TSO Facilities Open

Facilities are now open for visiting men at the new TSO headquarters at #2008, it was announced.

Fifteen boys were disappointed when they were told that they could not leave with the 25 who are leaving for the NYA school at Shakopee, Minnesota, Wednesday, May 26 for training for work in industrial plants, it was disclosed by Frank D. Fagan, Placement officer.

Due to the fact that they had not registered and therefore, not cleared through Washington, D.C., they were not eligible to accept outside employment.

All those on reaching their 17th birthday are urged to register with Frank C. Smith, Employment and Housing head.

Another bus load is expected to leave shortly, and everyone who has not indicated his desire to go to this school, but who has not filled his intentions, is asked to leave to the Placement office as soon as possible.

FOCUS TO PROGRAM

Miss Natalie Perry, a special student advisor from East Orange, New Jersey, arrived here on May 17 to organize a education program for handicapped children under the Dept. for Special Students. Miss Perry's classifications include the hard of hearing, the deaf, visually handicapped, those with physical handicaps and other children who parties some of illness and other reasons, need special and individual help with their work which they are unable to get in ordinary large classrooms.

She also added that she hopes to assist children's particularly advanced in school work that they do not fit in classes of children their own age.

Miss Ruth Takagi, former graduate of Berkeley College, who learned the Deaf, was specially transferred on May 12 from Manzanar, Calif. to assist Miss Perry in organizing such a program.

This department will work in cooperation with the schools, social welfare and the medical social welfare departments.

It will take some time for plans to get underway for they are expecting to have a separate building and conduct a school carrying a full program.

Miss Perry states that, "We are studying the children individually in order to plan the best program for each of them."
