I found the devil in a fist;
in the shadows
of the part of ourselves we’re afraid of,
in a shadow we belong to.

He hides in whispered lies that taunt our lonely eardrums;
in roads that lead to strange tongues.

He hides in the twitches on the tips of fingers that dance
on the outskirts of a trigger.

He hides where the haze and the gunfire swell the fear of the things that starve for blood.

He hides in a paranoid flicker on the horizon,
as the moonlight stains our skin, and the visions of night reflect on our sleep-deprived eyes.
We get an artillery shell symphony for a lullaby and a nightmare for a good night’s rest.

There’s a price tag on my M-16.
There’s a price tag on our lives.
There’s a price tag on every breath.

Our chests are an Arlington graveyard;
where we bury the dead thing beneath the skin.
