SCHEDULE OF EVENTS FOR MARDI GRAS WEEK-END

There are still some uninformed characters going about inquiring blankly of Mardi Gras committee members, "Say, when is Mardi Gras, anyway?" Let it be noted that Mardi Gras weekend is April 27-28, exactly two weeks from today. Got it? April 27-28.

Blue Key Marks First Year End

The local chapter of Blue Key climaxed its first year of activity with a thoroughly successful Initiation Banquet last Sunday Night. Everyone had fun, especially at the expense of President Burns and Dean Betz.

The banquet, which was held at the Hutson House, was preceded by a brief but impressive initiation service at Morris Chapel. President Bob Anderson presided.

Sorry Sunburned Sitters Suffer Saddle Sores...

Yesterday at eleven o'clock, the flagpole section of the Naranjado sales campaign was brought to a close when the two flagpole sitters were released from their high station.

Looking both sunburned and determined, the two expressed gratitude for the alertness of the yearbook staff who kept them well supplied with water, reading matter, and lotion.

In addition to staying in the saddle throughout the day and part of the night, the squatters were kept busy broadcasting over KAEO. It was in this capacity that they read excerpts from every college humor magazine in the area.

The daring young men who participated in this class cancellation feat ascended the 342 foot pole with two objectives in mind:

(1) To sell many people many Naranjados.

(2) To smash any existing pole records.

However, after their descent there was some question what records had been broken. A check into the files revealed that most pole records still stand, but there are two that will never again be of use. These were namely "I Sprang Into The Saddle" by Cactus Jack Marty, and "I Was Sprung Outa Jail" by No Gun McFist.

Concerning saddle sitting, the two men had a great deal to say. They commented at length about the excellent opportunity to study the migratory habits of birds, as well as the End Zone habits of students. Also they added that the lucky old sun was quite a study in itself.

And for the offer of the South Hall sunlamp, the two fellows were very grateful.

Aside from a group of zealous San Jose States, there were no serious mishaps that could be attributed to the many hours spent in the horse chair. The State Spartans were armed with hack saws and acetylene torches and would have toppled the tower had it not been for the fast response of the Trader, who had 'em.

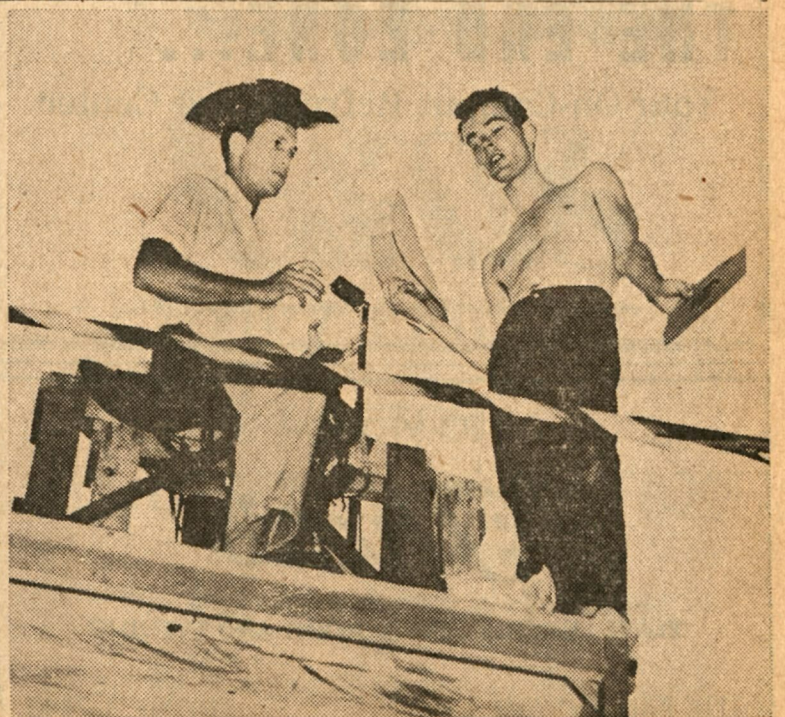

Following the Trader's instructions, the pole men answered all questions in perfect unison.

"We've got 'em," they shouted.

"What?" we asked.

"Saddle sores," they moaned.

But the Naranjado staff was anything but sore as they looked back upon a highly successful sales week.

MORE THAN A FEW RECORDS WERE BROKEN

Senate Meets, Considers Plans

The brief Senate meeting last Monday night was highlighted by reports of freshman orientation plans and the World Student Service Fund.

Bob McKibben, Commissioner of Organizations, sketched the results of his committee's work on preparations for an Orientation Week at the beginning of the fall semester. Barbara Strand, Drives Commissioner, reported that Garth Lipsky is assisting her in the WSSF fund drive, which will be held during the week beginning May 14.

In other actions of the evening, the Senate heard a report on election plans by Roger Wickman of the Student Affairs Committee, refused a Weekly request for an additional $200 appropriation, and decided to hold a training conference for election candidates and all campus officers on May 5.

Cooks-Waiters Star at Banquet

By IRA WHEATLEY

Townpeople of Stockton had an opportunity to see students in action last Sunday at the Annual YMCA Banquet. And, speaking literally, the event left a very fine taste in their mouths.

The banquet was the first to be held in the new YMCA building, and was attended by over 180 civic leaders and supporters of the local Y. It is safe to say that they were all surprised at the finesse of the students involved.

The entire job of, planning, cooking, serving and cleaning up for this big affair was handled solely by students from COP's Anderson Y Center. Don Martin, a former U. S. Army hash slinger and at present a part-time chef for the National Guard, was the

Calendar Board Consider Affairs

The new Calendar Advisory Board held its organizational meeting last Monday night in Anderson Social Hall. Edie Fincher was elected chairman, and Marilyn McFarland and Virginia Baker were elected vice-chairman and secretary, respectively. The date set for the next meeting was April 30.

Ira Wheatley, PSA Student Affairs Commissioner, opened the meeting as chairman pro tem. He traced the growth of the idea for the Board, and Dean Monroe explained some of the problems which arise in administering a social calendar.

The discussion which followed centered around the problem of inducing individual organizations to cooperate in all-campus events, such as PSA and AWS dances. The idea of limiting the number of formal dances per semester was also explored.

Board representatives present at Monday night's meeting included Virginia Baker, Dean Betz, Marge Cunningham, Ernie Ferrari, Edie Fincher, Jeanne Gist, Virginia Grattone, Don Jacobus, Marilyn McFarland, Dean Monroe, Craig Seavey, Stan Steele, and George Walters. Also present as observers were Alice Bogle, Ira Wheatley, and Hilda Wunderlich.

Chief Cook. Barbara McKinnon was Head Waitress.

A laudable postscript to this commendable exhibition is found in the financial report. For, serving roast beef, et. al, at $1.50 a plate, the student team of twenty persons managed to show a profit of $135 for the Y Center budget!

This kind of service to campus and community by fellow-students surely merits our sincere appreciation!

Players Go Wilde For Mardi Gras

By TED SMALLEY

Have you heard about Studio Theatre? They're going "Wilde" for Mardi Gras. Yes, opening on Wednesday, April 25, will be "An Ideal Husband", by Oscar Wilde. The show will also be presented on Thursday and Friday, April 26 and 27.

In the title role of this sophisticated comedy is Ted Smalley, playing Sir Robert Chiltern. He was last seen portraying an old peasant in "The Doctor in Spite of Himself." Opposite him, as Sir Robert's wife is Joyce Osborn. Joyce may begin to wonder if she is being typed, for her last role was also that of the wife of the titular character in "The Doctor in Spite of Himself."

As the scheming Mrs. Chevely, Marion Cramer is to be seen. Marion is a familiar figure in Pacific Theatre circles and is remembered as Dagmar in "I Remember Mama."

Dave Manley is cast in the role of the suave Lord Goring, close friend of the Chilterns and an even closer friend of Mrs. Chevely's. Dave has been a busy figure in the Studio Theatre productions this year, appearing in all of them to date: "Gammer Gurton's Needle," "Christmas Carol", and "The Doctor in Spite of Himself."

In the role of Lord Caversham, elderly father of Goring, is the prominent Pacific Theatre veteran, Bill Sibley. Bill this year has entertained audiences as Papa in "I Remember Mama", Scrooge in "Christmas Carol", and as "The Doctor in Spite of Himself."

Last seen playing the nurse in "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," and now cast as the love interest, is Billee Jean.

Others in the cast include: Alice Brouss, Paul Spier, Don Taffin, Shirley Neilsen, Pat Ellis, June Dietz, and Rosslyn Sloss.

Heading Director Willard Clarke's crew are Paul Spier, Assistant Director; Bud Meek, Stage Manager; and Don Taffin, Assistant Stage Manager. Others include Costumes, Mary Lesperance and Rosslyn Sloss; Properties, Pat Ellis; Lights, Loretta Mason; Publicity, Ted Smalley; Music, Penny Fitzgerald; and Librarian, Paul Spier.

The dates again are April 25, 26 and 27 when Studio Theatre goes Wilde.

Festivities began in the banquet room at 7:00 with hors-d'oeuvres, and the last spoonful of ice cream passed into oblivion more than an hour-and-a-half later. During the meal Phil Chalmers kept one side of the room in stitches with his plastic physiognomy, while Dr. Burns entertained the other with tales of a trip to San Mateo at which his speech to a Contractor's Association dinner was preceded by a strip-tease act. (The President was not permitted to forget "San Mateo" for the remainder of the evening!)

Following toothpicks and coffee, the program degenerated into a series of speeches, announcements and greetings. All the brothers who could do so had borrowed tuxes for the occasion, so that the parade of leading campus shirt-fronts was indeed wonderful to behold.

The tempo increased as Phil Chalmers took the floor to introduce the entertainment which had been prepared by the pledges. The Corra Brothers, Dick Armbrust, the vaudeville team of Chalmers and Rosqui, and John Nastari combined to provide plenty of laughs and good music. Needless to say, each joke was checked with Dean Betz to see what effect it might have on the standing of the fraternity charter.

The program once more deteriorated as Jim Jewell fought his way to his feet to transact some business. The group voted expense money for two delegates to the Region IX Convention in San Jose on April 20-21, and Ira Wheatley and John Nastari were selected to represent the old and new members, respectively.

Finally, the brothers thanked Dr. Burns, Dean Betz and each other, and headed home to get out of their studs and collar buttons.

POOL OPENED TO CARD HOLDERS

The swimming pool will be opened for a summer season of recreational swimming for PSA card holders (card must be presented) Saturday, April 14 if weather is favorable.

Hours on Saturdays and Sundays will be 2:00-4:30 p.m.

Any individual using the pool except when a duly appointed life guard is present, will lose for the remainder of semester all recreational swimming privileges.

Sun bathing is not permitted within the enclosure during regular swimming class periods.

Harbert Leads Speech Confab

Mrs. Wilhelmina K. Harbert, associate professor of public school musical guidance and therapy at the College of the Pacific, led several important sessions at the Seventh Annual Speech Education and Guidance Convention which convened today in Palo Alto under the supervision of Palo Alto City Schools.

Mrs. Harbert, with Vernon De Sylva, musical therapist at Stockton State Hospital and a College of the Pacific graduate, directed a morning discussion of Music in Clinical Services. They acquainted that group with the many areas in which music now is functioning in clinical services. Their work in musical therapy at the Stockton State Hospital is attracting considerable attention and is showing marked results.

In a section meeting on Functional Music in Clinical Services, Mrs. Harbert was assisted in the discussion by Mrs. Marian Call, physiotherapist at Stockton State Hospital; Mr. DeSylva, Granville Bayse, assistant professor of speech at Pacific; Mrs. Marjorie Sheridan, assistant professor of physical education at Pacific; and Joan DeVincenzi and Shirley Pressley, special students in speech, music and physical education at COP.

Current practices which are producing results with youth and the evaluation of the place of creative arts in human adjustments were discussed further.

Indonesian Thanks WSSF For Books

The World Student Service Fund recently sponsored a drive to alleviate student needs in other countries by sending books to foreign universities. The chairman of the World University Service Committee in Indonesia, Mr. R. S. I. Santoso, writes to American donors:

"With feelings of gratitude we have received books from the WSSF, a part of these books being the result of your effort to support the Indonesian University. This fine gift is very much appreciated by the students, who are in severe lack of study material. It is a painful revelation to discover that isolation resulted in a state of backwardness — compared to conditions in your country. You cannot imagine how precious books are for our university. It is in a spiritual respect that we hope to approach an equal plane as soon as possible. Though materially we are in need of many things, still this lack we can bear easily.

"It is very regrettable that one year of freedom is not yet long enough to recover from all the disasters which have been inflicted on our country through eight years of warfare and revolution. Now better times are ahead and I hope that within a few years we will be able to cooperate with you all in the full sense of WUS and WSSF work."

"Psychotherapy and the Pastoral Ministry" was the theme of the Religious Spring Convocation held recently at Vanderbilt University.

Never run after a bus or a woman; another will be along presently.

Mary Bowling, pianist, J. Henry Welton, tenor, and the Conservatory Trio will appear at the fifth faculty recital next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m.

Miss Bowling has chosen to play the "Symphonic Etudes", Opus 13, of Schumann; Mr. Welton will sing A. Walter Kramer's cycle, "Beauty of Earth"; and the Conservatory Trio—Alix Brown, cellist, Horace Brown, violinist, and Edward Shadbolt, pianist will perform the Trio, Opus 99, in B Flat Major of Schubert.

For both Miss Bowling and Mr. Welton, this is the first solo appearance in the current faculty series. The Conservatory Trio, appeared earlier in the year. The Schubert which they will play on Tuesday evening is one of the major trios in chamber music literature. According to one of the Trio's members, it has been at the top of the "must" list for quite a while.

Frederick Owens, a Conservatory graduate student, will accompany Mr. Welton in his group.

Fresno Debaters Here Tomorrow

Three debate teams from Fresno State will be on campus tomorrow for a series of debates. Teams representing COP will be Vic Guthrie and Eugene Tiscornia, Bert McDonald and Jack Ross, and George Nunn and Joe Gallegos.

The question under discussion will be: Resolved, that the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization.

Barbara Blaue and Robert Morris represented COP in an exhibition debate at USF on April 15. They upheld the negative side of the question: Resolved, that the libel of racial and religious groups should be made a legal offense.

Summer Seminar In Youth Problems Given

Of interest to sociology, religious education and psychology majors is the announcement by Dean Marc Jantzen of a summer session seminar in Youth Problems, to be offered June 19-21 by Don B. Cramer, chief of the division of training and treatment of the California Youth Authority.

This will be a concentrated two week seminar dealing with the conditioning factors underlying the social maladjustment in children and the behavior patterns that are shown as a result of these.

The problem is approached in the following manner: the study of the individual factors (physical, biological, mental, emotional, character traits, and personality habits); home and family life, companionship, associations, and gang activities; inadequacies of community instruction and the effect of population and cultural factors; racial and minority groups; cultural conflicts; and economic and physical environmental factors.

Tests Given For Draft Deferment

The Selective Service College Qualification Test, which may be taken by students who have begun their college careers and who seek deferment from military service in order to continue, will be administered at the College of the Pacific on May 26, June 16 and June 30, according to present plans. Dr. Willis N. Potter, of the School of Education, has been designated as supervisor of the test for the college.

The Qualification Test, a three-hour examination, is described as an evaluation of aptitude for college learning, and not as a test of general intelligence nor of subject matter. As far as is known at present, it is not an examination for which specific preparation can be made. The results of the Qualification Test will be used as one of the possible criteria for deferment of college students — the other important criterion being the scholastic achievement of the individual student as evidenced by his class standing.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test, an applicant

(1) Must be a registrant under the Selective Service Act who intends to request occupational deferment as a student;

(2) Must be under 26 years old at the time of taking the test;

(3) Must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree (the applicant need not be in a four-year college but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution);

(4) Must not previously have taken the test.

If it is deemed advisable, special meetings will be arranged for interested students at the college, at which times suggestions may be given and questions answered in relation to efficient performance on an aptitude examination such as the College Qualification Test purports to be.

Application cards, together with printed instructions about the test, will be available very soon in local selective service offices. Students wishing to take the test should apply as soon as possible.

Yip Watercolors At Art Center

By LORNA KIRSHEN

A fresh new group of dynamic watercolor paintings by Richard Yip will be on exhibition in the College of Pacific Art Center opening Monday, April 9th, and continuing for two weeks until April 20th.

Mr. Yip, who is well known to local art enthusiasts, has executed well over two hundred new paintings since last year's Art Center showing of his work. He has shown an increasing development of appreciation for the more abstract qualities to be found in natural phenomena. Like so many other mature artists, Mr. Yip has discovered the power inherent in his medium for expressing the forces of nature in all its moods. Using great bold strokes of the brush in angular thrusts across the paper and playing his warm and cool colors in opposition, Yip has brought exciting new qualities into his interpretation of the scenes he selected for study.

Always a seeker of meaningful patterns in nature, he began observing smaller objects and arrangements of natural forms as he walked along. Occasionally, a grouping of some these elements would appear as an interesting pattern — and certainly it must be true to life, since it was observed to occur in such fashion only in nature's arrangement. Perhaps it would be the vein structure in a leaf, a pattern of cracks in dried mud, a flowing group of line in a grape plant, or the architectural qualities of some desert growth. With this as a guide, or skeletal structure, a whole painting of a scene in the landscape, indigenous to the location where the first design was noted, would be created over the linear pattern laid out to contain the resultant painting.

Mr. Yip is an honest painter; constantly seeking truth, which is in no sense to be construed as meaning photographic realism. Rather, it might be said to involve a search for beauty without concentrating on surface qualities but always attempting to reveal inner meanings, essential moods felt to be permeating from certain natural stimuli, and yet artist enough to heighten these suggestions by consciously organizing the parts into one coherent whole.

Mr. Yip's Pacific Art Center show contains paintings done in Stockton, Napa County, Humboldt County, Death Valley, Arizona, and in Columbia, California, around the general Mother Lode country. The group covers a time period from 1949 to 1951 and includes approximately 27 paintings.

Pacific Art Center will be open to visitors Monday through Friday from 8 to 5.

Frank Wolfe Says:

Proofs may be seen for all living group and graduation Naranjado pictures at the Don Wheeler Studio on Pacific Avenue before Tuesday. Return all proofs at this time, also. If you do not go down to select your picture the Naranjado staff will have to select the picture we use and as we are blind in one eye and cannot see in the other you had better select your own picture.

55 FOOTBALLERS SET FOR DRILLS

By MORRIE EDELSTEIN

Some 55 football players, including about 23 lettermen, will be out to greet the school's new grid mentor, Ernie Jorge, and his two new assistant coaches on April 23, the first day of spring practice.

Ernie will be aided in molding the team by Carl Jorgensen, former St. Mary's player, as line coach; and Jack Meyers, of Philadelphia Eagles fame, will coach the backfield. Hugh McWilliams will coach the ends.

Spring practice will continue until May 30 and culminate on that night with an intra-squad game at Memorial Stadium. During the one-month period most of the emphasis will be put on the fundamentals of the game and the good groundwork which has been typical of Tiger teams of late.

To get back to the lettermen, Harlan Berndt, Norm Schade, Wes Mitchell, and Wayne Bergman (probable punter on the team) would all put in an impressive season at the end positions.

The returning tackles include Pat Ribero, Bob Stoner, Carlo Simoni, Gordon Johnson, and Bill Kelly. All have had a lot of experience. Jerry Beaver, Jim Fairchild, and Duane Putnam will add plenty of strength to the team at the guard spots. George Johanson and Kever Jankovich will have big shoes to fill at the center spot, referring to Bob Moser, but both boys have the fight and the experience to offer added encouragement.

For the quarterback spot there will be a heated battle between Doug Scovil, Tony Geremia, and Bob Bezuk. Bezuk played second string behind Parelli, the All-American from Kentucky. The other lettermen in the backfield will be Ed Macon, Al Smith, Tom McCormick, and Jerry Pickering.

Among the new boys at the end spot are a former Stockton College greats Jack Fiore and Jack Kreise. From Santa Rosa there are two good boys in Dave Deveto and Dick Gorman. Tony Carthmere, from Chicago, will be right in there, too. Newcomers who will add strength to the team at the tackle position are Charles Washington, Stockton College All-Conference player; Dick Merrifield, former Napa Junior College player; and Gene Palmiere, originally from Chicago, and more recently star tackle for Compton.

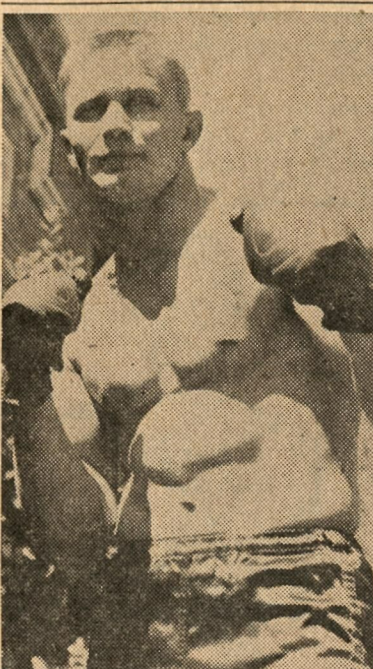

The new comers for guard will add much depth to the team with Hugh Kennedy, from Santa Rosa; Gus Stromberg from Minnesota; Jack Wilson, from Napa; Bob Powers, from Stockton College; Bud Meek, Sacramento Junior College; Tom McLaughlin, from San Mateo; and Jim Gunder, from Lodi and Stockton College. Dick Moore, from Chicago, will also be a strong contender for the line spot.

A little more help at the center position will come from two ex-Stockton College greats, Ed Mendonca and Lowell Hubert, along with Bruce Deane former Napa Junior College stalwart.

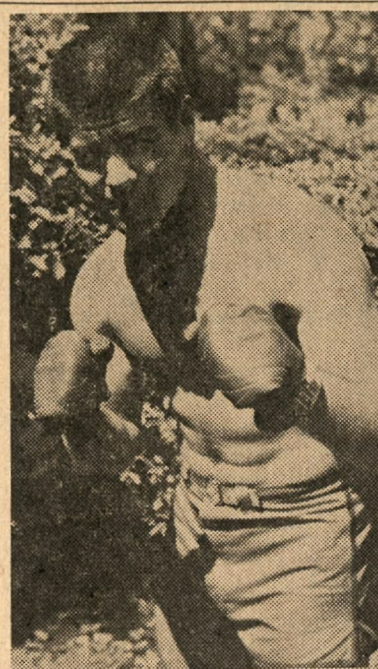

In the backfield there are Hen-

FRISCO NEXT FOE FOR TRIUMPHANT NINE

College of the Pacific's ever-improving baseball squad takes to the diamond again tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 to meet the powerful University of San Francisco nine at Oak Park. The Bengals will be trying to extend their two-game win streak after downing San Jose State twice, 3-1 and 4-2 on the loser's diamond.

Coach Hugh "Jo-babe" McWilliams plans to use right hander Jack Sandman this afternoon with Bud Watkins on deck to do a relief role if necessary.

Coach McWilliams plans no change in the regular starting lineup. The probable starting nine for the Tigers will see Bob Saucedo at the initial sack, Ray White at second, Bill Sanford at third, and little Johnny Kane at shortstop. Keystoner White, incidentally, leads the Pacific batsmen with a sizzling .333 average. Ray has hit twelve times for thirty-six chances in the box.

Outfield patrol for the Bengals should include Jack Fiori, Norm Schade, and Bobby Leyton.

San Francisco must be rated as favorites for the duel, having downed some of the best collegiate competition in the state. And among their many achievements they downed the triple A class Sacramento Solons in a spring exhibition game.

Last Saturday's double header against the San Jose Spartans was played in perfect baseball weather with the Bengals at their best. Jack Sandman hurled the first game, in which the Spartans proved second best, and went the entire twelve innings. Sandman looked good in all aspects of the game by fielding his portion of the infield with a large amount of hustle. At one time he caught a Spartan runner at third on what looked like a cinch infield single.

In that first game the Pacific nine managed eight hits for their three runs. Shortstop Johnny Kane came up with four of those hits for five times at bat. All eyes should be one Kane this afternoon. The diminutive slugger has hit consecutively in every Pacific game this season.

Bud Watkins also went the distance in the second game as the Tigers whipped the hosts to the tune of a 4-2 score. Watkins' battery mate was big John Noce, who has been catching Watkins for almost six years. The two were together in high school, junior college, and now at Pacific.

It was Noce who broke up the twelve inning struggle last week. The backstop bunted with Ray White on second base and before the ball was out of play he had chased White all the way to home plate.

Although the Tigers have a nothing-to-be-ashamed-of five win, seven loss record so far, they have not set the world afire at the plate. It should be remembered that much of the Tiger's competition has been against tougher teams than the average college squad usually has to face. Part of that loss record includes defeats at the hands of the Sacramento Solons and the Stockton Ports.

But for those nuts who find it necessary to be mathematical wizards to enjoy the game we furnish the batting statistics for games to date.

MACON PROVES GREAT RECORDS FALL IN DROVES

By PHIL KORBHOLZ

Fresh from a decisive victory over Cal Poly and Sacramento State which saw six records fall, Coach Earl Jackson's tracksters will be hosted by Fresno State tomorrow at Ratcliffe Stadium in the Raisin City.

Cal Poly is entering the meet, and scores will be figured on a triangular basis as well as between C.O.P. and Fresno. On paper, the Tigers and Bulldogs are about as evenly matched as is mathematically possible.

BULLDOG BIG GUNS

The big boys for Fresno are Bob Stout and Les Laing. Stout ran a 4:18 mile against Stanford three weeks back and thus appears a cinch for that event as well as the gruelling two-mile.

Laing, a Jamaican import, besides placing 5th in the Olympic 100 and 200 meter dashes, is British Empire sprint champion. However, if his pulled leg muscle has not sufficiently healed, he may finish second in both the dashes tomorrow.

MACON IN 440

Eddie Macon, who seems a cinch in the 440, will probably be running just hard enough to win, saving himself for the furlong battle against Laing. Wilbur Dunn will give battle to swivel-hipped Eddie in the quarter-mile.

Pacific's Don Brooks should take the low hurdles handily but will be hard pressed by Rick Collins of State in the highs.

Joe Porasso of Fresno, with a time of 1:57.2 against Stanford, will be heavily favored to take the 880, with Ray Drew being C.O.P.'s top entry in that event.

The Orange and Black may make a clean sweep in the javelin and discus, with at least a first and third in the shot put.

Fresno has two men who have bettered 23 feet in the broad jump, although Macon's mark last Saturday tops both. Dale Keyser with a best spring of 13' 6" in the pole vault heads the list in that event, although Coach Flint Hammer's lads will undoubtedly take second and third.

FRESNO TOUGH IN HIGH JUMP

Four Fresnoans have high jumped over six feet and it will be up to Keyser to break up the host team's points. Fresno on paper is a lead-pipe cinch in the relay.

It all figures up to a probable score of 67-64 or 66-65 and take your pick as to the winner. A victory for Macon in the 220 might decide it.

RECORDS FALL

Here is a run down of the records broken last Saturday on the Baxter oval:

1. Macon ran the 440 in 48.4 for a new stadium record.
 2. Macon took the 220 in 21.4 for a new stadium record.
 3. Don Brooks ran the low hurdles in 24.0 for a new stadium record.
 4. Bob Butterfield hurled the javelin 195' 5" for a new school record.
 5. Macon broad-jumped 23' 7½" for a new school and stadium record.
 6. Bob Jones heaved the discus 158' 1" for a new school and stadium record.
- Macon and Brooks each took

FRISCO HITS TOWN FOR TIGER NET FRAY

College of the Pacific's tennis squad plays host to netmen of the University of San Francisco this afternoon at the Oak Park courts in one of Northern California's arch tennis rivalries. The matches are rated as a toss up with both teams containing some of the strongest men in California collegiate tennis circles.

The Tigers have two matches almost cinched. Pacific's first two men, Darrel Winrich and Don Jacobus, are highly favored to win over the Don's Stan Smith and Seth Peterson. USF's Smith is a returning letterman on the strong Don team of last year. However, the visitor's top man will rate as an underdog, having been beaten by Winrich in earlier matches.

An interesting note is that the Bengal number two man, Don Jacobus, has also beaten the USF top-rated player. The two met in junior college play two years ago when Jacobus covered the courts for Stockton College and Smith cavorted for City College of San Francisco.

The only other match in which the Tigers will be highly favored will be the Jacobus-Seth Peterson duel. Jacobus scored a clear victory over Peterson when the Dons met Pacific earlier in the season.

The Tigers will be considerably stronger than they were when they lost to Dons in San Francisco. In that first meeting the Bengals were without the services of number three and four men Rich Haley and Lee Tucker. The two were both stricken with flue but are now rounding into top shape.

The complete Pacific roster will probably include Darrel Winrich, Don Jacobus, Rich Haley, Lee Tucker, Bud Blumenfield, and Kever Jankovich.

three firsts for a combined total of 30 points.

How to be a fantastic athlete in three easy lessons . . . Eddie Macon should write a book with that sentence as the theme . . . The Tiger Terror smashed three Baxter Stadium records and also a COP standard in last Saturday's track tussle with Cal Poly and Sacramento State . . . It was discovered after the meet that Eddie had been working as a longshoreman the whole night before the trackfest . . . Maybe he should get a scholarship . . . The Bengal cindermen looked like USC in chopping off six stadium records, and three school marks . . . Dale Keyser was the most improved man in the meet with his 13 foot, six-inch mark in the pole-vault . . .

As to tomorrow night's meet with Fresno down Radcliffe Stadium way . . . Boyd Thompson, the genial COP assistant athletic director, and Count Borofski, of world fame, figured out the meet as a 66 to 65 victory for the Tigers . . . This was done without being too biased (well maybe) . . . The meet should be a fierce one, and a great warmup for the all-important San Jose, Olympic Club fracas the following Saturday . . .

Ken Rose is going all-out for the big sports show to be held on the night of the 25th . . . The hard-working "Smeller" has been showing the same hustle in his promotership that he exhibited while playing baseball for Pacific last year . . . A really fine show is in the making . . .

We mentioned two high school boys who high-jumped 6' 5" in the same meet last week, and who were from the same school . . . Everyone went nuts when they heard this . . . We now have a topper . . . Two other boys, Shelton and Sinclair, of Washington High in Los Angeles, had it out over the cross bar last Friday . . . The final result: Shelton, 6' 5 1/2", Sinclair, L.A. City Champ last year, 6' 6 1/2" . . . How would you like to be as good as this kid Shelton and be second best on your school team? . . . We hope he gets enough points to make a letter . . .

Loyola U. has a quarterback name Ron Beemel who is giving Don Klosterman a fight for first string honors . . . Hail the men on the COP net team . . . These boys are really putting out for Clint Arbuckle and Pacific . . . Fellows like F. A. DeP., better known as Dodo, Keever Jankovich, Rich Haley, Bud Blumenfeld, Tucker, Jacobus, and the rest, are going full tilt to re-establish Pacific's great tennis reputation. Darrell Winrich, the top player in northern Cal, says that this is the best spirit he has even seen on a college team . . .

Orchids to Jerry Kirsten for the listed prices for next fall's football tickets . . . That $12.50 season ticket is great for the little guy, and should make some fine friends for COP . . . Word has it that Wes Walch (number 45 in your program) will be back in a Tiger uniform this fall . . . Ernie Jorge had given up on that score, but it seems that Uncle Sam is not grabbing the "Scooter" as yet . . .

Betcha five that E. LeBaron plays football for some Marine team this year . . . Certain writers had him already fighting in Korea when he was home on furlough two weeks ago, but Eddie is too valuable as a publicity man for the Marines . . . It will be a break for the "kid" if he gets to confuse tacklers rather than Chinese Reds . . . Let's hope he gets that break . . .

Be seeing you at Sandy Point (after class hours of course).

The new coaching staff and the comparatively young squad will have a tough schedule this year, playing teams like Clemson, Hardin Simmons, Oregon, USF, San Jose State, Marquette, Boston University, Loyola, Nevada, and Denver.

Coed Recreation

All men and women students are invited to play badminton every Monday night, and volleyball every Wednesday night, from 7:30 to 9:00 in the COP gym.

These co-educational recreational activities will begin on Monday, April 16, and are sponsored by the WRA with the cooperation of the Men's Intramural League.

Poulus, who is prepping for his grudge battle with the internationally famous Count Borofski, the White Russian, exhibited a new hold called the "Nuclear Flick".

The Count, an affable killer who holds victories over Gary "Thunderbird" Busher, Olin Pennsylvania Beaver" Cooper, and others, was casual in his daily workouts. "I break him like chicken bone," the massive former Cossack laughed. "He don't have a chance. I throw the Rasputin special."

Promoter Ken Rose, who is readying the local COP Arena for the show on April 25th, said that the Count would not receive his share of the purse if Poulus retained the use of his limbs after the contest . . . This is always included in any contract with the Count so that he will not become too easy-going and just mangle his opponent.

Boxers associated with the show have been shown pictures of the Iwo Jima campaign in World War II. This is a new gimmick to get them used to the sight of real action. Wes Mitchell, the Angel, immediately tore a hole through the movie room wall. Unfortunately Tom McCormick went through the wall also. Friends may visit him at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The program is well underway, and all should attend if possible. Rose encourages all ringside patrons to wear large cellophane head guards to ward off the blood that is bound to fly.

GOLDEN SPRINGTIME

From a purely personal viewpoint, all is right with the world. Skies are blue and the sun shines brightly upon a flowering campus. The trees are bursting with their springtime green and camellias drop crimson petals on the warm brown earth.

The girls are in summer prints and the boys in gayly colored sport shirts. An undercurrent of Mardi Gras excitement is noticeable around the chow hall and in the End Zone, and the flagpole sitters carry on atop their platform on the Mall.

Love is everywhere, and all is right with the world.
A GOLDEN SPRINGTIME CROWNS PACIFIC.

PRESIDENT'S INTENTIONS

A more or less casual remark made recently by COP President Burns gives promise to this writer of more campus unity in the coming years.

Speaking at the Blue Key Initiation Banquet last Sunday night, Dr. Burns commented on the heavy administrative load occasioned by this year's Centennial events, and by the huge campaign to raise funds for recent expansions and for a new library.

With these matters out of the way next year, said our prexy, plans are being made to spend a large amount of administrative time in helping the numerous campus honorary organizations increase their usefulness to the college community.

This type of administrative effort has shown itself to be much needed on the campus in recent years. We think it can lead students and adults into a cooperative relationship which will pay dividends in increased administrative effectiveness, faculty sensitivity, and student responsibility.

In short, the President's intentions are certainly good ones!

GRADUATION FRUSTRATION

In last week's edition of the Weekly there was a feature article which dealt with the subject of seniors and June graduation. The piece suggested that in order to avoid last minute frustrations every senior should pay a visit to the office of the Registrar.

If it is journalistically possible to underline a previously stated suggestion, then we now attempt to so do with the addition that May 21 is the deadline for all seniors to see to it that their records are in proper order.

And if your records are as Hazy as this editorial, then they need to be simplified.

NO PLATO

Perhaps it shouldn't be pointed out that today will be rife with catastrophe, but certainly it is a part of our public service to warn the reader to tread softly on this—Friday 13th.

Old Weekly files reveal that in times past Pacific had its share of strange happenings on this fateful date. One issue reported the disappearance of a professor, which wouldn't seem out of the ordinary except that he vanished while in the midst of his lecture. According to the report he was lecturing about Plato at the time of his unprecedented departure.

Therefore, do not read Plato today. Avoid such things as black cats, broken mirrors and open ladders. Possibly, too, some lectures, a few classes, and all examinations.

Valuable Volumes In Library Reserve

By MARALYN WOODALL

Word having filtered through to the Weekly office that the Library has a section of extra-specially reserved books, a reporter was sent to Head Librarian Laursen to investigate. Upon request, Mr. Laursen conducted a private tour through the Restricted Reserve rooms which proved to be both enlightening and interesting.

First stop was the magazine room, where along one side is displayed Californiana. These books are the most expensive in the college collection, and are being gathered in connection with the Centennial.

Mr. Laursen picked one old volume from the shelves. It was rusty brown colored, and lettered in elaborate gold leaf with the legend "Annals of San Francisco". Mr. Laursen pointed to its back, which was blackened and charred looking. "I've been thinking," said he, "that it may have been singed by the San Francisco Fire."

In a bound volume of "California Illustrated" magazine, 1892, is an article entitled "Should We Educate our Politicians?" No comment.

Upstairs also is Pacificana, consisting of copies of the paper, the Naranjado, and books by Pacific's students and faculty.

Downstairs, back of the desk, is another reserve room. On the shelves can be found masses of yellow-bound theses. One thesis is written in hand-lettered Japanese characters, and its subject is the economic changes in Japan.

Beside these stands a group of giant volumes which are in the reserve room merely because there is not enough height on the regular shelves. There are wooden dummies of these books on the shelves where they should be, referring the searcher to the reserve room.

Artistic books occupy several shelves, and one highlight is a five-volume French Illustrated History of Costume. The color plates alone are fascinating enough for an hour's browsing.

"Oh yes," added Mr. Laursen, almost as a postscript. "We have a few sex books." Roughly occupying three shelves, the collection was purely scientific. Mr. Laursen clarified the library's position on why these books remain on reserve. "Personally, I don't care if you know I am a man and you are a woman," he stated. In this modern age, the sooner you know, the better, he went on.

But whenever the library has put the books of this sort on open shelves, some frustrated soul tears out a section of the scientific volume to digest at home, or removes the whole book for his private collection. So an interest in keeping the collection intact, and not tact in itself, makes these books reserved. One glance at the graphic and mechanical illustrations would convince the amour-famished reader that he would find more of interest in "California the Romantic and Beautiful," upstairs in Californiana.

SO I SAYS...

By DON DRAGOO

With Rod Kling & Dave Niles on top of the tall saddle in favor of the 1951 Naranjado was Mardi Gras Queen Candidate Ann Arthurs . . . It looks like Horsetrader Frank is stealing the play away from one Horsetrader Ed with the lady flag-pole sitter idea . . . But Rod & Dave didn't seem to mind since they had an unrestricted view of campus life with West Hall near by & on demand deliveries from the End Zone.

What with the Mardi Gras just around the proverbial corner, the campus is beginning to brighten up like a neon light after seven p.m. . . . Posters demanding your vote for various lovely hunks of female anatomy are all over the place . . . All you need to vote for your favorite is the thought in mind and a P.S.A. card or a Stockton College privilege card . . . You cast your vote at the P.S.A. office on April 24th.

A side comment . . . Many students about the Pacific playground have been heard to say that the last production of "Rogue Magazine" was much more acceptable than the others . . . So I Says has the feeling that a few more of the same kind of editions won't hurt anyone . . . A tip of the lid to Chuck Saunders & gang.

KAEO, your campus radio station, had Rod (I'm gonna whop ya!) Kling & Dave (The Saddle is Tall) Niles on the air most of their stay . . . The show was produced by Dave MacDonald, boy nothing, and just about everyone on the staff took a crack at engineering . . . At least it was good for the new summer sun-tan.

After over-hearing a conversation between head man Ernie Jorge & top man Tom McCormick, one gets the impression that Ernie's new system for the noggin' knockers will be easy to learn . . . The number four back (McCormick) has only four different patterns to learn . . . That all adds up to mean that Pacific's warriors will have a few basic plays with lots of fancy alterations . . . & that makes for a good team since the plays are that much easier to learn & remember & there is less chance for error . . . & what's more, it makes it easier to maintain control of the game, & when you control the ball, you win ball games.

As if you haven't notice already, plenty of beef, brawns, & brains are already at it on the lawns in front of North Hall . . . & brother, that's a cheering sight to an old football fan . . . It is the best indication in the business of a team with the will to win . . . A lot of coaches across the country are praying for the same thing & are not getting it . . . Does that prove that the Tigers have faith in Ernie? . . . They're not out in this heat to lose weight!

Have a great time at Mardi Gras, the 27th & 28th of April . . . Don't forget to vote for your favorite for queen on the 24th of April . . . See ya' next week.

The Marin Municipal Water District Reserve of 12,000 acres on the north slope of Mt. Tamalpais, in Marin County, contains three picturesque reservoir lakes.
