FOOD COST REVEALED

Cost of feeding the colonist in Tule Lake was 40 cents per person daily for the month of June, according to a report from the Army quartermaster received by the administration. This was estimated on the supply furnished to 11,000 persons.

Scarcity of food in July was explained partly when it was disclosed that in the latter part of last month almost 15,000 colonists divided the supply intended for 11,000 persons.

CLOTHING PLAN BEING WORKED OUT

The community welfare division is working out plans to guarantee clothing and other essentials to those in need of them and unable to provide for themselves.

Louise Halle, social welfare supervisor, states that Project Director Elmer L. Shirrell, Senior Administrative Officer Fred Conner, Chief, Internal Security Harold S. Jacoby, Chief of Community Services, Paul Fleming have held conferences to iron out details and further information regarding clothing, will be given later. Distribution of essentials will be based on the persons need for them.

ENOUGH COAL FOR WINTER

Assurance that there will be plenty of coal for heating purpose in the winter was made by Mortimer Goode, chief of transportation and supply, when he told the Community Council that a contract for delivery of 57,600 tons of coal has been signed. Ten carloads of coal will arrive in Tule Lake daily before the cold weather sets in.

Siegasthousand iron stoves for burning coal in apartments and various buildings in the Colony have already been received here.

To keep out stray dogs, registration of dogs owned by residents was discussed by the Council.

SPEAKING OF THE WEATHER:

WINTER COMES EARLY AT TULE LAKE

That the residents must be prepared for an early winter was evident if the data received by the Agricultural department from Tulelake are to be taken as a norm. The town of Tulelake is six miles from the Ocean.

According to the statistics of the past 10 years, Jack Frost makes his debut normally around August 25, and the cold spell continues until around the first week of June. Snow can be expected anytime between November and April. Highest recorded temperature in Tulelake during the last decade is 99 degrees in 1936, while the lowest on record is 27 degrees below, set in 1932. With the exception of 1936 and 1940, the thermometer has dropped below the zero mark annually.

A high of 14.42 inches was recorded last year on the rain-gauge, with the average rainfall of the past 10 years standing around 10 inches. The gauge shows that the 10.1 inches mark is reached so far for this year. The wind is generally from the northwest, and occasionally shifts to the southeast. Although much depends on the kind of crop and the planting time, the average growing season is roughly 60 days.
Four hundred and fifty bottles of formula are prepared daily in the Formula Kitchen, #720, it was learned today by the DISPATCH.

Operated exclusively for the benefit of babies under the age of 10 months, strict rules are in existence. One must wipe his feet before entering and the floor is so clean that one could actually eat off of it.

A staff of one registered nurse and eleven formula aids prepare and bottle the formula and then deliver it to the mess halls where it is distributed.

Thirteen gallons of formula solution, 90 cans of condensed milk and 106 lbs. of syrup are used daily to make the formula which sustains about 90 babies of the city.

Besides handling formula, this kitchen also provides milk to the seven nurseries of the city. Twenty gallons of milk are supplied daily.

WELL EQUIPPED HOSPITAL PROTECTS TULEANS' HEALTH

The hospital service of the Tulean project is still in stages of development. However, there are already offered, to the community many services which are not understood or are incompletely understood by many of the citizens. Primarily, there is the hospital, offering through its staff of 15 physicians and surgeons, and 2 interns, complete medical and surgical care. Assisting this staff are 9 registered nurses, 12 student nurses, 17 orderlies and 58 nurses' aides.

Included in other divisions of the hospital are 13 registered pharmacists, 12 laboratory technicians, 12 dentists, two x-ray techs and two dental techs.

Although orderlies and nurses' aides, in some cases, have had some preliminary training in reception centers, that training is being augmented and intensified in regular classes held under the supervision of the nursing staff at the hospital. The medical staff and the pharmacy staff also, contribute courses to those two groups.

There are doctors, nurses and orderlies, as well as pharmacists, laboratory technicians, hospital drivers, block managers and all others serving the functions of the hospital on duty 24 hours of the day.

The hospital itself is designed for 225 beds. A small psychopathic ward is under construction. Also proposed is a new outpatient department. The present outpatient department is making use of facilities ordinarily designed for doctors' quarters. Although the arrangement is temporary and awkward, between 300 and 400 patients daily are being given service in the combined clinics. The eight wards include: Tuberculosis, obstetrics, pediatrics, men's surgical, men's medical, women's surgical, women's medical and isolation.

Sub-divisions of the various clinics operate in each block manager's office together with schedules of the times specific clinics are held.

A recent innovation is the addition of taxi service through hospital care and ambulance, designed to bring those patients unable to walk, or for mothers with infants to the clinics. Passes for this service may be obtained from your block manager.

In a later article the functions of the various clinics will be discussed. There is a well-organized pharmacy department where prescriptions for all standard drugs can be prepared. Special drugs are obtained only under very restrictive conditions. Representative numbers of the pharmacists are on duty 24 hours a day. The laboratory is also open 24 hours a day.

The number of prescriptions have increased from three or four a day when the project was first opened to the present number of about 150. Besides this volume of work, the hospital wards have their pharmaceuticals supplied from the pharmacy.

CRUCIAL NATIONAL GAME SATURDAY

It will be a crucial do-or-die battle Saturday night when the undefeated Yogores face the once-beaten Double Shuffles as the National League race grows tighter.

Frys Win 18-8
Near Title

Baring an upset, the Small Frys seem destined to become the undefeated champions of the Tri-State League, as they won their sixth straight game at the expense of the Jinx 18 to 8.

First two innings appeared to be a walk away for the Frys as they tallied eight runs and held the Jinx scoreless. But the losers came back in the third and fourth cantos to score eight times while limiting the opponents to one and it looked as if a battle was on. However the Small Frys were not to be denied and they rallied by pushing across nine runs in the final innings.

Oregonians Down All-Stars II-4

Oregonians left the California All-Stars sitting alone in the National League cellar as they rallied their way to an 11 to 4 victory in a hardball game Wednesday. The Stars pushed one run across in the first and two in the second to hold a 3 to 0 edge, but a nine-run outburst by the Oregonians in the third stanza cinched the game.
