Members of the Rotary club of Klamath Falls and their wives will be guests of the Tule Lake Council and of the administrative staff tonight.

The guests will be taken on a tour of the Project and then proceed to dining hall $1520 for dinner followed by a program of entertainment.

Plans for disseminating information regarding various phases of co-op organization were begun last week.

According to present plans, two leaders will be selected in each block. They will learn the fundamentals of co-op organization for the purpose of educating their respective block residents. These leaders will be the nucleus of the organization and will serve as such to the advisory board.

Each ward will select one representative to serve on the advisory board, known as the Provisional Advisory Council and will act purely in an advisory capacity.

They will meet with Kendall Smith, community enterprise supervisor, and his staff to discuss matters pertaining to canteen management. The board will thus act as a liaison body.

Non-uniformity of menus in the City's dining halls is due to the whim of the cooks who prepare the food to their liking, explained Luther Stults, Chief Steward.

According to the menus which are made up a week ahead of time, food is delivered to each mess hall daily.

Some cooks may prepare the food Japanese style, while others may use the same food American style.

As a further complication, food which may be used for the noon meal in one dining hall will be used for the evening meal in some other halls.

Stults hopes to have things organized so that eventually uniform meals will prevail in over every dining hall throughout the City.

Silverware will soon be supplied to the dining halls which have none at the present, Stults stated. The supply has been ordered, but because of the scarcity of silverware, the shipment has been delayed. It is expected any day. Stults, said.

Gila River is already being occupied by former residents of Curlick assembly center.

***

NOTE: Project director of the Arizona center is Eastburn R. Smith, who has a staff of former trainees at Tule Lake such as: George Commond, Morton Gaba, Robert Yeaton, and Foster Goss. Gaba was instrumental in the birth of THE DISPATCH.

2 BABIES BORN OVER WEEK-END

Two additions were made to Tule Lake's tot-ten over the weekend.

A six-pound, one-ounce boy was born to Yasuo and Fumi Oda, #3505-D, Sunday at 11:43 p.m.

On Monday at 3:35 a.m. a six-pound, four-ounce boy was born to Harry and Arlene Iwafushi, #2315-B. Both are conspicuous firsts.

STUDENT WELFARE WORKERS VISIT

Mrs. Homer L. Morris of Philadelphia, and Mr. Walter Belderson of Berkeley, visited the City Friday. Mrs. Morris is a member of the American Friends Service Committee, and Mr. Belderson is on the National Student Recreation Council.

NEW CANTENE

HOURS ANNOUNCED

The new business hours for the four canteens in the administration area went into effect today. They are: from 8:30 to 11:45 a.m. and 12:15 to 5 p.m.
OF PARASOLS AND SWEAT...

JAPANESE people are well known for their love of nature and their ability to see and feel beauty in small delicate things—in nature, as well as in human relations. Which make them poets of one shade or another. An outlet for their emotional disturbances the Japanese people have evolved a simple pattern of poetry in which one may express himself in 17 memory lines, called "haiku," examples of which are found in the adjoining column.

These haiku poems, written by elderly issei as mental recreation for their enforced retirement here, are sadly disappointing in their depth of feeling and expression on the topics chosen.

We are told that haiku poems are comparable to sketches in drawing and that the purely physical incident or feeling is caught "in a person’s daily life. Even then, sketches could be these drawn by kindergarten artists and curves drawn by Rembrandt, Uccello, Michelangelo;"

Perhaps it is expecting too much and too finely to see classics coming out of the literary minds of the colonists yet, but one thing we must always remember is that anything we write or say should be written or said so that it will become a human document of a group of people making a page of history in the United States.

There is beauty in gay parasols, sure enough, but there is a deeper significance in the woman who wants to look beautiful with a parasol in her hand even on a hot dusty camp road. "If you properly may be beautiful, but there is a greater beauty in the perspiration coming out of the face of a cook in front of a hot stove on a scorching day trying to bake pies for his hungry diners, or sweat on the dusty face of a Project farmer."

Physical beauty is common place; "Spiritual beauty stirs heart: everlasting." H.M.I.

THE DAILY TULEAN DISPATCH
Tuesday, Aug. 4, 1942

Staff:
Editorial Board...Frank Tanabe, Howard
Imazuoki, C. T. Watanabe

Features Editor.............Masami Wasa

Literary Editor.............Tobio Nakamura

Women's Editor.............Sane Tsuchi

Sports Editor.............Toki Fujii, Kunio Okami

Art.............Yasuo Inano, Maro Nakagoshi

Professor Emeritus........Stanley Sugiyama

Reporters.............Harry Nagao, Bryan Mayeda,

Hiroshi Kamata, Yone Kurotsuki, Bara Kazuhisa

Circulation.............Tom Sanba, Aki Ito, Ikuji

Mimeograph.............Ken Murakami, Masao Ogawa

Office.............Toki Murata, Hilo Hisagumo,

and Masayo, Saito

VOLUME III NUMBER 16

EDITORIAL PAGE

Aug. 4, 1942

PERSPIRATION

Palm tree mo
Mago no kyoen
Igo no hito
Shunyo

Flowers of Goh
So absorbed they notice not
The scent they wipe

Ase ni tae
Chiri ni teto
Kyumuzu
Hidojo

Bearing the dry dust
And the sweat so patiently
In the camp we live.

VOLUME III NUMBER 16

Of PARASOLS AND SWEAT...

THE JAPANESE people are well known for their love of nature and their ability to see and feel beauty in small delicate things—in nature, as well as in human relations. Which make them poets of one shade or another. An outlet for their emotional disturbances the Japanese people have evolved a simple pattern of poetry in which one may express himself in 17 memory lines, called "haiku," examples of which are found in the adjoining column.

These haiku poems, written by elderly issei as mental recreation for their enforced retirement here, are sadly disappointing in their depth of feeling and expression on the topics chosen.

We are told that haiku poems are comparable to sketches in drawing and that the purely physical incident or feeling is caught "in a person’s daily life. Even then, sketches could be these drawn by kindergarten artists and curves drawn by Rembrandt, Uccello, Michelangelo;"

Perhaps it is expecting too much and too finely to see classics coming out of the literary minds of the colonists yet, but one thing we must always remember is that anything we write or say should be written or said so that it will become a human document of a group of people making a page of history in the United States.

There is beauty in gay parasols, sure enough, but there is a deeper significance in the woman who wants to look beautiful with a parasol in her hand even on a hot dusty camp road. "If you properly may be beautiful, but there is a greater beauty in the perspiration coming out of the face of a cook in front of a hot stove on a scorching day trying to bake pies for his hungry diners, or sweat on the dusty face of a Project farmer."

Physical beauty is common place; "Spiritual beauty stirs heart: everlasting." H.M.I.

THE DAILY TULEAN DISPATCH
Tuesday, Aug. 4, 1942

Staff:
Editorial Board...Frank Tanabe, Howard
Imazuoki, C. T. Watanabe

Features Editor.............Masami Wasa

Literary Editor.............Tobio Nakamura

Women's Editor.............Sane Tsuchi

Sports Editor.............Toki Fujii, Kunio Okami

Art.............Yasuo Inano, Maro Nakagoshi

Professor Emeritus........Stanley Sugiyama

Reporters.............Harry Nagao, Bryan Mayeda,

Hiroshi Kamata, Yone Kurotsuki, Bara Kazuhisa

Circulation.............Tom Sanba, Aki Ito, Ikuji

Mimeograph.............Ken Murakami, Masao Ogawa

Office.............Toki Murata, Hilo Hisagumo,

and Masayo, Saito

VOLUME III NUMBER 16

EDITORIAL PAGE

Aug. 4, 1942

PERSPIRATION

Palm tree mo
Mago no kyoen
Igo no hito
Shunyo

Flowers of Goh
So absorbed they notice not
The scent they wipe

Ase ni tae
Chiri ni teto
Kyumuzu
Hidojo

Bearing the dry dust
And the sweat so patiently
In the camp we live.

VOLUME III NUMBER 16

Editorial Page

Aug. 4, 1942

PERSPIRATION

Palm tree mo
Mago no kyoen
Igo no hito
Shunyo

Flowers of Goh
So absorbed they notice not
The scent they wipe

Ase ni tae
Chiri ni teto
Kyumuzu
Hidojo

Bearing the dry dust
And the sweat so patiently
In the camp we live.
NOTED SCHOLAR PLEASED

WRA OFFICIALS HERE

CONSIDERATE-ICHIHASHI

Appreciation for the consideration shown him by the W.R.A. officials of Tule Lake, especially by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Friedman of the Housing department, on his arrival this week from Santa Anita assembly center was expressed by Dr. Yamato Ichihashi, professor of Japanese Civilization, on leave from Stanford University.

"My wife and I arrived at Klamath Falls late in the evening of July 25," Dr. Ichihashi related, "and we were warmly surprised to find Mr. and Mrs. Friedman waiting for us at the station with their car. We were first taken to a block occupied by doctors because Mr. Friedman thought that I was a medical doctor."

On learning that he wasn't an M.D., but a Ph. D from Harvard, Mrs. Friedman suggested a quiet quarter in #7307-D, away from the noise and dust of the crowd, where she and Mr. Ichihashi and wife make bed for the night. The professor, who is 64, said he was deeply touched.

The noted resident of the City likes the place, the air, and particularly the neighbors who are "showing me all kinds of kindness since my coming here," Dr. Ichihashi said.

"The administration had the knack of keeping us informed through the back members of the DISPATCH. The professor noted the warm humanliness in all statements issued by the administration so far. "This is as it should be," Dr. Ichihashi continued. "If they want to have any sort of cooperative management in a project like this where the Japanese people are involved. The Japanese are a proud people. You cannot rule them with a club. When treated well, they know when and how to reciprocate."

The eminent scholar named residents of Tule Lake against doing anything which would hurt the confidence already placed in them by the local administration. Further, cooperate with the administration to make Tule Lake a better place to live in for themselves and for their children, he said.

KRISTOVITCH TO ASSIST JACOBY

Peter Kristovitch arrived last week to assist Harold S. Jacoby in the interior security department. He will be in charge of the wardens.

At the present time 95 per cent of the wardens are on duty on an eight-hour shift. Additional men are to be added on the staff by Kristovitch to assure greater safety of the residents.

NOTARY SERVICE

Notary service is available to those needing much assistance by leaving their name and address with Aiko Takagi, receptionist at the Administration building.

At the present time a notary public from Alturas will come whenever enough people are signed up.

NAMES AND SLOGANS WANTED

MAGAZINE PLANNED

Two large boxes of delicious chocolate candies have been offered by the DISPATCH in exchange for the two snappiest names and accompanying slogans for the new bi-weekly magazine supplement to be published by the DISPATCH.

Winning contestants will not only win the prizes but will have the distinction of naming the first magazine to appear in any of the centers.

Names should be submitted to the publication office at #308 by Wednesday, Aug. 12.

Features include short stories, poems, cartoons, and impressionistic sketches are solicited by the publication. Feature articles should not exceed 900 words and short stories, not more than 1100.

For further details, see John Nakamura, editor of the magazine.

TIMEKEEPERS MOVE OFFICE

The timekeeping and posting unit of the Personnel Record section has been moved to offices at #717 C and D effective, August 1.

All timekeepers and a staff of posting clerks will maintain headquarters in this building. Thorough study is being made to arrange for adequate and complete time keeping. Further details will be announced later.

YWCA OFFICIAL VISITOR HERE

Ann M. Gla. Gaytan of the National Board of the Y.W.C.A. is here for a few day's visit as consultant on community service and group work.
drafting and advanced needlecraft classes will open Monday, Aug. 10. All those interested please register at #4508 during the hours of 9-11 a.m. and 2-4 p.m., 7-9 p.m. from Aug. 5 through Aug. 9.

Classes in woodcraft will begin on Aug. 4 in #2208. Classes will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The instructor will be Masami Sado. All those interested are asked to bring their own knife and wood.

Music... lessons of all types are being given. All those interested please register at #2508, the Music building.

Flower...arrangement and artificial flower making classes will begin on Aug. 3.

Wednesday: 7-9 p.m. at Mess 71, Wards 17 and YH, #4008-Wards I and II, #5008-Wards II and III and VI.

Thursday: 9-11 a.m. and 7-9 p.m. at Mess 71, #5008.

Tri-Statc League: Small Frys Lead

Small Frys strengthened their chances for the Tri-State title when they pushed past the Hospital ten by 10-4 scores last Saturday.

With a clean record of five wins, the Frys have only to meet in remaining games, the Jinx and Co-Getters, to hold down the sixth and eighth spots in the league standings at the present time.