Dear Cousin Ray,

I should have written you long ago when Watson's Doctor came. I have been stupefied with work. I'm sorry to see that McHowie is to leave us so soon. He was a few weeks at the house, then tried bachelor hall, made a failure of house-keeping, gave up hoping of being a Fruit-raiser & went to a Martinez hotel, where he has been waiting for a remittance. The cold part of winter is over, Almond & apricot trees in bloom, still he means to try Denver, Colorado. He is looking pretty well, at present.

I hope to get another book out next fall.

With cordial regards
for all the family
I am ever Yours
John Muir
