INTER-STATE ROMANCE

This time it's a Californian and a Washingtonian who were the victims of curios box and arrow. Yoshiko Kosebeyashi formerly of Vancouver, Wash., and Tatsuo Mizukawa of Sacramento, Calif., announced their engagement at dinner held recently at the Kosebeyashi residence. Only close friends were in attendance.

A SUPREME

A surprise

THE OTHER

BY KEN NAYASHI

I'm nothing new when people tell you that "girls are funny animals." We were reminded of this fact when a feminine member of the staff joked fun at us recently...It so happens that several of us wereoot to the attentions and thankful enough to stay up all night gazing at a room to be used in building an addition to our office...and so that thanks we got a joke all the thing says, "He, your eyes look funny. How can you didn't check these bags aren't place?"

To could have cried. Then there are those fluffs the keep you guessing by saying one thing and meaning just the opposite. They drive a man nuts but that can a poor helpless do? Sometimes we wonder why God took the trouble to make women.

To give credit where credit is due is something all of us would like to see. Hard-working people in the background are often neglected and that is a shame...For instance take the Cabaret International that is now touring the Project. The entertainers are always in the limelight and they soak in all the applause. But those people who get the stage, help with the make-up, the designing, and the many other cut of the focus of the spotlight, what about them? They deserve to be praised and the applause that is due the frontliners should be also reserved for them. For after all they are the background of the troupe.

BARRACKS ONLY WITH PERMITS

Nadore stated further:

MINIDOKA HAS GIRLS' 6-MAN FOOTBALL GAME

Eye-catching news from the sports page of the Minidoka Irrigator was a story on a six-man football game between two girls' teams, which was played before a "surprisingly large crowd."

To quote the Irrigator, "Joe. Ill girls chub out a 10-0 win over the powder and puff six of Soc. V in a rough and tumble gridiron classic Saturday at the 28-30 field."

Note worthy!
