NEW YORK.

May 21,
1881.

Dear Mr. Muir:

We have already sent you a check for the balance due you on account of papers received. We now add that of course we shall look for a good long account of the Jeanette expedition — the magazine aspects of it — from your pen for the Century as Scribner is to be called after the October number. Col. W. H. Gilder who goes along will write for the Herald but will very likely make some sketches to accompany your work and these with your own will furnish ample basis for illustrations.
