

John Muir Correspondence (PDFs)

1872-10-13

Letter from Joanna [Muir] to Dan[iel H. Muir], 1872 Oct 13.

Joanna Muir

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

Recommended Citation

Muir, Joanna, "Letter from Joanna [Muir] to Dan[iel H. Muir], 1872 Oct 13." (1872). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 1489.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/1489>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

Portage, Wis.

Oct. 13th '72

Dear Brother Dan!

Today, for the first time since you was home Father has been up, he sat three hours, and has just gone to back to bed quite tired.

He is better than when you were here, but still does not seem well at all.

He would like you to write and tell him what will be best for him to eat; and he wishes me to say that he has had no passage from his bowels for five or six days.

This is a cold dreary Sunday,
and it seems every indeed
to sit by the fire and read.
The house too has changed its appearance to a considerable degree and now looks very much more comfortable.
Maggie has returned from the country and feels disappointed that she did not see you.

Please to let us hear from you.

From your loving sister
Jane.