

1871-03-01

Letter from [John Muir] to [Sarah Muir Galloway], [1871 Mar].

John Muir

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

---

Recommended Citation

Muir, John, "Letter from [John Muir] to [Sarah Muir Galloway], [1871 Mar]." (1871). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 1367.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/1367>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the John Muir Correspondence 1856-1914 at Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

[Spring, 1871]

In the mill again - The snow all melted there is a violet. Three species grow in the valley, white, blue, & yellow You know the fringed blue gentian that grows at the sides of dry meadows I wish you would watch some this summer & send me some seeds
Also a few seeds of the white water lily & a few of the little blue harebells that are so abundant about you, with a pressed specimen with any little flowers easily sent that I know, O how I long to see you all but Heaven only knows my future path

I will tell David or Daniel to call at Indianapolis for my scraps of property left there I want you & Margaret Mother to take the pictures

Evening is coming - the bottom of the valley is in shadow but the sun still lights - the South dome & the Sentinel & a bluer sky than you ever beheld is over all Farewell

My kindest remembrances to your David & little ones, so write a letter often

00530