District Alumni Dinners A Success

A gratifying response to the five district Alumni Club dinners was evidenced during last fall with fine turn outs at Oakland, San Jose, Los Angeles, Chico, and San Francisco. Speakers and talent from the Campus supplied the meetings with interesting programs. Not only was organization perfected at these five centers but plans were contemplated for the organization of several new Clubs in large cities next year.

Heading the five District Clubs for the present year are Oakland, Roger Jacoby '35; San Jose, Lucille Fox Greene '24; Los Angeles, Dorothy Bernard Craig '18; Chico, Ernest Lundeen '24; and San Francisco, Fred Busher '25.

Mrs. Stagg Honored by Football Seniors

The Pacific annual award day this year brought honors not only to the members of the College of the Pacific Far Western Conference championship grid squad but to Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg and his "silent partner", Mrs. Stagg. Long recognized by Pacific football teams as an asset to the coaching staff and an inspiration to the players, Mrs. Stagg was presented a silver trophy by the senior members of the 1936 squad.

During the past four seasons Mrs. Stagg has scouted opponents, charted Pacific games, and aided the "grand old man" in devising winning formations. Presentation of the trophy established her as the "first lady of the gridiron".

Block "P's", letter sweaters, gold footballs, and autographed copies of Coach Stagg's book, "Touch-down", were presented to members of the team. Senior players were granted bronze individual trophies as mementos of Pacific's first grid championship season. The team in turn gave Stagg a coaching jacket. Coach Ralph B. Francis, Trainer Bob Breeden, Assistant Coaches Bob Blanchard, Bud Savage, Jim Bainbridge, and Walt Foster, and General Manager Wally Hallberg also received gold footballs.

Stagg Lands Imposing Schedule

Early reports on the 1937 Pacific grid schedule show the Bengal Tigers will continue their "no-breather" style of pigskin campaigning. In addition to the Far Western Conference schedule of contests, Coach Stagg's charges will tangle with the University of Southern California Trojans, California Golden Bears, St. Mary's Galloping Gaels, and San Jose State Spartans. Definite schedule for the 1937 season is expected to be completed soon.

Deaths

'78—Fisk. Rufus Fisk in San Jose on Oct. 10, 1936.
'589—Griffith. J. Scott Griffith in Dunsmuir, October 25, 1936.

Chimes To Toll On Campus

Chimes will soon toll from the tower of the College of the Pacific Conservatory!

Students and residents of Pacific Manor are anticipating the installation of equipment which will make possible amplified reproduction of the Jere Liter chimes in the Watt Memorial Organ. Present plans call for the chimes to be sounded at regular intervals with special carillons and carols to be played at Christmas, Easter, and other festive occasions.

Known as the Adelaide M. Coburn Tower Chimes Project, the equipment for the rebroadcast of the chimes will be purchased with funds contributed by campus living groups, members of the faculty, and residents of Pacific Manor. Inspiration for the project was found in the long cherished wish of the late Professor Adelaide M. Coburn to install chimes in the Conservatory tower.

Time signals at quarter-hour intervals will be amplified from an electric telechron Westminster Chimes clock to be presented to the project by the college. The clock operates independently of the organ, and its action is automatic.

Student Constitution Amended

Initial steps in the unification of the student bodies of the College of the Pacific and Stockton Junior College were taken recently with the adoption of the name "Pacific Student Association". The Pacific Student Association supersedes and includes the combined memberships of the Associated Students of the College of the Pacific and the Stockton Junior College group. The new name was adopted following amendments of the student constitution. Other amendments also provided for necessary junior college representation in the student government.

Pacific Saluted On "California's Hour"

College of the Pacific was saluted last month over the statewide "California's Hour" broadcast! Student artists traveled to Los Angeles for the broadcast with Conrad Nagel, David Brockman's orchestra, and the studio guest stars.

Miss Margaret George, Berkeley soprano, won first place in radio votes over the program. Harmon Ginn, Stockton baritone; the Sinfonia Male Quartet; and Miss Dorothy Posey, Chico, and John Crabbe, Modesto, enacting a scene from "Camille" were other Pacific students on the program. The quartet was composed of Louis Farone, Modesto, Francis Wilson, Upland, Rodney Randall, Oakland, and Douglas Taylor, Vallejo.

By virtue of her win in the College of the Pacific program, Miss George became eligible to compete in the semi-final talent tournament also held last month.

Conrad Nagel's tribute to the college embraced a brief history of Pacific as the oldest chartered college in California and the many notable events connected with its development.

Nineteen Thirty-Seven Summer Session » » »

THE Summer School at the College of the Pacific usually offers a varied program of study, travel, dramatics, concerts, out of door sports, social and intellectual fellowship as well as other forms of recreation. Courses will be offered in practically all departments of the Senior College and those who are interested in units and credits are advised to consult the Summer Session Bulletin. Should you not find the particular course which you need, write to me about it. The College is sponsoring two tours in which the maximum Summer Session units may be acquired at the regular Summer Session rates. Those who are not interested in units are cordially invited to join either of the tours for sight-seeing and pleasure. Folders are available for either tour and will be sent on request. The following record of attendance indicates a steady growth of the registration during the past ten years:

Dr. G. A. Werner, Dean

With many and varied activities on the Campus, with tours in America and Mexico, we are looking forward to a pleasant and profitable summer. The College of the Pacific extends a cordial invitation to one and all to participate in and enjoy its varied summer program.

By Dr. G. A. Werner, Dean.

New Members of the Summer Session Faculty

Professor Fordyce Stewart

We take pleasure in presenting those members of the faculty who appear for the first time in the Summer activities on the Campus.

Fordyce Stewart, Professor of Education at Chico State College, will offer courses in Secondary Education and Administration. Professor Stewart is well known among the educators in Northern California.

Dr. Roy McCall, Professor of Speech, has specialized in corrective speech methods and will offer a course in the study of the techniques to be applied to remedial speech work among elementary and secondary school children. He will also give courses in Public Speaking, The Teaching of Speech, and Argumentation.

Prof. F. P. Steinhauser, Prof. of Modern Languages, will give a very interesting course in Hispanic American Literature, also courses in French and Spanish.

Prof. Harold S. Jacoby, Assistant Prof. of Economics and Sociology, will give three very timely courses in the field of Sociology.

Wesley G. Young, the supervisor of practice teaching in Secondary Schools, will offer courses in History of Education, Recent Social Trends and the Teachings of the Social Sciences in Junior and Senior High Schools.

Mr. Chris Kjeldsen, young and active, will keep the students busy on the Tennis Courts and in the swimming pool. The Administration has prospects of securing an outstanding instructor in graphic arts.

Annual Trip To Death Valley

The fifth annual trip to Mojave Desert, Death Valley and Boulder Dam will leave Stockton on March 20. This year an opportunity will be offered to view Death Valley from the west side from an observation point in the Panamint range. The group will see many new developments at Boulder Dam and in the power house. The trip will be directed by Dr. A. T. Bawden and Professor J. H. Jonte.

TOURS FOR 1937

Educational and Industrial Tour of The United States

Prof. J. H. Jonte

The departments of chemistry and geology are sponsoring a summer session tour which will visit several historic and scenic places and many typical industries of the United States.

The primary objectives of the tour are to help science teachers to vitalize their teaching and to give advanced students an opportunity to see industrial applications of the principles which they have been studying by seeing the scientific and industrial development of the country by visiting typical and outstanding research laboratories, industrial plants and experiment stations. Because of the wide range of activities and cultural features visited on the trip, all teachers will find their knowledge of modern civilization will be greatly increased.

In addition to the scientific and industrial phases of the trip, Grand Canyon, Niagara Falls, the Canadian Rockies and Victoria will be visited.

Cultural centers such as Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Seattle will be on the itinerary. Among the cultural points of interest are the National Museum, Mount Vernon, the White House, Washington Monument, the Capitol and Lincoln Memorial in Washington; Independence Hall in Philadelphia, The American Museum of Natural History, Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Modern Art and Museum of Science and Industry in New York, many historic spots around Boston; Ford's Greenfield Village in Detroit; Art Institute, Shedd Aquarium, Field Museum, Museum of Science and Industry, Adler Planetarium, Chicago Zoological Gardens and Lincoln Park Conservatory in Chicago.

Among the educational institutes to be seen will be Columbia, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the University of Chicago.

Some of the largest and most important industrial and research laboratories will be hosts to our group, among which are the Hercules Experiment Station, Goodrich Rubber Company, Eastman Kodak Company, Bakelite Corporation, Bureau of Standards, General Electric Company and Bausch & Lomb Optical Company.

Outstanding and typical plants of the following industries will be inspected: Foods, soap, paint, drugs, rubber, Pyrex glass, laboratory glassware, plate-glass, electro-chemicals, abrasives, lacquers, paper, acids, laboratory chemicals, ceramics, sillimanite ware and Celotex. The metallurgical industries will be represented by lead, copper and zinc refineries, and steel mills.

Other important industries such as automobiles, locomotives, clocks, watches, thermometers, pyro-

Romantic Mexico

By Prof. Lorraine Knoles*

Mexico is a land of infinite charm and variety. You will be inspired by towering mountain peaks, heavily wooded slopes, glorious views of great plateaus, deep barrancas—with their forests and terraced patches surrounding small villages and gorgeous tropical vegetation. You will view the splendor of prehistoric monuments, impressive cathedrals and monasteries and charming colonial homes with lovely glimpses of patio gardens through wrought iron "rejas". You may wander through quaint villages with their plazas and arcades. You will find bargaining in the Indian markets for serapes, pottery, baskets and other native crafts a fascinating experience. There will be beautiful parks, magnificent boulevards and modern buildings in the capital. Charming, hospitable people will greet you. The leadership of the tour will insure a wonderful experience. Genial, friendly Dr. Werner, beloved by generations of Pacific students is to be the leader. In addition to these personal qualifications, Dr. Werner has a wonderful understanding of Latin America and speaks Spanish fluently. A trip to Mexico under these auspices will be an unforgettable experience.

Editors Note:* Miss Knoles has toured Mexico twice and is very enthusiastic about the land and its people. This seems to be the experience of all who visit this charming country.

The Tour To Mexico

June 26th to July 23rd, 1937

The College is sponsoring a twenty-seven day tour to Mexico under the direction of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Werner. The Werners were engaged in Educational work in Latin America for seven years and for that reason they have been appointed by the Administration to take charge of the tour which promises to be full of interest and delight. For information regarding the tour, consult Dr. G. A. Werner, College of the Pacific or Charles Travel Agency, Stockton, Calif.

eters, photographic instruments and accessories, optical instruments, electric lights, steam power plants, laboratory equipment and precise electrical measuring instruments, will provide ample opportunity for studying industrial applications of scientific principles.

Other points of interest include: Wall Street, a large telephone exchange, Radio City, Marshall Field's, Central Scientific Company, a large mail order house, and the open cut iron mines of Minnesota.

By traveling as a member of a group under competent direction, one will be able to gain admission into places which are not open to individuals and thereby will be able to see more in a given time and at less cost than by making the trip independently.

The party will travel by train and stop at hotels. The group will leave Stockton on June 22, and return August 3. A person may earn up to 6 units in Chemistry or Geology or a combination of these. Directors of the tour are Dr. Bawdin and Prof. Jonte.

Pacific Summer Theatre

Prof. DeMarcus Brown

After spending the 1936 summer period at Dennis, Massachusetts, as technical director of the Cape Playhouse, most famous of the many summer theatres in the east, DeMarcus Brown remains in Stockton this summer to again guide the activities of the summer theatre which he himself inaugurated four years past. Dramatics assumed a major place in the curriculum and activity of the annual Pacific Summer Session with the development of the Outdoor Theatre project, now more beautiful than ever, and the setting for the productions of the Summer Theatre company. The word "company" is used advisedly, for students and instructors of several academic classes form themselves into what is virtually a "Stock Company" which spends five weeks devoted to intense study, rehearsal and production for the public. The annual season of productions under the stars has become a unique and popular feature of Stockton's summer entertainment calendar, and every bit of Summer Theatre work finds expression in these performances for public approval. In the four summer seasons to date, every registered student has had some opportunity behind the footlights as well as valuable technical experience. This is one thing that explains the popularity of Pacific's own Summer Theatre, for these off-season students want most of all, activity and genuine experience.

Course offerings are designed to meet the needs and interests of those interested in theatre from the standpoints of acting, directing, and technical work. Edgar Jacobs comes from Southern California for the third season as stage manager and instructor in stagecraft. DeMarcus Brown and the staff will offer the class work in the other branches.

Although definite announcements are not yet ready, the Summer Theatre playbill will without doubt again feature some outstanding attractions. Some of the finest plays presented at Pacific in the past have been seen on the outdoor stage including such features as "Street Scene", "Let Us Be Gay", "The Young Idea", "The Romantic Age", "Mother's Millions", "Girls in Uniform", "Holiday" and "Lost Horizons". Such plays represent wonderful experience for the participants as well as great entertainment for summer audiences.

During the spring, the Summer Theatre staff will publish an attractive prospectus of the 1937 season with description of plays and courses. Anyone who wishes to be sure of receiving one should communicate with the Alumni office.

Summer Music Offerings Expanded

Dean John G. Elliott

Three successive summers of delightful weather have encouraged the Conservatory of Music to offer a full and complete summer session of theoretical subjects in addition to the usual voice, piano, organ, cello and violin study. And even when Old Sol decides to turn on the heat in earnest, music students have discovered that the Conservatory building is a veritable oasis, and except for the new swimming pool it is the coolest place in town.

The results of this decision to increase the music offerings and make the Conservatory a leading summer center of music on the Pacific coast have been most gratifying. Not only regular students in course, but alumni and transfers from other institutions have enrolled in greater numbers and this increase has made it possible for the faculty to offer the more specialized upper division courses which are rarely given in summer sessions in California.

Advanced and preparatory students of piano, voice, organ, string and other orchestral instruments have found in the summer session an excellent opportunity for concentrated effort in applied music. Freedom from the many duties of the fall and spring semesters makes it possible to practice a great deal more and thus make use of the five weeks term as a means of strengthening individual performing ability.

Summer Swimming Program Enlarged

Professor Robert L. Breeden

Pacific's new outdoor swimming pool will be an attractive spot to students of the 1937 Summer Session, according to Robert L. Breeden, head of the Department of Physical Education.

An enlarged program with beginning or advanced classes will be offered each class period in the morning and a student may receive regular credit towards a degree for these classes. Instruction will include work in elementary swimming, all standard strokes, and plain and fancy diving. Direction in life saving leading to the Red Cross Senior Life Saving certificate will also be available.

In addition to the class work, the pool will be open for recreational swimming parties every afternoon and evenings and on weekends. Swimming parties will be held for summer session students, and the annual swimming carnival will be held by the classes near the close of the session. For those students wishing a brief swim in the mornings, the twenty-minute intermission between morning classes may be used.

Private instruction will be offered and can be arranged for a small charge.

The pool is modern in all respects with the latest type of filtration, underwater lights, diving boards, deck area, etc. A competent life guard or instructor is on duty at all times the pool is open; each holding a Red Cross Life Saving Instructor's certificate.

Accommodations and Expense

MEN'S HALL WOMEN'S HALL

Fine rooms for men are available in Men's Hall, a campus dormitory under the management of the College and for women in Women's Hall, also a dormitory building on the campus under college management.

Each room is supplied with the necessary furniture and mattresses for two students. The beds are single. Students are expected to provide bed clothing, pillows, towels, and whatever articles, such as rugs, pictures, curtains, they may desire to make their rooms more attractive.

MANOR HALL

For students desiring to do light housekeeping the college maintains as part of the campus facilities a dormitory apartment house, Manor Hall. The facilities and general surroundings are on a par with the other halls and the living conditions are equally as pleasant. Each apartment consists of living room, kitchenette, dressing room, and bathroom facilities, and is supplied with usual furniture. Occupants provide their own bedding, linen, kitchen and tableware.
