THE 100th COMMENCEMENT

On June 9, 1858, the first commencement exercises of California's first chartered college were held in Santa Clara.

On June 9, 1957, Pacific's 100th commencement ceremonies will be conducted in Stockton.

Appropriate to this interesting moment in the life of an institution which virtually parallels the history of California's statehood (Pacific was chartered on July 10, 1851, within the first year of admission to the union), Governor Goodwin J. Knight will address the graduates and guests.

President Alexander S. Gibbons conferred the first Pacific degrees on the first graduating class, five young men and five young women. When President Robert E. Burns awards degrees to the approximately 221 members of the class of 1957 he will bring the total of Pacific baccalaureate degrees to 6484. He will also grant about 56 masters degrees for a total of 616 at this level; one Doctor of Education degree, the second conferred by Pacific; and three Doctor of Philosophy degrees earned in the American Academy of Asian Studies at San Francisco, a graduate school of Pacific.

Since the first commencement no year has passed when Pacific failed to grant degrees, even though classes became perilously small at crisis periods in Pacific history. The classes of 1867 and 1868 were the smallest, numbering two each. The class of 1950 was the largest, counting 360. Biggest 19th century group was the class of 1886 with 31 degree winners, not exceeded until 1912 when 32 received diplomas.

Largest graduating group on the San Jose campus, occupied from 1872 to 1924, was the last, which numbered 56.

The 99 years that separate Pacific's first and 100th commencements was almost bridged by the daughter of President Gibbons, Mary Gibbons Cooper, who died September 29, 1956 in Hayward, a few weeks before her 100th birthday. A member of the class of 1876, she was the oldest known graduate at the time of her death.

No sense of "history in the making" is reflected in the minutes of the trustees of Pacific as transcribed by the Rev. Charles Maclay for the meeting of June 7, 1858. After electing officers of the board for the coming year:

"Professor Rogers presented the names of the graduating class in the female department for their election to degrees. The following were elected: Emeline Brickell, Martha F. Hughes, Mary A. Miller, Mary M. McDonald, and Mary Smith.

"The board adjourned to 8½ o'clock this evening.

"Monday evening 8½ o'clock the board met and President Gibbons presented the names of the graduates in the male department for their election to degrees. The following were elected: Thos. H. Lane, John W. Owen, Joseph C. Hamer, Dewitt C. Vestal, Elijah Hook."

Taciturn as is the above official statement authorizing degrees, a journalist of the times whose by-line was "A Friend of Learning" caught considerable of the significance and color of the exercises which ensued. The following are excerpts from his story in the San Francisco Alta California of June 24, 1858, as recorded by Rockwell Dennis Hunt in his History of the College of the Pacific:

"The occasion was one of universal interest. Classes were examined in English literature, natural science, ancient and modern languages, mathematics, and mental and moral science. The examination was critical and thorough, and alike creditable to teachers and students.

"On Tuesday afternoon the graduating class of young ladies connected with the Female Department of the University held their exercises in the M. E. Church, which was crowded to overflowing. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Briggs, after which the following essays were read, interspersed with excellent music upon the piano by the young ladies, under the direction of Professor Laurey:

Salutatory Address by Miss E. Brickell, of Illinoistown.

Desolation by Miss Mary McDonald, of Petaluma.

Life Is a Theatre by Miss M. E. Brickell

"Lovest Thou Me?" by M. E. Smith, of Santa Clara.

Onward by Miss Mary J. Hughes, of San Francisco.

Reading from a Manuscript Paper by the editors, Miss E. Brickell and Miss M. J. Hughes.

Conferring of Diplomas by the Principal.

Building Anew, with Valedictory Address by Miss M. A. Miller of Petaluma.

"On Wednesday at 10 o'clock, the commencement exercises of the male department were held in the beautiful grove of Mr. J. Cook. At an early hour crowds of persons from different portions of the state might be seen passing down the spacious avenue, which extends from the street to the grove. All alike were anxious to witness the conferring of Baccalaureate honors upon the first class of graduates sent forth from the first chartered college in the Gold State.

"The exercises were opened with prayer by the President, then followed the addresses of the graduating class, in the following order:

Latin Salutatory by J. W. Owen, of Santa Clara. The address was an able production, and though understood by but few, yet such was the grace and elegance with which it was delivered that it was admired by all.

Reciprocal Influences by J. C. Hamer, of Santa Clara.

Triumphs of Arts and Sciences by E. H. Hook, of Martinez.

March of Mind by J. W. Owen.

Next in order was the conferring of degrees, and the Baccalaureate Address, by the President. The Baccalaureate was worthy of the man and the occasion. The Valedictory Address was by Thomas H. Laine, of Santa Clara. Mr. Laine is a young gentleman of great mental power, and his address on this occasion was a masterly production. The school is in a highly prosperous condition."

A NEW FRAMEWORK FOR THE PACIFIC Alumni ASSOCIATION

by MEL NICKERSON
EXECUTIVE MANAGER

For the past several months the state-wide Alumni Council has been reviewing the purpose and structure of the Association in order to develop a dynamic organization which will be of maximum benefit to the College and to all alumni. The many discussions and meetings with alumni and college representatives culminated in a two-fold proposal which was presented on behalf of the Council by Mo Hess, a Council member and P.S.A. Student Body President in 1950, at the Annual Alumni College and Parents Day on May 11. The new framework was unanimously accepted and thus will serve as a guide for future alumni activities.

The Alumni Association stands at the threshold of a period of great influence in the destiny of this College, faced with the most challenging period of expansion in its one hundred and six year history. Side by side with the May 25 groundbreaking ceremony for the big new women's dormitory, the council is launching an enthusiastic program to enlist all alumni in support of their college. This means that you and your ten thousand fellow alumni will be asked to continue your active participation in the regional alumni clubs and alumni colleges, class reunions, campus activities, and to actively participate in the financial program of the college by contributing to the Annual Alumni Fund.

Since World War II the membership has nearly doubled, and at the 1957 Commencement Exercises approximately 250 seniors will graduate and take their place in the ranks of the Alumni Association. With enrollment at an all time high, and rapidly increasing each year, it is no wonder that the Alumni body is looked to with such hope. It has the potential of being the backbone of the institution in student recruitment, public relations, and scholarship support, and most important of continued financial investment in the current operating budget of the college. A degree is as good as the institution which grants it. If our college grows and prospers so do the Pacific credentials which each of us holds and which join us so closely with the effort to perpetuate higher and better education at Pacific.

To this end the new philosophy of operation of the alumni activities has evolved, aimed at drawing alumni into active participation in the affairs of the college. The club program is constantly being stimulated with an infusion of new ideas from the Alumni Council under the dynamic leadership of President George Blaufuss, '39, of Napa. In addition the Alumni College which was held on the campus on May 11 in conjunction with Parents Day will be transplanted to the local areas to bring the up-to-date story of the sciences, the arts, and the humanities to hundreds of interested graduates who are unable to make the long trek back to the campus. By this means we will be creating an extension of education, and though an alumnus may be quite removed from the classroom atmosphere he can still participate in further learning through stimulating programs of his local alumni club.

The social program of the Association is one of the most important phases of alumni participation. Homecoming in the fall and the Summer Camp for alumni families in July will continue to be the highlights of this area of operation. Over five hundred former students took part in the 1956 pilgrimage to Homecoming and the Summer Camp has a capacity of two hundred. If the Summer Camp continues to grow in popularity as it has during the last three years the dates will be extended so as to double or triple the opportunity for alumni to join in a mountain vacation at scenic Silver Lake in Amador County.

Most significant of all in the new framework for the Alumni Association is the creation of an Alumni Fund Council. In order to administer the financial program this Alumni Fund Council is now being nominated by the Alumni Council in conference with the President of the College to supervise all collections of funds from alumni. The Alumni Council has asked for the services of Rev. Donald G. Smiley of the Development Office to serve as the Executive Director of the Annual Alumni Fund.

The creation of an Alumni Fund Council and the appointment of Rev. Smiley as Director means that alumni will estimate the amount to be raised for the College each year, and the purpose for which it shall be solicited. In addition the new framework for fund raising provides for a division of effort on the basis of class organization. Thus the efforts of the Alumni Fund Council will be multiplied by Class Agents and their assistants who will be asked to write, or contact personally, the alumni in their class or in their locality, to enlist support for their institution. Every alumnus should eventually get some sort of personal contact. It is the unanimous opinion of the Alumni Council that when their colleagues in the Association hear of the work being done by their alma mater they will rally to its support.

An outline of the new Association operation follows:

PART I.—EDUCATION & SOCIAL

(1) LOCAL CLUBS. Wherever there are enough Alumni to sustain an Alumni program, local clubs shall be started. Eventually we should have twenty or more of such clubs in operation. They will be primarily social and educational. They should meet at least two times a year. They will meet to maintain friendships and shall be kept in touch with their College through programs of speakers from the campus.

(2) CONFERENCES AND CAMPUS ACTIVITIES. In addition to local clubs there shall be two major programs on the campus. Homecoming will occur in the fall and Alumni Day in the Spring. The Spring Alumni Day shall present a variety of activities to stimulate alumni participation and to keep them in touch with current events in their field of interest and in touch with the College. It shall occur as close to Commencement as possible.

(3) CLASS REUNIONS. Each graduating class shall have a permanent Class Secretary and as many assistants as necessary to keep classmates informed of the activities of the other members of the class. A newsletter shall go out to each class from its Secretary at least once a year. The Alumni Office will cooperate in such a mailing.

The Secretaries and their assistants shall be responsible for Class Reunions to be held during the following times: 5th, 10th, 15th, 25th, 35th, and 50th anniversaries of their graduation. Class Reunions shall be held at the time of the Spring Alumni Day. Homecoming will be a time for renewing acquaintances, enjoying the parade, and watching the Homecoming football game.

(4) MAINTENANCE OF THE ALUMNI OFFICE. It is essential that a full time Alumni Office be maintained on the campus to promote and coordinate the program of the Alumni Association. The office shall in addition keep records of current addresses up

FIRST BAY AREA ALUMNI SEMINAR

The American Academy of Asian Studies, a graduate school of the College of the Pacific at 2030 Broadway in San Francisco, will be the scene of the First Annual San Francisco Alumni Seminar on June 22, from 3:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Alumni Executive Manager Mel Nickerson, and council member Monroe Hess of South San Francisco have lined up top speakers from both the Academy and the Stockton campus to head a series of talks and discussions. The program:

3:30 Dr. George Colliver and Dr. Jay R. McCullough

4:30 Refreshments

5:00 Dr. Malcolm R. Eiselen and Dr. Rom Landau

6:00 Informal Discussion

6:30 Buffet Dinner ($1.50)

8:00 Panel Discussion on The Value of Asian Knowledge to America, Dr. Ernest E. Wood, President of the Academy, moderator.

For information and reservations, Bay Area alumni and all others interested in attending should write to Monroe Hess, 280 Dundee Drive, South San Francisco.

to date and remain open at regular hours to conduct the business of the Association. The Alumni Executive Manager will not have responsibility for supervision of money raising activities, although he will cooperate with the Alumni Fund Director as indicated in Part II.

PART II.—FUND RAISING AMONG ALUMNI

(1) THE ALUMNI FUND COUNCIL. The solicitation of funds from Alumni shall be supervised by an Alumni Fund Council. The members of the Fund Council will be nominated by the Alumni Council in conference with the President of the College, and shall be elected by ballot of the members of the Alumni Association at large.

It will be the responsibility of the Fund Council to decide the structure of the fund raising activity to be undertaken, the amount to be raised, and the goal for which the money is intended.

(2) ALUMNI FUND DIRECTOR. A Fund Director will be the executive officer of the Fund Council. The Alumni Fund Director and the Alumni Association Executive Manager will work together in so far as reviewing lists of Alumni, discussing possible class agents, and cooperating on Reunion plans.

(3) THE ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND. There shall be one drive for funds per year. The effort will be organized on the basis of Chief Class Agents with as many class agents working under them as they might need, so that every alumnus of Pacific shall get some sort of personal or mail contact urging participation in the annual fund. This personal contact is basic and necessary if the Alumni Annual Fund is to succeed each year.

(4) CLASS REUNION GIFTS. Reunion Gifts shall be encouraged for the 5th, 10th, 15th, 25th, 35th, and 50th Reunion Classes. This gift shall be of no specific amount. Each Reunion Class will be encouraged to decide the type of thing it would like to do, and do it. The College Administration will stand ready with a list of basic needs if the class wishes to receive ideas. Likewise, the Alumni Fund Director shall be available for counsel and will lend the services of his office in assisting the reunion gift committee. Basically, however, this program must be started two years in advance of the reunion, and the Alumni Fund Council shall hold the Fund Director responsible for the effectiveness of the Reunion Gift program.

DONALD M. DRAKE, candidate for a Master of Science degree from Pacific in June, will attend Stanford University next year on a $4,200 scholarship from the National Science Foundation. Drake, a Modesto teacher for 18 years, is director of the science department at Downey High School. He will be a doctoral candidate at Stanford.

The National Science Foundation, a branch of the federal government, annually sends 50 science and mathematics teachers to each of 16 universities throughout the country for training under a program called Academic Year Institute for the Training of High School Teachers of Science and Mathematics.

The young scientists are Louis Bussey, Antioch freshman, and Thomas Marovich, Madera freshman. On the same visit, the industry leaders stopped at the office of President Burns to deliver a check for $1600 for next years Fibreboard scholarship program at Pacific.

MORE TIGER CUBS

In a feature titled Mom and Dad Were Tigers Too, the February issue of the Review listed 49 C.O.P. undergraduates who are second or third generation Pacific students. At least three more should have been on the roll.

Mrs. Gaylord Hubler '31 of 1080 Mill Street, Porterville, the former Grace Ellen Rich, reminds us that her daughter, Barbara Hubler, a home economics major and a junior, is attending Pacific. Barbara is a member of Alpha Theta Tau, as was her mother before her. Mrs. Hubler attended from 1927-29.

Charles W. Curtis, senior physical education major, also is following in the footsteps of his father, Dwight Curtis, of 1717 Euclid, Stockton. The elder Curtis, class of 1923, is Professor of Social Studies at Stockton College.

Barbara Tiscornia, senior from San Andreas, was fortunate to have both of her parents attend Pacific. Now prominent ranchers in the Mother Lode, they are Vincent Tiscornia, class of 1930 and Mrs. Tiscornia, the former Kathryn Segale.

The editors are sorry to have missed; pleased with the alertness of Review readers. Student information cards are supposed to supply this information but they are not always filled completely.

KNOLES LECTURES and INSTITUTE

Julian N. Hartt, distinguished Professor of Philosophical Theology at Yale University, will deliver the 9th annual Tully Cleon Knoles Lectures in Philosophy on Saturday, June 9, and then head a group of 14 ranking leaders of thought at the 10th Annual Pacific Philosophy Institute sessions at Lake Tahoe, June 10 to July 3.

The formal lecture and the investigations at the Institute will turn on Dr. Hartt's book, now published by the Knoles Lecture Foundation, titled Being Known and Being Revealed. The fundamental questions it raises, according to Dr. William D. Nietmann, Chairman of the Pacific Department of Philosophy and Director of the Institute and Lectureship, are "Why are we in existence, and what is the destiny of our existence?"

The 1957 lectureship includes the unique discussion session when the Knoles Lecture Fellows, a group of thirteen California professors nominated by the presidents of their institutions, will confront Dr. Hartt with their analysis, commentary, and questions about his thesis. Several also will attend the Institute to follow.

Other members of the Tahoe staff are Swami Akhilananda of Massachusetts, Arturo Fallico of San Jose State College, James T. Hagerty of St. Mary's College, Paul Holmer of the University of Minnesota, William P. Kent of the University of Utah, Gordon Matheson of the University of Southern California, Daniel L. McGloin of the University of San Francisco, Patrick Romanell of the University of Texas, Alan Watts of the American Academy of Asian Studies, Donald Wells of Washington State College, Edwin Ding, John F. Lawry, and Dr. Nietmann all of the College of the Pacific.

Keeping Up with the Alumni

19th CENTURY

FRANCIS HARVEY CUTTING, 84-year old artist of renown living in Campbell, active and in robust health and still exhibiting his landscapes and seascapes in one-man shows, received special training at the College of the Pacific in the turn of the century.

In March an exhibit of paintings by Mr. Cutting was featured by the Los Gatos Art Association. His paintings also have been exhibited at the Thomas Wilton Art Gallery, Stanford; at San Jose State College during the golden anniversary of the Class of 1897, of which he was a member; in the Palace of the Legion of Honor; Gump's Art Gallery, and in Monterey, Carmel and state and county fairs.

Using oils as his media for the greater part, Cutting has been successful in watercolors in later years.

Among Mr. Cuttings printed reproductions in color are more than 20 post cards done by an engraving company which commissioned the artist to paint many of the old California Missions.

Mr. Cutting responded to a letter inquiring about his training at Pacific and wrote:

"All through my early boyhood I had a great love of pictures, and this interest in art has stayed with me through all the years since. About 1906-1907 I found opportunity to take a special course in painting at the College of the Pacific under Miss Etta Booth.

"At this time Miss Booth was back, fresh from her art studies abroad, and was head of the art department at the College, then located in San Jose. She was a grand teacher and took much interest in her pupils.

"Under her guidance and kindly influence I received great help and inspiration."

Mr. Cutting says that his greatest interest has been in "The Great Out Doors. The beauty to be found in the hills, mountains, beaches, forests and lakes of the great Northwest is unequaled anywhere in the world, and to do it justice with paint, canvas and brushes has been my great ambition in life."

Mr. Cutting is one of the oldest settlers in Campbell—"the pride of the town"—where he built the home he still occupies and where he and Mrs. Cutting reared their family. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1953.

AMOS E. CLARK, an educator in Southern California, has written a new youth book, Milestones of Faith, which meets constructively problems of teenagers and young adults. The Y.M.C.A. has accepted it for world-wide promotion and church youth leaders are finding it helpful as a group study book.

Dr. B. J. Morris, a former dean and acting president of C.O.P., one of the author's teachers while at Pacific, has written in review, "A magnificent piece of work most timely, and exceedingly fascinating in style; a greatly needed guide for young people in their working out for themselves a faith to live by in these days of great confusion and uncertainty."

Mr. Clark, a junior college principal and son of a Methodist pastor, wrote the text originally for his own son and daughter. He lives at 340 South Norton Avenue, Los Angeles 5.

BEN SOWELL, attending the Monterey Alumni Club meeting in April, reported that through articles in the class news columns of the Pacific Review he had been able for the first time in years to get in contact with former classmates.

Ben found that "OAKIE" CURTIS '22, was close by in San Lorenzo where he is president of Cur-Ton Homes. Ben also was reunited with ALEXANDER "CHIC" STEVENS '23 who now is with the school system in Sunnysvale.

HERBERT N. FERGUSON, a special sales representative of Sunland Industries, Inc., and former vice-president and field manager for the Kingsburg Cotton Oil Company and a field manager for the Producers Cotton Oil Company, was appointed 1957 campaign chairman of the Fresno United Givers Plan. Ferguson has been a member of the agricultural committee and the agricultural legislative subcommittee of the Fresno County and City Chamber of Commerce. While living in Madera he had charge of the Producers Cotton Oil Company gin, and also served as president of the Madera Chamber of Commerce.

WILFRED W. RANKIN, who has been Principal of Santa Rosa High School, has been named Principal of the new senior high school in Santa Rosa. The school, just completed, is as yet without a name. Mrs. Rankin also attended Pacific as a public speaking major. She often appears before groups as a reader. The Rankins have three children, Barbara, Nancy and David.

1934

STANLEY B. FOWLER, at Pacific from 1931 to 1934, was appointed by State Treasurer A. Ronald Button to the office of Deputy State Treasurer effective January 31. In his new post he is chief administrative officer of the treasury. His duties include planning, organizing and directing the work of the office under policy direction from Button. Fowler was head of the claim control section of the disability division in the State Department of Employment.

1935

MRS. HAROLD HOLMAN (Katherine Powers) lives at 2085 Fifth Street, Atwater, where her husband has operated a retail stationery store for the past five years. They have three children, a son who is a sophomore at Livingston High School, a daughter ready to enter high school in the fall, and a daughter in the fourth grade.

1942

AL IRWIN, head football coach at Orange Coast College, said to be known for his genius in organizing, has come up with tentative plans for an annual football coaches clinic to be held in May. If existing plans materialize it would become one of four clinics for coaches in the state and the first at a junior college in the Western states. Mrs. Irwin is the former Lois Bugbee, a Pacific classmate. Al belonged to Omega Phi Alpha and Lois to Epsilon Lambda Sigma.

ROBERT T. MONAGAN, Tracy, has been named general manager of the San Joaquin Delta Water Users Association. The organization was formed by a group of Delta water users and ranchers in the Upper San Joaquin River area "to study and investigate matters relating to, and to inform and assist members in protecting and preserving their water rights, water problems and flood control." Mrs. Monagan is the former Ione Angwin, '45.

JAMES WATSON, Marysville furniture dealer, a member of both the Marysville Union High School and Yuba College boards for six years, filed in March to succeed himself on the high school board. Watson has been a physical education instructor and football coach and was formerly a professional football player. He has been in his present business since 1948.

LEONARD G. MAHLER, accounting supervisor with Kaiser Aircraft and Electronics Corporation at San Leandro, was presented with a scroll and crowned "Boss of the Year" by his secretary at the annual Boss Night Dinner held February 12 in Oakland, the award being made by the Gateway chapter of the National Secretaries Association. Mrs. Mahler is the former Margaret (Peggy) Hurt '44. They live at 3329 Mildred Lane, Lafayette.

RHIZOMIA TO OBSERVE CENTENNIAL

Alumni of Rhizomia will stage a centennial celebration for the early Pacific fraternity in conjunction with homecoming 1957 on October 19 according to the announcement of Joe Hodson '50, a former Executive Manager of the Pacific Alumni Association.

Emerging plans, which will be crystallized and announced by direct mail to all Rhizites for whom addresses can be established, call for a luncheon meeting for all members, and an auxiliary luncheon for all the wives who are not meeting with sorority groups. An afternoon reunion and a banquet before the evening football game are in the hopper. Busses for transportation from the banquet to the stadium, and after the grid battle to a dance and midnight breakfast are also in the plans.

Behind the fellowship and celebration purposes of the Rhizomia Centennial Homecoming Reunion will be the more serious purpose of organizing alumni leadership, counsel, and support for the reactivation of the undergraduate organization of the venerable fraternity, founded on November 8, 1858. In February the house suffered a three year suspension, during which period the Rhizomia building is being operated as a dormitory annex.

Aiding Hodson in preliminary planning for the Centennial are Howard Staples, Bruce Coleman, George Carter, and others. They report about 250 names of Rhizomia alumni with mailable addresses are on hand. Information on others should be addressed to Hodson at 5911 North Claremont Street, Stockton

ALICE BAUN '27

THE BAUN FAMILY PACIFIC

Alumni T. F. (Ted) Baun, President of the Pacific Board of Trustees, and Mrs. Baun, the former Alice Fellers, head one of the most remarkable Pacific families in the entire history of the College.

The Fresno couple, 1927 classmates, are the parents of three more Pacific graduates, Walter, Jim, and Janet, who earned their degrees in 1953, 1954, and 1955, respectively.

Two of the second generation Baun Pacificites also culminated campus romances by marrying Pacific schoolmates. Mrs. Walter Baun was Dolores Thiele, class of '53, of Epsilon Lambda Sigma. Janet Baun became Mrs. Burt Delavan on February 2, 1957 in ceremonies at the First Methodist Church in Fresno, an event not previously announced in the Review.

Jim, not yet among the benedicts, and Walter both followed their father's course at Pacific as engineering students. In campus social connection, however, they switched, joining Omega Phi Alpha, whereas the senior Baun is a Rhizite. Walt is now associated with his father in the Baun Construction Company, while Jim is an Ensign on active duty with the U.S. Navy. His brother recently completed a tour of duty as a Navy Lieutenant, senior grade. Janet, who first taught at Lodi High, now has a position in the new Sierra Joint Union High School at Tollhouse, near Fresno. She is a former president of Alpha Theta Tau, while her mother belongs to Epsilon Lambda Sigma.

Daughter-in-law Dolores is busy preparing to occupy a new home in Fresno which she and Walter are now building. Son-in-law Burt, class of '56, also a veteran of military service, is continuing graduate study at Fresno State College. In the fall he intends to continue a professional football career in Canada. He is one of the all-time Pacific linemen. So is his father-in-law, center on Tiger teams coached by Erwin "Swede" Righter.

Ted Baun, first alumnus to become President of the Board of Trustees, was named to the governing group in 1950, became vice-president for Northern California in 1952, and succeeded John D. Crumney of San Jose in the top spot in 1953. Before developing the construction firm that bears his name he was an engineer for the State of California. Through the years, no alumnus has better demonstrated loyalty and leadership to Pacific.

Distinguished civic and church leadership marks Mrs. Baun's career as well as her great job of family administration. Her long work through the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service was climaxed April 30 in Sacramento when she was installed as President of the organization for the California-Nevada Conference. For two years she was Dean of the annual School of Missions of the Society, held annually on the Pacific campus. Currently Mrs. Baun heads the educational committee of the Fresno County Grand Jury.

Pacific Sports Picture

by CARROLL R. DOTY
ATHLETIC NEWS DIRECTOR

Virtually winding up the most successful spring sports season in the past five years, the College of the Pacific athletic picture was taken over by spring football practice the first week in May.

In all spring sports through the end of April the Tigers had won 30 contests, lost 28 and tied one. It marked the first time since the 1952 spring season that Pacific had won more baseball, track, swimming, tennis and golf contests than it lost.

Into May only a few scattered golf matches remained on the spring sports schedule as Coach Jack "Moose" Myers welcomed 50 candidates, including 15 lettermen, to the 20 allowed days of vernal drills.

The Tiger track and field team had its most successful season since 1949 when Coach Jim Hanny's crew took 10 dual decisions and placed second in one seven-way meet.

Standouts of the Bengal season were Jack Marden, who set new school records of 4:17.6 in the mile and 1:54.8 in the half mile; Charles Curtis, who set a new school record of 9:40.2 in the two mile; Ola Lee Murchinson, who set a new school high jump record of 6-ft., 5-in., and turned in bests of :09.8 in the century and :21.2 in the furlong.

Murchinson and Henry Wallace scored the most points during the season, with 87 7/12 and 82 5/6, respectively.

The Tiger baseball team compiled an 8-12 record, mainly on the strong pitching of Chuck Chatfield, Bob Coronado and Norman Bass.

Coach Skip Rowland's crew could manage only a .216 team batting average and committed 56 errors in 20 games, but the pitching carried them a long way. Chatfield (2-3) had an earned run average of 2.74 over 49 innings, Bass (1-2) had an ERA of 2.73 while striking out 43 in 33 innings and Coronado (2-5) had a 4.68 ERA while striking out 39 in 50 innings.

Ken Flaig was the only hitter over .300, batting .368 which included four triples, two home runs and 11 runs batted in.

Chris Kjeldsen's swimmers turned in a 5-3-1 season mark and placed third in the annual Cal Aggies Relays, and Mel Moretti's tennis squad wound up with a 4-6 record. With two mid-May golf matches remaining, Coach Van Sweet's crew of swingers had a 3-6 record at this writing.

On the football front, Myers and his staff are confronted with a serious line rebuilding job this spring but the picture brightens considerably when the focus shifts to the ends and backs.

It's the general theory that the Tigers will once again have a strong offensive game, similar to the one that ranked fourth nationally in total offense last year, but that a lot of rookies will have to come through in the line to keep Pacific from being vulnerable against a strong running attack on defense.

Among a host of recruits from the freshman team and junior college transfers, the coaching staff expects to get a lot of help from Ed Wallace (Frosh) and Carl Kammerer (Stockton College) at left tackle, Ken Castles (Stockton College) at left guard, Steve Pessin (Frosh) at right guard and Wayne Hawkins (Frosh) at right tackle.

The spring intra-squad game will be May 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Pacific Memorial Stadium.

FORENSICS TO THE FORE

In his first year as Director of Forensics at the College of the Pacific, Paul Winters has coached his debaters to a national championship.

Five Pacific students, with Winters, returned home the middle of April from the week long Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Tournament held in Brookings, South Dakota, where the men won national sweepstake honors, and the C.O.P. coed entries took second place in the womens division.

More than 700 students representing 144 colleges and universities from coast to coast competed in the largest tournament yet to be staged by Pi Kappa Delta, biggest forensic fraternity.

To win top sweepstake honors the three C.O.P. men, Robert Bersi of Lodi, president-elect of the Pacific Student Association, Dennis Day of Stockton, and Donald Duns of Bakersfield, had to dominate all four divisions: debate, oratory, extempore speaking, and discussion. They scored 21 out of the possible 25 points to lead every school in the nation. They took the maximum 10 points in debate, won four out of five possible points in oratory and discussion, and three out of five in extempore speaking.

Runners up in the mens division were Baylor University, Oklahoma A and M, Kansas University, and Redlands University.

Priscilla Guezec and Pat Morley, both of Bakersfield, made a total of 11 points, enough to hold a second place rating for Pacific in the womens division.

Winters was formerly a Stockton College teacher. He is a graduate of Linfield College, Oregon, and has done graduate study at Pacific, Stanford and University of Oregon.

Worth Their Weight In Gold

The Golden Wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Leon Loofbourow of Richmond, remarkable California ministers of Methodism, was marked with an anniversary dinner May 7 in the Richmond Civic Auditorium with television personality Ralph Edwards as master of ceremonies conducting This Is Your Life for the honored couple.

This dynamic and richly endowed team, Leon and Anna Loofbourow, who have been "in search of God's gold" for half a century and more, were presented with more than their weight in "gold" in gold bags of coins. Tokens for the countless hours and days which have made up the golden years of their lives, the gift bags were presented by the hundreds of banquet guests and by others who could not attend.

Licensed to preach 57 years ago, Dr. Loofbourow has directed the building of a score of churches, one of the most impressive building records in California Methodism. Since his "retirement" in 1950, the two sold their own home in order to establish "The Little Brown Church on the Hill",—the beautiful Church of the Good Shepherd high up in the East Richmond Heights overlooking San Francisco Bay.

Dr. Loofbourow's pastorates have included the First Methodist Church in Honolulu and the great Union Church of Balboa in the Canal Zone. He has served the church in administrative capacities, as district superintendent and as manager of the Conference Claimants Endowment Fund.

At the request of the California-Nevada Conference of the Methodist Church, scholarly Dr. Loofbourow wrote the story of Methodism's part in the building of the Golden State. It was published in 1950 in time for California's centennial years. Working in collaboration with Anna Loofbourow, the result was the well-received book In Search of God's Gold. Last year the Conference asked him to take up the imposing task of writing a comprehensive official history of organized California Methodism.

Dr. Loofbourow is a graduate of Stanford and of the Boston University School of Theology. He earned an advanced degree in education from C.O.P. and received the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Pacific also. He is president of the Historical Society of the California-Nevada Conference of the Methodist Church and a director of the California History Foundation of the College of the Pacific.

Dr. Loofbourow met his charming wife, then a teacher in Boston, when he was attending the theological school there. They were married in Nevada City where Anna's brother-in-law was a Methodist minister. She graced her husband's first parsonage following his appointment to the Eighth Avenue Methodist Church in Oakland.

THE LADY AND THE TIGERS:

Marilyn Miner with a part of her upholstered
menagerie — all tigers.

Come On You Hungry Tigers!

It all began in 1948—collecting tigers, that is—when at that time Marilyn Miner, class of '51, was given her first tiger, the stuffed orange and black Pacific mascot at the right. The next tiger didn't appear until 1949, this time a molded plaster head. Gradually others came to her attention, and as friends learned of her interest she began receiving tigers of all shapes, sizes, and materials.

Her large and growing collection now includes tigers ceramic, plastic, and glass; tigers made of pipe cleaners; water color prints, paintings, emblems, stationery, a scarf, and of course many stuffed tigers.

Her minister recently brought her two German-made tigers from Princeton University. Most highly prized are the tigers from Germany made by the famous Steiff Toy Company.

During 1950, while recuperating from a back injury, Marilyn made about one hundred molded tiger heads which she sold to Occidental College where the Bengal tiger is the school symbol as well as at Pacific and Princeton.

Her secret ambition, now revealed, is to have a real tiger skin on the wall of her "lair."

Miss Miner, a teacher in the Orange County school system, is a paid up life member of the Pacific Alumni Association and secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter.

LOS ANGELES

The Orange Empire Chapter of Los Angeles was host to an alumni extravaganza at Knott's Berry Farm on March 30. The festive occasion was the result of the fine teamwork of Mrs. Fred (Frances) Wolfrom and her Orange County committee who spared none of the trimmings for the one hundred and three alumni who took part. The main address of the evening was presented by President Robert E. Burns. Additional remarks were made by President George Blaufuss of Napa, and Executive Manager Mel Nickerson of the Pacific Alumni Association. Head Football Coach Jack "Moose" Myers spoke briefly on the contemplated athletic conference of independent California and Arizona schools.

The highlight of the evening for Mrs. Alice McComas Gray, class of 1897, was the presentation by President Burns of a corsage and a kiss in commemoration of her sixtieth anniversary since Commencement and her eightieth birthday. The next Los Angeles activity will be an out-door party in early fall.

CONTRA COSTA

The date for the annual gridiron battle of the Tigers and the Spartans is set for November 9 in San Jose, and members of the Contra Costa Alumni Club are planning a chartered bus trip to the game. Under the leadership of Bill, '53, and Babs Sharkey, '53, of Martinez the present plans call for the bus trip to San Jose, dinner with the San Jose Alumni Club, the San Jose-C.O.P. football gigantic, an after game dance with San Jose alumni, and return, all for one package price. To promote this venture, and to provide an interesting program for those who may not be charter-bus minded, a general dinner meeting for the Contra Costa area will be held in late September.

FRESNO

Fresno alumni are planning a late spring activity. The last gathering was a mammoth meeting in October at the Hacienda Restaurant on Highway '99 just West of Fresno, a pre-game dinner with all of the trimmings, after which alumni witnessed a "Moose" conducted lacing of the Fresno State Bulldogs on the gridiron.

MONTEREY BAY AREA

The Naval Post Graduate School was the site of the Spring Dinner for Monterey Bay Area alumni on April 5. President Marcus Williams presided over the meeting which featured Dr. Malcolm Eiselen's talk, "A Capitalist In Commissar Land," which related events in his 1956 tour of Russia with the Sherwood Eddy Seminar. Executive Manager Mel Nickerson spoke briefly on the arrangements for the 1957 Alumni College on the campus which was held May 11 and encouraged alumni to attend the program.

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY

Crummey, with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Chinchin as co-hosts.

SACRAMENTO

Members of the women's alumnae group of Sacramento gathered in Antoninas Restaurant April 10 for their annual luncheon and meeting.

Alumni Summer Camp

They say that the family that plays together stays together!

For sure, the Pacific families that vacation together at beautiful Silver Lake in Amador County will have a glorious time together. And what really sells the whole idea to "Mom" is that she can sit down to three meals a day without having to prepare them, or better yet, wash the dishes. It reads like a real vacation, and it is. More than that—it is reasonable.

For the third year the Pacific Alumni Council, in cooperation with the Recreation Department of the City of Stockton, is sponsoring a Summer Camp program for Pacific Alumni, their families and friends, July 7-13. Here are some of the things that the scenic Silver Lake Camp, located on

Kit Carson Pass just 100 miles from Stockton, has to offer:

Plenty of FREE TIME for the adults. You may rest, fish, hike, dance, eat, play cards, ride horses, gather around the bon fire, and meet and renew acquaintances with Pacific people. For your children the camp staff has planned an outstanding program for all age groups including crafts, dancing, hiking, and swimming. A special picnic barbecue is one of the events billed by the camp staff for the Pacific Alumni. Program Director John Spooner '39 has planned something for everyone each day of the week, while Camp Director J. Frank Nash '37 and his wife, Virginia, add their personal touch to camp hospitality.

ALUMNUS AUTHORS OLD TESTAMENT STUDY

A distinguished new book, Understanding The Old Testament, in which the author interprets the Bible not merely as a chronicle of events but as an expression of Israel's life-story and the confession of its faith, is recently off the presses of Prentice-Hall, Inc., the work of Dr. Bernhard W. Anderson, Pacific alumnus of 1936, and now Dean and Professor of Bible Theology at the Theological School of Drew University, New Jersey.

Pre-publication reviews indicate that Dean Anderson has written a work of rare achievement, which, like his earlier Rediscovering the Bible, may be widely used as a text. John A Hutchinson, of Columbia University said, "During fifteen years of teaching Bible courses I have searched for a truly adequate text for the Old Testament. Here at last is the book . . . Its lucid prose style makes it a joy to read."

After graduating from Pacific, Dr. Anderson received his Ph.D. degree from Yale University and taught at Colgate University. He later was the James A. Gray Associate Professor of the Old Testament at the University of North Carolina. He recently spent some time in Palestine (Jordan) as administrative director of the Drew-McCormick Archaeological Expedition, and will be working there again during the summer.

Life Memberships Purchased for CREATION OF SCHOLARSHIP FUND

by GEORGE BLAUFUSS

PRESIDENT, PACIFIC ALUMNI ASSN.

The time is not too far distant when the Alumni Association will be able to provide scholarship assistance to qualified students from Life Membership funds. The Alumni Council has declared that Life Memberships should be continually solicited in order to make a worthwhile contribution to the current program of encouraging students of exceptional ability to enroll at Pacific.

The Board of Trustees realizes the value of a strong Alumni Association and now provides funds to operate alumni activities. This means that this year for the first time regular dues are no longer requested by the Association for College publications. All alumni on the mailing list today receive the Pacific Review and alumni notices without charge. This does not relieve the sons and daughters of Pacific of the opportunity and obligation of continuing to actively support the institution, however. It means instead that now more than ever before the members of the Alumni Association should come forth in support of their alma mater by contributing to the annual fund or purchasing Life Memberships in the Alumni Association.

The feeling was expressed by a Council member at the February 10 meeting that most life membership plans and gifts to the annual fund are given as service to the College rather than to derive additional benefit for members. And alumni should be happy to support their college as it gains stature and prominence in the field of higher education. We should all be quite proud of the giant steps being taken today on the campus.

Since September 1st more than a hundred interested alumni have purchased a Life Membership Card ($50 for a single, $75 for a joint membership) and two hundred and seventy five alumni have contributed a substantial amount toward the $30,000 goal of the annual fund. The money in each case is going toward the most worthy cause of all—the education of the youth of our country. Do not miss your opportunity to become an active participant in such a fine undertaking.

GRADUATE WORK DURING FURLOUGH

Delbert Asay and his wife, the former Helen Dabritz, Pacific graduate of '46, are living at 1501 South School Street, Lodi, while on furlough from South America following five years of service under the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church in Buenos Aires.

Delbert, head of the music department on the campus of Colegio Ward, is currently working for his masters degree in music at Pacific. He appeared in a pipe organ recital in the Conservatory April 9.

Mr. Asay has done unusually successful work in Colegio Ward in chorus and band music. He has assisted in choral work at Union Theological Seminary in Buenos Aires and as director of the choir at the First Methodist Church in Ramos Mejia, a suburb of Buenos Aires.

He has attracted considerable attention to his choir and musical initiative by staging an outdoor Christmas pageant on the Ward campus during the past three years. During their brief period in Argentina the Asays have made a place for themselves such as few Americans have.

Bess and Sue, the young daughters of the couple, have presented native dances in costume at church dinners. The Asays plan to return to Colegio Ward following the termination of their furlough.
