Symposium
Local to Global: Rethinking Spheres of Authority
After a World Financial Crisis

Local to Global: Rethinking Spheres of Authority After a World
Financial Crisis: An Introduction
Franklin A. Gevurtz ................................................................. 1

Regulating for the Next Financial Crisis
Charles K. Whitehead ............................................................. 3

Society of American Law Teachers (SALT)
Teaching Conference

Teaching in a Transformative Era: Selected Essays from the Society of American Law Teachers Teaching Conference
Raquel Aldana and Hazel Weiser ............................................. 35

Using Comparative and Transnational Corporate Law to Teach Corporate Social Responsibility
Franklin A. Gevurtz ................................................................. 39

Transforming Students, Transforming Self: The Power of Teaching
Social Justice Struggles in Context
Raquel Aldana ........................................................................ 53

Online, Distance Legal Education as an Agent of Social Change
Michael L. Perlin ..................................................................... 95

Promoting Social Justice Values and Reflective Legal Practice in Chinese Law Schools
Brian K. Landsberg ................................................................ 107

Experiential Learning Through Community Lawyering: A Proposal for Indian Legal Education
Supriya Routh ........................................................................ 115
The Role of Law Schools in Educating Judges to Increase Access to Justice
Sande L. Buhai, Ved Kumari, Amari Omaka C., Stephen A. Rosenbaum, Supriya Routh, and Anne Taylor................................................................. 161

Brandeis Institute for International Judges (BIIJ)

Toward an International Rule of Law / 2010 Report........................................... 201

Comments

The Human Right of Sanitation for All: A Study of India
Rebecca M. Coleman .............................................................................................. 267

Lindsay I. McCarrl .................................................................................................. 303

The Niger Delta and Human Rights Lawsuits: A Search for the Optimal Legal Regime
Micaela L. Neal ...................................................................................................... 343

Re-imagining the Wheel: Seeking a Feasible International Regime to Protect Indigenous Cultural Expressions Through Trademark Law
Jimmy Pak............................................................................................................. 381

BlackBerry’s Jam: Research In Motion’s Struggle to Protect Smartphone Users’ Internet Privacy Highlights Need for Shared Industry Standards
Darren R. Sweetwood ............................................................................................ 411

Better than a Thousand Hollow Words Is One Word that Brings Peace: Enforcing Article 49(6) of the Fourth Geneva Convention Against Israeli Settlements in the Occupied Palestinian Territory
Bianca Watts ......................................................................................................... 443