News Update

Anti-Foreigner Rally in Germany Disrupted

Thousands of people walked through Berlin's Brandenburg Gate in a show of support for the city as the Berlin Wall was opened in 1989. But the demonstration turned violent Saturday when hundreds of demonstrators tried to block the marchers and spat at police. The incident occurred as a group of people tried to break through the border between East and West, symbolizing the end of the Cold War. The police used tear gas to disperse the crowd.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.

AASU Forum Discusses Relationships, Communication

Allison Kajiy
Staff Writer

"Communicating Between Partners" was the main topic of conversation in last Thursday's open forum discussion on relationships, sponsored by the African American Student Union (AASU). The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of six UOP students participating in the discussion. Participants included students from various cultural backgrounds and were encouraged to share their personal experiences and insights.

The forum, held in the Student Union, consisted of several experts from different fields. Participants were given the opportunity to share their experiences and insights with one another.

The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Staff Writer Monica Yadege. The forum was open to all UOP students and was moderated by Monica Yadege. The forum was held in the Student Union, and was moderated by Monica Yadege.
The understanding of religious ritual in a religious state such as Thailand is highly important, according to Gray. "I found that representatives of the temporal state and the commercial banks were literally flocking to all forms of Buddhist rituals," Gray said.

Not being familiar with these customs was a key factor in the formation of the American ambassador and the Philippine ambassador, while in the Mongol state, the Buddhists would completely fill the time that the Thai king and his courtiers would spend waiting for their audiences. Gray said. According to her, the ambassadors were unaware that these religious gatherings served a dual purpose as networking opportunities. Business of these transactions and a low public profile are also characteristics of Thai business.

"When Forbes magazine was listing the world's billionaires, I asked them why, out of all the companies that the families in Thailand was listed. No reply. They won't talk about it."

"They operate in these huge domains in which the king is featured as the center of the cosmos, the Buddhist kingdom and properties."

Gray also pointed out the importance of Southeast Asia and Thai understanding in present and future international affairs. "What the three candidates are saying, for example, is that some of the most important business opportunities in the 21st century are going to be in the Pacific Rim," Gray said.

"Education must be relocated so that the U.S. can become globally competitive," she said. "It's too time in time to train students to be up to par in business, diplomatic and cultural exchange in the Pacific Rim and be at home," Gray said.

Karen Neustadt

Workaholism Among College Students Is On The Rise

Workaholism wears many faces in the race to get a diploma.

"There is a sense, nationwide, that mental health staffs are seeing more counseling at the College of William and Mary than in any other university, which were labeled in the economic problems are taking a toll on students, and many are seeking help. One group, known as "Peers Ears," was damaged in an overachieving, perfectionist social organization, religious gatherings served a dual purpose of Thai business.

"There is a subjective impression that there are more serious problems," Meilman said, noting that everyone has to do more than they actually do.

The average college experience today is the point that everyone has to do more than they actually do. In an overachieving, perfectionist social organization, religious gatherings served a dual purpose of Thai business.

Karen Neustadt

The Pacifican is now accepting applications for the position of Editor in chief for the Spring, 1993 semester. If interested please apply at the Pacifican office in Hand Hall.

Gray

(Continued from page 1)

Sylla Reduction Techniques

- Prioritize activities.
- Accepting help from others.
- Recreation; hobbies, sports, social events.
- Reassure patients, botanicals, and what is revealed about the complexity of the whole.
- Mindfulness.
- GROUP EXPERIENCES
- Higher awareness.
- Meditation.
- Guided imagery.
- Muscle relaxation exercises.
- Hypnosis.

BEHAVIORAL APPROACHES

- Identify stresses.
- Reorganize helpful hints.
- The universities training individuals in coping with stress.
- One group, known as "Peers Ears," offers web sites staffed with trained students who offer support and encouragement.
- Stress management training.

PHARMACOLOGIC

- Sedatives.
- Tranquilizers.
- Antidepressants.
- Beta blockers.
- Calcium channel blockers.
- Atypical antipsychotics.

In the article, drugs for depression, anxiety, and phobias are shown to be effective.

Dear Editor,

I would like to congratulate you on your wonderful work, and also to thank you for giving us this opportunity to share our experiences with others.

Mollie Steinberg, Undergrad.

Music, and Surprises

Scott Eckern, Director

Brian, the President-elect, Bill Clinton Dan Warren Christopher as top advisors in managing the transition.

The President will convene a summit before he takes office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union).)

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

At Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, a campus-wide "howl" can be heard for miles the night before exams as students are encouraged to let off steam with a horrifying school-wide primal scream. The occasion has been dubbed "Students Collectively Reclaiming Elders Are Mute Mondays," but is better known as SCREAM.

Student riots seem to get worse as years pass by, according to an article in The New York Times that recently reported that the mental health center at the University of Washington in Seattle sees more graduate and professional students than undergraduates, and even more than juniors.

Even at institutions where mental health services are readily available, a sense of safety is often not felt.

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter to you in hopes that you will take the time to read it.

Those three problems are all the time to take for granted. We get to be a President-elect, Bill Clinton Dan Warren Christopher as top advisors in managing the transition.

The President will convene a summit before he takes office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

At Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, a campus-wide "howl" can be heard for miles the night before exams as students are encouraged to let off steam with a horrifying school-wide primal scream. The occasion has been dubbed "Students Collectively Reclaiming Elders Are Mute Mondays," but is better known as SCREAM.

Student riots seem to get worse as years pass by, according to an article in The New York Times that recently reported that the mental health center at the University of Washington in Seattle sees more graduate and professional students than undergraduates, and even more than juniors.

Even at institutions where mental health services are readily available, a sense of safety is often not felt.

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter to you in hopes that you will take the time to read it.

Those three problems are all the time to take for granted. We get to be a President-elect, Bill Clinton Dan Warren Christopher as top advisors in managing the transition.

The President will convene a summit before he takes office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

At Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, a campus-wide "howl" can be heard for miles the night before exams as students are encouraged to let off steam with a horrifying school-wide primal scream. The occasion has been dubbed "Students Collectively Reclaiming Elders Are Mute Mondays," but is better known as SCREAM.

Student riots seem to get worse as years pass by, according to an article in The New York Times that recently reported that the mental health center at the University of Washington in Seattle sees more graduate and professional students than undergraduates, and even more than juniors.

Even at institutions where mental health services are readily available, a sense of safety is often not felt.

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter to you in hopes that you will take the time to read it.

Those three problems are all the time to take for granted. We get to be a President-elect, Bill Clinton Dan Warren Christopher as top advisors in managing the transition.

The President will convene a summit before he takes office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

"We are organizing a program with the Clinton administration to take office Jan. 20, the President-elect wasted no time in assembling his cabinet, and arrested when he was found loitering in Lot 47 (north of the Student Union)."

At Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, a campus-wide "howl" can be heard for miles the night before exams as students are encouraged to let off steam with a horrifying school-wide primal scream. The occasion has been dubbed "Students Collectively Reclaiming Elders Are Mute Mondays," but is better known as SCREAM.

Student riots seem to get worse as years pass by, according to an article in The New York Times that recently reported that the mental health center at the University of Washington in Seattle sees more graduate and professional students than undergraduates, and even more than juniors.

Even at institutions where mental health services are readily available, a sense of safety is often not felt.
COPA Reviews Strategic Plan
Michael V. Kattelman
COPA Junior Assemblyman

On June 30, 1992, the Strategic Planning Council of the University of the Pacific completed the working draft of the Strategic Plan. The Strategic Plan has been designed to outline the goals, objectives, and strategies that the University of the Pacific should implement to advance its status and capabilities as an institution of higher learning.

The Strategic Plan outlines the goals and objectives of COPA, which are designed to outline the overall quality of education at the University of the Pacific. Copies of the Strategic Plan are available for review at the Office of Student Life.

The College of the Pacific Association would like to commend the Council for stating their goals and objectives. However, as the student association, we feel that there is still much work to be done to make this plan a reality.

We request that revisions be made during this revision process. This will allow a positive nature to further the goals of the Strategic Plan.

C.O.P.A. Council Chairman, Scott Anderson
C.O.P.A. President, Dan McDonald

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A few facts which the author failed to mention. First of all, no one has ever mentioned that those two-thirds of our prison inmates are incarcerated for drug-related crimes. The one fact that might be a hot topic for the student body is that those inmates are sent to prison merely because of the side one has taken in the conflict.

In Strategy 2, which relates to student life, COPA was commended if this is a strategy statement. This could come from a positive nature. In Strategy 9, pertaining to the Pacific Student Association, a statement of strategy, this type of statement is channel on the UOP campus. It is important to mention that the author did not mention the term "air." This can be seen at the campus radio station, KUOP, Stockton, CA 94211.

First, a distinction must be made. COPA and the C.O.P.A. Council are two different entities that serve different roles within the college. Second, it was the C.O.P.A. Council, a board of faculty and students of the college of which addressed this issue, that COPA is the academic at the college by eliminating "wet" dormancy and "wet" endangering. Any questions pertaining to this resolution or any of the business covered by the COPA Strategic Council should be directed to our copies of the newspaper and online.

The Pacifican is published every Thursday, except during vacations and final exam weeks. It is the responsibility of the Pacifican to provide students with relevant and accurate information. Questions should be submitted to the Pacifican at Business 960-2155 or by appointment.

The Pacifican welcomes letters to the editor. All letters should be 200 words or less and be signed by the writer. The Pacifican reserves the right to edit letters for clarity and length. Letters that are unsigned, anonymous, or exceed 200 words will not be published.

The College of the Pacific
University of the Pacific

PACIFIC TALKS

Who is your favorite member of the UOP staff and why?

Mike the townhouse maintenance technician

Andrea Ballard, Sophomore, Communication.

Matt Fisher, Sophomore, English.

Dan McDonald, Sophomore, Sports Management.

Kelly Palmer, Senior, Psychology.

Postscript: The women that clean Grace Cowell Hall, APA. She gives great advice and she is like a "Mom" to us.

Dr. Carol Ann Hall APA. She gives great advice and she is like a "Mom" to us.

Dr. Gilbert: Just because...

The Pacifican, November 12, 1992

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Office

Some people in the university, students, professors, and administrators, express concern with regard to priorities and responsibilities of the President. While it is difficult to pin all the blame on one person, it can be seen at the current time.

COPA Reviews Strategic Plan
Michael V. Kattelman

COPA Junior Assemblyman

On June 30, 1992, the Strategic Planning Council of the University of the Pacific completed the working draft of the Strategic Plan. The Strategic Plan has been designed to outline the goals, objectives, and strategies that the University of the Pacific should implement to advance its status and capabilities as an institution of higher learning.

The Strategic Plan outlines the goals and objectives of COPA, which are designed to outline the overall quality of education at the University of the Pacific. Copies of the Strategic Plan are available for review at the Office of Student Life.

The College of the Pacific Association would like to commend the Council for stating their goals and objectives. However, as the student association, we feel that there is still much work to be done to make this plan a reality.

We request that revisions be made during this revision process. This will allow a positive nature to further the goals of the Strategic Plan.

C.O.P.A. Council Chairman, Scott Anderson
C.O.P.A. President, Dan McDonald

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A few facts which the author failed to mention. First of all, no one has ever mentioned that those two-thirds of our prison inmates are incarcerated for drug-related crimes. The one fact that might be a hot topic for the student body is that those inmates are sent to prison merely because of the side one has taken in the conflict.

In Strategy 2, which relates to student life, COPA was commended if this is a strategy statement. This could come from a positive nature. In Strategy 9, pertaining to the Pacific Student Association, a statement of strategy, this type of statement is channel on the UOP campus. It is important to mention that the author did not mention the term "air." This can be seen at the campus radio station, KUOP, Stockton, CA 94211.

First, a distinction must be made. COPA and the C.O.P.A. Council are two different entities that serve different roles within the college. Second, it was the C.O.P.A. Council, a board of faculty and students of the college of which addressed this issue, that COPA is the academic at the college by eliminating "wet" dormancy and "wet" endangering. Any questions pertaining to this resolution or any of the business covered by the COPA Strategic Council should be directed to our copies of the newspaper and online.

The Pacifican is published every Thursday, except during vacations and final exam weeks. It is the responsibility of the Pacifican to provide students with relevant and accurate information. Questions should be submitted to the Pacifican at Business 960-2155 or by appointment.

The Pacifican welcomes letters to the editor. All letters should be 200 words or less and be signed by the writer. The Pacifican reserves the right to edit letters for clarity and length. Letters that are unsigned, anonymous, or exceed 200 words will not be published.

The College of the Pacific
University of the Pacific

PACIFIC TALKS

Who is your favorite member of the UOP staff and why?

Mike the townhouse maintenance technician

Andrea Ballard, Sophomore, Communication.

Matt Fisher, Sophomore, English.

Dan McDonald, Sophomore, Sports Management.

Kelly Palmer, Senior, Psychology.

Postscript: The women that clean Grace Cowell Hall, APA. She gives great advice and she is like a "Mom" to us.

Dr. Carol Ann Hall APA. She gives great advice and she is like a "Mom" to us.

Dr. Gilbert: Just because...
ACROSS THE NATION

Plagiarism Persists At All Academic Levels

By John Williams (CP) - A major problem that plagues universities and term, turns in a major paper that is lifted from another's work without citing the original source, is the widespread ignorance about plagiarism.

Unfortunately, the winds aren't blowing in the right direction. The student has taken paragraphs word for word and inserted them into his own paper. The professor, if he is a good one, will realize what has happened, but the student is a thief - he is stealing someone's work and passing it off as his own.

Plagiarism, which comes from the Latin, means to steal or lift, is a crime that plagues all university level students. Students steal from books and magazines, term papers are openly peddled. Papers written by companies that specialize in writing papers for students are not the students' own work. They must be turned in to instructors and passed off as the students' own work.

Students sometimes plagiarize out of desperation because they are weak writers or because they didn't do their assignments. Even at the end of the term, other students say they have never seen what plagiarism is, an excuse that doesn't wash with academics.

I believe 95 percent of college students understand what plagiarism is, but they have no idea what it means to write a research paper or think that a student dress code is anachronistic. Liberty University in Lynchburg, Va. and BYU in Provo, Utah, take student dress codes very seriously.

I see it as a very critical problem. One of the students who performed well was the one who wore a suit and tie to class, and must not wear shorts, no hair products, and must wear a black coat. He also had to have a beard or mustache, but does not any longer.

The Higher Education Research Initiative at the University of California-Los Angeles, which does annual freshman student surveys, and at BYU, the student must sign an honor pledge. Some students said to me that if you try to wear a short skirt or shorts in class, you can be refused service at the library or classroom offices if your clothing isn't up to code. Students also aren't allowed to use drugs, alcohol or tobacco, curse or use cursing language.

But these schools are the exception. At the University of St. Thomas, a Circleville, Ohio, student said that he is a senior at Black Hills State and that he must be careful of what he says.

Newspapers and collegiate daily papers and magazines talk about the student dress code. The Chronicle published a cartoon made references to children born out of wedlock and America's social life, with the caption "The University's dress code is a dress code for the student's discretion and personal style."

The Chronicle published a cartoon on the subject of the student dress code. The caption "The University's dress code is a dress code for the student's discretion and personal style." was explain;

"There were a lot of variations in the student dress code. The student dress code was reinstated during the suspension. The student dress code was reinstated during the suspension."

BYU Dress Code Forces Students To Cover Up

By John Williams (CP) - A list of don't's in Brigham Young University's dress code must have been lifted from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints school, when shorts and miniskirts are not allowed.

"Our honor code has drawn attention in the past. We've been used to," said spokesman Trent Hawk. "We expect high standards. When someone finds an excuse it makes the news. But the standards are important. A large majority of the faculty and students support it.

Colleges and universities in the United States have official dress codes. But for the handful that do, that watch out for you. The BYU students' honor code is not the only one that watches out for you. The BYU students' honor code is not the only one that watches out for you.

BYU, for instance, students may not have given themselves enough time to complete the assignments. Some students may have left their papers on their desks and were not aware what plagiarism is.

Some students may have been influenced by the fact that they didn't want to be seen as the students' own work. "I don't think that a student dress code is anachronistic. Liberty University in Lynchburg, Va. and BYU in Provo, Utah, take student dress codes very seriously."

That's the general point. We're different. We're a university."

At Liberty University, a conservative Christian school, male students are not allowed to wear skirts, shorts, hats and ties, and must wear dress shoes. No shorts are allowed unless a student is going to a physical education class or takes part in a physical activity. Students also aren't allowed to use drugs, alcohol or tobacco, curse or use cursing language.

But these schools are the exception. At the University of St. Thomas, a Circleville, Ohio, student said that he is a senior at Black Hills State and that he must be careful of what he says.

Newspapers and collegiate daily papers and magazines talk about the student dress code. The Chronicle published a cartoon made references to children born out of wedlock and America's social life, with the caption "The University's dress code is a dress code for the student's discretion and personal style."

The Chronicle published a cartoon on the subject of the student dress code. The caption "The University's dress code is a dress code for the student's discretion and personal style." was explain;

"There were a lot of variations in the student dress code. The student dress code was reinstated during the suspension. The student dress code was reinstated during the suspension."

Fraternity Outsider

Fraternity Outsider For Racial Slur

ATLANTA, Ga. (CP) - A racial slur has been reported in a fraternity at Georgia Tech, the fraternity's national organization and university said.

The fraternity can be suspended if it is found guilty of racial slurs. The fraternity can be suspended if it is found guilty of racial slurs.

More We Watch Develop Disorder

ATLANTA (CP) - University of Wisconsin-Madison students are suspending a series of forums on race relations after a cartoon published by the school newspaper was denounced at race.

The student newspaper was denounced at race. The defense published a cartoon in late September of a white man watching black characters playing basketball and making music on television at the student newspaper.

The student newspaper was denounced at race. The defense published a cartoon in late September of a white man watching black characters playing basketball and making music on television at the student newspaper.

More We Watch Develop Disorder

ATLANTA (CP) - University of Wisconsin-Madison students are suspending a series of forums on race relations after a cartoon published by the school newspaper was denounced at race.

The student newspaper was denounced at race. The defense published a cartoon in late September of a white man watching black characters playing basketball and making music on television at the student newspaper.

The student newspaper was denounced at race. The defense published a cartoon in late September of a white man watching black characters playing basketball and making music on television at the student newspaper.

The student newspaper was denounced at race. The defense published a cartoon in late September of a white man watching black characters playing basketball and making music on television at the student newspaper.
The higher costs of education and living expenses are forcing more students into the streets.

More Women Develop Eating Disorders

More Students Explore Third World

Low Enrollment Forces College To Close

Homeless Students Juggle Classes, Despair

Student Explore Third World

By Jeff Schnaifer Special Correspondent (LOS ANGELES) (AP)—When John boards the bus after a long day of classes, he often falls asleep, never botherig to tell the driver to send him to the stop near his home. It's not because he doesn't care about getting home; it's because he doesn't have one.

John's situation is not an isolated case. Across the country, a growing number of college students are finding themselves in the ranks of the homeless, forced to juggle their dreams of success with the reality of survival.

"You have to go slow," said John, an auto mechanic student at his mid-30's at San Jose State University. John, who holds a part-time job at the college, doesn't want his real name used because he doesn't want people to know he's homeless.

"Sometimes I sleep on the bus, taking the bus all the way into downtown Los Angeles and come back in time for classes in the morning. Sometimes I stay in a motel for a week when I get paid. Sometimes I live in the streets. Sometimes I stay with a friend."

Although there is no official number of homeless students in the United States, estimates of the total homeless population range from a conservative figure of 300,000 to 1 million, according to advocacy groups.

Even with such a large number of students struggling, only a few colleges have addressed the problem directly.

One of the largest efforts has taken place in Florida, where the state legislature passed an amendment earlier this year that exempts homeless students from paying tuition and continues low wages are forcing more students to choose between attending classes and having a place to call home.

For example, John is on his third venture as a homeless student since moving to California from New York. He became homeless each time because he could not afford to pay for housing.

"I had found a two-bedroom apartment with a South African housing grant. I rented a room for $200 and we split utilities," recalled John, who holds odd jobs and receives financial aid. "When the student finished the four years at UCLA, he was supposed to leave the country. I didn't have enough money to keep paying the rent."

Efforts to help the homeless are also taking place in Massachusetts.

To encourage participation, 20 students shunned their affluent lifestyle and lived in lifesize Third World habitats during a two-week experiment to explore life in other parts of the globe.

The nine habitats, designed by film set designers and built by students, were on display in part of a project entitled "Global Village '92," sponsored by the Adventist Development and Relief Agency, an international organization that deals in disaster relief.

The students ate the same foods as the indigenous people they lived in, experienced firsthand the reality of the kind of life lived by millions of people around the globe.

The Global Village featured homes from developing countries, and included an African Masai kraal, a refugee camp dwelling, an inner-city tenement, a car,- an African outdoor school.

The students ate the same foods because he has no cooking utensils, and is a Philadelphia landmark.

The college, which offered degrees in computer technology, architecture and interior design among others, was founded in 1951 and is a Philadelphia landmark.

The college, which offered degrees in computer technology, architecture and interior design among others, was founded in 1951 and is a Philadelphia landmark.

Previously problems include inadequate housing, rigid or unneeded dieting, exams of exercise or occasional stopping. Severe disorders include malingering, heart attack, or eating, and alcohol, or binge eating and disorders.

Transitional periods—returning student or entering college for the first time—can especially difficult times for students with eating disorders," said Kirby. "Sometimes it's difficult to get students to leave their homes and stop eating."

The students ate the same foods because he has no cooking utensils.

The college, which offered degrees in computer technology, architecture and interior design among others, was founded in 1951 and is a Philadelphia landmark.

The college, which offered degrees in computer technology, architecture and interior design among others, was founded in 1951 and is a Philadelphia landmark.

A new study claims that obesity is a "cancer of the 21st century" and is a major cause of death. The study, which was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, estimated that 15% of adult Americans are obese, defined as having a body mass index of 30 or more.

The study's findings are based on data from the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES), a cross-sectional survey of the U.S. population that has been conducted periodically since 1971.

According to the study, the prevalence of obesity has increased steadily over the past three decades, with the highest rates seen in men and women aged 20-39. The study also found that obesity was more common among non-Hispanic white and non-Hispanic black adults than among Hispanic adults.

The researchers concluded that obesity is a serious public health problem that requires a comprehensive approach to prevention and treatment.

Of the most serious concerns is the increasing prevalence of obesity among children and adolescents. The study found that the prevalence of obesity among children and adolescents aged 2-19 years increased from 3.5% in 1963-1965 to 18.2% in 2007-2008.

The researchers noted that the increase in obesity among children and adolescents is particularly concerning because it is associated with an increased risk of obesity in adulthood and the development of chronic diseases, such as type 2 diabetes and heart disease.

The researchers also noted that the increase in obesity among children and adolescents is associated with a number of factors, including changes in diet and physical activity patterns, as well as the availability and affordability of high-calorie foods and beverages.

The study's findings have important implications for public health policy and practice. The researchers recommended that efforts to prevent and treat obesity should be directed at individuals, families, communities, and societies, and that interventions should be tailored to the specific needs and contexts of different populations.

The researchers concluded that future research should focus on understanding the determinants of obesity and developing effective strategies to prevent and treat obesity in different populations.

"The study's findings highlight the importance of addressing obesity at all levels of society," said the study's lead author, Dr. Cheryl掌控. "We need to work together to prevent obesity and promote healthy eating and physical activity among all age groups and racial and ethnic groups."

In addition to the findings on obesity, the study also found that the prevalence of overweight (BMI 25-29.9) and obesity (BMI 30 or more) has increased among adults aged 20-74 years over the past three decades.

The study's findings have important implications for public health policy and practice. The researchers recommended that efforts to prevent and treat obesity should be directed at individuals, families, communities, and societies, and that interventions should be tailored to the specific needs and contexts of different populations.

The researchers concluded that future research should focus on understanding the determinants of obesity and developing effective strategies to prevent and treat obesity in different populations.

"The study's findings highlight the importance of addressing obesity at all levels of society," said the study's lead author, Dr. Cheryl掌控. "We need to work together to prevent obesity and promote healthy eating and physical activity among all age groups and racial and ethnic groups."

In addition to the findings on obesity, the study also found that the prevalence of overweight (BMI 25-29.9) and obesity (BMI 30 or more) has increased among adults aged 20-74 years over the past three decades.
The Pacifica, November 12, 1992

Award-Winning Pianist Performs At UOP

Brian Sevad, The Pacifica

Campus Life For An African-American Female

Tina L. Stromson

Perspectives on Diversity

Frans Abbott, Director, Anderson Center

Conciliations

Barbara St. Urbain

Kpac Presents The Brian And Dave Show

Gail Grantham, The Pacifica

Book Sale

4223 Pacific (Next to Tiger Yogurt) 476-9800

MORRIS CHAPEL

Wars & Rumors of Wars

Sunday, November 15, 11 a.m.
Office Of International Services Promotes Cultural Interaction, Appreciation And Understanding

Cheryl S. Urban

The Office of International Services within the Division of Student Affairs is a focal point on campus for cultural awareness and interaction. Our office serves as a conduit for understanding between cultural traditions, and it is seen as the "office of the office," to service these special interests.

"It is absolutely important to understanding the cultural differences between us," said Dean Shriver. "We are trying to make sure that our students are educated on foreign cultures and the traditions they come from.

The Office of International Services has been working on promoting cultural interaction. One way we are doing this is by creating programs that students can participate in. There are several events that are planned throughout the year for students to learn about different cultures and interact with each other.

For example, the office has organized movie nights, panel discussions, and cultural fairs. These events allow students to explore different cultures in a safe and interactive environment.

The office also works with other departments on campus to bring in guest speakers and performers who can share their cultural backgrounds with students. These events help students gain a better understanding of other cultures and the ways in which they differ from their own.

In addition to these events, the office has also created an online resource where students can learn about different cultures and languages. This site includes information on different countries and their customs, as well as tips for communicating with people from different backgrounds.

Overall, the Office of International Services is committed to promoting cultural awareness and understanding on campus. They believe that by creating opportunities for students to interact with each other, they can help to build a more inclusive and understanding community.

Conservatory Presents Second Inaugural Concert In A Series

Dr. Charles Schilling will perform in"On the Air: The American Radio Ensemble," a new solo program in collaboration with the Conservatory of Music Thursday, November 12, at 8 p.m. in the McCaffrey Center.

The program will represent a significant element of the Conservatory of Music, a lead major in music education. The program will feature a variety of works, including music by American composers such as Charles Ives, George Gershwin, and John Cage.

The program will be conducted by Dr. Charles Schilling, who is currently a professor of music education.

The program will be held in the McCaffrey Center, and admission is free to the public.

UOP Jazz Ensemble Holds Its “Big Band Bash”

The Conservatory of Music is proud to announce the second installment of the “Big Band Bash” this year. This event is open to all students and will feature music performed by the Conservatory’s Jazz Ensemble.

The program will include music by American composers such as Duke Ellington, Count Basie, and Glenn Miller, as well as international artists such as Benny Goodman and Buddy Rich.

The program will be conducted by Dr. Charles Schilling, who is currently a professor of music education.

The program will be held in the McCaffrey Center, and admission is free to the public.

SPAGHETTI FEST

This Sunday, Nov. 15, 1992

Only $5 per person for a full spaghetti dinner!

All proceeds benefit Children’s Cancer Research at the UC Davis Medical Center

Call 946-9315 for reservations

SCHEDULE OF CAMPUS EVENTS

Thursday, November 12

Student Y: Career Advisory Table, McCaffrey Center, 12 p.m.

Resume Writing Workshop, Career Center, McCaffrey Center, 12 p.m.

Theta Alpha Phi (Drama Fraternity), Green Room, Drama Building, 12 p.m.

American Marketing Association Meeting, Weber 315, 1 p.m.

Colofge Public Association (CPA) Meeting, Raymond 101, 4 p.m.

Friday, November 13

Resume Writing Workshop, Career Center, McCaffrey Center, 12 p.m.

UPBEAT Film: "BOOMERANG," McCaffrey Theatre, 8 p.m.

Saturday, November 14

Interview Skills and Speed Interviewing, Career Center, 2-4 p.m.

Job Search Strategies Development, Career Center, 3-5 p.m.

Static Attic Dancing, McCaffrey Center, 2nd floor, 9 p.m.-1 a.m.

Sunday, November 15

Pacific Dance Forum, Dance Studio, 8 p.m.

UPBEAT Film: "BOOMERANG," McCaffrey Theatre, 8 p.m.

Monday, November 16

Model United Nations Meeting, McCaffrey Center, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, November 18

Business Women’s Business Center, 10-2 p.m.

UPBEAT Film: "PINOCCHIO," McCaffrey Theatre, 8 p.m.

Thursday, November 19

Women’s Center Advisory Table, McCaffrey Center, 12 p.m.

Resume Writing Workshop, Career Center, McCaffrey Center, 12 p.m.

Theta Alpha Phi (Drama Fraternity), Green Room, Drama Building, 12 p.m.

American Marketing Association Meeting, Weber 315, 1 p.m.

Colofge Public Association (CPA) Meeting, Raymond 101, 4 p.m.

Friday, November 20

Resume Writing Workshop, Career Center, McCaffrey Center, 12 p.m.

UPBEAT Film: "UNSTUCK. IN ENFIELD," McCaffrey Theatre, 8 p.m.
Football Squeezes By Cal State Fullerton

Allie McHugh
Sports Editor

The Pacifican, November 12, 19...

We were really all of the mismatchers. They were high on theHinde — Jason Wynne riter

The Pacific Men's Soccer team started off quickly, Pacific found itself down 3-2 at half-time, but battled back to take the lead and hold on. Matt Vargo was the male "Athlete of the Week" goes to Troy Reeves, in his first game ever playing in a female must show he is back 100%.

The defense was the savior for the Tigers. Pacific found itself down 3-2 at half-time, but battled back to take the lead and hold on. Matt Vargo had 15 tackles, six for a loss and three for minus yardage. Mike Maroney, senior UOP Women's Volleyball team, had a string of 10-15 perfect serves. Troy Reeves, in his first game ever playing in a female must continue to prosper into the future.

Rugby Continues Turn Heads

Tim Metcalf
Staff Writer

Last Saturday, the Pacific Rugby Club had an impressive performance in the annual Capitol Rugby Tournament in Sacramento. The tournament was held to introduce the Capitol Rugby to the students and fans.

Pacific, arriving a bit late, was back on the field for its first game. PRC fell short in a strong showing by Davis Rugby in the last game. Despite the 10-19 defeat, strong play came from Mike McNab, who scored a try and two conversions.

Simons, Baus Named Pacific's Athletes Of The Week

Mike Niethammer
Staff Writer

For this week's female "Athlete of the Week," we were really looking for a female athlete, perhaps a woman who has not been in the press at all that much of late and a great performance.

However, Vikki Simons, of the UOP Women's Volleyball team, had another outstanding performance. Last Friday, Simons led Pacific to a victory over the visiting Hawaii Rainbow 3-0. In the game, Simons had 14 kills, 10 aces, and 10 service aces.

Men's Soccer Ends Season With Win

Robert Davis
Senior Staff Writer

The Pacific Men's Soccer team ended its season last Wednesday, coming from behind to defeat Cal State Fullerton 3-1. The Tigers, who finished last year with a 12-7-2 record, were eliminated from the playoffs, as the record from 1992 was only 8-13-1.

The game against Cal-Maritime should have been an easy victory for the Tigers, Pacific faced tough 2-2 half-time, but battled back to take the lead and hold on. Matt Vargo scored the first two goals for Pacific, but it was Bart Dentmire who tied the game up at three goals, and minutes later was found inside the Cal-Maritime penalty box. Mike Maroney took the penalty, and in the 90th minute the Tigers were up for good.

With two minutes left in regulation, the two teams engaged in a scuffle around which could have turned ugly. The referee, seeing that there were only two minutes left on the clock, kicked the game before the whistle could blow. The Tigers were given the 5-3 victory and tied the game 1-1. In overtime, Vargo scored the final goal of the game, 2-2, and the team continued to prosper into the future.

The level of athletics and less time worrying about now people look at the University of the Pacific students have great athletic programs. The win over Fullerton kept the Tigers in the hunt for the title. The Tigers must beat San Jose State on Saturday and Cal-Maritime next week if it is to be its group. Come out and support the Tigers for the most important home game this year. Kick-off is 6:05 on Saturday.

The Women's Volleyball team and both basketball teams had support from the students and the community. The Spinnakers made such a hard time filling the Stadium. If you want a great game, go to Northern State, and make it a kick in the butt. Instead of the kick in the butt in the quarter, make it a kick in the butt in the next game. There are three more matches this weekend. We hope you make it out.

The Pacifican, November 12, 19...
Sports

Intramural Volleyball Gets Under Way

By John Tanner

Intramural programs

The co-ed A-League season is half out. At the half-way point Let's Do It went undefeated. They are the only team without a loss. In fact, they have not even lost a set this year.
The Recreators, Chris' team, and the Tigers are close on their tail.

The B-League co-ed, with competitive of the co-rec leagues, has seven teams divided into three divisions, are vying for the

There are three undefeated teams
South-West, Diggs, and R. Rowdies.
They will play each other later this year, so only one will remain undefeated.

The C-League teams are improving every game. At the season's half-way point, three teams look like they have

The season ends Nov. 22, and the play-offs will be held the week after Thanksgiving.

ENTRY DUE DATES

The reciprocal tournament entries opened Oct. 26. The tournament will be held the weekend of Nov. 21-22.

The Turkey Woggle entries opened
Nov. 4. The tournament will be held on Dec. 5 and the winners will be determined by rate of play.

The Intramurals department has a number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the G. Square Center.

As a matter of fact, on Friday and Saturday, 3,300 fans came out to see the Women's Volleyball team play two matches against the University of Hawaii.

The Tigers' play has been very
consistent over the past few weeks.
After this weekend's match against
Pacific, they will face the University
of Hawaii in the WCC.

With this record the Tigers are assured a spot in the Big West
Pacific.

If your team continues to improve
the way it has been, the title
"National Champions" will sound
more and more likely.

The Intramurals department has a
number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past
weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the
G. Square Center.

As a matter of fact, on Friday and
Saturday, 3,300 fans came out to see
the Women's Volleyball team play two matches against the University of Hawaii.

The Tigers' play has been very
consistent over the past few weeks.
After this weekend's match against
Pacific, they will face the University
of Hawaii in the WCC.

With this record the Tigers are
assured a spot in the Big West
Pacific.

If your team continues to improve
the way it has been, the title
"National Champions" will sound
more and more likely.

The Intramurals department has a
number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past
weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the
G. Square Center.

As a matter of fact, on Friday and
Saturday, 3,300 fans came out to see
the Women's Volleyball team play two matches against the University of Hawaii.

The Tigers' play has been very
consistent over the past few weeks.
After this weekend's match against
Pacific, they will face the University
of Hawaii in the WCC.

With this record the Tigers are
assured a spot in the Big West
Pacific.

If your team continues to improve
the way it has been, the title
"National Champions" will sound
more and more likely.

The Intramurals department has a
number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past
weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the
G. Square Center.

As a matter of fact, on Friday and
Saturday, 3,300 fans came out to see
the Women's Volleyball team play two matches against the University of Hawaii.

The Tigers' play has been very
consistent over the past few weeks.
After this weekend's match against
Pacific, they will face the University
of Hawaii in the WCC.

With this record the Tigers are
assured a spot in the Big West
Pacific.

If your team continues to improve
the way it has been, the title
"National Champions" will sound
more and more likely.

The Intramurals department has a
number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past
weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the
G. Square Center.

As a matter of fact, on Friday and
Saturday, 3,300 fans came out to see
the Women's Volleyball team play two matches against the University of Hawaii.

The Tigers' play has been very
consistent over the past few weeks.
After this weekend's match against
Pacific, they will face the University
of Hawaii in the WCC.

With this record the Tigers are
assured a spot in the Big West
Pacific.

If your team continues to improve
the way it has been, the title
"National Champions" will sound
more and more likely.

The Intramurals department has a
number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past
weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the
G. Square Center.

As a matter of fact, on Friday and
Saturday, 3,300 fans came out to see
the Women's Volleyball team play two matches against the University of Hawaii.

The Tigers' play has been very
consistent over the past few weeks.
After this weekend's match against
Pacific, they will face the University
of Hawaii in the WCC.

With this record the Tigers are
assured a spot in the Big West
Pacific.

If your team continues to improve
the way it has been, the title
"National Champions" will sound
more and more likely.

The Intramurals department has a
number of tournaments and events
coming up in the coming weeks.

If you were on campus this past
weeks, you might have noticed the hundreds of cars parked around the
G. Square Center.
U2, Public Enemy Rock The Bay

Jason Wynne

Staff Writer

The U2 concert was a treat for me, and I'm sure it was for many fans as well. The band did not disappoint their audience as they span off beautiful renditions of each other's hits. We were treated to two special guest appearances, one by the Doo Wop group The Platters. Over 50,000 fans gathered at the Oakland Coliseum for a night filled with music.

The concert began with a performance by the Roots, and then moved on to U2, who took the stage to a thunderous welcome. The crowd showed their appreciation for the band's performance, and the energy was electric throughout the two hour concert.

In one instance, Bono addressed the crowd and said, "The love and support we've received is incredible. We are grateful for every moment of this journey." The crowd responded with a roar of gratitude.

The versatility of the band was on full display during the concert, and the audience was treated to a variety of songs. "Sunday Bloody Sunday," "The Boy in the Cowgirl Hat," and "With or Without You" were among the highlights of the evening.

Overall, the concert was a memorable experience for everyone in attendance.