Department of the Interior,

Washington, October 17, 1892.

Mr. R. U. Johnson,
Assistant Editor, Century,
Union Square, New York City.

My dear Sir:

I very much regret I was not able to return your call.

You are aware that I had to go to New Haven, and from there I hastened to the Department. It would have pleased me very much to have talked over with you some of the matters connected with the Department in which you are interested.

I send you some letters for your information, which I will thank you to return when you have considered them; they pertain to the Sequoia and the Yosemite National Park, also to the question of a free road which you will see I am pressing through the National Park in California. There is also a new road ordered to be built southward from Upper Geyser basin in Y. N. Park.

Yours very truly,

John W. Noble,

Secretary.
