Residing Hill

Sept 27 1895

Dear Brother

1st I wish you was near Oh would you were here
To see you once more Ride up to our door
So pleasant would be

And

3^d

Together we'd walk Together we'd talk Together we'd sing
Your base voice would ring
With musical cheer

Were missing your base
As well as your face Lid up with a smile Eating apples the while Those artisans red

4th

5th

Together we'd be
As with an apple tree Enjoying its fruit
So mellow and good
With comfort and ease

With talk of the past
Of days which we best Enjoyed with each other Time spent with you brother Is pleasant indeed

Yes pleasant

indeed but I am sorry to hear that you are not intending thus to gratify us but have no doubt but you have some good reason for so doing. About two weeks ago father Anna and I went to Postage on Saturday and returned on Monday spending a more pleasant Sunday than we have for some time. We went to church in the morning and after the meeting we staid to the Sunday school and enjoyed ourselves very much in the bible class having a very pleasant and interesting teacher. She is Mrs Whitman the ministers wife. and again in the evening we attended church. Father has lately commenced a Sunday school at Mr Mitchels house, but it is not very interesting as there are but two or three scholars besides their own children and ourselves. I am happy to hear that you are going to write every week, and I am willing to do the same but how to get them to the office every week is more than I can tell howsoever never theless notwithstanding I will write weekly and send them away as often as we can, goodbye Your sister

 Mary
