My Dear Sir

Enclosed I send a letter of introduction from our common friend Dr. Asa Gray of Cambridge. I hope to be in San Francisco about the 12th or 13th of this month, and should much like to run across to see the University at Berkeley, in the hope that I may find you and some of your colleagues there then. I have unfortunately only a very short time to spend in California, as I am obliged to return soon to the Eastern States, but must wave some of the learned men of your University before leaving. Believe me to be Faithfully yours
J. Bryce.
