Juveniles; extradition of juveniles

N.R.S. §62.— (new); §169.025 (amended).
AB 542 (Nicholas); STATS 1981, Ch 559

Chapter 559 provides for the extradition of juveniles.1 Under Chapter 559, whenever a child2 commits a crime in Nevada and then flees to another state,3 the governor may request extradition from that state according to the adult extradition procedures of the other state.4 In addition, Chapter 559 provides that if a child flees to Nevada after committing a crime in another state, he or she may be extradited to that state under the Uniform Criminal Extradition Act,5 and while awaiting extradition, the child must be held in a place designed for the detention of juveniles, if space is available.6 While awaiting extradition Chapter 559, however, makes no provision for the child’s detention if there is no space available in a juvenile detention facility.7 Moreover, Chapter 559 provides that procedures pertaining to pretrial, trial, and post-trial matters in criminal cases will be applicable to the extradition of juveniles.8
