

John Muir Correspondence (PDFs)

1874-11-01

Letter from [Jeanne C. Carr] to [John Muir], [1874 ca. Nov].

Jeanne C. Carr

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

Recommended Citation

Carr, Jeanne C., "Letter from [Jeanne C. Carr] to [John Muir], [1874 ca. Nov]." (1874). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 298.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/298>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

'Had lost thirteen pounds.' I think he has gained some during the last week. But there is little prospect that he will be able to do any thing this week. John is very steady in a better position than before. So our lecturing before Institutes, & Societies, will go to Los Angeles early next month.

Dr Kellogg called on me last week. Has been invited by Secretary Stearns to connect himself with the University as a teacher of Electrotyping. I can say he will accept. He was very nicely dressed, very cordial & affectionate. Did not speak of his friends in the Valley.

Mrs Moore's sudden departure for Europe excites some comment. There is a great excitement in business circles & many heavy failures. I have heard it rumored that the Moore Brothers have all the load that they can carry. I sincerely

478 [2]
Hope they may not fail, for they have been helpful in many ways & can not be spared from the ranks of reliable men. The Grangers have had a blow in the failure of their agent, fit
at the worst, they have lost less as a body, by two millions, than they would had they gone on the old business basis of selling to the Wheat Speculators. This fact inclines all but individual losses to keep to their former policy. It has been a wild week in change, & has buried private causes
under the avalanche of public calamities:
to some extent.

You have several letters - I opened two & found they were from Gen Alford at Washington asking for private Sec's & cons. I opened to see if they were important enough to justify a telegram, did not know but they contained a Government appointment. The Star Oakland has your article on the 1st page, is highly spoken of, in all the papers. Your letter to me gave me great pleasure - I wish I could give you as much, but you must be

[Fragment of letter of Mrs. Carr]

[November, 1874]

had lost thirteen pounds! I think he has gained some during the last week, but there is little prospect that he will be able to do anything this winter. John is very steady in a better position than before, Dr. Carr lecturing before Institutes and societies, will go to Los Angeles next month.

Dr. Kellogg called on me last week -- has been invited by Secretary Stearns to connect himself with the University as a teacher of Electrotyping! I dare say he will accept. He was very nicely dressed, very cordial and affectionate, did not speak of his friends in the Valley.

Mrs. Moore's sudden departure for Europe excites some comment. There is a great excitement in business circles, and many heavy failures. I have heard it rumored that the Moore brothers have all the load that they can carry. I sincerely hope they may not fail, for they have been helpful in many ways and cannot be spared from the ranks of reliable men. The Grangers have had a blow in the failure of their agent, but at the worst they have lost less as a body, by two millions, than they would had they gone on the old business basis of selling to the wheat speculators. This fact inclines all but individual losers to keep to their former policy. It has been a wild week on change, and has buried private cares under the avalanche of public calamities to some extent.

You have several letters -- I opened two and found they were from Gen. Alvord at Washington asking for pine seeds and cones. I opened to see if they were important enough to justify a telegram, didn't know but they contained a Government appointment. The Nov. Overland has your article on the 1st page -- is highly spoken of in all the papers. Your letters to me gave me great pleasure -- I wish I could give you as much, but yours must be