Under existing law, a city, county, or city and county presently served by cable television may grant an additional cable franchise subsequent to a public hearing. Prior to the enactment of Chapter 413, any new franchisee was required to wire and serve the same geographical area as the established franchise.

Chapter 413 limits the additional cable franchise service requirements to apply only if a previously existing franchise has already been granted and that franchisee is providing or is ready to provide service.

Chapter 413 excuses the additional similar service requirements where the established cable operators certify that they do not plan to serve the area proposed to be served by the additional operator.

Under existing law, applicants for a retail license to sell alcoholic beverages must notify every resident within a 500-foot radius of the premises specified for the license application. Under Chapter 612, notification to neighboring residents is required only if the license application is for a different retail license or for premises that are not currently licensed.

Business Associations and Professions; attorneys

Business and Professions Code § 6089 (repealed); § 6086.7 (repealed and new); §§ 6148, 6201, 6203 (amended).
SB 2066 (Davis); 1990 STAT. Ch. 483

Prior law allowed a court to report to the State Bar any attorney found guilty of contempt if the contempt holding involved grounds warranting attorney discipline. Chapter 483 requires a court to report to the State Bar any final order of contempt imposed against an attorney that may involve grounds warranting discipline. Chapter 483 also requires a court to report to the State Bar any judgment reversed or modified due to an attorney’s misconduct, incompetent representation, or willful misrepresentation.

9. Id. § 7187 (enacted by Chapter 1255). See CAL. LAB. CODE § 6501.8 (West 1989) (definition of asbestos abatement).
10. CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 7189.7(a) (enacted by Chapter 1255). Where possible, Chapter 1255 also requires the state to establish civil service classifications of associate or senior industrial hygienists to correspond with the requirements of an asbestos consultant and a site surveillance technician. Id. Attorneys advising building managers on asbestos related matters are exempt from the provisions of Chapter 1255. Id. § 7189.7(b) (enacted by Chapter 1255).
Existing law dictates the procedures and requirements for billings rendered by an attorney to a client. Chapter 483 requires client billings to clearly describe the costs, expenses, and amounts of costs and expenses incurred by the attorney.

Existing law establishes an arbitration system for attorney and client fee disputes. Chapter 483 forbids an attorney from filing a small claims action for recovery of fees or costs after the client has filed a request for arbitration. Chapter 483 further specifies that misconduct reflected poor judgment and was unprofessional, the attorney’s misconduct did not prejudice defendant). The court must view the cumulative effect of the misconduct before determining whether the misconduct significantly impacted the outcome of the case. Id. However, the court may exercise its power to discipline attorneys and to report an attorney’s misconduct to the State Bar even if the case is not reversed due to the misconduct. Business Associations and Professions; attorneys--arbitration of fee disputes

Business & Professions Code § 6200 (amended).
AB 2682 (Moore); 1990 STAT. Ch. 1020
Support: State Bar of California; L.A. County Bar Association

Existing law requires the Board of Governors of the State Bar (Board) to regulate the arbitration of attorney fee disputes. Prior law allowed the Board to provide for one lay member on any three-member arbitration panel. Chapter 1020 requires one member of the three-member arbitration panel to be a lay member at the option of the client. Chapter 1020 also allows a client to require that one of the arbitration panel members be an attorney whose area of practice is either civil or criminal law.

Business Associations and Professions; attorneys--contingent fees

Business and Professions Code § 6147.5 (new).
SB 2606 (Torres); 1990 STAT. Ch. 713

Under existing law, any attorney that contracts to represent a client on a contingent fee basis must provide a duplicate copy of the contract to that client. Chapter 713 creates an exception to existing law for contingent fee contracts that pertain to recovery of certain claims between merchants that have at least ten employees. If there is no written contract for legal services as permitted by Chapter 713, an attorney may not contract for or collect a contingent fee beyond specified limits.

Selected 1990 Legislation 367
Business Associations and Professions; attorneys--work product

Civil Procedure Code § 585.1 (new); § 2018 (amended).
SB 2668 (Presley); 1990 STAT. Ch. 207

Under existing law, any writings that reflect the impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal research of an attorney are generally not discoverable. Under Chapter 207, no attorney work product privilege exists in any malpractice action brought by a former client against the attorney if the work product is relevant to an issue of breach of the attorney's duty.

1. CAL. CIV. PROC. CODE § 2018(c) (amended by Chapter 207). All other forms of attorney work product may be discoverable if a court determines that denial of discovery would unfairly prejudice the party seeking discovery or would result in an injustice. Id. § 2018(b) (amended by Chapter 207). If disciplinary actions are pending against an attorney, the State Bar may discover any attorney work product that is relevant to the issues of breach of a duty. Id. § 2018(e) (amended by Chapter 207). However, an attorney has a fifth amendment right to refuse to provide the State Bar with documents or testimony which would subject the attorney to potential criminal liability. Black v. State Bar of California, 7 Cal. 3d 676, 688, 499 P.2d 968, 974-75, 103 Cal. Rptr. 288, 294-95 (1972). See Note, Administration of Justice, 37 CAL. ST. B.J. 585, 586-88 (1962) (recommending amendments that would permit the discovery of attorney work product on a determination that denial of discovery would result in an injustice). See also Review of Selected 1987 California Legislation, 20 PAC. L.J. 451, 452-54 (1988) (review of disciplinary proceedings for attorney misconduct). Cf. FED. R. CIV. P. 26(b)(3) (attorney work product discoverable upon a showing of substantial need and an inability to obtain the materials elsewhere, but requiring the court to protect against the discovery of mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, and legal theories).

2. CAL. CIV. PROC. CODE § 2018(f) (amended by Chapter 207). Prior law was unclear whether opinion work product was absolutely privileged in a malpractice action. Compare Neeb v. Superior Court, 214 Cal. App. 3d 695, 693, 262 Cal. Rptr. 887, 887 (1989), review dismissed and remanded, ___ Cal. 3d ___, 795 P.2d 782, 272 Cal. Rptr. 612 (1990) (in an attorney malpractice action, documents representing opinion work product were absolutely privileged) with Platt v. Superior Court, 214 Cal. App. 3d 779, 781, 263 Cal. Rptr. 32, 33 (1989), review dismissed and remanded, ___ Cal. 3d ___, 795 P.2d 782, 272 Cal. Rptr. 613 (1990) (California Civil Code section 2018(c) was never intended to shield an attorney's work product when an attorney's own client sues for malpractice). See also Lasky v. Superior Court, 172 Cal. App. 3d 264, 278, 218 Cal. Rptr. 205, 213 (1985) (attorney holds the work product privilege and may even assert it against the client); and Travelers Ins. Co. v. Superior Court, 143 Cal. App. 3d 436, 453, 181 Cal. Rptr. 871, 882 (1983) (in an attorney malpractice action, opinion work product is absolutely privileged, and the determination of absolute privilege is to be made on an item-by-item basis).

368 Pacific Law Journal/Vol. 22
Existing law allows entry of a default judgment in civil actions after a written application by the plaintiff against any defendant who has been properly served and fails to respond. Chapter 207 requires a plaintiff's application to enter default judgment to include an affidavit stating that a copy of the application has been mailed to the party claimed to be in default, and to that party's attorney. Under Chapter 207, a default judgment takes effect ten days after the filing of the application to enter default, unless the party claimed to be in default pleads or otherwise defends the action within those ten days.

3. CAL. CIV. PROC. CODE § 585 (West Supp. 1990). Existing law requires an affidavit to be filed with the application to enter default judgment, stating that a copy of the application has been mailed to the attorney of the defendant, or if there is no attorney, to the defendant at the defendant's last known address. Id. § 587. See Slusher v. Durr, 69 Cal. App. 3d 747, 755, 138 Cal. Prior law regulated bulk transfers by requiring the transferee to give specified notice of the transfer to the transferor's creditors. Failure to give the appropriate notice rendered the bulk transfer fraudulent and void against any creditor of the transferor.

Chapter 1191 regulates bulk sales. Failure of a transferee to comply with the notice provisions and other requirements of Chapter 1191 does not affect the transferee's title to the property, Corporations Code § 1108 (amended).

AB 2906 (Seastrand); 1990 STAT. Ch. 567
Sponsor: Secretary of State

Under existing law, the merger of a foreign and a domestic corporation is regulated under the laws of the surviving corporation’s jurisdiction. If the surviving corporation is a foreign corporation, the merger becomes effective under the laws of the foreign corporation’s jurisdiction.

Under Chapter 567, if the date of filing in California is more than six months after the time the merger becomes effective in the foreign jurisdiction, the merger becomes effective as to the domestic disappearing corporation on the California filing date. A certificate of ownership is sufficient to fulfill the statutory filing requirement. A foreign disappearing corporation surrenders the right to transact intrastate business as of the date of filing in California.

Existing law regulates the medical profession under the authority of the Medical Board of California (Medical Board). Under existing law, the disciplinary activities of the Medical Board are carried out by the Division of Medical Quality (Division), which is responsible for investigating complaints and reviewing the quality of medical practice carried out by physician and surgeon certificate holders. Chapter 1597 establishes the Health Quality Enforcement Section within the Department of Justice, and provides for the appointment of a Senior Assistant Attorney General to administer the Health Quality Enforcement Section. Under existing law, the Division is required to seek an injunction against a physician or surgeon if there is reasonable cause to believe that the public health, safety, and welfare is endangered. Chapter 1597 authorizes the Division, in those instances, to issue an interim order suspending the licensee’s practice or to impose other licensing restrictions.

Under existing law, any physician who is found guilty in a disciplinary hearing may be subject to probation, suspension, or license revocation. Chapter 1597 allows the Division to also publicly reprimand the physician, take any other discipline-related action, and make specified matters available to the public.

Under existing law, a physician can be ordered to undergo a professional competency exam if after investigation and review there is reasonable cause to believe that the physician is incapable of safely practicing medicine. Under prior law, the competency exam was to be in the form of an oral clinical exam given by two physicians. Under Chapter 1597, the competency exam is to be given by three physician examiners, and a failing grade from two of the examiners constitutes failure of the exam.

Under Chapter 1597, a second exam will only be ordered upon a finding that the original exam was unfair. Prior law allowed a physician whose license had been revoked or suspended or who had been placed on probation to petition for reinstatement or modification of the penalty after one year. Chapter 1597 increases the time period that a physician must wait in order to petition for reinstatement or modification of specified penalties.

appraisal reports. Chapter 491 requires persons performing federally related real estate appraisal activities, or claiming to be real estate appraisers, to obtain a real estate appraiser license or a certificate as a state certified real estate appraiser. Chapter 491 prohibits real estate appraisers or state certified appraisers from conducting any appraisal activities related to a transfer of real estate if the amount of the appraiser’s compensation is affected by the sales commission stemming from the transfer of the real estate appraised. Chapter 491 allows persons that are not state licensed or state certified appraisers to assist in the preparation of appraisals if specified circumstances exist.

FIRREA requires a state certified appraiser to perform any appraisal in federally related transactions valued over $1,000,000, or in transactions that a federal agency considers sufficiently important. Chapter 491 requires the Director of the Office of Real Estate Appraisers to establish procedures and regulations to enable individuals to apply for a real estate appraiser license and certificate. Chapter 491 additionally requires persons renewing either a license or a certificate to comply with the continuing education requirements of the Appraisal Foundation.¹⁹

CRIMINAL PENALTIES

Existing law imposes criminal penalties on persons who knowingly publish a false statement calculated to injure the business reputation of a savings association (association),\(^1\) or make a false statement for the purpose of influencing the action of an association on specified transactions.\(^2\)

Under Chapter 1118, any officer, employee, or agent of an association who willfully falsifies, omits, or alters any association record with the intent to deceive an officer of the association, or an examiner employed to examine the association’s affairs, is subject to imprisonment and a maximum fine of $1,000,000 for each day

2. Id § 5308 (amended and renumbered by Chapter 1118). Specified transactions include an application, advance, discount, purchase, or loan; or the acceptance, deferment, release, or substitution of security for these transactions. Id. A violation of these provisions is punishable by a fine not greater than $10,000, imprisonment for up to one year in the county jail, or both. Id. Also, under existing law a person who willfully fails to comply with a provision of the Savings Associations Law is guilty of a public offense. Id. § 5300 (amended and renumbered by Chapter 1118). See CAL. PEN. CODE § 15 (West 1988) (definition of public offense).
the violation continues. Chapter 1118 extends this punishment to the following acts: (1) Bribery of, or offering to bribe, an institution-affiliated party (Affiliated Party); solicitation or acceptance of a bribe by an Affiliated Party intending to influence the business of a savings association; (3) theft or misapplication of the money, property, or credit of the savings association by an Affiliated Party; and (4) knowingly defrauding, or attempting to defraud a savings association by any person. Id. § 5304(c) (enacted by Chapter 1118). This penalty does not apply to the solicitation or acceptance of a bona fide salary or other compensation paid in the usual course of business, or where the value of the property is $100 or less. violating, or conspiring to violate any of the above provisions is subject to a civil fine of up to $5,000,000, to be assessed by the court in a civil action. In addition, Chapter 1118 prohibits any person convicted of an offense involving dishonesty from participating in the conduct of the affairs of an association without the prior written consent of the Savings and Loan Commissioner (Commissioner).

8. CAL. FIN. CODE § 5310 (enacted by Chapter 1118). NEWS 86, 268 (House Judiciary Committee amendment to "preponderance of the evidence" because further amendments (not adopted in Public Law 101-73) made penalty "clearly remedial and civil" rather than "punitive"). The House Committee on the Judiciary was also of the opinion that the penalty could be construed by the courts as a criminal penalty, thus making a conviction unconstitutional on the grounds of double jeopardy and failure to provide for criminal standards. Id. See United States v. Halper, 109 S. Ct 1892, 1901 n.7 (1989) (whether sanction is civil or criminal is determined by purpose served by sanction, not the underlying nature of the proceeding giving rise to the sanction). If a person has been punished by a fine or imprisonment, a civil penalty may not be imposed for the same violation. CAL. FIN. CODE § 5311(b) (enacted by Chapter 1118). See also Halper, 109 S. Ct. at 1902 (a defendant punished in a criminal prosecution may not be subject to additional civil sanctions if the sanction may be characterized only as deterrent or retribution; if a civil sanction does not serve solely remedial purposes, but also serves retributive or deterrent purposes, it is a punishment). But see id. (case limited to fixed penalty provisions for prolific "small-gauge" offenders where sanctions overwhelmingly disproportionate to the damages).

9. CAL. FIN. CODE § 5302(a) (enacted by Chapter 1118) (incorporating CAL. FIN. CODE § 6525.5 (enacted by Chapter 1118)). Violations are punishable by fines of up to $1 million per day for each day the violation continues. Id. Associations who permit persons convicted of an offense involving dishonesty to participate in the conduct of their affairs are also subject to imprisonment for two, three, or four years. Id. See id. § 6525.5 (enacted by Chapter 1118) (prohibition of persons convicted of an offense involving dishonesty from participation in the affairs of associations). Iowa 1987) (United States Code title 18, section 1829 applies to current, as well as prospective employees; conviction does not require exhaustion of direct appeals). Persons who knowingly violate a removal or prohibition order of the Commissioner can punished by similar sanctions. CAL. FIN. CODE § 5302(b) (enacted by Chapter 1118). See infra notes 38-40 and accompanying text (discussing cease and desist orders issued by the Commissioner).
Criminal Forfeiture

Under Chapter 1118, violators of any of the previously discussed provisions forfeit any property derived from the proceeds of the violation. At the forfeiture proceeding, proof beyond a reasonable doubt of the underlying violation is required to impose the forfeiture. If the issue of forfeiture is to be tried to a jury, the jury’s verdict must be unanimous.

Civil Penalties

Any association or Affiliated Party that violates a statute or any regulation, order, or condition issued or imposed by the Commissioner must pay a civil penalty of up to $5,000 for each day the violation continues. If this violation is part of a pattern of misconduct, causes more than a minimal loss to the savings association, or is committed by an Affiliated Party and results in

Existing law permits an association to invest in the securities of a service corporation.\textsuperscript{32} Chapter 1118 limits these investments to fifteen percent of the total assets of an association, and restricts the service corporations in which an association may invest to those whose activities are reasonably related to the activities of savings associations.\textsuperscript{33}

Prior law permitted an association to make investments in real estate to be used for the production of income or for rental purposes, or to be developed for sale.\textsuperscript{34} Chapter 1118 permits associations to make loans for the financing of residential real estate relying on the borrower’s general credit standing and projected income for repayment, provided that the association’s aggregate investment does not exceed five percent of the association’s assets.\textsuperscript{35} Under Chapter 1118, an association cannot make a loan secured by unimproved real property if the loan-to-value ratio\textsuperscript{36} exceeds eighty percent of the appraised value of the unimproved real property securing the loan.\textsuperscript{37}

ENHANCEMENTS TO THE COMMISSIONER'S ENFORCEMENT POWER

Prior law permitted the Commissioner to issue a cease and desist order or require the removal of a director, officer, or employee of an association for a violation of any law, or for "unsafe or unsound business practices."38 Under Chapter 1118, the Commissioner may issue a cease and desist order if the Commissioner finds, or has reasonable cause to believe, that an association or Affiliated Party has violated any law or engaged in an unsafe or unsound business practice.39 The Commissioner is given authority to remove from employment any director, officer, employee, or Affiliated Party who has violated specified laws, engaged in unsafe or unsound business practices, or breached a fiduciary duty.40 The Commissioner must publish any final order, or modification of a final order, from an administrative enforcement proceeding conducted under the provisions of Chapter 1118.41

Existing law exempts specified securities transactions from qualification if the transaction involves any exchange of securities incident to a merger, consolidation, or certain sales of corporate assets. Chapter 40 provides additional qualification exemptions from the above securities transactions. Chapter 40 also authorizes the Commissioner to require the issuer of the security to file a specified notice of the transaction.
