted it to die.
Then the days and nights went by,
My charm started doing more important things,
Work, friends, even the hours at the gym,
Was no match for my princess looks.
Kisses and hugs didn't help either,
He was satisfied with a peck,
Then went to lift some weights.
One night I sat,
Alone in my bed while you went to get a drink,
And thought to myself,
Fairytale are never like this,
This happy ever after,
Is something that doesn't exist,
If all you feel at the end of the day
Is lonely and depressed.