Calling spade a spade, the City Council Tuesday night had a frank discussion of the problems faced by the Tule Lake Project, with Director Shirley and opened a way for fuller cooperation with administration.

The first gun was shot by Yoshitake Shibata, councilman from Block 47, who proposed creation of a "planning board" to map out and carry out the basic policies of the camp. He wanted the board to be made up of the administrative officers and colonists whose aim is to run this Colony with the idea of operating a corporation.

Director Shirley, who apparently was impressed by the frank presentation of the problem, gave the administration side of the picture mining no weight in his discussion on the plan, and the City Council Tuesday night is to run this Colony with the idea of operating a corporation.

Kitchen 48 rates as the best kitchen of the week in the report made to Project Director by the Project Steward. This was the only kitchen that met all standards of cleanliness, sanitation and mess management.

The report indicated that cooks in kitchen after kitchen were not following menus, were using canned vegetables rather than peel and prepare fresh vegetables, and were not putting fresh milk into refrigerators after each use.

In several instances supplies of fresh vegetables were deliberately put into garbage cans rather than cook them. Such waste and extravagance are inexcusable.

As a result of this report it has been directed that several kitchens cease be placed on probation and they must be supervised closely until improvement is certain.
