

1863-03-22

Letter from E. W. Pelton to John Muir, 1863 Mar 22

E. W. Pelton

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

---

Recommended Citation

Pelton, E. W., "Letter from E. W. Pelton to John Muir, 1863 Mar 22" (1863). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 1131.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/1131>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the John Muir Correspondence 1856-1914 at Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

Prairie du Chien Mar 22/63
Friend John 3-30 P M

There is no very partic-ular change in Mrs Peltons case I think on the whole she has been more comfortable since my return from Madison than during your stay here But at times she is very bad, and seems to suffer greatly Her life is gradually ebbing out I feel that I must surely soon part with her - that there is no cure for her in this world She appeared much interested in the nuts - wanted me to bring them in and pick out the large ones - which I did, and fill a salt sack with them, and put them away for her. As yet she has eaten but a few nuts, and I fear she will eat very few more. She is having an uncomfortable afternoon, though getting a little cousin now. She has spoken your name many times in the wandering of her mind since you were here

She continues to have frequent fever, running very high some of the time night & day

Mrs Basset is still with us -

Yours Truly

E. W. Pittard

191

00323