

1867-01-01

Letter from John Muir to Anna Galloway, 1867 Jan

John Muir

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

Recommended Citation

Muir, John, "Letter from John Muir to Anna Galloway, 1867 Jan" (1867). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 1213.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/1213>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the John Muir Correspondence 1856-1914 at Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

Judith's Jan 67

My dear little flower-loving niece, I read your nice little letter containing so long a list of candy animals that came from the well stocked fields & pastures of Old Santa Claus, I guess he thought you were a good girl, and I think so too —

I have a great many pretty wild flowers to show you some day, and I want you to keep some to show me.

Here is a pretty mop that I found in Indiana growing on a great big old rotten log.
Its name is Climacium americarum, I do not think you can find it in Wisconsin. I will tell you about it when I come to see you. I think grand ma gave you a nice present, you will drink with - eiders to some purpose some day

I think that Cecelia has lots of teeth. I hope she will always have plenty of good things to eat with them. I wish Anna that you could come to see me for I am home some evenings I would learn you ^{to draw} pretty pictures and learn you how to find the names of all the trees and flowers and grapes and how to love them. I am glad that you are learning to read so well if you were here you could read to me in the evenings when I am tired. You said that you were studying Geography will you much look for Indianapolis sometimes and think on Uncle John because he likes you

00386