DEBATERS SWEEP REDLANDS TOURNAMENT

Vol. 61, No. 15 UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC, Stockton 4, California Jan. 11, 1963

Adkins-Howard Tour To Hawaii Is 6-Unit

Mrs. Edith S. Adkins, house-mother at Covell Hall, will escort a group of girls from this campus on an eight week summer tour to the University of Hawaii summer session.

The group will join with 500-600 other college girls from campuses throughout the United States on the Howard Tour, the original study tour in the Pacific. Membership of this large program is divided into small groups, each with their own housemother leader, with all girls to have a choice between campus dormitory residence or hotel-apartment living at Waikiki Beach.

The tour includes roundtrip travel by jet from the West Coast, living accommodations, and a diversification of dinners, parties, shows, cruises, sightseeing events, beach activities, and cultural entertainment. All necessary tour services are included. Steamship passage to neighbor islands will also be available.

Students may register for six or less credits of undergraduate or graduate work at the University summer session. Classes will be held in the mornings, with the afternoons and evenings free for touring and recreation.

Offenbach's "The Tales Of Hoffman" To Be Presented January 11 and 12

The UOP Opera Theatre is presenting Offenbach's "The Tales of Hoffmann" Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12, at 8 p.m. in the UOP Conservatory. Tickets may be purchased at the Conservatory box office. Reserved seats are $2.50, general admission is $2.00, and students will be admitted for $1.00.

"The Tales of Hoffmann" is to be directed by Dr. Lucas Underwood. As the opera opens, Hoffmann, a young poet played by Bruce S. Browne, is carousing with his friends. He has had three unfortunate love affairs and his stories of them form the body of the opera.

How To Make $22.50 For Sheer Profit

All students who intend to use PSA cards next semester are cordially invited to design them. Thus far, contest chairman Gary Wiler has only received one entry, so chances of winning for all future entrants are extremely good.

Designs for these cards may be submitted to Wiler at Delta Upsilon any time up until Wednesday, Jan. 16, when the contest will close. The winner will be awarded $22.50, or a free PSA card.

UOP Debate Team Leads Nation; Finally Invited To Harvard Tourney

Most Pacific students know that we have a good debate team but what they don't know is, how good. Consider some statistics. Last year the Pacific debate team won approximately 119 trophies. As far as trophies are concerned, that is more than any other college in the United States has won. Other colleges have won more tournaments but few participate in the variety of debate events that Pacific does. Most schools tend to concentrate on strictly debate events while Pacific enters impromptu speaking events, extemporaneous speaking, interpretive speaking and others.

Tri-Delta Art Show Success; Students Judge Paintings; Chair, Bunyard Optimistic

The Tri-Delta Art Exhibit, held last month, displayed quite a diversity of paintings done by students on campus and at Raymond College.

Judged the most popular paintings by students who visited the exhibit were: "Little Girl and Duck" by Ethelinda Waldren, "Three Women" by Kathy Bunyard, "Sunset in Orange" by Cynthia Lord, and "A Portrait of a Little Girl" by Linda Hoffman.

The Tri-Deltas have made tentative plans to hold another art show next year. Chairman Kathy Bunyard says, "We were very pleased with the success of the show and hope to see more of the same quality next year."

As further proof of our debate team's ability, Pacific was one of seven Western schools to be invited to participate in the Harvard Invitational at Boston. U.S.C., B.Y.U., and Loyola are some of the other Western schools which have received the "purely a matter of reputation" invitation. "Over eighty teams participated last year," said Mr. Paul Winters, debate coach, "and looking at the list of colleges was like looking at Who's Who in

Pacific Testing Center For National Teacher Exams This February

The University of the Pacific has been designated as a testing center for the 1963 nationwide administration of the National Teacher Examinations next February, Dr. J. Marc Jantzen, Dean of the School of Education, announced. The designation of the University of the Pacific as a testing center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with

Bonfire Tradition To Continue; Senate Passes Proposed Revision

Ever since the inciting of rioting which occurred last fall at the bonfire site, there has been considerable doubt as to whether there will be a bonfire rally next year.

At the PSA Senate meeting on December 12, 1962, the freshman class again presented a report consisting of three proposals concerning the continuation of the Homecoming bonfire. After some discussion, Dean Edward Betz gave some background information in relation to the problems that the bonfire has created. He said "the administration cannot have a potentially dangerous fight occurring out on the levee in the middle of the night."

Jim McDonald, Freshman Class President, proposed that the "Freshman Class, under the auspices of the Rally Committee, be authorized to build a bonfire on Friday, the day of the rally, and

Debaters Do It Again

Pipes, Kennedy Score High In Big "Golden West" Debate Tourney

The debate team of Doug Pipes and Raoul Kennedy received the best ratings of all the teams competing at the Golden West Invitational Tournament held in Redlands last weekend; Pipes was awarded the outstanding debater trophy while teammate Kennedy finished fourth a scant three points behind.

The top debaters were: first: Doug Pipes, U.O.P.; second: Frank Wohl, Dartmouth; third: Don Stanton, Southwest Missouri; fourth: Raoul Kennedy, U.O.P.; fifth: Steve Schiffrin, Loyola.

Redlands is considered the toughest tournament on the Pacific Coast since every top western team attends as do many of the nation's leading debate school's such as West Point, Northwestern, Georgetown, and the University of Kansas City.

Aside from their fine showing, the Pacific team enjoyed some old fashioned revenge as they watched U.S.C.'s John Deacon finish out of the running—Deacon defeated Pacific's John Beyer and Ted Olson on nationwide television last spring.

Showing off their newly-won trophies are debaters Raoul Kennedy, Doug Pipes, and Weldon Moss. Looking on at the right is their proud coach, Paul Winters.

During Christmas Vacation, 12 members of the U.O.P. squad, under the direction of Coach Paul Winters, captured best speaker and sweepstake awards at the Fresno Invitational; Weldon Moss won outstanding speaker while Roger Randall and Raoul Kennedy tied for second place.

The senior division team won sweepstakes winning 14 of their 15 debates. Two teams, Judy Ross-Raoul Kennedy and Weldon Moss-Roger Randall, were undefeated. The junior division was second in sweepstakes as they scored well in both debate and individual events. Ken Leiter won straight firsts in interpretative reading.

All twelve students won awards: superiors were garnered by Weldon Moss, Roger Randall, Raoul Kennedy, and Claudia Olson. Excellents went to Judy Ross, Charlotte Maxwell, Cheryl Buckner, Ken Leiter, Pete Davis, Stan Zimmerman, Pat Johnson, and Mike DiAsto.

Romp With Donkey Basketball Tonight At Civic Auditorium

Four wild and unconventional games of basketball will be played tonight at the Stockton Civic Auditorium.

To begin the evening's activities, a rally will be held at 7 p.m. in the Conservatory. At 8 p.m. the Donkey Basketball Games will commence with the faculty vs. businessmen, and such participating personalities as Ernie Reed, Dick Kranz, and Gordon Zimmerman. The other three games will be played between th faculty and studnts, UOP varsity football and Stagg high school's football team, and the sorority girls vs. the independent girls.

The game is played in the same manner as regular basketball games, however each player must ride a donkey. (Yup—a real, live one!) The receiver of the basketball may dismount from his donkey, but must be on the donkey when the ball is passed to him.

Peace Corps To Test In Stockton, Jan. 26

Are you 18 and restless? Join the peace Corps. But first take the placement tests on January 26 at 8:30 a.m. in the Post Office. Volunteers must be American citizens.

Teachers, farmers, carpenters, nurses, and engineers are all needed to help develop nations around the world. College students are urged to complete their degree requirements before entering the Peace Corps. Although a degree is not a prerequisite for all projects, the possession of a degree is definitely considered an asset by Peace Corps officials.

Meet the Highwaymen, who will appear at the Conservatory on Saturday, Feb. 9.

FROM THE EDITOR

If Parking Spaces Materialize, Mebbe So Will Freshmen...

The parking problem on campus this year is far worse than ever before, and it shows no signs of improving in the near future. Action must and will be taken on the matter sometime during the spring semester; just what course this action will take is yet to be determined.

The current problem was brought to light by a number of irate faculty members who have been forced frequently to choose between having their cars towed away as a result of parking in front of crosswalks or fire hydrants, or sprinting several blocks to classes from healthier parking spaces near the Conservatory.

Rumor has it that those in power will solve the dilemma by restricting student driving to sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. In other words, freshman driving would be eliminated. There are several strong arguments in favor of such a plan, and since I am for it 100% I'd like to present several of them.

First, if all new students—freshmen, that is—were "grounded", they would be forced to acquaint themselves with campus organizations and activities, not to mention people) which they might otherwise never notice. Not only would this help improve Pacific's extracurricular activities, but it would also assist the new student in becoming a closer member of the Pacific "family." And, through being able to identify himself with one organization, such as Pacific Theatre, the Weekly, an athletic squad, the "Y", the PSA, the radio station, etc., he would be more likely to ignore his homesickness and acquire a sense of belonging which would lead him to become a more active, aggressive, and more interested student.

Second, such a "grounding" of freshmen would prevent the weekend drain of students away from campus that occurs so regularly in freshman classes. Support of school functions—games, dances, rallies, plays, concerts—would not be lost.

Third, because freshmen would be forced to "bum" rides off of upperclassmen for trips to the laundry, movies, away games and so on, they would also be forced to get to know them better. Such a communication between frosh and upperclassmen is practically a necessity in orienting the new student for what is to come: registration and course selection as well as campus regulations, procedures, and traditions.

Fourth, it would eliminate the car problem, which was initially caused by the plague of autos brought upon us by this year's freshman class.

Prodigious congratulations are in order for the basketball team, who did something last Saturday night that even coach Van Sweet didn't think they could do: match high-rated San Jose. Maybe when we play them there on March 9 (Saturday), our score will better represent our performance.

STUDENT STATUS: NEWSPAPERS

The Echo, student newspaper of Arkansas Sate Teachers College, listed these questions in a test "any college student could pass:" "Mr. .... is a bald-headed man who can clean your house and everything that's in it. (2 points) What rock 'n' roll group played 'Charlie Brown?' (7 points) What newspaper does Clark Kent work for? ... has he any other outstanding accomplishments to his credit? (1/2 point.)"

The Tulane Hullabaloo, Tulane University, New Orleans, runs this desecration of the famous slogan used for nearly a century by the New York Times, under its nameplate: "All the news that fits, we will print."

Univ. Of Oklahoma Bans Student Cars

(ACP) — Starting this fall, student cars will be banned from the campus of the University of Oklahoma from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

THE OKLAHOMA DAILY, newspaper on the Norman, Okla., campus, said the board of regents approved the ban to alleviate congestion and provide for the safety of all students. Parking will continue to be available on campus for disabled students and for faculty and visitors.

Three Day Dead Week Begins Soon; "Not That It Matters Much Anyway!"

By CHRIS SCHOTT

What is Dead Week? The freshman student asking this question has a point. What is it? Second semester students will answer that "it's a silence period before finals." The cynical upperclassman more truthfully calls it a farce or a joke.

This semester Dead Week begins at 12:01 a.m., Sunday, the 13th, and ends at 11:59 p.m., Tuesday, the 15th. Its real purpose is to provide a few days (not actually a week) during which students have an opportunity to prepare themselves for finals. Professors supposedly make no assignments and there is a 24 hour silence which is ineffectively enforced in the dorms.

Dead Week is another of Pacific's educational institutions designed to further our scholastic standing. Unfortunately for the student, it is doubtful that the administration and the faculty have agreed on this point. Why else would the administration keep scheduling Dead Week and the faculty continue to ignore it by continuing home assignments?

Is it possible that our faculty feels their courses and finals are not difficult enough to require a few days of preparation for examinations?

Perhaps the administration and the faculty could hold a high level meeting. If so, a compromise might be to allow faculty to continue their "Week Assignments" with stipulation that they be restricted to the barest essentials. For example, many professors will form their classes on the day before Dead Week that although has only covered to chapter the final will cover through chapter 20. In this case the professor might specify certain important parts that should be while the rest can be ignored. Despite the need for comprehensive studies, it is doubtful much of those seven chapters could be assimilated anyway, especially when they are crammed between pre-final studies for or seven examinations.

So ends the bi-annual plea a "real" Dead Week!

MEN OF DISTINCTION

By CAROL BAKER

There is a special quality in "men of distinction" that sets them apart from their fellow men. For one thing, it's a quality of success, brought on by a career as straight as the lines on a ledger sheet. It is a quality of daring to do the impossible and vision far and above the outlook of the ordinary man. All of these qualities mark the man of distinction.

There are other qualities too that go into the making of a prominent man. Not only has he the vision and daring to rise above the common level in his particular profession, but he has the understanding and tact that draw people to him for good, sound judgment. When big business is brewing which takes him to Oakland, you will find his name on the reservation list of the Sage Motel, near the Mills College campus, at 4844 MacArthur Blvd., in Oakland, just 10 minutes to Oakland and 20 minutes to San Francisco. Our man of distinction knows the value of a distinctive address, knows that at the Sage Motel, he will have every convenience and courtesy, and true western hospitality, and will enjoy the pleasure of staying in a quiet atmosphere, offering free coffee bar, lounge, kitchenettes, swimming pool and television.

When you go to Oakland, whether for pleasure or business, always give yourself an address of distinction. Stay at the Sage Motel, 4844 MacArthur Blvd. — close to everything.

Panhellenic Rush Sign-Ups Today; Board Offers Rush Explanation

Preliminary rush sign-ups will be held today, Jan. 11 at 4:00; the place will be announced later. There will be an explanation of pan-hellenic and rush at the meeting, and all interested girls are urged to ask any questions they have about rush at that time. Another rush sign-up will be held Feb. 8; details of this will also be announced later.

In order to rush, a girl must be a high freshman or above and have at least a 2.2 grade point average; no other definite requirements are necessary. The period of pledging is thirteen weeks before a girl is initiated into a sorority.

Phyllis Nusz gave some advice to girls planning to rush: 1. Don't be "extra nice" to girls you know in a sorority, 2. go into rush with an open mind; don't be prejudiced and judge one sorority on apparent surface qualities without first deciding for yourself, and 3. ask not only what a sorority can do for you, but what you can do for the sorority.

The sororities on this campus are all good national sororities. Tri Delta, Delta Gamma and Kappa Theta gained their national standing during the 1959-'60 school year. Alpha Chi Omega went national during March of 1962 and Gamma Phi Beta colonized in fall 1962 and will receive their charter this spring, 1963.

Some history of the sororities on campus could be interesting

Quad Housemothers Are Honored At Teas Sun., Jan 6

Raymond housemothers were honored Sunday when Quads D and G held their housemother's teas and open houses. Both events were from two until four the afternoon of Jan. 6.

Karen Rogers, head of the social committee of Quad D planned the affair honoring the housemother, Mrs. Nuetmeier. The vice-president of Quad G, Barbara Belvens, was in charge of planning the event to honor the housemother, Mrs. Reinold.

Dean Catherine Davis, Mrs. Adkins, Mrs. Robert Burns, Dean Edward Betz and Dean Gordon Zimmerman were among those present at both occasions.

1873. Their colors are bronze, pink and blue and their badge is the anchor. Syracuse University was the founding place of Gamma Phi Beta in November of 1874. Light and dark brown are their colors and the badge is the three Greek letters surrounded by a black enamel crescent. Kappa Alpha Theta was also founded at DePauw in January of 1870. Their colors are black and gold, and the badge is kite shaped with a gold border surrounding a black enamel shield with star diamonds and a white chevron on which are the letters KAT.

These are the five sororities on the University of Pacific campus. If rushing is of interest to any girl, she should go into it with an open mind, look them all over carefully, and then decide for herself with what group of sorority girls, if any, she wishes to become affiliated.

Pfeiffer Gives Pharm School $150,000 Aid

An initial gift of $150,000 has been received by the University of the Pacific from the Gustavus and Louise Pfeiffer Research Foundation in New York to be used toward a future School of Pharmacy building, it was announced today by Dr. Robert E. Burns, university president.

A $44,000 grant for graduate fellowships was awarded earlier this year by the Pfeiffer Foundation, assisting the activation of research programs in the areas of Pharmacy, Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Physiology-Pharmacology.

Pacific's School of Pharmacy, established in 1955, is one of three schools of pharmacy in California, educating at full capacity nearly 60 percent of the manpower Pharmacy of the state.

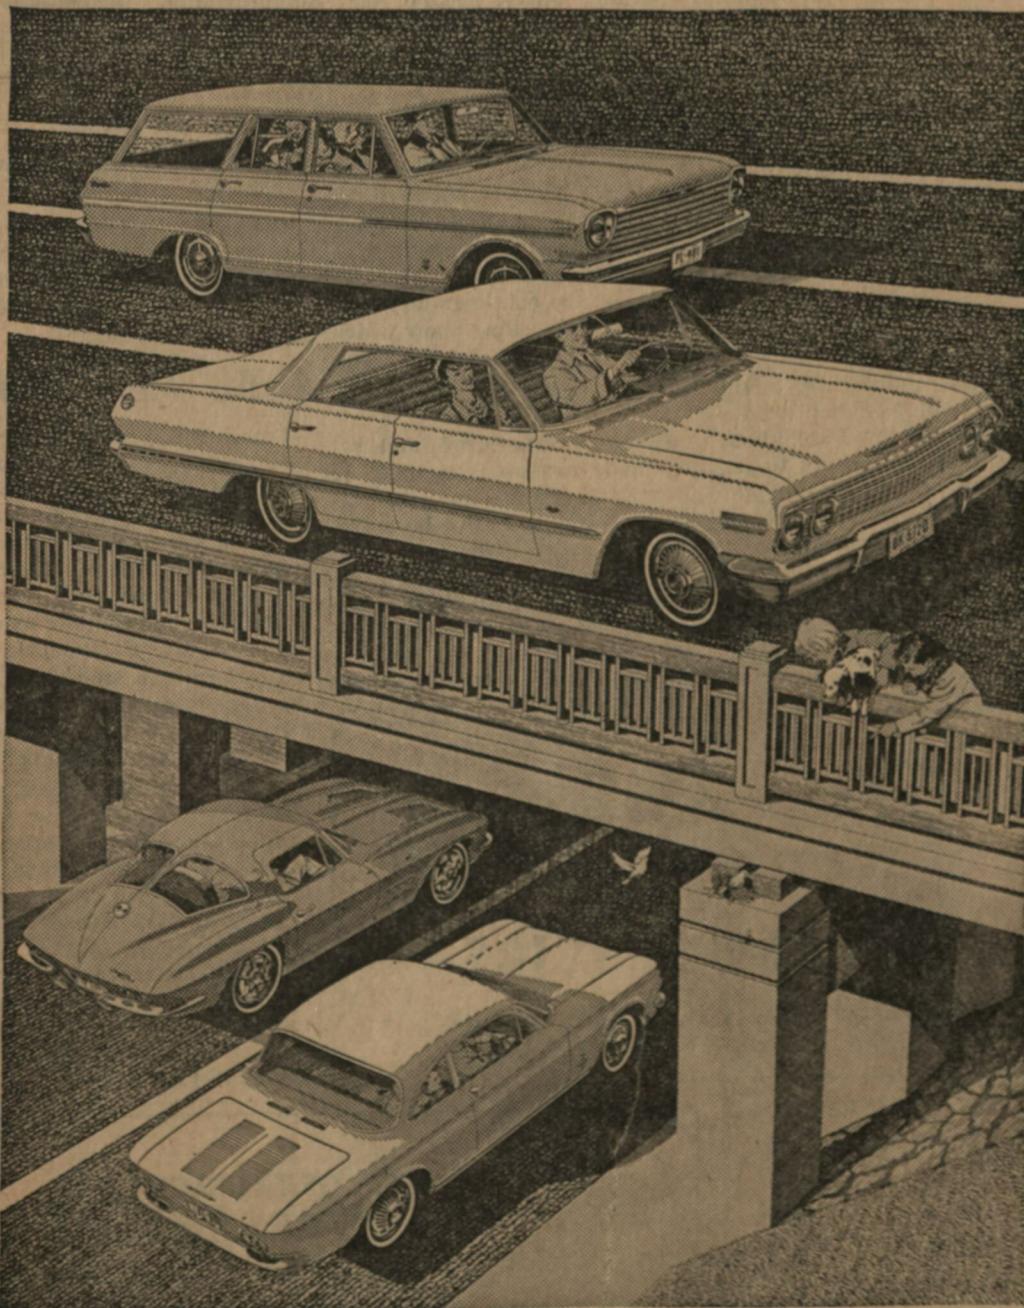

Pacific is a friendly campus but it will give to you only in proportion to what you give to it.

A wide variety of personal items are stocked for the students needs at the bookstore in the Student Union Building.

Cap Hancock and Ginny Beyer: Personalities of the Week

Personalities Of The Week

Ginny K. Beyer And Cap Hancock Distinguished As Student Leaders

An enthusiastic ham radio operator and an avid Mexican food fan have been chosen as this week's Students of the Week. They are, of course, none other than outstanding members of the Senior class, Ginny Beyer and Cap Hancock.

Ginny is much more well known on campus for her active participation in student government than she is for her hobby of ham radio operation, but she has been in communication with many parts of the world ever since she received her radio license at the age of 12. On campus, Ginny is recognized as last year's social chairman and the present vice-president of the PSA. As a speech major, she has been very active in speech activities during her three and a half years at Pacific, and has won many awards for debate and interpretive reading. Besides being president of Spurs in her sophomore year, she is presently a member of Knolens.

Ginny, who was "Miss Monterey County" in 1961, also enjoys playing golf in what little spare time she has. This semester she has been especially busy, with 20½ units. Ginny returned to her hometown of Pacific Grove for Christmas, and was married there Dec. 29 to John Beyer, last year's PSA president. After graduating at the end of this semester, she will join him in Boston, Mass., where he is now attending the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy.

Ginny believes that in order for the student government at Pacific to work, it needs more support from the students, especially at activities, such as rallies. She also feels that since the members of student government were elected by the students themselves, as their leaders, that the students should have more confidence in their ability.

It is probably no surprise to anyone that Cap Hancock is such an avid Mexican food fan (he especially likes it for breakfast), for he has lived in Mexico since he was four years old.

An English major, who has taken many political science courses stressing Latin America, Cap was elected as student affairs commissioner for this year. As commissioner, he is chairman of the honor code committee; chairman of the judicial committee, which handles all honor code violations; and chairman of the Student Board of Social Control, which handles student gripes and opinions, and all traffic problems.

According to Cap, the effort to build an honor code system at Pacific is his main concern, for he believes that an effective honor code helps students to develop themselves mentally as well as morally. This development is one of the aims of education.

Also this year, Cap is director of the language laboratories, and a counselor at Quad E. He was a member of the debate team during his first two years at Pacific, and last year served as president of the junior class.

After graduation, Cap may attend graduate school, to specialize in the Latin American studies. Going along with this plan is his present chairmanship of the International Commission, which is a brand new organization begun by John Beyer last year. It tries to develop the foreign students on campus, to help them, and to integrate them to campus life.

Vitaly interested in Student government at Pacific, Cap feels that the student government "should strive to create an awareness of national and international affairs for the students." He believes that "since students elect their representatives, the representatives should make themselves available to the students, and be as helpful as possible."

Before you know it the "September heat" will be the "Ides of March."

Success Story

Married to the former Elaine Garbolino ('60 Alpha Theta Tau) and father of one son, upon graduation from Boalt Hall (U.C., Berkeley), Jack has been working as a Legislative Intern, through a Ford Foundation grant, in the lower house of the California State Legislature in Sacramento. He is the attorney for the Assembly Judiciary Committee. Upon completion of his duties with the Assembly, Jack plans to open a law office in Sacramento and renew his efforts in Republican politics. He hopes to work for Rockefeller's election in 1964.

H. de Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco during the month of April, and the Southern California exhibition at the Municipal Art Gallery at Bardsall

ROVING REPORTER

Students Voice Opinions On Growing Campus Traffic, Parking Problems

What do you feel is the solution to the traffic and parking problem on campus? Or, do you feel there is a problem?

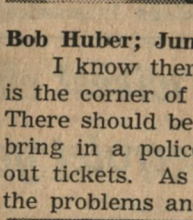

Jim Hason; Sophomore, Political Science

There is definitely a problem. All the streets running through campus run from the main street which goes through town. If all these streets didn't run from the main street, there wouldn't be such a big problem. Also, the stop signs have never been enforced. With so many cars on campus now there are problems which never existed before. The problems are working themselves out, however, with the help of the Senate and the IFC.

Janet Hunt; Sophomore; Home Economics

The best solution would be an off-campus parking lot. If a place were convenient off-campus it would eliminate on-campus parking problems.

Bob Huber; Junior; Business

I know there's a problem. The biggest one is the corner of Campus Way and Chapel Lane. There should be tighter traffic regulations, and bring in a policeman for a week or so to give out tickets. As I see it the IFC is considering the problems and ways to solve them.

Roddy McArthur; Junior; Physical Education

The parking situation is good. There is not enough room at all in Sorority Circle though. I don't think there should be stop signs on any through streets, or, on Campus Way and Chapel Lane.

Rick Gunther; Sophomore; Pharmacy

There is relatively no trouble with parking space on campus. It is sometimes hard to find a parking space around the Administration Building where classes are held. But, you can always go across the main street to the parking lot. This problem was solved in the Quads by putting a parking lot behind Quad E.

Mark Smith To Play At Conservatory On Wed.; Return Appearance At UOP

In a return appearance at UOP, Mark Smith, organist, will be featured in the graduate recital at the Conservatory on Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Smith has had a long career playing the organ. He began organ study in Seattle, majored in organ at the New England Conservatory in Boston, and received his M.A. from the Portland School of Music in Oregon. Mr. Smith has been the organist for the First Unitarian Church in San Francisco since 1954, and he has held a series of recitals there. He toured Europe from 1960-1961, where he studied under Pierre Cochereau, organist of Notre-Dame-de-Paris.

In his recital at UOP, Smith will include selections from Louis Marchand, Bach, Henk Badings, and Franz Liszt.

Dean J. Russell Bodley, former head yell leader of Pacific, is Prof. of the Week

UOP Songwriter, Dean Of Music Chosen Professor Of The Week

Pacific's favorite songwriter, the composer of "Come On You Hungry Tigers," and "Get The Old Cheers Ringing," and Dean of the Conservatory of Music, J. Russell Bodley, has been chosen as the Professor of the Week. For over 40 years Dean Bodley has devoted much of his time, energy, and spirit to Pacific. He has watched the school grow from a small college in San Jose to a booming University in Stockton.

YELL LEADER

As a student at Pacific, he was head yell leader, football player, and charter member of the Block P Society. As a professor he has continued to serve to his fullest capacity. He believes that there is an "honesty and integrity about Pacific and a warmth which pervades both students and faculty." It is his desire to make people happy through music, and to give people insight into the beauty of life around them.

Dr. Bodley received his bachelor's degree in Music and Arts from Pacific, and his master's in music composition from the Eastman School of Music. In 1927 he and his wife, a former pupil, went to Paris, where he studied under the famous composition teacher, Nadia Boulanger. An honorary doctor's degree in music was awarded to him last summer by the University of Puget Sound in Washington.

40 YEARS

Beginning at the San Jose campus in 1923, Dr. Bodley has taught music composition and theory at Pacific for nearly 40 years. Since 1934, when he took over direction of the A Cappella Choir, he has seen many changes take place. The size of the choir has grown from 23 to 50 members, and choir tours, which once lasted only one weekend, have now been lengthened to 11-day international tours.

Simplicity is the keynote of Dean Bodley's direction. He believes that all of the audience's attention should be focused on the choir, and not on the director. Therefore, the movements of his hands are not grandiose, but concise. Members of the choir state that they can tell what he wants them to do by merely watching the expression on his face.

AVID SPORTSMAN

Although much of his life is devoted to music, Dr. Bodley finds time for many other interests. He is an avid sportsman, and enjoys fishing, golf, bowling, and tennis. He loves dogs, and even taught one dog, a German shepherd, to recognize the unusual C-diminish 7 chord progression.

Dr. Bodley has written several articles for music journals, and is president of the California Music Executives, a group of deans, directors, and heads of college music departments.

MSM To Sponsor Indian Work Camp

The University of Pacific Methodist Student Movement (MSM) is sponsoring a work camp during semester break at an Indian reservation near Fresno, according to Publicity Chairman, Craig Hathaway. The reservation is for Mono Indians.

The work will consist of finishing the building of a church on the reservation, using materials that will be provided by the people of the reservation themselves. Besides working on the church, students will have a chance to participate in and lead worship services with the people of the reservation, as well as joining with the people in fellowship.

All students wishing to participate in this work camp experience—the need is especially great for boys—should attend the regular Tuesday evening MSM dinner at Covell Hall at 6 P.M., or leave their names at the chapel office.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: BOB DICIOCCIO

Bob DiCioccio (B.S.M.E., 1956) handles microwave transmission projects for Pacific Telephone in San Diego. Bob's job is to select and test sites, prepare plans and specs, obtain cost estimates, let bids, and supervise construction and installation of equipment. An important responsibility for a man with the company less than a year.

Bob proved his engineering ability early when he solved

a tough problem concerning spring relay stress tension. A report of his findings won praise for its thoroughness and sound recommendations.

Bob DiCioccio and other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.

Snap Out Of It Pacific Athletes— If It's Not Too Late Already

By JUD ROBINSON

This will be the last column until after Finals Week, when a new sports editor will take over the helm. I have been attending UOP for three and a half years and never have I seen such apathy in Pacific's athletics. When I was a freshman, the athletics were considered to be the upper echelon and the students were expected to turn out and support them win, lose or draw.

As the seasons progressed, the athletes produced with moderate success and always seemed to be riding along without too much effort. The students accepted this fact and either played the part of the follower or just attended the athletic events on campus as part of their well deserved entertainment. If Pacific lost, that seemed to be just too bad; but as time progressed the students who cared followed all the sports more critically. As things stand today, Pacific students are beginning to see the light and are no longer satisfied with half-hearted efforts and moderate success.

PROBLEM OF SUCCESS

Which brings me to my next point, success. In my years here, Pacific teams have not enjoyed the success that the past teams have had. An example of the team I would have liked to see was the 1949 undefeated, untied, and undefeated eleven. This year's football team had a chance to perform in that category, but, as usual, they let up in the games they should have won (San Jose State) and followed suit by dropping the last three straight, to end up with a 5 and 5 record. It seems that some of the players developed extreme overconfidence and the opposition saw this when they played Pacific. They just wanted to win a little bit more than we did and proceeded to pick up all the marbles.

RAGS TO RICHES
You cannot say that Pacific cannot be successful, because they can . . . if they want to. An example of rags to riches success was shown by the undefeated season of the number-one-ranked Southern California Trojans. In 1961 they won four games, lost four games and tied one. This year they won all their games plus the Rose Bowl.

Why? First of all they believed in their coaching staff and did not blame their errors upon the coaching staff. Secondly, they believed in themselves and helped each other instead of worrying about individuals. If the other guy could do a better job, they accepted this fact and tried to improve the team by going along with this situation.

As for training and its rules, anyone can tell you that it is a matter of pride and honor to accept them and abide by them during the season. After all, when you reach college you are expected to GROW UP and act like MEN, rather than delinquent children.

On the other hand, however, it is the coaching staff's responsibility to instill a discipline and organization that provides spirit and an attitude of success. Time is important and using it to the utmost pays off in success. However, cooperation is needed to achieve this goal. Without it, you might as well forget it.

It is high time for the Pacific students to wake up and realize, along with the administration and athletic department, what has to be done to produce successful athletic teams here at the University of the Pacific. Hanging the personnel in effigy isn't going to solve the problem at all, except for maybe the satisfaction of emotional stress. Support helps, spirit helps; but these are just some of the minor spurs that are needed.

P.E. Majors Attend First Dress Dinner
Last Wednesday, Jan. 9, a dress dinner was held for all women P.E. majors. The dinner was the first opportunity for new majors, both freshmen and transfer students, to meet formally with other P.E. majors. Speaker of the evening was Mr. Irvin Faria, gymnastics coach from Sacramento State College. He spoke on the growing interest in women's gymnastics at the international level and also the U.S. as compared to other countries.

Donkey Ball

The animals are specially trained for "donkey basketball" at the Burro Farm, and were first introduced to Pacific last year when Stagg High School's coaches challenged UOP's football team.

The whole evening's events are sponsored by Block "P" Society, and admission is $1.00 for adults, and 50c for children.

Tigers Lose Heartbreaker To San Jose State 41-42; Last Second Of Overtime Tells Tale

The UOP Tiger's lost 42-41 to San Jose State overtime at Stockton's Civic Auditorium Saturday night in their WCAC opener. The Tigers of UOP led all the way in the first half except for a short 9-8 lead the Spartans held for 24 seconds. The Tigers opened up a 25-20 lead at the half.

The Spartans didn't tie the game until 4:41 was left in the game.

Scheel was high point man for the Tigers and Eddie Sims lead the Spartans.

The Spartans were behind by one with a second left in the overtime period when John Scheel came down on Sim's back. Sim was unable to continue and Robertson was sent in to shoot the ball, and one situation. The big forward put both tries through the hoop to give the Spartans the win.

In a preliminary game the Spartan frosh ran away from UOP's junior varsity to score a 74-37 win.

Pacific needs to sort out the deadwood and provide their teams with new life. The athletes should be producing 100% all of the time. I am tired of seeing Pacific lose to teams they should have beaten. One of the main causes is "letting up" on the opponent after we have him on the run. Alameda State was an example of this.

Let's not kid ourselves; Pacific can and should have successful athletic teams; but we don't. The lack of teamwork lately has been witnessed by every student upon this campus at one time or another.

It seems to be that when the basketball team wants to come up with a good effort they can. (Fresno State 100-82) But when they do not feel like it, they don't. (Pepperdine beat us in the WCAC Tournament 101-71) Cliques are ruining our teamwork and someone had better see the light before it is too late.

It is up to the ATHLETE to produce his talent to the best of his ability, whether it be the first-stringer, or last person on the bench. Students should realize this and wake up to the fact that lately the Pacific athlete hasn't been producing it!

Goodbye, and thanks for your interest.

Coed's Midnight Walk; A Short, Wet Story

One of the big fads at Pacific last Spring was the conducting of water balloon fights. Although such battles, due to the very nature of water balloons, are obviously better than a full scale fist fight, it might be interesting to note a squib from the Brigham Young newspaper.

"A Brigham Young University coed spent four days in the student health center for treatment of an eye injury sustained when she was struck by an object as she walked near a dormitory at midnight.

"The object hit her with such force that she fell to the ground. She was quoted as saying: "It was apparently a water balloon because it got me wet."

In addition to the Invitational, the Pacific debate team will again participate in the National Pi Kappa Delta tournament which it has won for three years in a row. The meeting of this tournament, which is held at the University of Southern Illinois, is the largest collegiate gathering of college debate teams in the U.S. Approximately 160 colleges enter this tournament.

The Highwaymen, a group of music is making them internationally famous, hold the distinction of hitting the show business jackpot with their very first recording. "Michael," a reworking of the old spiritual, sold over 1,000,000 records.

The Highwaymen, honor graduates of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, in June of 1962, followed their initial record with two highly successful albums, "The Highwaymen" and "Standing Room Only." Their third offering, "Encore," has just been released by United Artists Records.

Just a short time after graduation, the group made its television debut with guest appearances on two top shows within one week — The Ed Sullivan Show and the "Tonight" Show.

They will appear on campus Saturday, February 9. Tickets are available at the PSA office and Miracle Music.

Rather than confining themselves to the usual three guitars, banjo, and bass so familiar to followers of the folk music renaissance, the group augments its wide range of vocal interpretations with a variety of precise instrumental techniques. During a concert, The Highway may use a score of instruments, ranging from the German Baroque recorder to the South American charango.

Coupled with a skill, both individual and collective, in the languages and dialects of the peoples of the world, The Highwaymen bring international sophistication to each song in their repertoire. Their ability to communicate an enthusiasm for the songs of the world in such highly en-
