TULE LAKE PROJECT MOST ADVANCED IN PHYSICAL ASPECT — COVERLEY

One of the first to be selected as a WRA official by Milton S. Eisenhower, former national director, Harvey M. Coverley has held various posts in the WRA before coming here to be the director of the second largest relocation center.

Interested in administrative work, the new director has been connected with the Farm Security Administration for eight years and worked up and down the coast on various farm projects.

"This Project is the most advanced from a physical standpoint," said Coverley, "Our schools, the equipment such as trucks, farm implements, agricultural development, and the general physical aspect of the Project is far in advance of the others."

At one time Coverley was project director at Manzanar. He is married and has one daughter, 18 years of age. A native Californian, he was graduated from Stanford University in 1924.

PROJECT PORK FREE FROM DANGER OF TRICHINOSIS

Eat your pork... hero without fear of trichinosis. The pigs on the Project farm are of selected variety, carefully brooded by well-supervised men, it was learned.

A meeting is held every Friday night by the hog raisers to listen to the foremen's reports and to educate men on scientific hog breeding.

COOP PROFITS EXEMPTED FROM INCOME TAX

War Relocation Authority has declared the exemption of the accumulated profits of the Tule Lake Co-operative Enterprises from income tax, provided that a record of patronage be established, it was announced by the Co-op management.

Records of patronage, from Dec. 1 to the close of the current fiscal year, will be projected back to be used as a basis of patronage record of the temporary enterprises. From Dec. 1 to date, the average cash sale has been about 50 per cent of the total sale. Therefore, 50 per cent of the profit to date will be subject to income tax.

"The Co-op members can determine how much of this profit they want to keep for themselves," said Noboru Honda, Co-op research director. "Buying scrips and recording patronage is the only way to keep money in the Project. It will build up our credit and capital structure; thereby increasing purchasing power. This results in more economical buying by the members."

JUDGE WILL TAKE WED APPLICATIONS

Judge Nosebar will be here this afternoon (Tuesday) to take marriage applications from prospective brides and grooms. He will be located at the Local Aid desk.

F. TANABE TO JOIN PARENTS IN IDAHO

To join his parents in Minidoka relocation center in Idaho, Frank Tanabe, Dispatch city editor, left the Project this morning.
FRANK TANABE WRITES
FAREWELL COLUMN

It's evenning. A chill, frost-laden wind sweeps across the plains of Tule Lake. The ground is hard from the freeze. It feels solid under the treads of the goblins — giving an ominous warning - of any things.

The winds from the snow-covered Siaklyus whip the coat tighter, chilling to the marrow. Home and warm fires seem distant.

A mirage arises in the cold, leafless fir. It is a picture of a weather-beaten barrack. The scene — desolation. A thinly clad waif enters the barrack and staggers in.

Inside a pot-bellied stove emits heat casting a mirror of a picture struggling against the wicked, uncompassing elements — reaching the barricade andstands in.

The picture fades. Warmth glows in my heart. I am going to the place where tenderness dwells, where the Gods have given their blessings.

Thanks for adding another link to my chain of pleasant memories. Someday, somewhere, those scenes, your kindness and friendship will flash upon my inward eye and prove a blessing to solitude and memory, ever.

It's thirty with regrets. Goodbye and good luck, FSP.
200 MILK CANS LOST, WARNING

The people who are supplying us with milk have lost 200 ten-gallon milk cans.

Inasmuch as their margin of profit on milk furnished us is not sufficiently interesting for them to continue business with us, especially in the face of the transportation problem that they encounter, they advise us that unless we return the 200 milk cans, they will not be interested in furnishing us with any more milk.

If any department or any individual is withholding milk cans belonging to the people who supply us with milk, it is urged that they turn them into the police department immediately; otherwise our supply of milk may be curtailed.

CLASS A' CASEABA LEAD KEPT BY MIKS AND WAKS

Sacramento Miks and the Waka quintets took easy victories last Sunday and their meeting this week-end looms as the game which will decide the Class A championship if only one round of games are played.

The Miks were having a hard time hitting the loop in the first half in their game with Marysville, leading by a mere 12-3 second half was a different story and they sailed into a 44-10 win.

Tak Tetsui kept up his high scoring for the Miks and was top man with 12 counters.

Clippers held the Waks to an 18-14 count at the half way mark, but couldn't keep pace with them in the last half and went down to a 50 to 27 defeat.

A new face in the Wak line-up was young Bob Hayashida who did all right for himself and distributed point honors with 14 points. Sloppy Gehita was the only consistent scorer for the Clippers, dumping in 7 field goals and 1 foul shot for 16 points.

JFL ALL-STAR WIN FIRST LITTLE SAND BOWL GAME

Junior Football League All-Star team handed the champion Marysville Jrs. their first and last defeat of the current season by a 13-7 score in the initial "Little Sand Bowl" game last Saturday. The contest drove the curtain down on the pigskin campaign which had been in progress for the past three months.

Marysville lacked as if they could have the situation pretty well in hand two minutes after the kick-off they had driven down the field and scored when fullback James Takeshita tossed a 20 yard pass to George Hayashi, who then ran 15 yards into pay dirt. Sam Yoshimura, converted with a pass to K. Honda, and Marysville led 7-0.

The remainder of the first half was scoreless and the All-Stars seemed unable to "click" although they held the champs down in their own territory most of the time.

Then in a wild third period, the League teams played a game with Bob Torita, star halfback from Isleton, doing most of the passing and running, scored two touchdowns and a conversion, which turned out to be enough to win the game 13-7.

Kashiwabara connected with Mas Honda and Andy Sugiyama for the scores.

The second half definitely showed that the All-Stars had the power and Marysville was forced to play a defensive game. But despite being confined to their own territory, the title holders were always a potential threat with their score of tricky plays.

All in all it was a fitting game for a season finale.
