Dear Mr. Monir:

I do not fancy for one moment that there are eyes any sharper than the eyes of Love, yet if the enclosed has escaped your notice it affords me pleasure to present it to you -

I was so pleased to see by a letter from Mr. Monir in the Bulletin of last evening that he had arrived safely - among his bachelor haunts I cannot tell you how truly disappointed I was not to have seen you both after having taken such a liberty with your friendship

I hope you are well and brave.
I am sure the time cannot possibly seem longer to you than it will to me good husband

Present my compliments to your father and Mother whom I hope are well

I am happy to say I am getting quite well in this soft and warm air of this valley where the "vital spark" is forced into activity and new life, instead of struggling for a shivering existence in our Oakland climate

I hope you are quite well.
Accept my affectionate regards, and remember Mr Williams and myself with equal regards when you write to Mr Menie. Your true friend Lizzie B Williams
