Dear sister Mary:-
Your letter was a great pleasure to me. I can hardly tell why but your kind expressions seem to have the effect of lifting my heart. We had passed under such depressing circumstances and when I was feeling so incapable of doing anything for your comfort during your trip that I had a sad feeling every time I thought of you, which was frequent. Consequently I just needed your letter. I am so glad that after all your visit in all did you good and you are now so comfortable. May it continue.
How good you are to think of giving the pretty paintings to me.
I can hardly wait to see them.
I wish I could make something pretty for you, maybe I will sometimes. I shall not write a long letter this time as I am tired and it is getting dark. I have been
