ELBERT COVELL COLLEGE:
SECOND "CLUSTER" COLLEGE
IN THE UOP EXPANSION
PROGRAM; FIRST SPANISH-
SPEAKING COLLEGE IN

□ The language barrier has been removed for Spanish-speaking students seeking a college education in North America. This is one of the most significant achievements in the founding of Elbert Covell College as the newest "cluster" college at the University of the Pacific.

Classes officially opened September 4. The first enrollment of 59 Latin and North American students represents 12 Latin American countries and the United States.

The total curriculum is synchronized with the College of the Pacific four-year liberal arts program. All courses are taught in the Spanish language. English is offered as a foreign language. Developing inter-American specialists is a primary objective of the college.

A total enrollment of 250 students is planned, according to Dr. Arthur J. Cullen, college director.

"It is our intention to provide complete financial assistance to one-third the Latin American students who are enrolled, one-third will come from Latin American countries at their own expense and one-third will be North American students with a Spanish-speaking proficiency and a particular interest in Latin American affairs," he said.

Scholarships are being sought to support students in this unique program. Support has already come from the Mexican government in a gift of over 3,000 library volumes. The Argentine Ministry of Education has shipped a gift of 224 library volumes. Gift books from Rotary Clubs throughout the Latin American countries are being collected by the North Stockton Rotary Club with good success.

Official dedication of the College will take place shortly after the first of the year. A new administration center and dormitory will be completed by that time. The Elbert Covell College facilities adjoin Raymond College.

"We are extremely fortunate in being able to add seven highly qualified faculty members, each of whom is bilingual and an experienced teacher," Dr. Cullen said.

Faculty members from other University departments and schools also assist in the program.

The launching of the second "cluster" college is the result of extensive surveys in Latin and South American countries. President Burns first made inquiries during his trip around the world in 1959. Dr. Samuel Meyer, academic vice president, accompanied Dr. Burns in a thorough tour of the area in the summer of 1960, followed by a survey in the spring of 1962. Dr. Elliott Taylor, dean of admissions, also made personal contacts in the screening of new students to be enrolled. Dr. Cullen, who came to the University in 1961, has brought exceptional insight, experience and initiative to the founding of this, the first Spanish-speaking liberal arts college in North America.

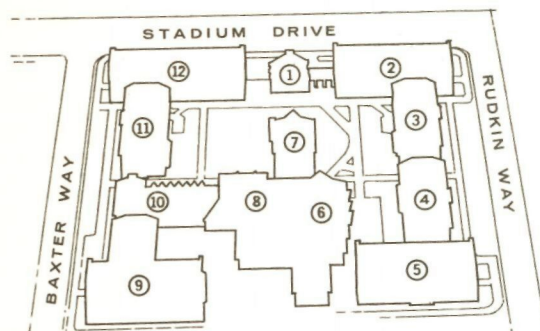

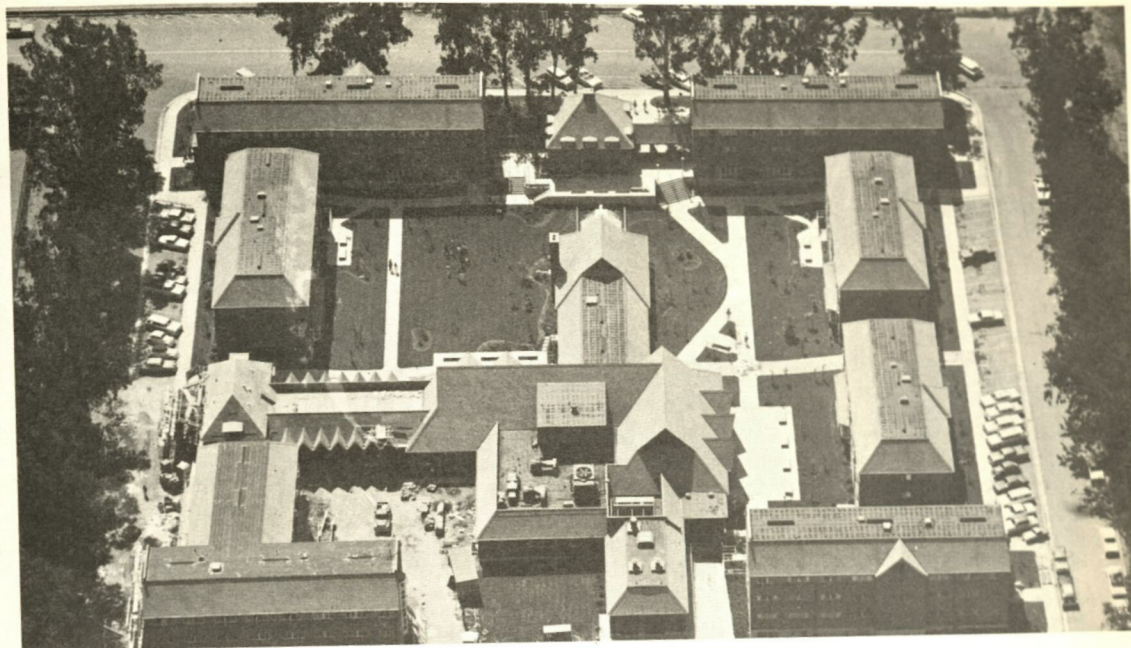

CLUSTER" COLLEGE PLAN

"Growing larger by growing smaller" is the unique concept being pioneered by the University of the Pacific in its "cluster" college development program. The aerial view and drawing at right identify the physical arrangement for "cluster" units being constructed at the west end of the campus located just east of Knoles Field. Expansion acreage has been purchased north of the Calaveras River for additional "cluster" college construction.

Even though more students and faculty are added with each new "cluster" college, the physical arrangement fosters close student-faculty relationships which are at the heart of the learning process. Also, each "cluster" college can introduce teaching innovations within the framework of the total University curriculum to further extend the educational opportunities available to students.

Although each "cluster" college has its own dormitory, dining hall and faculty offices, each college uses central library, classroom, laboratory, athletic and health service facilities on the main campus. Also, the basic administrative staff continues to be responsible for the total University operation.

These are primary factors that make the UOP "cluster" college program unique in American higher education.

PAN AMERICAN SOCIETY HONORS ELBERT COVELL COLLEGE WITH GIFT OF FLAGS

A gift of flags representing 21 American Republics and Spain has been presented to Elbert Covell College by the San Francisco Chapter of the Pan American Society in recognition of the educational contributions being made by the new Spanish-speaking college toward strengthening inter-American relations.

The presentation was made September 17 during a noon luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. Dr. Burns was guest speaker for the event.

Installation of the flags has been completed on the interior walls of the Elbert Covell College dining hall.

University President Robert E. Burns expressed appreciation to members of the Pan American Society for the gift. Dr. Burns and Mr. G. Dolmage-Heath, Society president, pose before the flags at far right.

ADMINISTRATION: BOARD OF REGENTS ANNOUNCES STAFF PROMOTIONS, REORGANIZATION OF DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

□ Continuing growth of the University program together with additional development goals being planned resulted in the announcement of three administrative staff promotions at the October meeting of the Board of Regents.

Miss Alice Saecker (at left), who began in 1951 as secretary to Dr. Burns, was named administrative assistant to the president. A 1943 Pacific graduate, Miss Saecker is also assistant secretary to the Board of Regents and the Methodist Loan Officer.

Robert R. Winterberg, formerly executive assistant to the president for financial affairs, is now financial vice president.

Thomas S. Thompson, newly appointed director of development, has become vice president for development.

President Burns explained the vice president appointments as "giving a balanced administrative responsibility in the academic, financial and development areas, the three areas under which all administrative operations are coordinated."

Dr. Samuel Meyer has been academic vice president at the University since his appointment to the staff in 1958.

The Board gave special recognition to Jess R. Rudkin, assistant to the president, in naming a campus street in his honor. The street, to be known as Rudkin Way, is located on the west side of the campus between Raymond College and Knoles Field. Official dedication of the street is planned for a later date.

Mr. Rudkin has directed the University development program for the past 16 years.

Two new members were named to the Board.

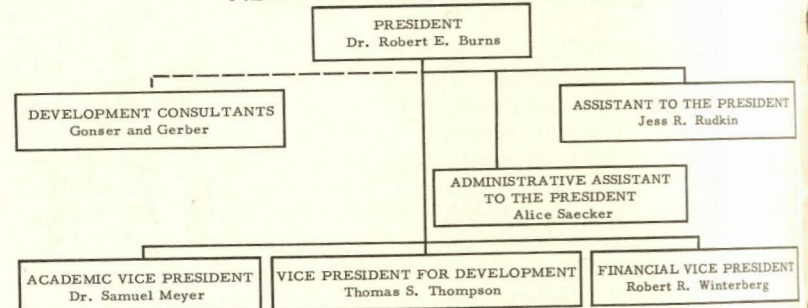

Robert Eberhardt, newly elected president of the Bank of Stockton, will complete the unexpired term of his father, the late R. L. Eberhardt (at left), who, until his recent death, was president of the Bank of Stockton and a member of the University Board for the past 11 years. Robert Eberhardt is a 1951 graduate of the University.

Dr. Francis Herz, a San Francisco dentist and former president of the College of Physicians and Sur-

University administrators meet with development consultant, J. Jay Gerber (fourth from left) of Gonser and Gerber, Chicago, on a periodic review of major UOP projects. Mr. Gonser and Mr. Gerber are both former development officers at Northwestern University. Since forming their own firm a number of years ago, they have been development consultants to colleges and universities throughout the country. Their firm was retained for consultant work by the University last May. From left are Thomas S. Thompson, vice president for development; Jess R. Rudkin, assistant to the president; President Burns; Mr. Gerber; Robert R. Winterberg, financial vice president; Dr. Samuel Meyer, academic vice president.

NEW ORGANIZATION CHART

□ Thomas S. Thompson (at left) assumed the director of development position August 1, coming to the University from a similar position he held for the past three years at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.

The new vice president for development has had extensive experience in educational fund raising and public relations. His previous development positions were at Lewis and Clark College, Portland, Ore., from 1952 to 1957, and Washington University, St. Louis, through 1960.

He received his B.A. degree from Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore., and his master's degree from Oregon State College, Corvallis. He has served as principal of Siuslaw Union High School, Florence, Ore., coordinator with the War Manpower Commission, Employee Utilization Director for the North Pacific Division of Engineers and has been a partner in a sales consultant firm. He retired from the Air National Guard in 1961 with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

He is married to the former Margaret Wiese. They have four children.

geons Board of Trustees, will complete the unexpired term of Ford A. Chatters, publisher from Lindsay, Calif., who just resigned from the Board.

R. L. Eberhardt died suddenly of a heart attack October 6. He was 70 years of age.

A prominent banker and civic leader, Mr. Eberhardt began his banking career 48 years ago. He was a past president of the California Bankers Association and the Independent Bankers Association of Central California as well as a past president of the American Bankers Association.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte; two sons, Robert and Douglas, both UOP graduates; two daughters, Mary Alice Holt and Charlotte Ann Eberhardt; and two sisters.

Formation of a Committee on Development by the Board of Regents has launched the beginnings of an expanded volunteer organization to undergird the total development program. Members of the Regent's Committee are indicated in the chart at the top. Their coordination of Development Council activities is serviced through the Vice President for Development and his staff (second chart).

A chairman is presently being named for each of the thirteen councils listed in the Development Council chart. A chairman will also be named for each special project that might be originated apart from the indicated council areas. Plans and projects originated by each council group are presented by the respective chairmen at meetings of the Development Council. Decisions of the Development Council are referred as recommendations to the Regent's Committee on Development which in turn renders its recommendations to the Board of Regents.

This method of development organization makes possible a broader opportunity for interested individuals to participate in the University development program. It also fosters a broader understanding of the projects being initiated. In addition, each project is more thoroughly reviewed and benefits from the specialized experience of many volunteers in the Development Council groups, helping each project to be realistically conceived and effectively carried out.

Ralph W. Bryant (at right) has been named director of public relations for the College of Physicians and Surgeons (University of the Pacific School of Dentistry) in San Francisco. The San Francisco public relations office is operated in conjunction with the University's central operations in Stockton.

Mr. Bryant is a graduate of the University of Missouri. He entered the U.S. Air Force as an aviation cadet in 1942 and participated in combat missions in the Southwest Pacific. Following the war, he entered the public relations field, serving as public relations officer at bases in New Mexico, Texas, Kansas and Florida, at Headquarters Strategic Air Command in Omaha, Neb., and at Headquarters, Far East Air Forces in Tokyo, Japan.

After 11 years in Air Force public relations, he joined a "back-to-the-cockpit" movement in effect for staff officers and until his retirement last summer with the rank of Major, he flew KC-97 Stratotankers for the Strategic Air Command at bases in Florida and Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant have one daughter, Barbara, age 16.

Pacific Associates, as an established volunteer organization that now functions in the framework of the Development Council, continues its role of helping people become acquainted with the University. Over 250 people attended the tenth annual Pacific Associates barbecue held on campus September 21. Each member strives to bring a minimum of three guests to the campus sometime during each year. All members are invited to make use of the Pacific Associates Center located on the fourth floor of Burns Tower as a hospitality headquarters when bringing guests to the campus.

Current Pacific Associates officers are: Dr. J. R. Jordan, president; Clifford Wisdom and Elmer G. Seemann, vice presidents; Norman C. Harris, secretary; Simpson H. Hornage, treasurer; A. S. Anderson, Simpson H. Hornage, Alex McRae, W. L. Linee, Stuart Gibbons, Thomas Brewer and Tom McKeegan, past presidents.

In the women's organization, Mrs. Howard G. Bissell, president; Mrs. Walter B. Sampson, first vice president; Mrs. Dahl Burnham, second vice president; Mrs. Stuart Gibbons, secretary; Mrs. W. L. Linee, treasurer; Mrs. Frank McKeegan, Mrs. Leslie Richardson, Mrs. I. N. Robinson, Jr., Mrs. Justin Schroeder, Mrs. Wesley Schuldt, Mrs. G. A. Werner, Mrs. L. L. Windmiller, members of Board of Directors.

Annual barbecue sponsored by Pacific Associates in the fall of each year makes it possible for people throughout the area to visit the campus as guests of Pacific Associates. The barbecue talents of Chef Karl Lange continue to draw generous compliments.

□ Pacific Parents have one of the most energetic and enthusiastic programs launched in the Development Council. Six hundred parents attended a September 4 convocation sponsored by the Pacific Parents Association for parents of entering freshmen. National Chairman Joseph Patton outlined goals of the organization. A check on distance traveled showed parents in attendance from as far away as New York and South America.

The second sponsored event this fall was Parent's Day October 19. An afternoon program, campus tours, faculty lectures and student entertainment was followed by a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Burns.

A special citation is in order for the most far-reaching project now underway by Pacific Parents, and explained in the following statement:

"As parents of students currently enrolled at the University of the Pacific, we have the highest respect for the educational program offered by the University. We recognize, however, that the tuition charged each student only pays about 70 per cent of the annual University operating costs. Also, money to make campus improvements must be sought by the University from many gift sources. We, the Pacific Parents, are among those most concerned about 'completing the Pacific Picture' to further aid in the education of our sons and daughters.

"By our own decision, we are setting a goal of $50,000 to be raised by June 1, 1964 to make it possible for the University to spend $10,000 in the improvement of each of five important campus areas. Each of these areas has been carefully selected to benefit the maximum number of students as well as meet some of the most urgent needs.

"The University will make the improvements immediately as the Pacific Parents' gift money is received." --- (signed Pacific Parents Executive Committee).

Music Annex practice rooms, the North Dining Room of Anderson Hall, a chemistry laboratory in Weber Hall, Owen and Bannister Hall classrooms and improvements in exterior campus lighting are the five project areas.

Parents expect to tour these areas at the spring Parent's Day to see the results of their efforts.

Executive committee members in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patton of San Leandro are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Clark, Lafayette; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Haner, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hair, Lodi; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vogt, Palo Alto; Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Tippet, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. William Berkstresser, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Peirce, Hillsborough; Mr. and Mrs. John Cupples, Atwater; Mr. and Mrs. William Warnock, Kentfield; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Debakcsy, Rancho Santa Fe; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brady, Glendora; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Maxwell, Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. James Stutzman, Bakersfield; Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Thompson, Santa Cruz; Mr. and Mrs. James O. Williams, Stockton; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Scott, Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. Martell Thompson, Orange.

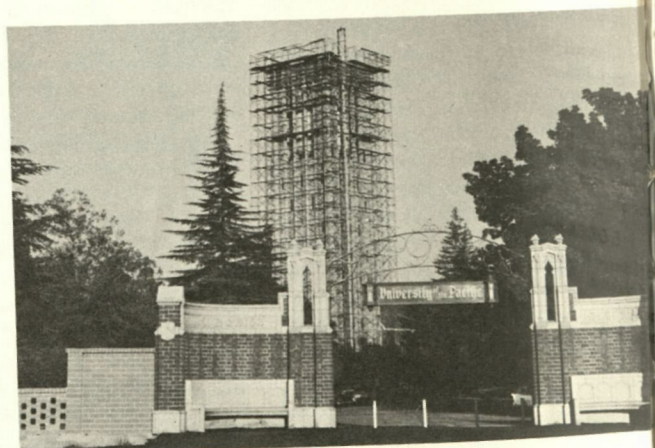

UOP alumni who were on campus to enroll their sons and daughters as freshmen are pictured at Freshman Parents Orientation: (first row from left) Virginia Young Hanna '34, Napa; Mrs. George Truckell, Corcoran; Mrs. Arthur Relfe '46, Kentfield; Mrs. Darrell Swagerty, San Jose; Mrs. Floyd Swagerty '42, Stockton; Mrs. Betty Crowder, Oroville; Mrs. Pierce Parsons, Carmel; Mrs. Charles Lord, Oakland. (Second row, from left) George Truckell '31, Darrell Swagerty '40, Floyd Swagerty '40, Pierce Parsons '27, James Catterall '40, Charles Lord '61. (Upper right) National Chairman Joseph Patton.

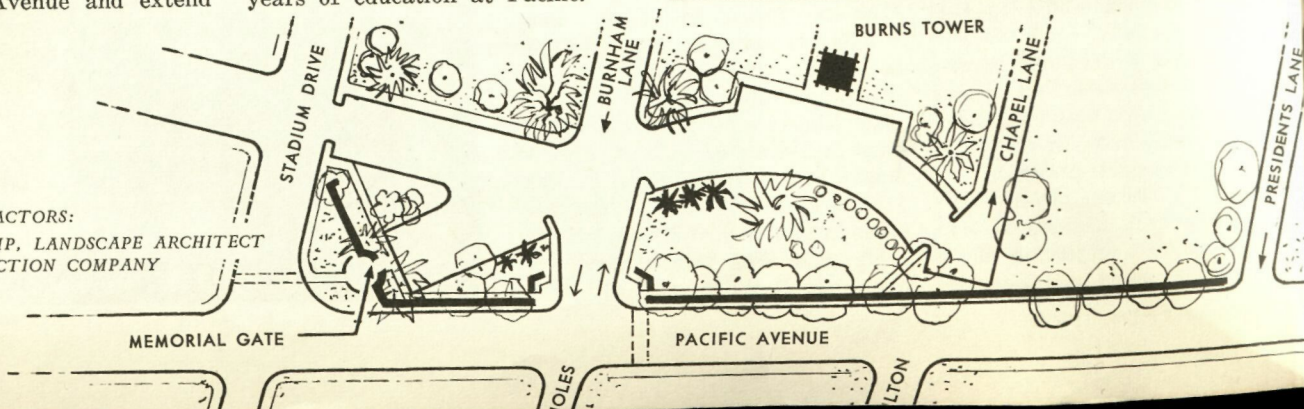

□ The University entrance is now more distinctive than ever. However, reducing the traffic hazard to pedestrians was the primary purpose in the $30,000 expenditure to relocate Smith Memorial Gate, construct a four-foot-high brick wall along Pacific Avenue and extend Knoles Way. A $9,000 traffic signal investment was also made by the City of Stockton.

Alumni guests at ribbon-cutting ceremonies September 21 included Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Parsons (left) from Sacramento. He attended the original dedication of Smith Memorial Gate 39 years ago with his father, N. M. Parsons (class of 1902) who was instrumental in getting the 40-acre Harriet M. Smith Memorial Campus donated by J. C. Smith Company in 1924. The Parsons family has accumulated 52 years of education at Pacific.

YOUR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION - A PROGRESS REPORT

□ The Executive Committee of the Association has spent many hours in meetings and consultations, always with one purpose uppermost in our minds — to get organized and get moving.

We have had the pleasure of meeting with the Director of Alumni Affairs, Don Smiley, on several occasions; with the new Director of Development, Mr. Thomas Thompson, and with the new Director of Public Relations, Mr. Harold Kambak. We have also had a most informative session with Dr. Robert E. Burns, President of the University. As a result of these discussions, a general program of study and action has evolved.

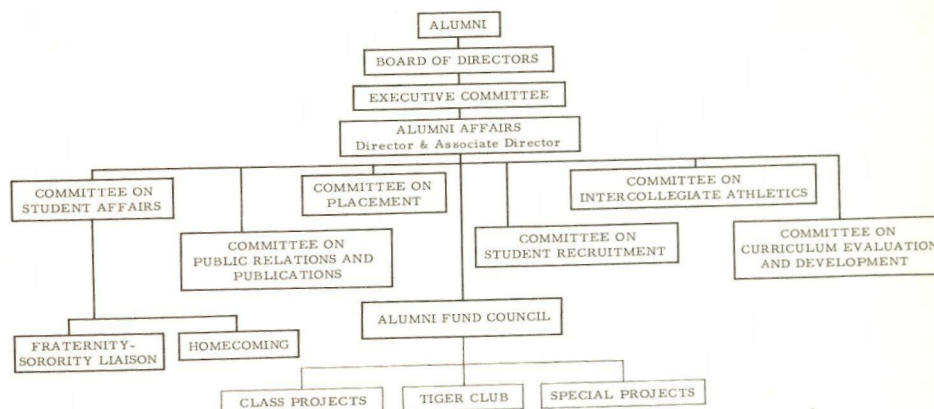

The Organization Chart that appears below depicts the activities of the Alumni Association for this year. It is of interest to note the broadening aspect of involvement on the part of our Association. The various committees listed on the Organization Chart will meet during the year with representatives of the University in an attempt to provide an active liaison system in many fields of mutual concern.

The success of your Association's endeavor to assist the University and its student body rests with the individual and collective effort of all interested Alumni. Suggestions concerning the Association's activities or suggestions of subject matter to be considered by our various committees are earnestly solicited.

Boyd Thompson,
President
Pacific Alumni Association

□ We have an open invitation to share with you. The Alumni Office is now located on the second floor of Burns Tower and we want each of you to drop in and see us when you are on campus. We are anxious to be of service to Alumni whenever and however we can.

For instance, we would like for you to look upon the Alumni Office as an information center for Alumni. If you are in town for an evening, or a weekend, call the Alumni Office to find out what is happening on campus. If you need tickets or hotel reservations, we hope you will look to us for assistance.

Also we are anxious to include items of personal interest about Alumni in the section of the Pacific Review reserved especially for this purpose. The only way we can do this is for you to send us the news.

We will look forward to seeing you on the second floor of the Robert E. Burns Tower when you visit Stockton.

SEE...TV' NEW GAME
OF WITS-ALUMNI FUN!
SUNDAYS, CBS-TV

ALUMNI ON TV JANUARY 5

□ "Alumni Fun," an entertaining information game featuring prominent college and university alumni teams competing against each other for financial grants to their schools, will have its premiere on the CBS Television Network, Sunday, January 5, 1964, at 5 to 5:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The University of the Pacific is honored to compete in the premiere January 5 against the University of Wisconsin.

Every alumnus will want to check on local time and station televising the show and give your fellow alumni all the assistance your "thought waves" can carry.

American Cyanamid Company is sponsoring the 13-week series. Producers are John Aaron, who was co-producer of "Person to Person" when that series was hosted by Edward R. Murrow, and John P. Cleary of Cleary, Moses Reid Productions which also produces the "College Bowl" series.

Clifton Fadiman, the well-known radio and television personality, will emcee the show.

The winning team will return the following week to compete against another school. American Cyanamid Company will award the financial grants.

DENTAL SCHOOL REUNION

□ More than 600 alumni of the College of Physicians and Surgeons attended the 65th Annual Alumni Meeting November 21 and 22 at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco.

Top clinicians were featured as speakers on subjects pertaining to retroactive dentistry. A reception was held for outgoing P & S Alumni President Dr. George F. Baker of Fresno. Dr. Burns was a special guest at the meeting, where he again noted the significance of the amalgamation of the College of Physicians and Surgeons and the University of the Pacific.

TIGER CLUB MEETING

□ The second annual dinner meeting of the Tiger Club has been scheduled for Saturday evening, January 18. On this occasion, members of the Club are guests of the University.

Tiger Club membership is made up of alumni who contribute a minimum of $100 annually to their alma mater.

A new feature on the agenda this year is extending invitations to all University department heads and deans to attend the social hour and dinner. This will give alumni the opportunity to become better informed on the many new activities taking place at the University as well as sharing their interests and concerns with faculty members.

ALUMNI CLUB ACTIVITIES

SAN FRANCISCO — A sizeable group attended a Bay Area Alumni football kick-off dinner at Panelli's Restaurant September 30. Coach John Rohde was guest speaker. Fillmore Marks '51 is class agent for the San Francisco Club.

MONTEREY — Robert Henning '42, principal of Walter Colton Junior High School, was recently elected president of the University of the Pacific Alumni Chapter of Monterey County. Mrs. John Raugust '58 is secretary and Vernon Hurd '30, board member. Marcus Williams '49 was master of ceremonies at their recent meeting. George Carlson, UOP Regent from Pebble Beach, was honored guest. Dr. Warren B. Martin, provost of Raymond College, was speaker.

SAN JOSE — A program of special recognition to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Scott of Cupertino highlighted the October 5 meeting at the Hawaiian Gardens.

Tribute was paid to the Scotts for their recent gift of music scholarships to the University Conservatory of Music.

Concert pianist Johana Harris performed and President Burns addressed the group, expressing particular recognition to Oliver Scott '22 (at left) and his wife, Mildred Murphy Scott '19 (center).

Dr. Raymond McCall '36 (at right) was chairman of the area meeting and banquet. Newly-elected president, C. Allen Culp '56, was introduced at the meeting.

Word has been received of the recent death of Marshall Rutherford, prominent Oakland attorney and civic leader. He is survived by wife, Adah; daughter, Margaret Hammil and son, Lowell C. Rutherford.

1916

Harold Noble was named chairman of the board and president of San Joaquin First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Stockton in early August. He previously was manager of the firm, which he joined in 1919.

1918

Irene F. Stratton, who received her bachelor of arts degree in 1918 and her bachelor of music degree in 1921, passed away in a Napa rest home in February. A teacher of public school music in Oakland for many years and a talented harpist, she was a member of Emendia and served for two years as housemother of old South Hall on the San Jose campus.

1920

The Rev. Homer S. Bodley, brother of J. Russell Bodley, dean of the Pacific Conservatory of Music, died late this summer after a long illness. He was a retired member of the California - Nevada Conference of the Methodist Church. He is survived by widow, Marjorie J. Bodley and two daughters, Mrs. Barbara B. Reinelt and Elizabeth J. Bodley.

1927

C. Ernest Davis, retired Executive Secretary of Christian Education Commission of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren, was named Alumnus of the Year of La Verne College which he served as president for many years.

1928

Reginald Estep, who received his master's degree in 1928, was honored in June upon his retirement from the Yuba City Union High School faculty. Mr. Estep joined the faculty of the school in 1925 and organized its commercial department in 1931, which was named "best in the nation" and six foreign countries in 1945.

1931

Arthur M. Sammis was named acting dean at the University of California's Hastings College of Law in July. A member of the Hastings faculty since 1944, he has been associate dean of the school for 10 years.

1932

Wallace Hall, who received his master's degree in 1932, has been named president of the new West Valley Junior College in Santa Clara County. He is "starting from scratch" in the development of the new college, which expects an initial enrollment of more than 3,000 students when it begins operation next year.

1933

Dr. Kenneth Stocking, a former member of Pacific faculty, is now associate professor of biology at Sonoma State College. He was a member of the Fresno State College faculty after leaving his post at Pacific.

Evan R. Keislar, professor of educational psychology at the University of California in Los Angeles, is the principal investigator for a $33,930 project entitled "Sequence of Discrimination and Differentiation Training in the Teaching of French in the Early Grades."

John Farr, for 17 years music instructor at Carmel High School, served as assistant choral director of the Carmel Bach Festival this summer. He worked with local members of the Festival chorus.

1936

Dr. George Butler has been appointed associate superintendent at Sonoma State Hospital. He previously was assistant superintendent, adult female division.

1939

Charles E. Gholz has been named "Layman of the Year" for his work in the First Methodist Church of Bakersfield. Chief accountant for Kern County Joint Union High School and College District, he and his wife, the former Florence McKaig '43, and their two children live in Bakersfield.

1941

John Dennis is now stationed in Athens as co-ordinator of the English Language Program for Greece, sponsored by the Fulbright Foundation. On leave from his position as assistant professor of English at San Francisco State College, he also was a Fulbright teacher at Anatolia College in Salonica, Greece, seven years ago. Mrs. Dennis, the former Nona Bissell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bissell, and their three children, Suzanne, Katharine and Charles Howard Alexander, joined him in early September.

1942

Dr. Dave Brubeck returned to his alma mater with his quartet in September to appear before a sell-out crowd in a concert in the Conservatory Auditorium.

1944

Barbara Baxley is currently appearing as a star in the New York musical comedy hit "She Loves Me."

1945

Vanadeane Carroll became the bride of Jack Albert Brooks Aug. 3 in St. John's Episcopal Church of Stockton. They are making their home in Lodi, where the bride is dean of girls at Lodi High School East Campus and her husband is a Lodi English teacher.

1947

Marie Nikolich became the bride of B. Philip Bowman Jr., June 30

in St. Peter's Chapel on Mare Island. They are residing in Vallejo, where she is a teacher at Vallejo Senior High School and he is vice-principal of Hogan Senior High School.

ACCENT ON ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENTS

□ Everett W. Stark has coupled his 20th anniversary in the insurance brokerage business with a "world-wide" achievement.

Mangla Dam, now under construction in Northern Pakistan, is said to be the largest of its kind in the world. With a bid-contract price of $354 million, insurance premiums covering the seven-year construction project may also be the largest of their kind in the world.

Everett W. Stark and Company of San Francisco competed with the largest insurance brokerage firms in the world to win this insurance agent assignment. Now, as agents for the Mangla Dam Project, his firm is processing claims from all parts of the world covering work at the site and equipment and supplies being shipped to the site.

"It was too big to be negotiated in the United States alone so we had to work with Lloyd's of London, British tariff companies as well as U.S. firms," Mr. Stark said.

Called a Comprehensive Builder's All-Risk and Third Part Liability Policy, 19 different policies are actually in force providing protection against all risks and losses or damage.

Claims must be processed according to world exchange rates. A $300,000 claim was recently filed for equipment damaged in an early monsoon.

Earthquakes are a primary concern since the construction site is located in a secondary earthquake fault zone.

The dam is being built for the Water and Power Development Authority of West Pakistan as the outgrowth of a treaty between Pakistan and India which divided the waters of the Indus Basin between the two countries. The U.S.

has contributed $482 million to an $800 million development fund, negotiated by the World Bank, for economic development of the two countries. The Mangla project is being financed from this fund.

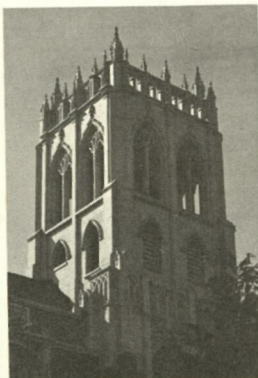

A group of United States contractors, headed by the Guy F. Atkinson Company of San Francisco, won the $354 million contract.

Located on the Upper Jhelum River in Northern Pakistan, the dam is considered to be the highest earth-and-rock filled dam ever built, rising 380 feet above the river bed. A total of 110 million cubic yards of fill must be moved, covering a crest length of 11,000 feet. Purpose of the dam is to supply irrigation water and a potential 1,000,000 KW of electric power.

Deadline for completion is July 1968 but contractors and the 10,000 employees are aiming to finish the job by 1967.

Everett Stark received his B.A. degree at UOP in 1929. He was president of the first freshman class following relocation of the campus at Stockton. As an active alumnus, he has served as president of the Bay Area Alumni. Former President Tully Knoles named him to a committee to help select a new coach. Mr. Stark was the first to make contact with Amos Alonzo Stagg by telegram which resulted in negotiations being initiated to bring Mr. Stagg from the University of Chicago. Mr. Stark continues to serve as a director and officer of the Amos Alonzo Stagg Foundation. He has for many years aided in University development projects.

His son, James Everett Stark, is a 1962 Pacific graduate, now assistant treasurer in the insurance firm.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH BEGINS FUND CAMPAIGN TO BUILD A LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE AS PART OF UNIVERSITY'S NEW "CLUSTER" COLLEGE EXPANSION PROGRAM

□ Negotiations which began several months ago have now been formalized as a joint project with the Eighth Province of the Episcopal Church to establish St. Michael's College at the University of the Pacific as part of the University's development of "cluster" colleges in Oxford-Cambridge tradition.

The Right Reverend Russell S. Hubbard, Bishop of Spokane, President of the Province of the Pacific of the Episcopal Church and Chairman of the Board for St. Michael's College, said the building of the College will be financed by individual donors. St. Michael's, which will be the only Episcopal College west of the Mississippi River, hopes to open in 1965.

"The greatest need in education today is for improved quality," declared Bishop Hubbard at the October 17 news conference. "Our Church is convinced that the answer to qualitative improvements is in rediscovering the importance of Christian values in higher education. Church-supported colleges do provide an answer. A church-related college, with the highest academic standards, is uniquely equipped to produce mature men and women who have acquired a rewarding melding of educational, cultural and spiritual values.

"The need also exists for the return to smaller schools of higher education — institutions where close student-faculty relationships stimulate the minds and help build the character of our young men and women."

In discussing the new project, Dr. Burns said "we consider this cooperation with the Episcopal Province to be unique in this nation in both educational and religious endeavors, offering fine opportunities to young people seeking the highest academic standards in a church-related atmosphere."

The University will provide a separate site for St. Michael's on the University campus upon a long-term lease. St. Michael's will have the use of the University's laboratories, library, athletic fields, infirmary and other central facilities. The building and campus design will continue the traditional gothic architecture of the University.

St. Michael's will be an autonomous four-year liberal arts undergraduate college, governed by a Rector and a separate Board of Trustees. The University will confer all degrees upon recommendation of St. Michael's College. Thus, all faculty and students will be faculty and students of the University.

Members of the Board of Trustees for St. Michael's College are: The Right Reverend Russell S. Hubbard, chairman of the Board; The Right Reverend Sumner F. D. Walters, Bishop of San Joaquin, Stockton, Calif.; The Reverend David Churchman Trimble, Prescott, Arizona; The Reverend James P. Shaw, San Francisco; James Earl Jewell, Sutter Creek, Calif.; Robert H. Kieckhefer, Prescott, Ariz.; James Gillmore Leovy, Hermosa Beach, Calif.; The Very Reverend Malcolm E. McClenaghan, Sacramento; The Right Reverend George R. Millard, Executive Vice Chairman of the Board, Piedmont, Calif.; The Reverend George P. Sampson, Vacaville, Calif.; Edward Colcock, Seattle; The Reverend Robert A. Tourigney, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif.

California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Hawaii, Alaska, Idaho, the Philippine Islands and Taiwan make up the Eighth Province of the Episcopal Church.

CHURCH COUNCIL FORMED

□ One of the concerns at the University of the Pacific is to continue strengthening the bond that exists between the University and the churches of the California - Nevada Methodist Conference. Formation of a Church Council as part of the University Development Council is one result of this concern.

Primary purposes of the Church Council are: (1) To determine ways for the University to better serve the Church and for the Church to serve the University; (2) To bring into focus the needs, problems and goals of Christian higher education; (3) To provide an avenue of communication to and from local churches through a lay representative from each local church.

The University of the Pacific Church Council will be composed of pastors of the California - Nevada Methodist Conference and a lay representative from each local church within the Conference.

Each local church representative will serve as a liaison between his church and the University, carrying out responsibilities determined by the Church Council for the mutual benefit of the Methodist Church and the University.

Program activities are being directed by a General Chairman and an executive committee consisting of a pastor and a layman from each of the eight Conference Districts.

The Reverend Arthur Thurman is General Chairman. Other Executive Committee members are: The Reverend Gerald R. Lowe and Wilbur Jacoby (Bay View District); The Reverend Jackson Butler, The Reverend Richard Bimson and Ralph Vance (Central District); The Reverend William Dyer and Wesley B. Rumbolz (Fresno District); The Reverend Cecil Wilkins and G. W. Rayhill (Golden Gate District); The Reverend Harold C. Coleman and Ernest F. Lundeen (Redwood Empire District); The Reverend Wilbur Choy and F. Calvin Locher (Sacramento - Nevada District); The Reverend Douglas Ewan and John Smart (San Jose District); The Reverend H. Wilton Vincent and Chester Hoar (Shasta District).

University of Pacific representatives are Dr. Arthur Maynard, professor of Bible; The Reverend Robert Tarr, associate director of development and church relations coordinator; and Dr. Elliott Taylor, dean of admissions.

The Bishop's Cabinet and the Conference of Education are encouraging each local church to support the Church Council program.

Edward S. Betz, dean of students, returned to his alma mater October 25 to be awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree. Theron Maxson, president of Hastings College in Nebraska, and Charles Osborne, member of the Board of Trustees and former classmate of Dean Betz, made the award during Founder's Day activities. (Picture above right) Traditional campus scenes include casual conversation between classes and view of Conservatory tower on opposite page.

43 NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ADDED

□ Educating students is the purpose of the University. Faculty members determine the quality of education offered students. The 43 new faculty members added this year bring a high degree of preparation, experience and teaching competence to the academic program in keeping with the quality standards already established at the University. Twenty-seven of the new faculty members are pictured at right during faculty orientation sessions. Total University faculty at the Stockton campus is 195 with over 50 per cent having earned Ph.D. degrees. An additional 168 faculty at the College of Physicians and Surgeons (School of Dentistry) in San Francisco brings the total number of faculty teaching at the University to 363, plus 33 on the two campuses classified as administrative faculty.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES

DR. DONALD Y. BARKER, chairman of the Department of Pharmaceutics, has been elected to full membership in the Royal Society of Health, London, England. Membership is limited to those of recognized achievement in the field of health, and is the highest category of membership to which any pharmacist may be directly elected.

DR. JOEL W. HEDGPETH, director of Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach, attended several professional conferences on the East Coast and the Canal Zone during November. As a member of the Systematics and Oceanography Panels of the National Science Foundation, he attended meetings in Washington, D.C., and Rhode Island. Dr. Hedgpeth was present for the first meeting of the Council for the Association for Tropical Biology, held in Barro Colorado, Canal Zone. Last summer the well-known authority presented a paper on Arctic and Antarctic pycnogonida before the International Congress of Zoology in Washington, D.C.

DR. IVAN W. ROWLAND, dean of the School of Pharmacy, has been appointed chairman of the Ethics and Grievances Committee of the California Pharmaceutical Association, to serve for the 1963-64 fiscal year. Mrs. Rowland was elected national chairman of the Women's Auxiliary to Student Organizations of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

DR. C. C. RIEDESEL, chairman of the Department of Physiology-Pharmacology, and DEAN IVAN W. ROWLAND presented papers during the annual meetings of District 8 American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy in Honolulu last month. Dr. Riedesel's topics were "An Honors Educational Program for the Colleges of Pharmacy" and "A Look at Tomorrow in Graduate Education of Biological Sciences." Dean Rowland's paper was entitled, "The Influence of the Pharmacy Alumni upon the Profession."

DR. EMERSON G. COBB, chairman of the Department of Chemistry, met with Fellowship representatives of the National Science Foundation in San Francisco last month to review current training programs and make plans for future programs. His many speaking engagements have included a trip to Dakota Wesleyan University in Mitchell, S.D., this month to speak for a student convocation. Dr. Cobb was previously professor and chairman of the Department of Chemistry there.

PAUL H. WINTERS, associate professor of speech and forensics director, was the main speaker at a forensics workshop at Sacramento State College in September. He discussed the subject, "This Year's High School Debate Topics" for high school students attending the State Speech Council - sponsored event.

MISS EDNA P. GEHLKEN, chairman of the Department of Home Economics and Family Living, attended a state-wide conference with the Bureau of Homemaking Education and the Home Economics Teacher Education Group in Fresno last month. The three-day meeting was held to interpret and clarify the new credential law and apply its regulations to the Program of Home Economics in California.

WALTER L. NYBERG, assistant professor of Bible and Religious Education, conducted chapel services at Sharpe's General Depot during October.

EDWARD Y. LINDSAY of the Department of Ancient Languages was chairman of the Classical Section of the Third Biennial Joint Convention of the Foreign Language Association of Northern California and the Modern Language Association of Southern California in Long Beach this month.

DR. PHILIP WOGAMAN, assistant professor of Bible and Religious Education, has written an article entitled "Focus on the Central Jurisdiction" appearing in the October 23 issue of The Christian Century. Another of his articles, "Voluntarism is Not Enough," has been accepted for publication in Christian Advocate.

E. LESLIE MEDFORD, assistant dean of admissions, is serving as a member of the Program Committee for the 1964 annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers, being held in Colorado this month. MISS ELLEN DEERING, a former president of the Association, is assisting with the Workshop section on Manual Data Processing.

MRS. MARION GARTHWAITE, lecturer on children's literature and storytelling, has had an article called "The Acid Test" published in the August issue of The Horn Book.

J. HENRY WELTON, professor of music, was re-elected to the Board of Directors of the San Francisco Chapter of the National Association of Teachers of Singing recently.

MISS KATHLEEN SHANNON, assistant professor of Bible and religious education, was elected to the executive committee of the National Commission of Professors of the Methodist Church this month. She was chosen as representative from the western states as the National Conference on Christian Education for the Methodist Church held in Chicago.

DR. HALVOR P. HANSEN, associate professor of speech, presented a paper entitled "Application of General Semantics in Speech Pathology" at the International Association for Symbolic Analysis at Montreal, Canada, last month. He also was chairman of a panel discussing "Interdisciplinary Approach to Speech Problems."

MISS BETTY ISERN, chairman of the Department of Music Therapy, presented a paper on "Music in Special Education" at the National Association for Music Therapy meeting in Bloomington, Indiana, last month. She previously attended the International Conference in Montreal where she served on a panel with DR. HALVOR HANSEN, discussing the use of music in speech therapy.

HENDERSON E. MCGEE, dean of the School of Engineering and national director of the American Society of Civil Engineers, spoke at the fall meeting of the Arizona Section of the Society in Phoenix last month.

EDGARDO TORRES, a new faculty member in the Department of Modern Languages, was speaker for the November 20 meeting of the California Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development in Los Angeles. His topic was "Spanish for Spanish Speaking Children."

LAWTON HARRIS, associate professor of Religious Education, attended the National Conference on Leadership for Leisure held early this month at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, West Va. Professor Harris was invited to act as a summarizer for the Voluntary and Youth Serving Agencies.

DR. HOWARD L. RUNION, chairman of the Department of Speech, attended the 39th annual meeting of the American Speech and Hearing Association in Chicago this month.

DR. SAMUEL L. MEYER, academic vice president, traveled to Washington, D.C., for the annual fall meeting of the Advisory Screening Committee in Biology and Agriculture, Committee on International Exchange of Persons, Conference Board of Associated Research Councils. The committee processed 77 applications for Fulbright lectureship and research appointments for 1964-65.

DR. WALTER PAYNE, associate professor of history, served as a panel member at the October meeting of the Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies, Fresno State College. The panel discussed the subject, "The Latin American University; Seedbed of Revolt or Instrument of Progress?" Dr. Payne Spoke on the University of San Carlos of Guatemala.

UOP IN NATIONAL MEDIA

□ Feature stories on the University of the Pacific recently appeared in the education sections of Newsweek and Time magazines.

The opening of Elbert Covell College and the general "cluster" college innovation drew primary emphasis in the September 30 Newsweek coverage.

Time magazine, in the October 11 issue, headlined its interpretation of UOP's distinctive educational program, "Reform on the Coast."

ENROLLMENT INCREASES

□ Fall term enrollment for the 112th academic year totalled 2,985 including the School of Dentistry (College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco).

On the Stockton campus, 1,247 men slightly outnumber 1,115 women making up the 2,362 full-time enrollment. Part-time students number 396.

Enrollment at the School of Dentistry totals 227 men. Only one in every six applicants is accepted.

Over 25 per cent of this year's freshman class enrolled in liberal arts program at the University are members of the California Scholarship Federation. Members of the CSF must have maintained a 3.5 or better grade average for three years of high school.

RAYMOND COLLEGE: FIRST "CLUSTER" COLLEGE BEGINS SECOND YEAR; CHALLENGES STUDENTS TO WORK FASTER AND TO DO BETTER WORK

□ While attention has focused more recently on the opening of Elbert Covell College as the second "cluster" college at the University of the Pacific, there is much that continues to merit attention in the program unfolding at the first "cluster" college.

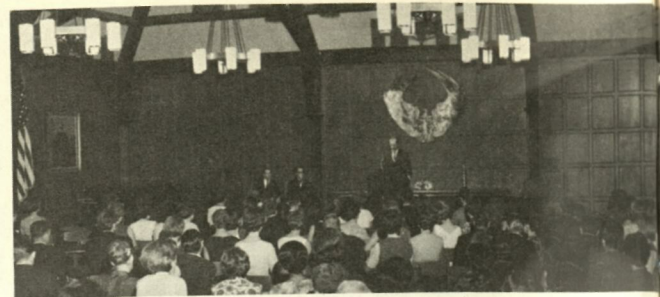

Enrollment for the second year of operation at Raymond College totals 122 students. A freshman class of 75 students was enrolled this fall. Retention of first year students has been high.

"We are anticipating the enrollment of 85 to 90 more students in the fall of 1964 with a broader geographical representation," said Dr. Warren Martin, Provost of Raymond College. Student interviews have been conducted recently by the Provost and Dean of Student Life, Dr. Edmund Peckham, in Texas, Missouri, Illinois, Washington and Minnesota.

Four more full-time faculty members will be added next year to have a total of 20 teaching during the 1964-65 academic year which will be the first year of full operation. Students study three terms per year and qualify for graduation in three years at Raymond College, challenging students to work faster. Three courses per term, organized in small seminars, tutorials and independent study with the benefits of a current student-faculty ratio of 8 to 1, stimulate study in depth.

Outstanding speakers and artists are featured in the "high table" series scheduled each Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in Great Hall. Dr. Martin is shown in the above picture during his presentation on the topic, "A College of Consequence."

Art exhibits scheduled to date have included the San Francisco Museum of Art, Floyd Lewis (artist in residence at Raymond) and the Maxwell Gallery,

A series of nine monthly lectures encompassing "Three Centuries of Keyboard Music" are being given by Roy and Johana Harris. Presentations by this prominent composer-pianist team as well as the art exhibits and "high table" programs are open to all University students and the public. Future events in the series are listed in the campus calendar on page 16.

Although Raymond College now has become very much a part of the University, it is still among the newest innovations at the University and can be watched with interest as it furthers the "atmosphere of excellence."

RESEARCH GRANTS RECEIVED

□ Five grants, totaling $52,534, have been awarded to the University recently by two foundations.

A National Science Foundation grant of $20,400 will support research under the direction of Dr. Maryanne Hughes, assistant professor of biology.

Two NSF grants, totalling $18,325, were made available to the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach. Summer research opportunities for high school teachers will be provided by a $16,225 grant, under the direction of Dr. Joel W. Hedgpeth. Raymond A. Underhill will conduct research on a $2,100 grant.

A NSF grant of $10,810 was also awarded to assist in strengthening the science undergraduate program.

Smith, Kline & French Foundation of Philadelphia provided a grant of $3,000 for chemistry department equipment.

FOOTBALL COACHING AND TEAM TRANSITION

The popular Rohde, who will be going into private business with Dean Wendt in Sacramento for the Capitol Equipment Company, has been head gridiron mentor for three seasons and leaves after 16 years on the Pacific campus as player, assistant and head coach.

After serving Jack "Moose" Meyers as chief assistant for eight years, Rohde took over in 1961 when Pacific football was at its lowest ebb. But under Rohde's guidance, renewed interest was instilled in the community, the Quarterback Club and on the campus. UOP continued to play major college football and now stands on the threshold of another successful era under the guidance of Campora.

Rohde's contributions will never be measured for John was concerned not only for the team but for the individual members of the team, the school and the image of Pacific across the country.

Although the success of this season has been less than desired, John Rohde will go down in Pacific football history as "a real Tiger."

Despite Pacific's downfall this season, Don Campora feels the Tigers will again be taking on the biggest and best opponents in the West and applying the sting of the Tiger.

As "transitions" prevail in Pacific's major sports, credit is due Ron Reina (at right) as Athletic Publicity Director for his capable continuity in handling the needs of the sports media. Ron is also well known throughout this state as a radio announcer for KWG.

□ The 1963 football season is one of transition both in coaching and team prospects. Although 1963 has not been a successful football campaign for Pacific, it has presented evidence of a bright future to come for the Tigers.

Although John Rohde has resigned to enter private business, he, along with "Tiny" Campora and Eddie LeBaron led Pacific to its only undefeated season in 1949. The strength of this teamwork now continues at Pacific under Campora's leadership.

For the past three seasons, UOP has been passing through a transitional period after the 1961 "re-orientation" announcement. Through the lack of recruiting in 1961 and 1962, Pacific entered the 1963 season with 22 varsity players who had never played in a game previously.

But Rohde concentrated on bringing in outstanding freshmen, feeling that these yearlings along with the holdovers from this year's squad would give the Bengals a solid outfit for next season.

NEW BASKETBALL COACH: "WE'LL HOLD OUR OWN"

□ New head basketball coach Dick Edwards looks forward to the 1963-64 season with guarded optimism.

Despite the fact that Pacific has eight returning lettermen from last season, assuring Edwards of experience, the senior-laden squad has won only five league games in the last two campaigns.

Taking over from Van Sweet this year, Edwards will field a team that has experience, good shooting, good speed, fair rebounding but a woeful lack of height and defense.

Defense is the key to this season's success and was the downfall of last year's club that won only four while losing 22 and going winless in the West Coast Athletic Conference play.

"Bill Wilson and Leo Middleton can score for us," according to the youthful head coach, "and I feel we will improve. If we can play defense I know we will win some ball games. With this club we're going to surprise quite a few people which I believe we did in our opener by defeating California State 79-65."

Wilson and Middleton, both 6-6, will provide the bulk of the scoring, averaging 12.8 and 10.8 points per game a year ago. They will be joined up front by 6-3 Charles Stramble, 6-3 Jim Scheel and 6-3 John Scheel (twin brothers from Billings, Mont.).

So with an inexperienced club, the Tigers started the 1963 campaign at home, losing to Colorado 20-0.

The trip to the southwest saw improvement but West Texas State emerged by a 32-8 score. Traditional rival Fresno State won the homecoming game 29-7. An aroused Idaho eleven ran roughshod over the Bengals by a 64-6 score, then Utah State applied a 40-14 loss, the fifth straight of the year. By this time UOP's injury list was mounting and the coaches were worried because the Marines were next. But after playing them even for three quarters, the Marines downed the Tigers 24-6. Pacific's best game of the year was played in defeat as San Diego State won 34-18.

This was the seventh consecutive loss and tied a school mark so the Bengals rose up and downed Brigham Young, 14-0, then scared arch rival San Jose State before falling 32-20 for the eighth loss. This is the most defeats registered in Pacific's history but it is still a long and glorious gridiron history.

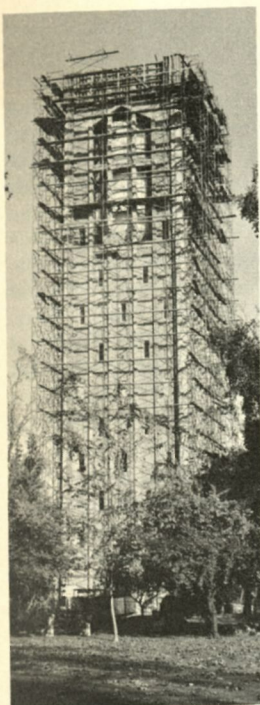

In the backcourt, Edwards will choose from Veteran Dick Davey, the 6-3 playmaker from Ceres; Dave Balsey, 6-0 jump shooter from San Mateo and Jack Schalow, the little 5-10 speedster from Grand Forks, N.D.

A recent National Collegiate Athletic Association publication predicted Pacific would finish second in the tough WCAC race but Edwards guards against over-enthusiasm. "We're short but this club is made up of a bunch of hustlers who like to play. We'll hold our own and we would love to knock off USF, Santa Clara and St. Mary's," he said.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Dedication of Robert E. Burns Tower is scheduled for March 8, 1964. This new campus and community landmark is named for the first UOP alumnus to become president of Pacific. Utilitarian in purpose, the tower top section houses a 150,000-gallon water tank needed to service campus community. Stained glass windows enclose tank. Ninth floor has new FM multiplex extended stereo transmitter and an observation platform. Eighth floor is President's Office, seventh floor is conference room, sixth floor is Financial Vice President Office, fifth and fourth floors are Development staff offices, the third floor is Public Relations Office, second floor is Alumni Office. Main floor has campus telephone switchboard. Automatic telephone equipment is in basement, also microfilm storage vault for campus records. A carillon completes the multiple-purpose features.
