AMACHE HIGH SCHOOL

FORWARD

THREE YEARS of work and play—three years of friendship with many whom we would not have met had it not been for the mass evacuation from the Pacific Coast—three years of school life where we have learned to be useful in war and good citizens in peace to our country, the United States.

Yes, in these three years we have strived to reach the high goal of being forward lookers and thinkers, sometimes slipping, but always looking toward that aim.

Within the covers of this year book, we bring to you our life of the past year in work and play, in striving to be "Onlookers" into tomorrow's world.

DEDICATION

We, the students of Amache, dedicate this book to all our friends in the armed services who are not only fighting and dying for victory, but also for world peace and understanding.

Mr. Lawrence Norman Jackson, (where!!)

Golly! 20 years have been a pleasure having you as a senior teacher (19-4), L.E. teacher (10-2 the best), a Capitan, and Glen Chew teacher and also as a friend all by their many joys (?) months in months.

Always remembered the 10-2 "back row brats" (Paula, Joeli, Harve, Louis, + I) as your "out-standing" (!!) students.

Here's wishing a sweet ex-teacher the best anyone can give. "See you, meet again."

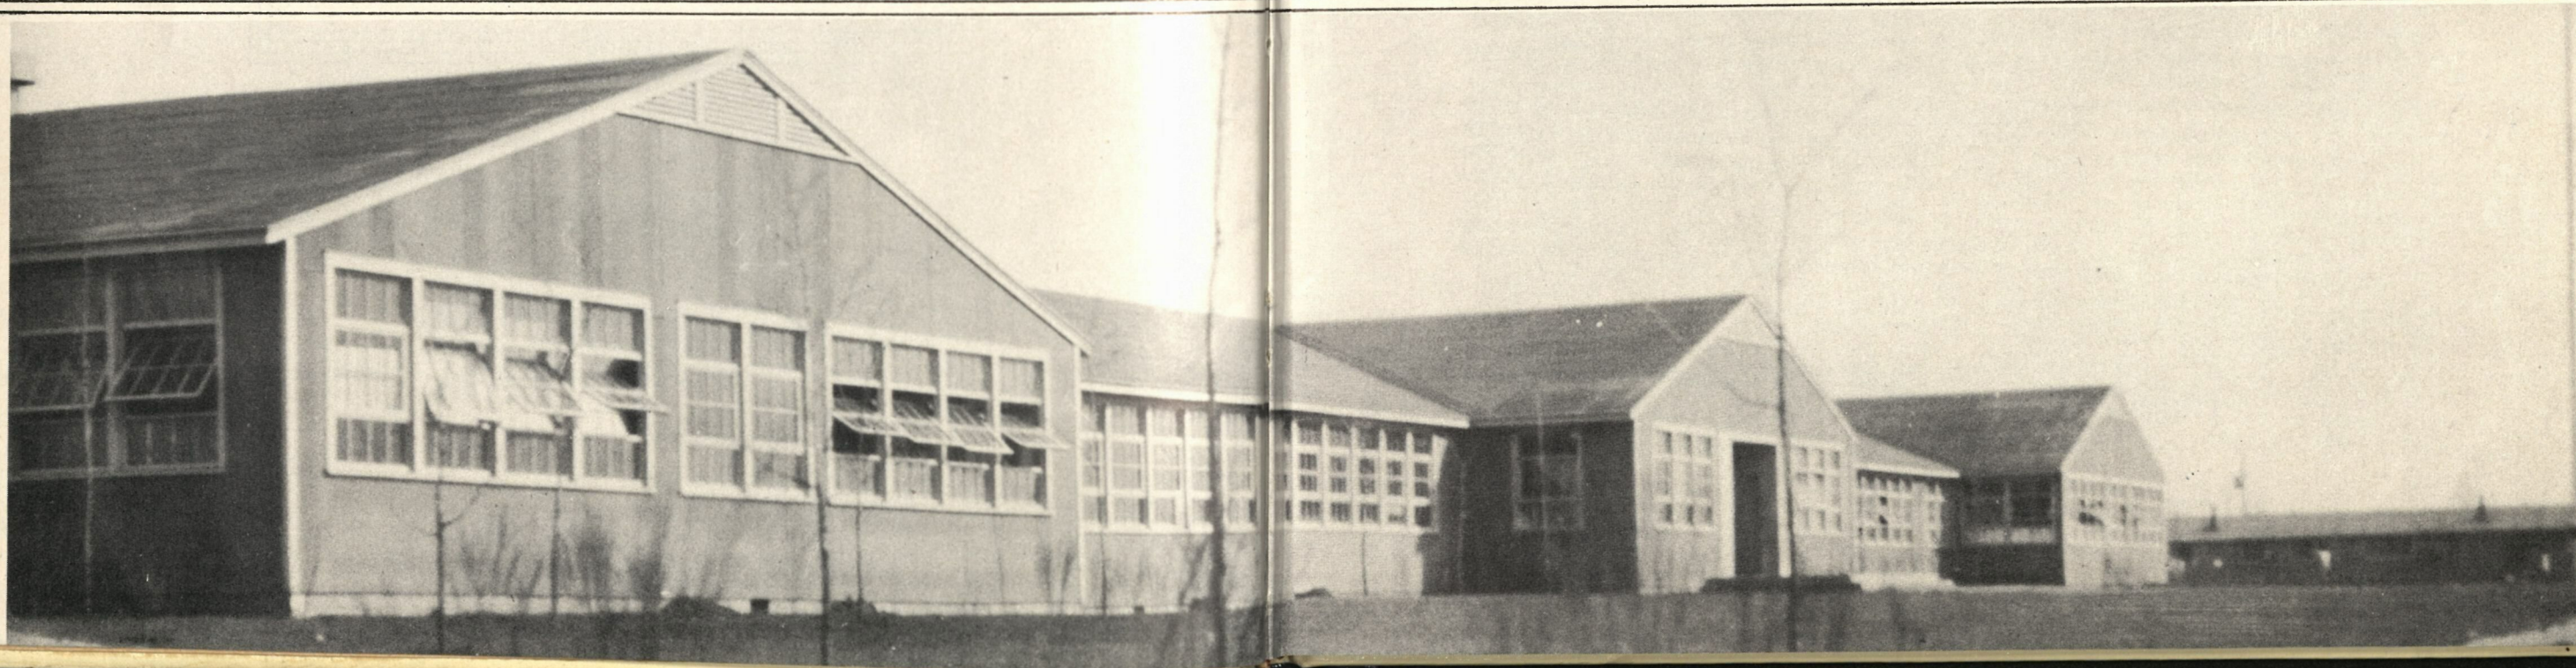

Sincerely,

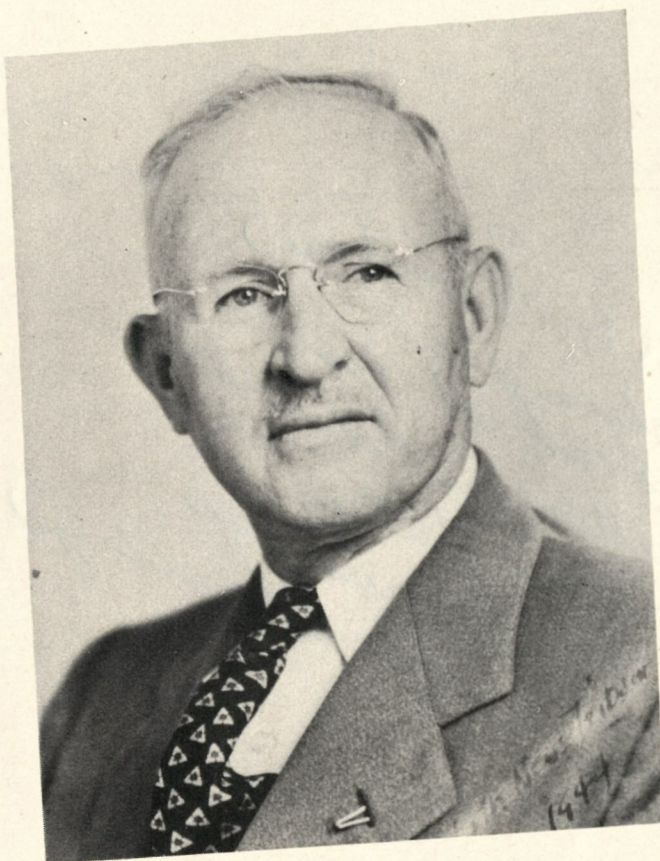

Presidents "Mike" Kanatani

Lindley's message

TO THE STUDENTS of the Amache High School; to the Advisory School Board; to school officials, teachers, janitors and yardmen; to parents of school children and to residents and organizations interested in the school, I extend my thanks for your interest and cooperation. This is the last school year for Amache. That is as it should be. You and your boys and girls can now go out from Amache to any desired place in the United States. There are no strings on this graduation.

To the Class of 1945, Amache High School, greetings! You and the other students have had an opportunity to advance in your school work, limited only by your own application to work and study. For you during your life in the Center the world has not stood still. I wish you a successful future; may you continue your education, and may you lead worthy and useful lives as you take your places in America among Americans. That you keep your faces ever to the front, and your feet upon a rising road is the sincere wish of your friend, the Project Director.

James G. Lindley

SEPTEMBER, 1942—110,000 people, Japanese-Americans, their parents and friends, started a unique history-making chapter in the story of their lives. These evacuees as they were called, found themselves stranded on barren, desolate stretches of America; previously inhabited only by desert denizens and covered with sage brush. "Relocation centers" was the name attached to these places.

One of these centers was established in southeastern Colorado and named "Amache." The first inhabitants of this makeshift community were transferred from the Merced and Santa Anna assembly centers; later Tuleans and Jeromeites also became residents of this community.

Realizing the need of establishing and maintaining as many institutions of "normal" living as possible, the center administration headed by Mr. Lindley in conjunction with evacuees immediately began to set up facilities to meet the existing demands. One of the first things considered was the school system.

We shall probably never know or realize the many difficult and perplexing problems which confronted our educational leaders, Mr. Terry and Mr. Coy. However, we may be gratified that through their tireless efforts, the doors of our school were flung open to waiting students in slightly more than one month after the opening of the project. It is true that rooms crowded with crude hurriedly-constructed tables and benches with poor heating and ventilating systems and walls through which dust seeped on windy days are humble and inadequate facilities for modern education. And yet the important and significant thing was the fact that both teachers and students had the right and wholesome spirit of learning and living together and progressing, in spite of physical limitations. This alone probably enriched their lives more than any book learning ever did.

As time passed, additions and improvements were made to supplement our meager school supplies and equipment. Finally our new school building was completed and thus we were afforded untold opportunities to expand and develop our minds and attitudes toward the making of better qualified citizens. We have slowly but surely progressed; our efforts have culminated in our being evaluated by the North Central Association.

Three years have passed. This chapter in our lives is rapidly coming to its conclusion. And as we are about to write finis, let's think back and see how we have or at least could have gained invaluable ideas and attitudes in our quest of being prepared to meet the demands of and contribute to our society and the society of the universe.

Perhaps the most important things we have gained are our newly acquired attitudes and ideals in term of social living. Certainly we realize that all of us need to progress far beyond our present standards of living in order to realize our desires of "freedom, liberty, and pursuit of happiness..." for all.

Another important thing which we have learned is living without desired and convenient articles of everyday living which we once took for granted. A fuller appreciation of these physical and also mental gifts is now ours.

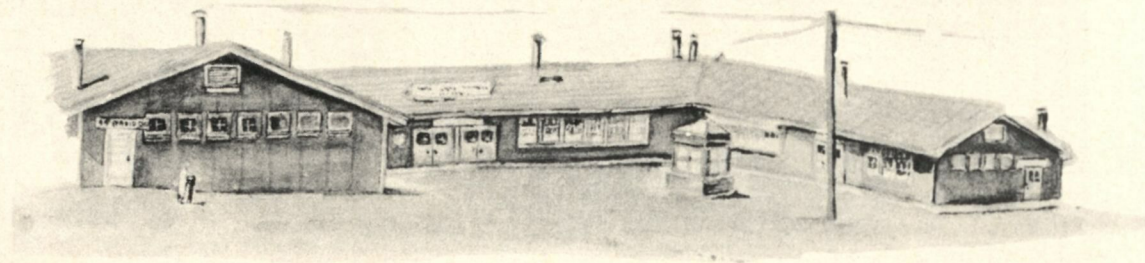

Lastly, we learned of technical subjects such as mathematics and sciences, these things aided those interested in specialized fields as future vocations.

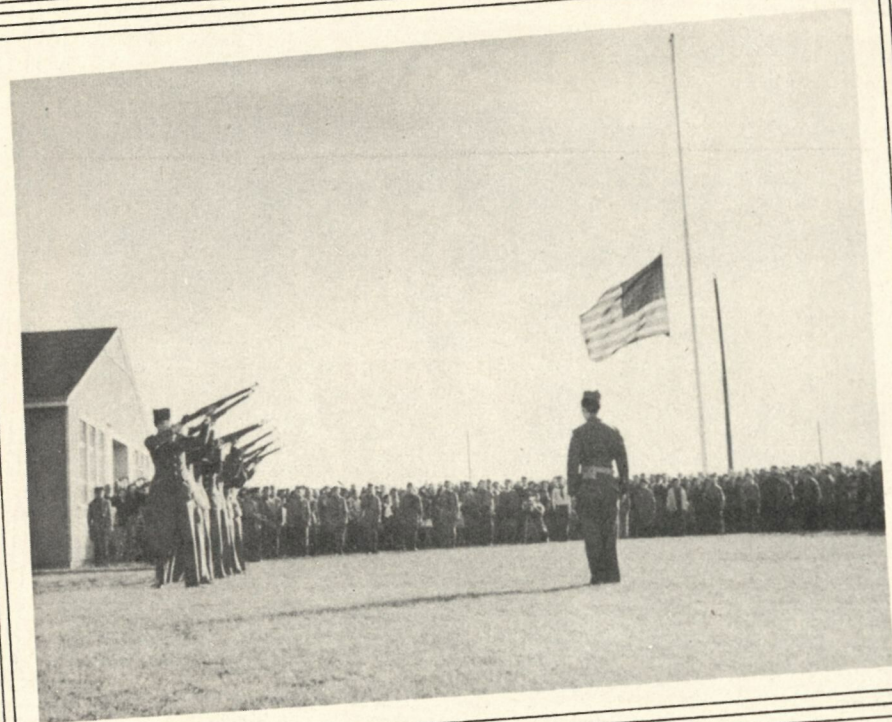

The accumulation of these traits and skill should greatly aid in making better Americans in a greater America and a greater world.

advisory board of education

THE smooth functioning of an educational system is dependent upon numerous people and groups who perform their duties quietly and without recognition. And yet it is they who play an important part in planning and formulating school policies and functions.

One such group in our midst was the Amache Advisory Board which was organized in January, 1943. It was an integral part of the regular administrative program of the War Relocation Authority. Its function was purely advisory in nature, as its name implies, and met, upon call, with our Superintendent of Education, Dr. Garrison, and our principal, Mr. Walther. Discussions relating to all phases of educational activities were considered at such meetings.

The members of this board were appointed by our Project Director, Mr. Lindley, and are all residents of our community. They were Dr. Takashi Terami, President; Mr. Tokuyoshi Kawasaki, Mrs. Alice Ohama, Mr. Seijiro Okuno, and Mr. Robbin Kaneko.

The entire student body of Amache High School as well as the other citizens of our community may well bow their heads in deep and humble gratitude and appreciation to this group of people who have wholeheartedly and unselfishly contributed their time and effort to better our school. Through their interest in us we have been afforded many opportunities to gain a wider knowledge and a richer understanding of the art of living amid people of a thousand different ways of thinking.

garrison's message

THIS is the last edition of the "Onlooker." Next year we will be living in many different places doing many different things. Teachers will be working in other schools. These halls and classrooms will be cold, dusty, and vacant. Amache High School will exist only in the files of some impersonal government agency and in our memories.

Records are dead, inanimate things, but memories are alive and ever growing. They are the sum, the total, of experience. We who have guided your school experiences here have tried to direct you into opportunities for fun. We hope you have enjoyed them. More important, we have tried to help you become the master of the basic tools of learning; to develop in you constructive attitudes toward life and living with others; to develop critical, honest habits of thinking.

We sincerely hope that wherever you go, whatever you do, your memories of Amache High School will be happy ones and that your experiences will be good tools, intelligently used, in building happy, useful lives. In your living Amache High School will also live.

Floyd Garrison

walther's message

THREE YEARS ago your lives and plans were suddenly interrupted, and as a consequence Amache High School came into being. It is my sincere hope that here your hopes and dreams have been reborn, and that you have gained the courage, faith and determination that will help you build new tomorrows.

To me our experiences together will always be a vivid and treasured memory. I have appreciated your willingness to study, your unfailing cheerfulness, your quiet courtesy and your friendship.

It was my privilege to help plan this school. I remember its opening days, its first growing pains in 8H block, our excitement at moving into America's "most talked of" high school building and especially of its 125 sons and daughters who are fighting for our country on the battlefields of the world.

Soon its doors will close. On my lips and in my heart, as I watch you leave after our final day of school, will be the old Hebrew prayer, "Mizpah," God be with you 'till we meet again.

drummond's message

NEXT YEAR Amache High School will be an empty building on a sand hill. Whether it will be remembered or not depends on the accomplishments of the people who have attended it. We like to think that, in spite of the handicaps inherent in this unusual situation, we have together, teachers and students, developed and maintained an American high school in the best American tradition.

You who go out from us now into new and challenging situations will provide the measure of whether or not all of us have been successful in working together toward realizing the common goals of individual growth and social responsibility.

You will think often of this hill, of friendships formed, of good times realized, of teachers who influenced you. It is our hope that in the coming years it will be proved that you who attended school here have learned much which will be instrumental in developing a high type of citizenship for use in a world which will need you.

lewis's message

AS I sit writing this message, I can see from my window the dry, barren sands of Amache and the bleak, drab rows of barracks homes. Since September, 1942, when most of us came to Amache, there has been little improvement in our physical surroundings. Most of us still live in the one room to which we were assigned the day we arrived. True, we do have a few trees, a lawn or two, and a high school building, but on the whole, Amache is the same dust-covered prairie town it was that day.

A bell rings, the scene is no longer bleak and discouraging. The halls are thronged with laughing groups of students eagerly talking, radiant and alive. I marvel at the change in you since you came to Amache. How you have grown not only in knowledge but in spiritual and moral qualities! Most of you, because you have the courage of your fighting brothers, have learned to live and grow and be happy under sometimes trying conditions. Perspectives are becoming focused; thinking is being broadened; sympathies are being extended to those who suffer elsewhere.

Soon we will tell each other goodbye and will leave to make our homes in widely scattered parts of the country. Because I have watched you develop radiant and attractive personalities at Amache, I know that wherever you go you can learn to live happily and in such a way as to win many, many friends.

I will not forget the time which I spent here nor will I forget you as individuals. May you have much happiness and a long and useful life.

Since the day Amache High School opened its doors on September 5, 1944, to the hundreds of Junior and Senior High students, the library has been one of the centers of attraction, both for pleasure and acquirement of knowledge.

Mr. William A. Easton, Librarian, with his able assistants, Miss Kumasaki, circulation; Haruko Kochi, reference, have worked industriously to make our library one of the best in Colorado. During the first part of the year the library was enlarged because the Junior and Senior High Libraries were combined.

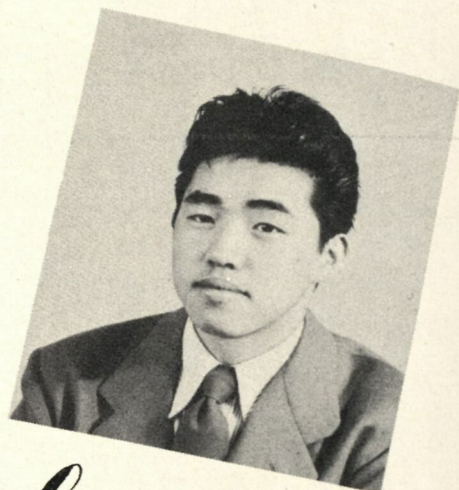

Our heartiest thanks to you, Mr. Easton, and to your staff for the service you have given us in the library.

senior high student council

We, the Associated Student Body of Amache Senior High School, had the privilege of setting up our own student government. Our student governing body was known as the Student Council. It is composed of the student body cabinet and representatives from each English-Social Studies class.

The Student Council with the help of its sponsor, Miss Lewis, efficiently served the students whom it represented. With the cabinet acting as an executive committee to handle emergencies, it did a great deal towards promoting the general welfare of the students. It spent many hours meeting after school discussing problems which confronted students. During the first semester, the constitution was revised and permanent acting committees were set up to handle problems concerning athletics, awards, social events, the charting of clubs, and other such services.

Student government played an important part in the development of leadership and a feeling of self government among the Junior High students. The Junior High Student Council closely followed the pattern of the Senior High Council in its membership and duties.

The first semester group was actively led by George Hatamiya, President; Hideo Karatsu, Boys' Vice President; Karumo Hamahashi, Girls' Vice President; Terumi Uyesugi, Secretary; Marion Yoshiwara, Treasurer. The second semester group, which assembled in February, was equally well served by the new student body officers: Tsuyoshi Yamauchi, President; Joe Maruyama, Boys' Vice President; Sumiko Hashimoto, Secretary; and Earsei Hinoki, Treasurer.

This group owed much of its success to its advisor, Miss Beery, who willingly gave them advice in discussions and solutions of many perplexing problems which confronted them.

With commencement exercises over, the high and mighty Seniors can look back through their last year in Amache with pride and have the satisfaction of knowing theirs was a job well done.

With the first semester cabinet consisting of Calvert Kitazumi, President; Edna Nimura, Vice President; Aster Fujikawa, Secretary, and Louie Watanabe, Treasurer, the Senior Class planned and promoted numerous activities.

None of them will ever forget the enjoyable time they had at their all-Senior get together nor the colorful Mid-Term Prom held in honor of the January graduates.

The second semester found an almost new cabinet consisting of Cal as President; Mits Sumada, Vice President; Namiko Ota, Secretary, and Joe Hamade, Treasurer.

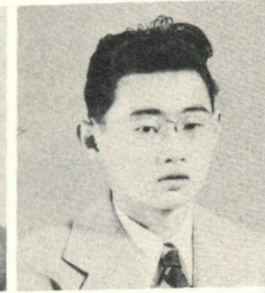

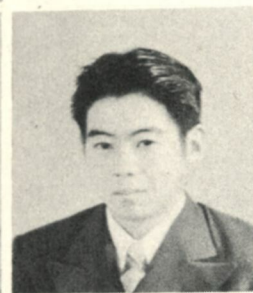

In April, the Seniors presented a delightful comedy "Spring Fever" which was a huge success. Then came the Senior Banquet, sooner than expected. And when "ditch day" rolled around, they knew it would be their last activity of the year, so with this in mind, the day was spent on the sunny banks of the Arkansas in an atmosphere of freedom and gaiety, a day which they will always remember.

Although the Seniors were very busy with their class activities, they contributed a great deal towards other school activities.

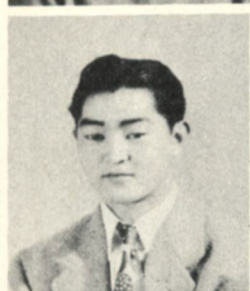

With parting words they say, "We, the Seniors of '45, really enjoyed working with the student body and extend our sincerest and deepest appreciation to our advisor, Mrs. Katherine Stegner, who encouraged and spurred the class towards its success."

"Future Seniors," the Junior Class climaxed its activities in the month of June, the end of Amache High's last school year. A social calendar complete in every detail made the year successful. Many Amache High Juniors will vividly recall our social affairs when they are Seniors in schools all over the nation beyond the barbed wires next year—that day at the center farm harvesting valuable crops in answer to the needy call of manpower, and the many other significant things that meant school life for the class.

President Masashi Itano was ably assisted by Harry Fujihara, Vice President; Cookie Takano, Secretary; and Justine Sekiyama, Treasurer, to form the executive board. The class chose red and white as its class colors.

Under the sponsorship of Melvin P. McGovern, it boasted both "brains" and "personality plus." It had "brainy" Junior Quiz Kids that took the top two honors in both Senior High Quiz Kid Programs. Not to be outclassed in sports, Junior athletes showed outstanding ability in every field of school competition. Topping the class social calendar was the Junior-Senior Prom. Also on the social side was the strictly Junior Dance in March.

Such were the highlights of the Junior Class this year. The last year in Amache will be remembered by every Junior as one of his best years.

When our high school doors opened in the year of 1943, we were only poor "freshies" admitted to the ways of the higher institution of learning. This year as Sophomores we boast of our good spirit and class activities.

Heading the class were Minoru Tonai, President; Roy Ito, Vice President; June Sato, Secretary, and Sumiya Nakai, Treasurer. During the second semester Mamoru Furuya, Roy Ito, Miwako Karatsu, and Sumiya Nakai were elected to fill the offices, respectively. Our advisor was Mrs. Margaret Hopcraft.

Carrying the class motto, "Looking Ahead," we went to work energetically. Our first event was an enjoyable farewell picnic in honor of Miss Catherine Ludy at the Amache Bowl. How well we remember the day we participated at the farm. Because of our fine cooperation, it has been reported that we harvested the most potatoes.

Many of the Sophomores were members of the Glee Clubs. Then, too, we have many boys who took active parts in sports.

As the year progressed we discovered many outstanding students in the scholastic field. "Genius" May Yasumura and Joe Wada represented the class in the "Quiz Kids" program and June Sato smiled for the sophomores as attendant at the Royal Ball.

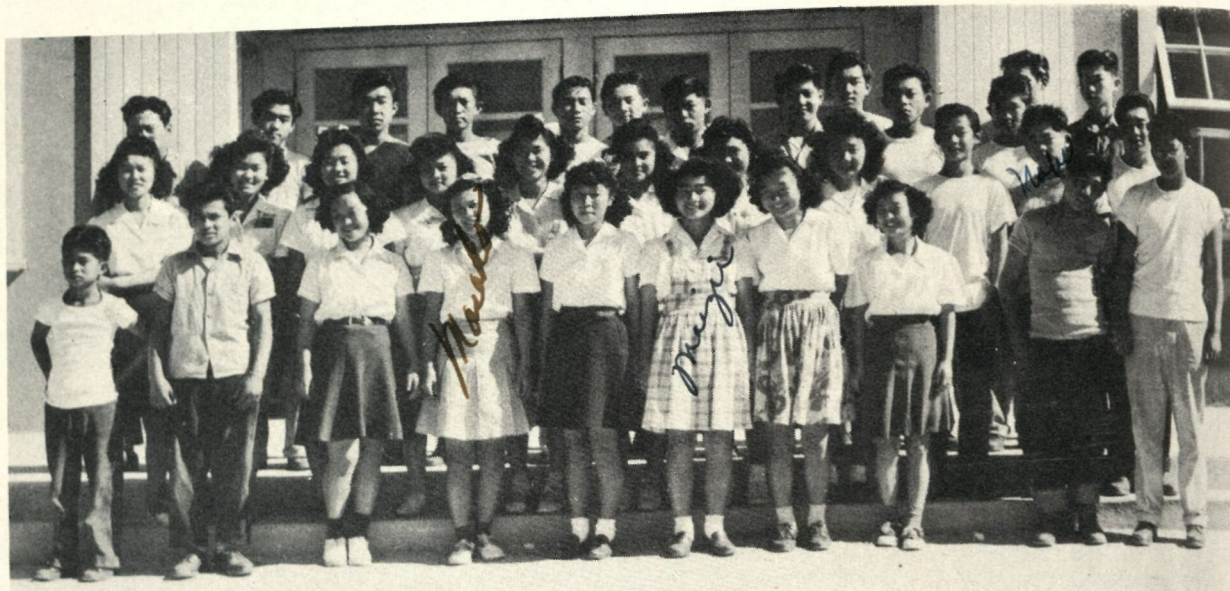

The highlight of the class was the unforgettable "Sophomore Hop" with Min Tonai as the Master of Ceremonies.

athletic board

The Athletic Board under the sponsorship of Mr. Anderson was organized by Frank Goi. They discussed and planned school sports leagues, programs, schedules, operation of scoreboard, admission prices, benefit dances, and other such problems.

The members were Frank Goi, Chairman; Ken Nakatogawa, Bob Nitahara, Osamu Nagai, Calvert Kitazumi, Kenji Yamaga, and George Morishige.

The chairman and his board have done an excellent job and should be praised for their untiring work.

Top row—C. Kitazumi, S. Nagai, J. Maruyama.

all stars

The All-Star Team was chosen by the five intramural football captains. They were scheduled to play Wiley but due to some misunderstanding the game was canceled. The team was split and played each other as an exhibition game at the 10-F field.

Top row—H. Maruyama, K. Nakatogawa, B. Nitahara, J. Aiboshi, J. Morita, T. Nakamura, G. Takahashi, H. Nakano, H. Matsushita, B. Morikawa, S. Masuda.

senior class CHAMPS

As it should be, the masterful Senior class basketball team took all the lower classmen down and ran away with the inter-class championship. With the star-studded line up that the Seniors had, the championship was theirs from the start.

intramural league champs

The classy clicking, fast moving, brain exercising Globe Trotters team bowled over all the other teams in the league with a single sweep. Their ability in basketball and in showmanship always gave the spectators a thrill. They were predicted champs from the beginning.

boosters

Seventy-five eager charter members, with their aim of developing a good school spirit in Amache High School, organized the Boosters Club on October 4, 1944, under the sponsorship of Miss Marguerite Loeffler.

The cabinet members were: President, Edna Nimura; Vice President, Rumi Tonai; Secretary, Aster Fujikawa; Treasurer, Justine Sekiyama; Historian, Louise Sasano.

The Boosters Club girls have made many showings of their well prepared stunts and drills at our school football and basketball games.

In November, 1944, an assembly was sponsored for the students of Amache High, introducing the song leaders, Grace Yamaguchi, June Sato, and Peggy Yuasa; yell leaders Ikuko Takano, Rumi Tonai, and Shigeko Hamaoka; flag drillers, Virgie Okumura, Setsumi Saito, and Loretta Kochi; majorettes, Lily Inouye, Mary Shoji, and Lucy Kishi.

One of the outstanding socials sponsored by this organization was the "Pigskin Frolic" in honor of the Amache High football team.

We are sure that the Boosters Club has shown its ability, and we are all proud of this group.

Miss Marguerite Loeffler, Advisor.

Sakos	3	2
S. O. S.	2	3
Jokers	1	4
Flashettes	0	5

Active Junior High girls supervised by Miss Marguerite Loeffler opened their basketball league on January 13. There were five teams competing with one another: Elo-ettes, Highlighters, Dashounds, Speedball, and Rockettes. Each morning in the High School gym at 8:00 A. M. we were able to see many exciting games.

Dashounds, Elo-ettes, and Highlighters played the last three games because each team had tied with four wins and one loss.

By January 31st, the competition games ended with Elo-ettes at the top, followed by the Highlighters and the Dashounds.

Top row—T. Ando, M. Iseri, A. Watanabe, E. Wada, M. Yonemura, F. Inouye, L. Yasumura, S. Uyeda.

Highlighters	3	2
Rockettes	1	4
Speedball	0	5

With anxiety to win as well as good sportsmanship in mind, the ambitious Junior High girls joined the volleyball tournament this season. The six teams: Dashlighters, Elo-ettes, Flasherettes, Jokers, Sakos, and S. O. S., played their exciting games before school and Saturday afternoons. The rugged Dashlighters with victory over five teams were the champs with Elo-ettes following with four wins and one loss.

We give credit to the Flasherettes consisting of 7th grade girls who tried their very best.

Top row—M. Iseri, A. Watanabe, I. Doi, H. Uyesugi.
1st row—J. Okamoto, E. Wada, A. Ikesaki, J. Kawamura.

basketball CHAMPS

Elo-ettes named themselves very originally, taking their captain's first name, Eloise Wada. The team itself was energetic and cooperative.

Alice Watanabe led the team with 43 points in 6 games followed by Captain Eloise Wada with 41 points.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS

The mighty Dashlighters came through without a single loss in 5 tries. With plenty of cooperation and sportsmanship, they were led by their captains, Toyoko Hamade and Pat Mori.

Among the rugged girls, Happy Taketa led the service points of 51 in 6 games followed by Chiyoko Shimono with 28 service points.

rollerball CHAMPS

Top row—H. Taketa, C. Shimono, B. Kimura.

Made up solely of inexperienced journalism students, the ONLOOKER staff has endeavored to present a clear concise picture of our school. We have used the talent and abilities of each to the best possible advantage in our efforts to publish this volume of the ONLOOKER.

However, we would never have realized our desires had we not had the help and constructive criticisms of many students and teachers. To them, who will not receive the recognition they so rightfully deserve, the entire staff and its advisor, Miss Rosalind Walls, wish to express their sincere appreciation and thanks.

One of the most successful dances of the school year was sponsored by this group. On the night of March 10, the Annual Queen, Lucy Nakano, and her four attendants, June Sato, Asano Kasai, Yoshiko Oda, and Fumi Sotomura, were revealed to a large throng of dancers at the colorful Royal Ball held in the auditorium.

Though the staff was large, at times it seemed not large enough, for as usual, the very hard workers were in the minority. The success of the ONLOOKER was due largely to the several students who gave all their spare time working into the dark hours of the night to beat the deadline—Mitsue Iwata, who did much more than her share willingly; George Yonemura, whose valuable assistance was measureless; Tad Sugimoto, who gave untiring help; Min Hamatani and Min Ito, Photographers, to whom a great deal of credit is due for a thankless but important job; Ward and Pat Taketa, Masashi Itano, and Eddie Kubota, on whose shoulders rested a great majority of the work and to whom the beautiful artistic touches are due; and last but not least, Miss Rosalind Walls, the advisor, whose supervision and helpful suggestions gave us the encouragement we needed. To these, and many others who will not receive due credit, we of the annual staff owe our appreciation.

spotlight staff

The monthly edition of the Junior High SPOTLIGHT was started early in the year.

The name for the paper was chosen in a contest conducted through the English-Social Studies classes.

The name "SPOTLIGHT" was chosen by the students. The SPOTLIGHT Staff, with the help of the Amache Junior High students, made the paper a success.

IT staff

Thirteen would-be journalists in September without an inkling of how to put out a paper—this was the raw material from which a seasoned December IT staff developed. It took four weeks for the struggling novices to publish their first issue, which was greeted with both Hallelujas and razberries by the student body. In time, the staff became a well-organized body of journalists who put out the IT regularly, every two weeks. Their crowning efforts were a colorful Christmas edition and a Senior Class issue which featured Amache alumni in the armed services.

Top row—J. Miyamoto, E. Kubota, M. Mayeda, S. Takemoto, P. Taketa, J. Hamade, W. Takeita.
1st row—Miss Walls, S. Saito, P. Yuasa, M. Iwata, M. Murakami.

Working nights and holidays the "IT" staff successfully completed its semester's work by editing and distributing the paper every two weeks. Although the staff had few veterans and was handicapped by lack of experience, under the able leadership of the co-editors, Joanna Nakamura and Martha Murakami, it published a paper that played an important part in the daily life of the students of Amache High School.

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of character."

With this purpose in mind, some thirty-five boys assembled last fall under the sponsorship of Mr. M. McGovern to start a new Hi-Y, since most of last year's members had either relocated or were serving in the armed forces of Uncle Sam.

At the first meeting, an election of officers was held at which Calvert Kitazumi was elected President; Jack Hatanaka, Vice President; Pat Taketa, Secretary; Raymond Toyama, Treasurer.

Various activities and conferences were on the Hi-Y calendar. The outstanding date was February 10, 1945, because it marked the first anniversary of the organization. At that time an edition of the IT was published by this group. This club was responsible for a display on the bulletin board, and as a climax to the year a banquet was held.

The success of the Hi-Y was due largely to the effort of their sponsor, Mr. McGovern.

Las Alegrias, the Amache High girls service club, was organized in the spring of 1943. Their activities have included Christmas Seal and March of Dimes campaigns, serving refreshments at the President's Ball, sponsoring the Campus Canteen, ushering for many school programs, a picnic at the farm, and a number of socials besides their own get-togethers.

During the past two years, Las Alegrias has had fifty-nine members. They were: Jane Kubota, Neva Inouye, Helen Akahoshi, Charlotte Iwata, Dorothy Sato, Mary Rikimaru, Betty Seki, Jayne Shimada, Molly Fujihara, Mary Furuta, Emiko Nakano, Momoyo Kinoshita, Betty Kanameishi, Emiko Kuzuhara, Shizuye Marumoto, Lily Nagatoshi, Mary Namba, Frances Sasano, Barbara Nakano, Kay Yamachi, Akiko Morimoto, Yayoi Uyesugi, Takeko Natsumeda, May Yoshioka, Lily Inouye, Marna Miura, Frances Naruse, Joy Takeyama, Florence Nagasugi, Ruth Takata, Aiko Kuroki, Janet Kubochi, Ruth Takamura, Toshiko Nishihara, Gladys Nakagawa, Boots Sotomura, Teruko Hamakawa, Grace Haratani, Asano Kasai, Lilly Kawana, Namiye Kinoshita, Eunice Kumagai, Mitsue Iwata, Lorraine Kurihara, Martha Murakami, Cookie Takano, Shig Mae Sakamoto, Louise Sasano, Fumi Sotomura, Sadayo Washino, Rumi Tonai, Shiz Terada, Toshiko Sakamoto, Namiko Ota, Mary Oda, Elsie Nakagawa, Gladys Matsumoto, June Kumasaki, and Mary Endo.

Ambitious and outstanding students in the field of journalism were recognized for their efforts by being accepted into Quill and Scroll, an honorary society for high school journalists. Because all the members were capable, the choosing of officers was very difficult, but after due consideration the following members were chosen to fulfill the duties of the cabinet for the semester: Martha Murakami, President; Joanna Nakamura, Vice President; Setsumi Saito, Secretary, and Audrey Nakabe, Treasurer.

Later, new members were accepted, because of their service to the ONLOOKER. They were: Min Hamatani, Masashi Itano, Min Ito, Eddie Kubota, Ward Taketa, and Pat Taketa. They shall never forget the unique and eerie initiation which was accorded to them by the old members.

national honor society

The National Honor Society was composed of students, each of whom must have had a high scholastic record, as well as leadership ability, sociability, and judgment. Ten per cent of the graduating senior class and five per cent of the junior class were eligible for membership.

An executive committee consisting of Dr. Garrison, Mr. Walther, Mrs. Hopcraft, Mrs. Stegner, Miss Lewis, and Mrs. Anderson chose the members after considering their qualifications and student opinions.

This year we had twelve active members. Five of them, Mary Miyao, Florence Nagasugi, Ruth Takata, Joy Takeyama, and Sadayo Washino were members of last year's organization. Out of this winter's graduates, Aster Fujikawa, Roy Hiratsuka, Lorraine Kurihara, Fumi Morita, Shigeko Mae Sakamoto, Tad Sugimoto, and George Yonemura were given membership.

The officers of this organization were elected to serve for the entire semester. They are: President, George Yonemura; Vice President, Shigeko Mae Sakamoto; Secretary, Lorraine Kurihara; and Treasurer, Joy Takeyama.

Their activities included the sponsorship of an assembly as well as several "get-togethers."

co-op

The Amache Senior High Co-op grew out of the community enterprise system. It was first organized and conducted in the 8H block under the capable guidance of Lynn Takagaki. It was established for the students to have a convenient place to buy their school supplies at reasonable price.

The Co-op was guided by the Rockdale principles which are: 1. Membership open to all. 2. One vote only for each member. 3. Limited interest on capital. 4. Patronage saving on purchases. 5. Cash sales at market prices. 6. Neutrality on race, religion, and politics. 7. Constant education. 8. Continuous expansion.

When Mr. Takagaki relocated, Mrs. Betty Beaver Tinsman took over the position until the summer of 1944. After the Co-op was transferred to the high school building, it grew in quality and expanded in membership.

At the beginning of the summer of 1944, the Junior High Co-op was merged with the Senior High Co-op with the assistance of Mrs. Anderson, the new sponsor. It was due to this that the Co-op grew in importance and became wider in scope. The Co-op was a financial success and returned an average of 20 per cent in dividends each year.

Because of the closing of the camp, the Co-op was liquidated in May, 1945.

assembly council

To study assembly behavior and give suggestions for its improvements, to plan definite assemblies for definite times, to raise the standards of participation in assemblies, the Assembly Council was organized under the guidance of Roxene Everetts, Grace Lewis, Lowell Jackson, Melvin P. McGovern, and Charles Hinman.

Six student members, Justine Sekiyama, Yoshiko Oda, Alice Adachi, Takeo Itano, Bob Okano, and Roy Hatamiya were appointed by a student body executive.

discussion

The Discussion Club, under the co-sponsorship of Mr. W. Easton and Miss R. Walls, enjoyed many delightful evenings discussing such problems as prejudice, the necessity for the censorship of the press and radio, post-war military conscription.

This club, open to all those interested, was activated by this energetic group: George Yonemura, Mitsue Iwata, Min Ito, Mitsugu Sumada, Kenji Yamaga, Janet and Jerry Jayne, Cal Kitazumi, Martha Murakami, Joy Takeyama, Tad and Kiyoshi Sugimoto, Raymond Toyama, Shiro Takemoto, Tomio Jofuku, Tom Oshita, and Shigeko Hamaoka.

orchestra and band

Under the deft baton of Mr. Charles Hinman, the Amache High School band and orchestra completed a very successful year. Starting with many students having only an inkling of how to play an instrument, Mr. Hinman produced a band which played music seemingly out of their reach.

The band made appearances at assemblies, pep rallies, and various other programs to the enjoyment of all.

Not to be outdone, the orchestra played at the mid-term and June commencements.

The combined efforts of the band and orchestra culminated in a mid-winter concert which provided an enjoyable evening for the persons attending.

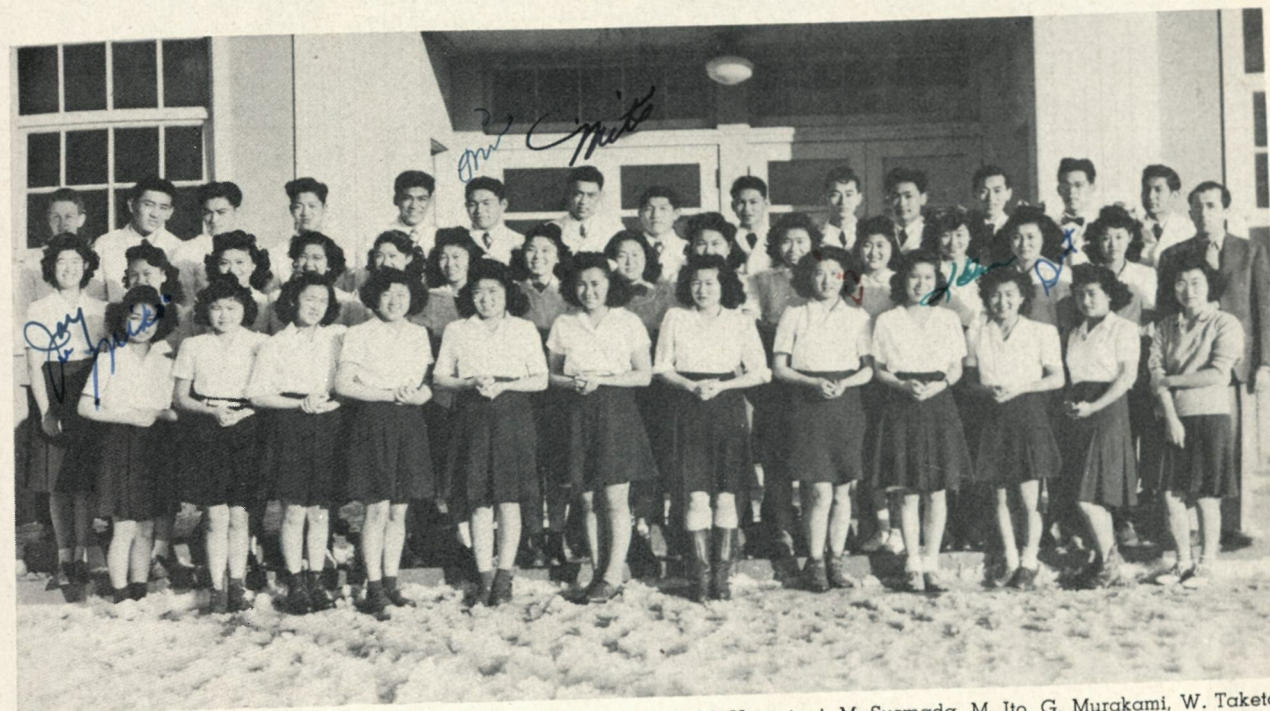

Much of the band and orchestra's success is due to the students' eager desire to learn.

glee clubs GIRLS I - BOYS II - ACAPPELLA III

This year students of Amache High School organized in addition to the Girls' Glee Club, an A Cappella Choir and a Boys' Glee Club.
Directed by Mr. Jackson, these groups made numerous appearances during the year at assemblies and various programs.

For the enjoyment of all during the Christmas season, they presented a full evening of music as a background for a series of Yuletide tableaux. They appeared in a big spring concert in conjunction with the band, and made a trip to Lamar to sing religious choral music at the Methodist Church.

A wide variety of music was sung by the various groups, including new and old, popular and concert, from Gershwin and Grofe to Palistrina and Bach.

Officers of the organizations were: A Cappella President, Mits Sumada; Vice President, Shiro Takemoto; Secretary, Shigeko Hamaoka; Treasurer, Calvert Kitazumi; Reporter, Min Ito; Librarian, Bob Okano; Girls' Glee Club, President, Babe Kochi; Vice President, Paula Yoshino; Secretary, June Sato; Treasurer, Peggy Yuasa; Librarian, Masako Morimoto; Reporter, Mary Takeyama.

Together, the groups, in addition to singing, planned and carried out several enjoyable parties which will not be forgotten in the years to come.

junior high HOMEMAKERS

The Junior Homemakers Club was organized February 3, 1945, under the sponsorship of Miss Jewel Hulquist.

The purpose of this club was to participate in additional homemaking and social activities, to gain poise, have fun and promote worthwhile hobbies and leisure activities.

The officers of the club are as follows: President, Sue Hashimoto; Secretary, Mariko Shimada; Treasurer, Yoshiye Yamaga; Historian, Pat Mori; and Publicity Manager, Toshiko Ando.

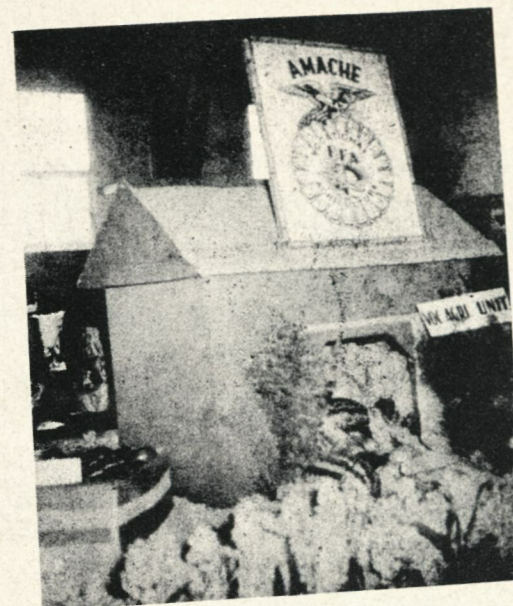

Among the activities planned during the semester by the club were a tea for the teachers, an all school hobby exhibit, a club banquet, and a style show.

senior high DRAMATICS

Headed by Mrs. Gladys SeEVERS, energetic members of the Dramatics Club plunged headlong into a year of activity and fun. Many of the members were active leaders in campus life and contributed their talents to many different clubs and socials. From this club may come the future's most talented actors and actresses.

Top row—H. Maruyama, M. Shigaki, J. Sugihara, N. Osajima, L. Nakano, F. Goi, S. Saito, B. Nitahara.

The Amache F.F.A. was organized when our school was first established at Block 8H. It was then under the expert supervision of Mr. Lorenzo Bergert, Mr. G. V. Griffith, and Mr. Frank Watanabe. Tom Kashiwagi and Tom Matsutani were assistant supervisors and played an important part in the operation of the farm.

The course was composed of farm mechanics, ag theory, and ag field practice. On the F.F.A. farm the boys raised potatoes, tomatoes, beans, corn, melons, wheat, and alfalfa. In addition, the boys cared for hog and cattle projects.

From the summer of 1944 through the year 1945, the farm was reduced in size due to a smaller enrollment in the course. Under Mr. Griffith's supervision, the boys carried on farm activities. Koichi Kimura, Stanley Marumoto, and "Doc" Takahashi were his assistants. The F.F.A. was formally discontinued at the close of the first semester of 1945, due to the transfer of Mr. Griffith to a soil conservation job in New Mexico.

The F.F.A. participated in the Amache Fairs and was fully rewarded with many first prizes. During each of its three years of existence, the F.F.A. attended the annual stock show in Denver. Its members also enjoyed several banquets sponsored by the club.

The Future Farmers Club extend their thanks to all faculty members who helped promote the success of the organization, and sincerely hope that its former hard-working members will choose their places as the future farmers of America.

1st row—R. Tanji, K. Hasegawa, L. Tanji, Mr. Griffith, G. Matsutani, Y. Matsuda, Y. Nakamura, T. Griffith.

Top row—M. Shigaki, D. Mizukami, G. Hikawa, J. Hamade, J. Sugihara, D. Kaneko, H. Maruyama, T. Joe, B. Morikawa.
 3rd row—F. Fukusawa, C. Ichikawa, A. Fujikawa, M. Kamikawa, H. Nomura, E. Shiotsu.
 2nd row—S. Saito, A. Murakami, P. Yuasa, L. Kuwahara, V. Okamura, B. Kochi, E. Nimura.

The "Syncopators" was organized for students interested in social activities in the school. To make the school a place of enjoyment and fun instead of just study, an energetic group got their heads together and organized a club. That club started with a few members, and because of its popularity, grew from scratch to a club with a membership of about thirty students.

The officers of this club were: President, Dag Nakatogawa; Vice President, Fudge Nimura; Secretary, Namiko Ota; Treasurer, Lucy Nakano; Historian, Yoshiko Oda; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Clarence Ichikawa.

The advisor of the club was pretty Tak Tanioka, home economics teacher.

senior play cast

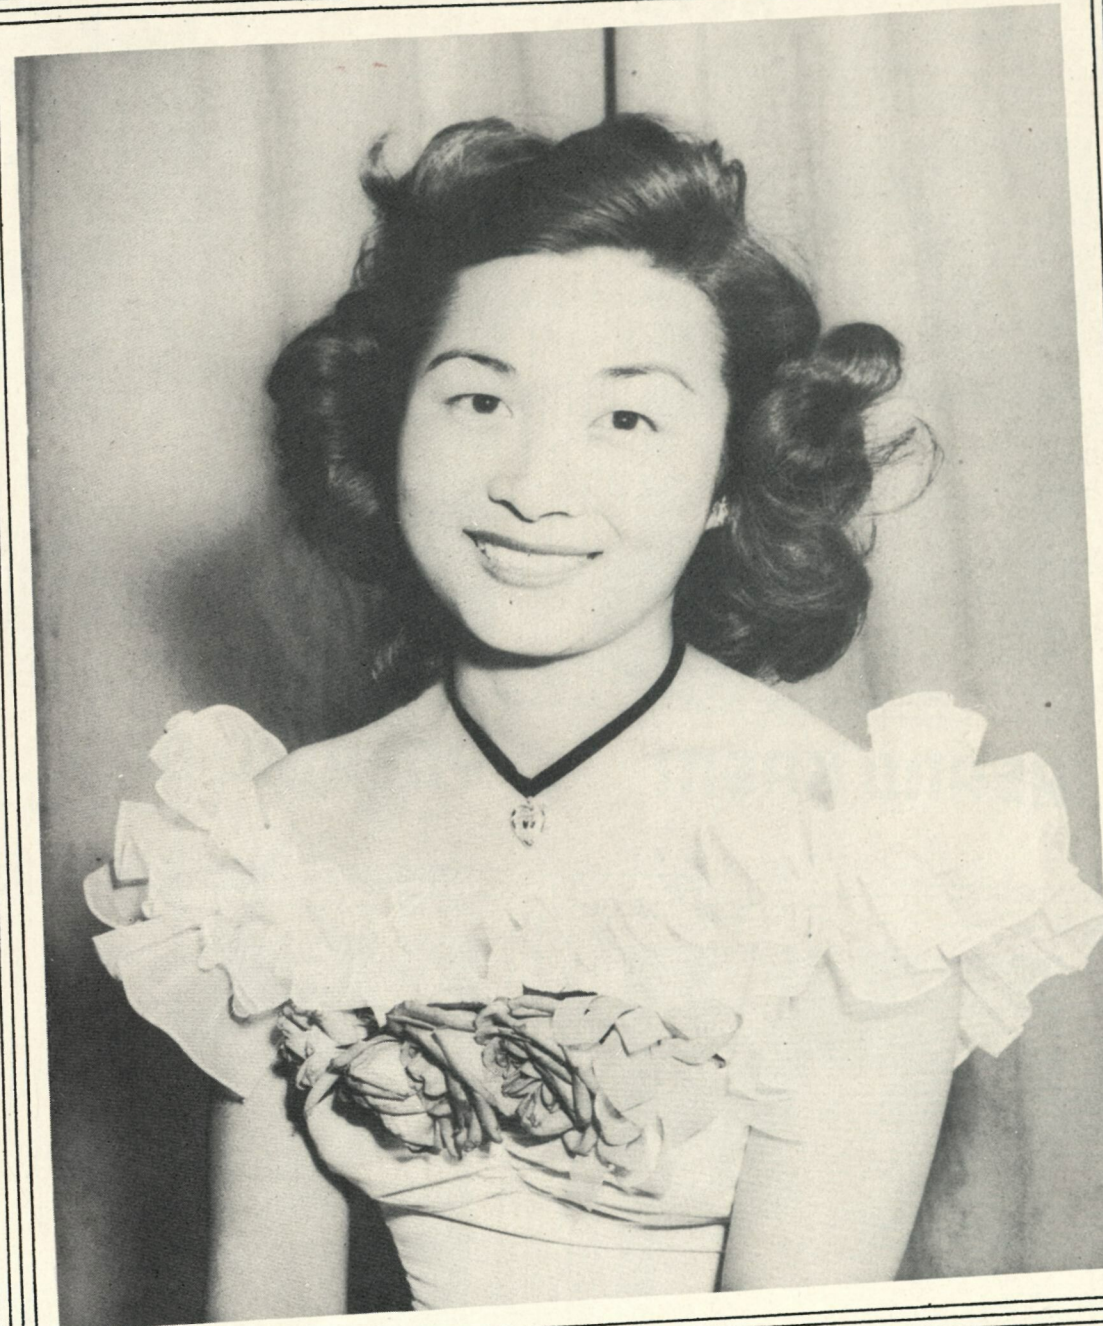

April, 1945, Amache High School was hit with an epidemic of Spring Fever spread by members of the Senior Class. No, it wasn't too serious. On the contrary, it was a hilarious comedy. Spring Fever was produced by able and talented Seniors.

Since the class of '45 had a great many eligible Romeos and Juliets, the choosing of the cast was difficult.

Finally after long hours of try-outs and the slow process of elimination, the following were chosen: Howard Brant, Kenji Yamaga, Ed Burns, Cal Kitazumi, Vic Lewis, Mits Sumada, Lou Herron, Setsumi Saito, Mrs. Spangler, Toshiko Sakamoto, Anne Purcell, Lucy Nakano, Vivian George, Katie Taketa, Henry Purcell, Min Mayeda, Phoebe Purcell, Fudge Nimura, Maude Corey, Grace Haratani, Professor Virgil Bean, Shiro Takemoto, Dr. Dixon, Jimmie Kamada.
