COLLEGE OF THE PACIFIC, STOCKTON, CALIFORNIA, MARCH, 1932

No. 4

Highlights of Pacific

The College of the Pacific is the only co-educational denominational College of Liberal Arts in an area 1000 miles long and 800 miles wide between Los Angeles and Albany, Oregon, and between the Pacific Ocean and Salt Lake City.

High School Area Served

It serves the largest area, from the standpoint of high school population, of any college in the United States. This area extends from Chico to Fresno, and from Reno to Berkeley. In it are 90 high schools with a total enrollment of 28,294. California is credited with the fastest growing high schools of any state in the Union, with an enrollment of half a million students, which indicates Pacific's opportunity.

Included in the same area are three Junior Colleges, with a total enrollment of 3411, from which come many to Pacific for upper class work.

Pacific has no competition in its class on account of this strategic location. The enrollment has increased from 448 to more than 800 since it located in Stockton.

Accredited Rating

The academic standards of the institution have been consistently raised, and Pacific has now the highest accredited rating possible. It is a member of the Association of American Colleges and is included on the accredited list of the Association of American Universities. It is also on the approved list of the American Association of University Women which entitles all women graduates of the College to active membership in the organization. The Pacific Conservatory of Music was one of fourteen institutions on the initial list of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Increased Upper Division Enrollment

Registration figures this semester show that the enrollment of the senior class is larger than that of any other class. When President Knoles came to Pacific 13 years ago, more than half of the student body was in the lower division classes.

The development of the curriculum for upper division and graduate students and the addition of the teacher training facilities are contributing factors to the increase in upper division enrollment. The graduate students at Pacific this year number 108. With 90 graduate students last year, it was reported by the Survey Committee of the Methodist Board of Education that Pacific had more graduate students

Second Annual Open House Will Be Held April 21, 22

The second annual Pacific Open House for high school seniors and junior college students in the two inland valleys of California will be held April 21 and 22. Special assembly programs at 10:45 each day, luncheon in Anderson Hall, inspection of buildings and other entertainment features in the afternoon are events which are being announced by Ovid H. Ritter, chairman of the open house committee.

The visitors will be guests also at the Pacific Little Theatre production of "Alice in Wonderland" which will be presented each evening.

"Alice in Wonderland" Will Be Presented at Pacific April 21-23

"Alice in Wonderland" will be presented by the Pacific Little Theatre April 21, 22 and 23 as the last of its series of International plays this season. The dramatization will be a combination of Lewis Carroll's "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass" arranged by Alice Gerstenberg. Alice will be played by Audrey Squires, senior member of Pacific Players.

This play is popular this season because of the hundredth anniversary of Mr. Carroll's birthday, which occurred January 27, 1932. Columbia University plans a special celebration of the event in May when the original Alice, now Mrs. R. G. Hargreaves, will come from England to attend the festival.

Origin of Story

It was near the banks of the placid River Cherwell, a few miles above Oxford, that a young mathematics lecturer, Charles Lutwidge Dodgson, related on a summer day in July, 1862, the story of a little girl who wandered through a rabbit hole into amazing underground adventures.

His bright-eyed listeners were the Misses Lorina, Alice and Edith Liddell, daughters of the dean of Christ Church College at Oxford, and the story they heard was one that later charmed the world of childhood as Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, by Professor Dodgson under the nom de plume of Carroll.

The centenary of the birth of Mr. Carroll is really the celebration of the birth of "Alice in Wonderland." It is an anniversary as important as that of any statesman or soldier—it is the centenary of the birth of nonsense, which as G. K. Chesterton of the New York Times says, "provides a holiday of the mind."

Dr. Knoles Will Celebrate 13th Anniversary April 2

Dr. Tully C. Knoles will enter upon his fourteenth year as president of Pacific April 2. The average period of service of his sixteen predecessors has been about five and one-half years.

He is to be congratulated upon the progress that Pacific has made under his administration. When he came to Pacific from the University of Southern California in 1919, he was confronted with three possibilities for the future of the College.

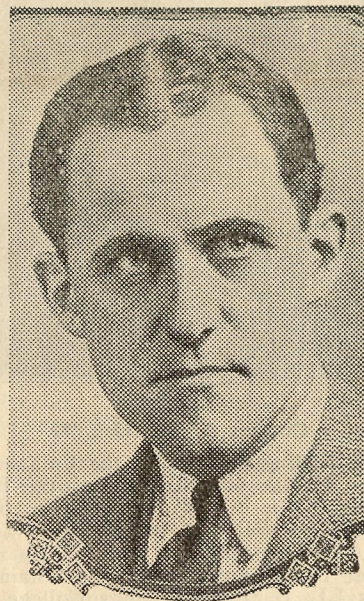

It could go out of business, sell its endowment and use the proceeds to form a Wesley foundation for the University of California or Stanford. It could become a junior college for Stanford as it practically was then. Or, it could move into a new environment and become a regular four-year college.

Dr. Knoles investigated the situation with his customary thoroughness, chose the third course, and made Pacific what it is today.

An alumnus of Ohio Wesleyan University living in Stockton regularly sends his check to the University every time his Alma Mater has a football victory.

It has been predicted that this news will lead Pacific Alumni to do likewise.

WHO'S NEW ON THE FACULTY SINCE '24

JOHN GILCHRIST ELLIOTT

John Gilchrist Elliott, head of the Department of Piano at Pacific since 1927, is an outstanding pianist. His unusual ability is shown both in his performances and his teaching.

As president of the Stockton Musical Club he is now especially active in stimulating and developing appreciation of music in the vicinity of the College. The organization of the Stockton Community Concert Association is due to his initiative. This genuine asset to the city is similar to more than 250 of like kind in the United States which serve to present concerts by world famous artists and furnish musical attractions which add prestige and distinction to local communities.

He received his Bachelor of Music degree at Northwestern University where he studied under Carl Milton Beecher and Arne Oldberg, head of the Department of Piano. He also received instruction from Edward Collins of Chicago and Ernest Hutcheson of New York.

Mr. Elliott was piano soloist for the Northwestern Glee Club in 1925 when it made a transcontinental tour. His performances attracted favorable comment from critics in all cities visited, particularly in musical centers.

Mrs. Elliott, also, holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Northwestern, and has exhibited her talent on the Pacific stage. She assists in the faculty concerts each year when the eight-piano ensemble is presented. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are the proud parents of a four-year-old daughter, Joan, and John Jr., age two. Mr. Elliott's sister, Mildred, is a freshman at Pacific.

While he has created numerous compositions and has presented many of them in recitals, his principal interest is in the art of interpretation. He takes a constant pride in the accomplishments of his students, not only before, but after, graduation from the Conservatory.

He originated and conducts an increasingly popular six-week summer session of the "Mountain School of Piano" at Fallen Leaf, Lake Tahoe.

Outdoor Exercises Planned for 75th Commencement

The first outdoor Commencement exercises of Pacific are being planned for June 13. The seventy-fifth commencement anniversary is the occasion for this unique feature. It is also contemplated that the exercises will be held in Baxter Stadium in the evening.

Dr. Robert A. Millikan will give the commencement address. Internationally known as a physicist and a Nobel prize winner, Dr. Millikan is the chairman of the Executive Council of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. "The Changing World" is expected to be his subject.

Special committees representing the Alumni, Associated Students, Faculty, and other groups are being designated to assist in making this one of the outstanding events in the history of Pacific.

Charles A. Shurtleff '79

is a leading member of the California Bar. He was president of the State Bar Association in 1925, and of the San Francisco Bar Association in 1913.

After receiving his Bachelor's degree from Napa College, he obtained his LL. B. from Hastings College of the Law in 1882. He was assistant United States attorney for the Northern District of California in 1891, and thirty years later he was appointed a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of California.

Except for the time he was on the Supreme Bench he has been engaged in the active practice of his profession. His offices at present are in the Chancery Building in San Francisco.

Judge Shurtleff was a member of the first Board of Bar examiners appointed in California, and served in that capacity until his appointment to the Bench. He was president of the Legal Aid Society of San Francisco in 1921. This society furnishes the assistance of attorneys to those who are unable to pay counsel fees.

He is a trustee of the College of the Pacific, Hastings College of the Law, Stanford University, San Francisco Law Library, San Francisco Legal Aid Society, Children's Hospital of San Francisco, and the Society of California Pioneers. He is also an active member of the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco.

Mrs. Shurtleff is the former Nellie Voluntine who was graduated from Napa in 1881.

Judge Shurtleff is a loyal supporter of Pacific, and has done much to maintain the interest of other alumni of Napa College in its welfare. He is now ardently urging former students of Napa to join with those of Pacific in the festivities of Alumni Day, June 11.

Scattering Sunshine

"I mark only the sunny hours." These words are on a sun dial erected to the memory of a young woman on the campus at Bryn Mawr. Their message can be on the minds, the hearts, the faces of those who hold dear the memory of the campus at Pacific.

We like to remember the "sunshine songs" of Sunday School. Yes, "'Tis Sunshine" that the world ever needs. Springtime is with us again, and smiles now come more readily. Ours can multiply the sunny hours.

Wherever there is a Pacific Alumnus, let that be a center from which radiates the sunshine of optimism which will ripen for harvest the seeds sown in "Highlights of Pacific."

The official journal of The Commonwealth Club says of him: "The loss of few members has been accorded more widespread expression of regret. * * * As a noble and unselfish citizen, and as a faithful club member who often and gladly put its affairs ahead of his own interests, Frederick T. Duhring will always be an inspiration to his friends in the Club who survive him."

Julius Myron Alexander, poet and historian, died in Healdsburg March 10, 1932. He was graduated from Napa College in 1887.

Theta Alpha Phi Reunion

Alumni and student members of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, gathered at the College dining hall for dinner on the evening of March 12 to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Pacific chapter of that organization and pledge eight new members into the fraternity.

Speeches were made by DeMarcus Brown '23, first president of the chapter; Lucy Woodhouse Brown '26 and Greydon Milam '30, former presidents; and Miss William Hinsdale of the faculty. The group then attended the Pacific Little Theatre production of "The Cradle Song."

Following the play an informal party was held on the stage for members of the cast and the organization. A buffet supper was served after an impromptu program.

Other alumni members present were: Melvin Bennett '29; Amandelee Barker Knoles '30, George Knoles '28, Melvin Lawson '28, Verna Hannah Skelton '27, Fowler Furze '30, Dell Scott '31, Aileen Charter '30, J. Mrs. Emma Baumgardner '29 was one of the chairmen of the session where "Drama and the Curriculum of the High School" was discussed.

OFF AND ON THE CAMPUS

Good Track Men in Freshman Class

Pacific's chances in track this year depend almost entirely upon Coach Jim Corson's success in developing new men. The only point winners from last year's Far Western Conference meet are Captain "Dutch" Ulmer and Bob Wicker, 440 men, and Lawrence Hatch, distance runner.

The Freshman class is rich in track material, the first year men having won the inter-class meet easily, and many of them may place in the conference. Dick French, in the 880, and Carl Brown, Kris Kjeldsen, and Leslie Russell in the weight, look especially promising.

Another man who should prove valuable is Charles Bardin, transfer from Sacramento Junior College. Bardin ran the hundred yard dash in 10 flat last week, which is fast time for a slow track.

Rhizomia won the intra-mural from Omega Phi by 2/3 of a point.

The schedule for April is as follows:

April 2—Sacramento Relays.
April 9—Cal Aggies at Davis.
April 16—Chico State, Cal Aggies at Pacific.

April 23—San Jose State at Pacific.
April 30—San Francisco State at Pacific.

May 7—Conference meet at Sacramento.

Spring Oratorio to be Given May 1

Ruth High, senior student at the Conservatory of Music, has been selected as the soprano soloist for the annual spring oratorio which will be presented on the afternoon of May 1. The oratorio to be presented this year will be "Hora Novissima," by Horatio Parker.

Marsden Argall '22 will sing the baritone solos. He studied in Italy about five years and has been soloist for the Pacific Coast and San Francisco opera companies.

The tenor soloist will be Arthur Johnson of San Francisco, one of the leading tenors of the bay region, and contralto will be sung by Eva Gruninger Atkinson of San Francisco, an artist for the National Broadcasting Company.

Isamu Sato, sophomore transfer to Pacific from the University of Hawaii, is attending as an exchange student as a result of a movement begun last spring by the campus Y. M. C. A. Francis O. Thompson, a junior student, is representing Pacific at the Hawaiian University this year. Coke Wood of Pacific spent his sophomore year at the University of Hawaii.

Special Tour Features for Teachers

The world conference on progressive education at Nice, France, is now on the itinerary of the special tour which Dr. J. W. Harris, one of the directors of this year's Pacific Summer School Abroad, is planning for members of the teaching profession and others especially interested in educational problems. This extension from the main tour will start from Cologne and will include Denmark, central Germany, Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Bavaria, and will join the main line of travel in Switzerland and France. It will afford an opportunity to visit schools and special institutions in the principal cities.

The other extension on this summer's tour will be under the direction of Professor J. H. Jonte, head of the Department of Geology. Listed on this itinerary are Italy, the Mediterranean, including Egypt, Palestine and Greece.

Detailed information concerning the main tour and the extensions may be secured from either Dr. Harris or Professor Jonte.

Five-Week Summer Session

Mrs. Marion O. Pease, director of student teaching in the College, will be in charge of the Demonstration School for grade students.

Dr. Schilpp Meets Dr. Einstein

A forty-minute talk with Dr. Albert Einstein, world famous physics theorist, was the privilege enjoyed by Professor Paul A. Schilpp, Chairman of the Division of Social Science at Pacific, when he went to Pasadena recently to hear Einstein, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, scientist, and Dr. Charles A. Beard, historian, debate on world peace.

Dr. Schilpp found the great physicist approachable and amiable, and not at all the inaccessible, difficult man to meet that the newspapers have made him appear. They conversed in German, discussing world peace, the presidential election in Germany, the China-Japanese situation, and the difference between American and European scholars.

"Senior Sing" on June 2

Tentative plans have been made by Professor Robert Gordon of the Conservatory, for a Senior Sing on the evening of June 2. He plans to assemble the seniors in front of the dining hall after dinner and conduct a thirty-minute "sing." Pacific songs and other favorites will be on the program. This has not been instituted at Pacific prior to this year, but is a tradition at many leading colleges.

than the combined graduate enrollment of all the other thirty-three Methodist colleges in the United States.

Pacific's location in the midst of so many high school graduates, its ranking with the leading national associations of universities and conservatories, and its rapidly increasing undergraduate and graduate enrollment make its position enviable indeed. These, though, are but a few of the "Highlights." More will appear later.
