Martinez, California,
October 30, 1883.

Dear Mr Sellers: I'm back again to the old ranch with its sunshine Chinamen & grapes, & feeling much the better for my little runaway trip among friends & geysers, etc.

That Catlin cooking failed to kill, & I mean to dare the park another time with all its dangers of slush, mush, & ancient stuff in tin. I shall always remember my trip with you friends there with a great deal of pleasure, & regret that the care of a sick sister prevented me from seeing more of you while I stay in Chicago

Here is a short Yellowstone letter which you may care to look over

Remember me to Mrs
Sellers & Frank, & believe me Ever Yours truly, John Muir
