Pacific's 77th Commencement

The Rev. Benjamin Gregory, D. Litt., of London, will give the address at Pacific's outdoor commencement exercises in the stadium June 11. The processional of degree candidates and faculty members will enter the bowl at 7 o'clock in the evening, following a concert by the college band.

Dr. Gregory is editor of "The Methodist Times and Leader" of London, an organ of United British Methodism. He will spend the summer of 1934 in the United States as guest editor of The Christian Advocate, Central and Northwestern editions, in exchange with Dr. Dan B. Brummitt, who will give similar service on The Times. His headquarters will be in Chicago.

Rev. Gregory has been in charge of three of England's great Central Missions, London East End, London Northwest, and Huddersfield. He was educated at John Wesley's Kingswood School, and at Didsbury, Manchester.

He is the British Secretary of the Anglo-American Committee for International Discussion, of which the Archbishop of Canterbury is President, and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman one of the Vice-Presidents.

The Times and Leader, which was founded by Hugh Price Hughes under the name of The Methodist Times, has a circulation considerably in excess of all American Advocates.

Alumni Luncheon

"No speeches longer than two minutes at the Alumni Day luncheon" is the slogan adopted by the members of the Alumni Council. Unique program numbers will be presented by students and alumni. There will be also group singing of college songs under the leadership of Henderson McGee '27.

Separate tables will be reserved for the classes of 1884, 1894, 1904, 1914, and 1924 which are celebrating commencement anniversaries. Each class will have a representative to introduce the members present. Graduates of 1934 will be presented for membership in the Alumni Association.

The price of the luncheon is sixty cents, including the state tax. All who expect to attend are requested to notify the Alumni Secretary before June 8. No special reservation cards are being mailed by the alumni office.

Commencement Concert

Seven senior students and two graduates will participate as soloists in the annual commencement concert on the evening of June 8. Each will be accompanied by the college orchestra under the direction of Mr. Horace I. Brown of the conservatory faculty. They are: Roberta Ritchie, organist; Janet Bar, soprano; Dorothy Rice, pianist; Lydia von Berthelsdorf, pianist; Carol Carter, tenor; Gene Cady, pianist; Virginia Gardner, soprano; Dorothy Sue Norton '33, pianist; and Eugenia Foster '33, pianist.

*Reservations must be sent to the Alumni Secretary before June 8. Sixty cents per plate.

The Medea

An innovation in the Commencement week program this year is the presentation on Alumni Day of a Pacific Little Theatre production, Euripide's classic, the "Medea". The setting will be in the new outdoor theatre on the campus.

"Medea" will be the second of the ancient Greek dramas produced by De Marcus Brown '23, Little Theatre director. Four years ago "Trojan Women" was one of the artistic triumphs of the theatre. Several changes in staging and interpretation which will not conform strictly to Greek tradition will be seen in this season's production. The play is being handled from the standpoint of making a classic tragic drama as fascinating as it should be to a modern audience. So far as is known, the Greeks were unable to witness their dramas under the stars in the cool of the evening as will be possible at Pacific. Modern high power lighting equipment gives remarkably beautiful color effects.

Miss Frances Hall '33 will play the title role. Possessed with a marvelous voice and great poise in stage manner, Miss Hall has been one of the outstanding players of the Little Theatre. She has been praised highly in her work in "Ghosts", "Death Takes a Holiday", "Uncle Tom's Cabin", "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney", and many other productions.

Opposite Miss Hall, as Jason, will be Franklin Wilbur, another favorite of Little Theatre audiences. A strong supporting cast has been selected by Mr. Brown, and members of the Orchestris Dance Society, directed by Miss Mae Shaw, will form the chorus.

This will be the concluding performance of the Little Theatre's season. It will also be the seventieth major production at Pacific, and the fifty-ninth which Mr. Brown has directed. He has brought Pacific Little Theatre from a place of obscurity to the position as foremost college theatre in central California. Pacific's theatre is equipped with all standard devices as well as revolving units.

Miss Rogers to Be Guest Teacher

The International College of Music, Expression, and Dancing, at Chicago, has invited Miss Nella B. Rogers to be a guest teacher in its Summer Master School of 1934.

Off and On the Campus

Administrator

O. H. Ritter, comptroller, will direct the new department of Business Administration.

New Business Administration Department

A new major in Business Administration leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts will be offered at Pacific beginning in the Fall of 1934. This department is being organized in response to the growing demand on the part of students for an opportunity to prepare for a career in the field of business and at the same time have the benefit of the cultural training and background that follows from the liberal arts college training.

It will be the aim of the College to occupy in the undergraduate field the same place that some of the great universities east and west occupy in the graduate field. The advantage of the graduate school of business as a course of training is fully recognized, but it is also a fact that there are many able students who wish training in business combined with a liberal educational foundation who are unable for financial as well as other reasons, to spend the six or seven years at the graduate schools required for this training. Such students will thus have an opportunity to obtain this training in the undergraduate field.

Courses for only the first two years have been announced. Requirements for the junior and senior years will be scheduled as soon as the number of major students is determined.

Each student will be required to submit prior to graduation, evidence of competence in at least two skills—stenography, typing, Burroughs machine operation, comptometry, et cetera. This class of work will not be offered at Pacific, and credit for such work will not be given toward the required number of units for graduation.

This department will be under the personal direction of Mr. O. H. Ritter, comptroller.

Student Body President

Roger Jacoby, brother of Harold Jacoby '28, has been elected student body president for the 1934-35 term.

Alumni College to Be Repeated

More than seventy-five alumni and friends of Pacific attended the first Annual Alumni College on the campus April 28. In response to requests from both alumni and townspeople, the Alumni Secretary has set April 6, 1935, as the tentative date for the next Alumni College.

Women Debaters Are Champions

Three trophies won by women's debate teams is a new record established this year by four of Coach Dwayne Orton's proteges.

Miriam Gealey and Jeanet Manning, senior students, brought unprecedented honor to themselves and the College by winning the women's division of the national debate tournament at Lexington, Kentucky, sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity. They competed against 69 teams from colleges in 32 states.

Misses Gealey and Manning also won the annual Redlands Invitational Tournament at Redlands University in December. There were 24 teams in the Women's division from colleges in California, Utah and Arizona.

Jean Steinhart and Ellise Shuler, junior students, won the women's championship at the Pacific Province tournament of Pi Kappa Delta at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. They defeated the University of Southern California and won in the finals from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Pacific Weekly Editor

Fern Bryant of Colusa has been elected editor of the Pacific Weekly for the Fall semester. Miss Bryant is a junior student and holds membership in Alpha Phi Gamma journalism fraternity.

Meyer Speaks At Assembly

Luther "Duke" Meyer '22 of the San Francisco Call Bulletin spoke on "Television" at the student assembly of May 17. He was a guest of Alpha Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalism fraternity, of which he is an honorary member.

M. E. Conference At Pacific

The California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will again hold its annual meeting at Pacific, June 12th to 18th.

The Reverend Benjamin Gregory, editor of the Methodist Times and Leader of London, and Commencement speaker at Pacific this year, will give four addresses during the conference. All sessions, except the executive sessions, are open to the public.

Ministers and wives who attend the Conference will be accommodated in the dormitories, sorority houses, and Manor hall on the campus. The college dining hall will serve cafeteria style during the conference sessions.

Guest Director

Albert R. Lovejoy of the Petit Theatre du Vieux Carre, New Orleans. He will give a course in Directing.

Summer Theatre

A summer theatre with attractive courses under the direction of prominent men of the theatre world is a feature of Pacific's 1934 summer session. Direction, Dancing and Eurythmics, Dramatic Action, Puppetry and Stagecraft Workshop are the courses to be offered. Productions will be given in the Pacific Outdoor Theatre several evenings during the five-week session.

Albert R. Lovejoy comes from the noted Petit Theatre du Vieux Carre in New Orleans, distinguished community theatre enterprises. He has done remarkable work at Harvard and the KRO studios in Hollywood.

Perry Dilley, one of America's foremost puppeteers, is the owner and producer of the Perry Dilley Puppet Theatre in San Francisco. He will have daily classes in making, stringing, and manipulating puppets, and a small play will be produced.

DeMarcus Brown, Little Theatre director, will teach the courses in Dramatic Action and Stagecraft Workshop. Miss Mae Shaw of the regular faculty will teach Dancing and Eurythmics.

Pacific's Outdoor Theatre where the summer productions will be presented.

Alaskan Tour

A post-session afloat to Alaska is another feature of this year's Pacific Summer School. Under the direction of Dr. G. A. Werner, Dean of the Summer Session, and Dr. J. W. Harris, dean of the School of Education, the party will leave San Francisco August 4th on the H. F. Alexander.

The itinerary, which covers 4000 miles in 16 days, includes stops at Seattle, Victoria, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg, Juneau, Skagway and Sitka. At Skagway the group will travel by train over White Pass Summit to Lake Bennett. It will be a fascinating excursion that will provide an abundance of alluring sights. Totem poles with curious legends, dead and live glaciers, fantastic icebergs, mammoth flowers, and numerous other things that can be seen only in the Land of the Midnight Sun.

The tour is not limited to those who register for courses; it is open to all who desire a restful but interesting vacation.

Courses and lectures offered are:

AMERICAN EDUCATION. 2 units. Dr. Harris.

CURRENT EDUCATIONAL LITERATURE. 2 units. Dr. Harris. Readings, reports and discussions of recent educational writings.

AMERICA SINCE 1914. 2 units. Dr. Werner. A general survey of events, problems, and trends in contemporary American civilization, including Canada, United States and Latin America.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST. 2 units. Dr. Werner. Includes Alaska, British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California.

Among those who are planning to be members of the tour are: Misses Margaret Barth, Lucille Turner, Ma-

Summer Session Opens June 25

The regular summer session on the campus will open June 25th for a five-week period. Classes will be lengthened so as to meet the requirements of a regular six-week session.

There will be four guest instructors in addition to the regular faculty. Nadean Tupper Gonzales '27 will teach the Art courses; Ivan H. Howard Linder of Sacramento Senior High School and Mrs. Grace Taylor Pearce, Rural School supervisor in San Joaquin County, will give courses in Education; and B. Norman Gonzales '28, will teach Invertebrate Paleontology.

Puppeteer

Perry Dilley of San Francisco will teach a course in Puppetry.

tilda Iverson, Pearl Armstrong, Ethel Mae Hill, Louise Flaa, Mabel Finch, Althea Shaber, E. Cooper, Zelma Langdon, Olive M. Chubb, Mrs. Dona Knaack, and Stanley Berry, W. T. Eich, Robert Fenix, and Robert Burns.

Pacific's New Junior College

By DWAYNE ORTON, Director

The establishment of a Junior College at Pacific is a farsighted move in harmony with well established trends of liberal education in the American college. This trend is in the direction of recognizing the first two years of the arts college as the concluding period of general education. In this period the liberal arts are carried forward in an attempt to achieve an integration of general knowledge through survey-appreciation courses which are vividly and realistically developed.

Notable examples of this type of curriculum are to be found in the College of the University of Chicago, the General College at University of Minnesota, Columbia's Social Science Survey Course, Northwestern's new college curriculum, and many others.

The new Junior College will maintain the same high standards of scholarship that have gained for Pacific the highest ratings in the standard accrediting associations. Courses will be taught by the regular college faculty, but they will be adapted to the needs of a new class of students.

The Junior College will attempt to reverse the ordinary process of having the student "fit the college" and will attempt to "fit the college to the student." Entrance requirements will be so wide and flexible that any graduate of a high school showing an aptitude for college work may enter. He will, however, have the advantage of careful guidance and his course will be developed with special consideration for his particular needs. He will not be straight-jacketed into a predetermined scheme of requirements but will have a curricular opportunity that will fit his requirements.

The Junior College is designed to meet the needs of four classes of students:

1. Those who wish to complete their general education and enter the community as citizens prepared to live lives of service.

2. Those who wish to complete their general education before specializing in any major field.

3. Those who wish to complete their general education before undertaking professional education.

4. Those whose secondary school record has disqualified them from entering the major departments of specialization in the college.

THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum of the Junior College is developed along three lines of thought:

1. The Natural Sciences.
2. The Social Sciences.
3. The Fine Arts and Literature.

In carrying out a student's course of study an attempt will be made to give an orientation in all fields and to make possible an emphasis in the field of his greatest interest. Narrow specialization will be discouraged.

Junior College courses are open to all students in the college.

NATURAL SCIENCE

MAN AND HIS WORLD

Dr. Bawden and Staff

An introduction to science in which many of the sciences join to tell a unified story of man mastering his world. The approach of this course is not that of the professional scientist but that of the man who desires a knowledge of the world in which he lives and an insight into the method of science which have brought us this wonderful world as a part of our culture.

TECHNOLOGY

Dr. Harness

Man has brought into existence a race of mechanical beings so tireless, so accurate, and so powerful that it is superseding its creators in many of the essential acts of life. This course will attempt to understand the forces which gave rise to the machine, the basic applications of physical science which have made its development possible, and the problems which confront a man in his adjustment to a machine civilization.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

TRENDS OF CIVILIZATION AND CULTURE

Dr. Werner

This course will deal with the origins of civilizations and the contributions of past cultures to present civilizations.

MAN'S SOCIAL WORLD

Professor Jacoby

This course will attempt to develop in the student a scientific attitude toward his social relationships.

AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS

Dr. Eiselen

A course in the problems of American citizenship.

SOCIAL AND COMMUNITY HYGIENE

Professor Breeden

The aim of this course is to develop an intelligent attitude toward Public Health and to equip the student for the discharge of his civic responsibilities in problems of Social and Community Hygiene.

THE MATHEMATICS OF BUSINESS AND INVESTMENT

Professor White

This course will present simple mathematical problems in the affairs of life which confront the average citizen and furnish him with the mathematical tools essential to a layman's needs in his general business affairs.

COLLEGE LIFE

Director Orton

This course will attempt to help the student become adjusted to college life through a discussion of such problems as Home and College, Financial Handicaps and How to Overcome Them, Athletic, Forensic, Dramatic and Social Activities, Fraternity Life, College Pranks, Social Relationships, How to Study, and others.

LIFE'S IDEAS AND IDEALS

President Knoles

In this course the emphasis will be on achieving an appreciative understanding of such problems as criteria of truth, individual and social morality, realism and idealism, religion and life, and others.

THE ART OF THINKING

Director Orton

It is the aim of this course to help the student develop correct mental habits and to recognize faults in the reasoning of others.

Director Orton and Dean Harris

The general aim of this course is to help the student discover how and why he acts as he does and why other people behave as they do, in order that he may more intelligently influence others and control his own behavior. Half of the course will deal with the individual and half with men-women relationships, marriage problems, home management, and consumer economics.

FINE ARTS AND LITERATURE

CURRENT ENGLISH READING AND WRITING

Dr. Sibley

An effort will be made to encourage a delight in reading, and in the expression of the student's reactions toward the selections which he reads.

STUDIES OF GREAT PERSONALITIES

This course will study the lives of great men and women from many lands and periods in history with a view to discovering the elements of character which have made for happiness in life.

SURVEY OF EUROPEAN LITERATURE

Dean Farley and Staff

This course will attempt an appreciative understanding of European peoples through the medium of their great writings.

THE ART OF LANGUAGE

Professor Van Oppen

This course is an introduction to peoples through their language and literature. It deals with the psychology of language and with the traits of people as language reveals them.

THE ART OF EFFECTIVE SPEAKING

Director Orton

This course will attempt to stimulate the imagination to creative work in communicating ideas in conversation, and public address.

THE ART OF THE THEATER

Professor Brown

This course will give the student some standards of judgment of theatrical productions and motion picture productions by teaching him how to see a play.

THE APPRECIATION OF MUSIC

Dean Dennis and Staff

This course will help the student to evaluate and appreciate the great variety of music which the radio, the theater, the dance and concert stage bring to his ears.

"So Endeth * * *"

This issue of the Pacific Review will be the last edited by the present Alumni Secretary. The column "Engagements" indicates the reason. A former fellow faculty member at the College who is now practicing law has won his case, hence the turning from journalism to home economics.

Pacific—the campus, faculty, students, alumni—all connected with it, have become so much a part of life that it is difficult to write "Farewell".

Editing the Review, arranging reunions, doing every bit of alumni work, has been happy experience. Forming friendships, making contacts, carrying on correspondence have added pleasantness beyond measure. That the College and the Alumni Association will grow in strength, in service, in sphere of influence is my wish, my hope, my prayer.

Yes, "it will be in June," Sunday, the 24th, at 3 p. m. Lest official duties and attendant excitement cause any friends of Pacific to be overlooked, "all persons interested" are invited to be present at Epworth University Church, 2516 Durant Avenue, Berkeley.

After August 1st, we (both of us, not just editorially) will be "at home" to any readers of the Pacific Review, at 1200 North Commerce Street, Stockton.

T. Wilson, Hamilton Honored

The "Swede" Righter trophy for outstanding athletes was awarded this year for the first time since 1931 to Tom Wilson and Elton Hamilton. Fay Loveridge received this honor three years ago.

Tom Wilson was recognized for outstanding ability as an athlete and leader also by receiving the "Cherub" Royse trophy. This was presented by Rho Lambda Phi fraternity.

THE APPRECIATION OF ART

Miss Ward and Mr. Brown

Because the life of the American citizen is profoundly influenced by graphic and spatial art in furniture, auto, house, clothing, sign boards, magazine, newspaper, linen, interior decoration, and a host of other media, this course will attempt to develop basic tastes and principles of appreciation.

Corson Is Dean of Men

James Corson '27, assistant dean of men and director of athletics at Pacific, has been promoted to dean of men. He will assume his new duties with the opening of the fall term.

Dr. Fred L. Farley, dean of the college, has been filling the position of dean of men, but increased activities have made it difficult for him to handle the work of both offices.

Dean Corson has been an instructor in physical education, head track coach, and Freshman football coach since returning to his Alma Mater in 1929. He taught at Modesto Junior College after graduating from Pacific.

New Offices

A series of new offices will be arranged on the first floor of the Administration Building for Dean Corson, Dwayne Orton as dean of the Junior College, Dr. J. W. Harris, dean of the School of Education, and Mrs. Marion O. Pease, director of student teaching.
