Employment Practices; volunteer firemen

NEV. REV. STAT. §475.— (new).
AB 116 (Fay); 1983 STAT. Ch 381

Chapter 381 extends employment protection to individuals who serve as volunteer firemen by prohibiting their discharge from employment as a consequence of performing firefighting services.¹ An employee or employment applicant who is a volunteer fireman, however, must disclose this status to the employer.² An employer who violates the provisions of Chapter 381 is liable to the employee in a civil action for lost wages and benefits,³ damages in the same amount,⁴ and reasonable attorney's fees.⁵ In addition, the employee is entitled to reinstatement without loss of position, seniority, or benefits.⁶
