ONE HUNDRED AND TENTH
COMMENCEMENT

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

DISTINCTIVE ACADEMIC DRESS can be traced back to the universities of the Middle Ages. In the early centuries of its existence, the costume was worn as daily garb, and the several parts each had its practical use. In more recent centuries its use in complete form has been reserved for special, ceremonial occasions.

European universities tend to display considerable variation in their academic regalia. In the United States, however, a standard pattern was adopted over a half-century ago to which virtually all American colleges and universities adhere. This governs the material, style, color, and trimmings of the gown and hood, the style of the cap, and the color of the tassel.

This summary has been prepared to assist in recognizing and interpreting the costumes worn at the University of the Pacific's commencement ceremony.

An individual's degree is revealed by the type of gown and the width of the edging on the hood. Designs are of three kinds:

BACHELORS' GOWNS have full pointed sleeves, with no trimming, and the hoods have a two-inch edging.

MASTERS' GOWNS, until 1960, had full, closed sleeves, with arm emerging from the sleeve through a slit at the elbow. The gown has been the despair of wearers because, no matter how hot the day, a coat must be worn under it. In 1960, however, the gown was modified. In place of the elbow slit, an opening was made at the wrist, and the gown was made to close. The hoods have a three-inch edging.

DOCTORS' GOWNS are of silk, have rounded sleeves, velvet facing down the front, and three velvet crossbars on each sleeve. The hoods have side panels and a five-inch facing.

In the United States, gowns are almost uniformly black. Outstanding deviations are in the cases of Harvard and Yale. The first permits a crimson doctor's gown; the latter a blue gown for both masters and doctors. In other instances, as in the case of Raymond College, a bandolier or other similar attire may be authorized.

The field of learning in which the degree was awarded is shown by the color on the edging of the hood, and in some cases by the color of the facing and crossbars on the doctors' gowns. Some of the more frequently seen colors are: white (Arts and Letters), pink (Music), dark blue (Philosophy), light blue (Education), scarlet (Divinity), golden yellow (Science), lilac (Dentistry), olive green (Pharmacy), purple (law).

The colors of the lining of the hood are those of the institution which awarded the degree. For example, the University of California colors are gold and blue; Stanford University, cardinal; University of Michigan, maize and azure blue; University of the Pacific, burnt orange and black.

Tassels on bachelors' and masters' caps are ordinarily black, but they may be of the color of the field in which the degree was awarded. Doctors' tassels are always gold. The left side of the mortarboard is the proper side to wear the tassel.

UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC HYMN

"Pacific Hail" Lois Warner Winston '58

From o'er the rugged mountains	Long may her flaming torch
Standing high:	Give out its light:
From out the broad low valleys,	Long may her spirit guide us
'Neath the sky:	In the right;
Our Alma Mater calls,	To her we pledge our hearts,
We cannot fail,	We dare not fail;
Our voices blend in praise	To her we raise our song
Pacific Hail! Pacific Hail!	Pacific Hail! Pacific Hail!
