Dear Brother John:

are you quite well we are all pretty well here. I am attending the high school I like it very well Mary and myself stay up stairs most of the time where Miss Briggs teaches I like her first rate we recite all of our lessons to Miss Briggs with the exception of our grammar lesson we go down to Mr. Magoffin to recite that. the Saturday before last was George Washingtons birthday and there was a celebration among the schools we all gathered at the school house as usual in the morning at about 9 oclock and Mr. Carswell lent us eighteen little flags well after all was reads we all went out and and marched down to Bandercooks hall and then we sang the red white and blue then Mr. Magoffin read part of George Washingtons ~~farewell~~ farewell address. and there was two fiddlers there so we sang the star spangled banner and claxing and one or two more and they fiddled to them well well enough of that. now John Thurg what will I do to if you if you dont come home when your school is out John you promised to write soon you must ~~remember~~ ^{be} remem from your affectionate sister

Etienne Thurg
