June 5, 1893.

Dear Miss,

I have a most cordial note from my friend Mrs. Osborn asking us to lunch tomorrow at her house Castle Rock opposite West Point and saying that she will send her carriage for us to the landing to meet the Albany Day boat. Assuming that this meets your approval, I will call for you tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock to go to the boat. Be ready at that time.

Will you lunch with me at the Players on Wednesday at 1:30? I wish to ask Judge Howland and Mr. Barney to meet you then and I await the certainty that you can come before lending them word. So please let me know by return.

I am sorry to say that it was impossible to get down to see you yesterday. It was however a good day not to trample.

Yours ever

R. W. Johnson
