WSSF BULLETIN PUBLISHES LETTER OF FORMER TULEAN

The "Newsletter", publication of the World Student Service Fund—carried in its latest edition a letter written by Constance Murayama, former Tulean and now, through a WSSF scholarship, a student at Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

In her letter, Miss Murayama expresses her appreciation in being able to continue her education through the work of the WSSF, which is raising money throughout colleges in America to aid unfortunate students including the Japanese Americans.

She tells of the confusion, hardships and uncertainty faced by the evacuees before being placed in relocation centers; the simplicity and meagerness of the camps.

"The only heartening thing in camp was the kindness of our neighbors," Miss Murayama writes.

A letter by Tom Yamamoto, formerly of Topaz and now in New York, is also published in the "Newsletter".

TEACHERS WANTED:

RELLOCATION HITS STAFF

Elementary schools may have to reduce teachers due to fewer students returning from the war, according to Martin P. Gunderson, principal of Tri-State High School. Although the basic requirements for elementary school teachers are "liking for youngsters" and the desire to teach, applicants should have two years of college training. Assistants may be high school graduates and "they're doing a good job too," Gunderson disclosed.

Although he admitted that the situation wasn't as bad in the high school, assistant teachers in physical education, home economics, shop, English, and social science, French, Spanish, and art are desired.

At this once out of the blue sky, sweeping down with the speed of lightning, rocketed our own golden eagle, determined to have of Ipswich, but landed harmlessly, Ipswich. As the golden eagle, named Ippy, the lazy buzzer bug slowly opened his eyes and seeing the approaching jay, suddenly slipped into the horn of the bug.

"Icicle, foiled again," screamed our hero, as Ippy laughed. "Don't worry. Bub! I've heard about what's going to happen in April 30--And I don't want to miss it." And Lay down again and was soon fast asleep, as our hero circled the flag pole, wondering what Ippy meant when he mentioned April 30.

SEASON NEARS END:

WARD LEAGUES LEADERS IN CRUCIAL GAMES THIS WEEK

With many of the Ward Leagues slated to end this coming weekend, many crucial games are on tap.

None of the league leaders can afford to lose a single game without the possibility of ending the season in a tie for first place, thereby making a playoff series necessary.

Block 45 of Ward VI and Block 22 of Ward III appear to have the best chance to come through as the champs.

All eyes will be on Block 16 in Ward I as they face two of the toughest teams in the finals, Block 18 and 15. If they don't win both games, then there will be a tie for first.

Blocks 30, 39, and 29 in Ward II are still in the thick of the title race, but they know they have to get by the weekend with wine.

In Ward V, the top game will be between the league leading 46's and the second place Block 43 teams. If 46 tops the game, then they are definitely the champs, but a loss will knot the standings up.

Block 4 is favored to come out on top in Ward III, but they still have a couple of tough opponents ahead of them, so anything can happen yet.
