THE GAME

By Jack Kelley
Tulsa World Sports Writer

While the University of Tulsa was losing its opening game of the season—a hair-raising 14-7 battle with the University of Cincinnati—the public address system blared forth with this ominous mesage to 14,057 loyal Golden Hurricane fans:

"Football result from the West Coast — College of Pacific 25, Stanford 20."

A soft moan slowly simmered up from the crowd, rose to a tumultous "Oh" and then trailed off into nothingness as the fans returned to the battle before them. But the undertones from that rumble could mean but one thing to the staunch Tulsa supporter:

His football team, which in the past three seasons had compiled a 26-5-2 record, was probably making its second appearance on the West Coast in the wrong year, at the wrong time—and, the most overpowering feeling of all, against the wrong foe.

Despite certain inclinations by national and coast football experts to underrate the Tigers, there is no comparable group of experts in Tulsa. For instance, when COP decisively defeated Mississippi Southern in the Sun Bowl last year, hardly an eyebrow was lifted. After al, who was Mississippi Southern?

Tulsa fans knew who Mississippi Southern was and kne wthat the small Hattiesburg, Miss., school had a halfback named Lauren Pepper (Pepper was on the University of Tulsa campus for 10 days prior to the 1952 season, but chose to play his football at Mississippi Southern).

It wasn't until the Southerners turned loose on the AP's No. 5 ranked Alabama Crimson Tide two weeks ago that the nation's football followers suddenly awakened to the fact that here was a grid power.

Now, of course, Tulsa—with only two of its 1952 regulars back—must tangle with COP, a team that, if honestly udged, cannot rank outside the 15 best teams in the nation.

That Tulsa is not equipped to wrestle with this task is evident. Gone are Howard Waugh, powerful fullback who establishe da new two-year all-time collegiate rushing total and ranked No. 1 in the nation in 1952; Ronnie Morris, the nation's No. 2 thrower of touchdown passes last season (18); Marvin Matuszak, two-time AP All-American guard; Jim Prewett, an all-Midwest tackle; Bob St. Clair, hulking 6-7, 235-pound tackle now with the San Francisco 49ers; and a host of other stellar performers.

In all, 13 Tulsa players from the 1952 team were drafted by professional football clubs. In contrast, Oklahoma's highly ranked Sooners had only five boys the pro clubs regarded highly enough to bid for.

What Tulsa has left is a great end in Tom Miner, big 6-4, 225-pounder and the captain of the team; Dick Kercher, rugged halfback; Don Reiber, a fine lineman; and a few transfers from Santa Clara who have helped the team considerably in its first two games.

But, overall, Tulsa is a young team—perhaps, two years away from its peak and would have to play completely "over its head" to defeat College of Pacific.

However, the Tulsa team has been known in the past to pull surprises at opportune moments. A few seasons ago, a Tulsa team traveled to Villanova to tackle the unbeaten Wildcats. Tulsa, at that stage, had lost three straight. The result: a resounding upset 21-19 triumph for Tulsa.

Later, San Francisco's Dons rolled into Tulsa with a 5-1 record and boasting one of the nation's finest runners, Ollie Matson. The Dons were unable to score that day—Tulsa managed for 10 points and a great win.

This year's team has an able leader in Coach Bernie Witucki, a product of Knute Rockne's late 1930 Notre Dame school, and it is a team that has shown more determination and fire in its first two games and in its fall drills than any Tulsa team in, at least, ten years.

These things count for something in football—the most unpredictable of all sports. Whether they are enough to get the Tulsans past COP is the question that will be answered here tonight.

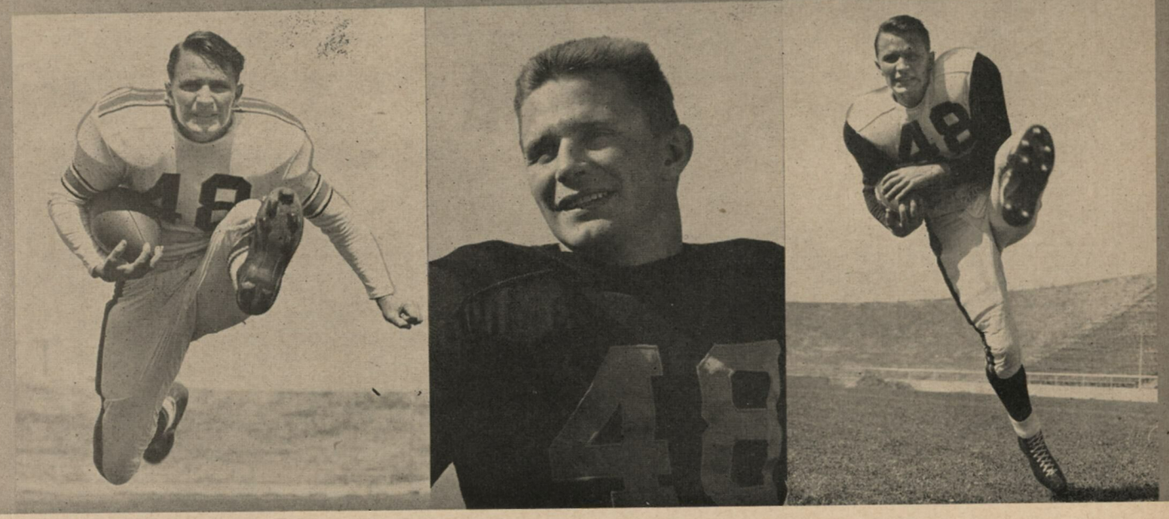
The Cowboy



GOING GREAT — Cowboy Tom McCormick, shown above in three poses taken while he was rewriting the College of the Pacific rushing record book from 1950 through 1952, returns to the Bay Area tomorrow as first string right halfback for the Los Angeles Rams against the San Francisco 49ers. McCormick who holds the Pacific rushing marks for one game, one season and three seasons, plus the Tigers one season scoring record is generally considered COP's all time greatest running back. The Pacific Pigskin wishes The Cowboy good luck against the 49ers, along with former Tiger All Coast Guard Duane Putnam, who will open at right guard for the Rams.

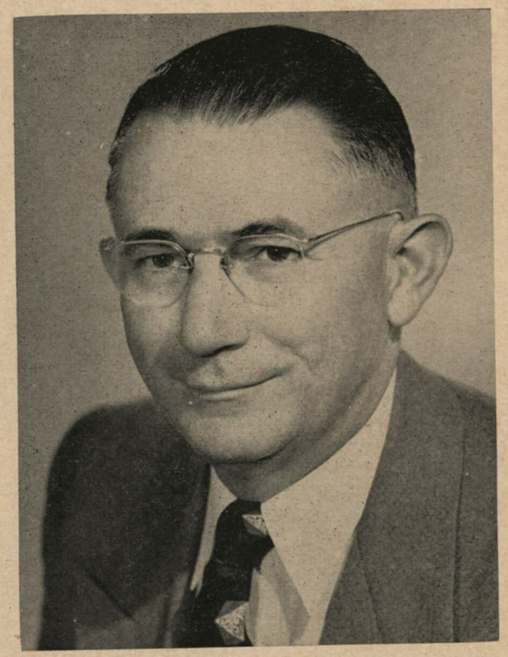
THE GAME

by John J. Peri
Stockton Record Sports Editor



John J. Peri

For the first time in the football history of the school, College of the Pacific has a player leading the nation in a major department of the national statistics released each week by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Big Ken Buck, 6-4 end from Paso Robles, has snagged 14 passes (15 unofficially) to lead all of the nation's pass receivers among major schools. And he has done it against two Pacific Coast Conference teams. Big Ken actually has caught 15 passes but was given credit for one less than was due him at Stanford. That is being remedied but will take time for checking by the national body. It will probably be three or four weeks before the extra reception shows up.

The same goes for Roy Ottoson. Actually Skip has completed 22 of 39 throws which is enough to tie him with Ellis of Texas A & M for the nation's leadership. But in the Stanford game he was given credit for one less pass than he actually completed and that, too, will take a few weeks to remedy. So right now Skip is in the books as the nation's third best thrower (although some local adherents are beginning to rank him with the all time best, anywhere.)

It shouldn't be overlooked that Jimmy Conover is giving the Tigers great punting, averaging 41.2 yards for 10th in the nation.

So, going into tonight's Tulsa contest (Homecoming, at that), the Tigers will not only be out to win but they'll be out to give their three big guns, statistics-wise, a chance to improve their positions.
