LOOMIS APPOINTED MARDI GRAS HEAD

April 25 Is Date Set For Big Function of Spring

Dick Loomis having been appointed Head of Pacific's 1941 Mardi Gras, preparations for the 6th annual costume ball are already underway, and the date has been set for April 25.

"Without doubt, the Mardi Gras in past years has attained a higher prestige than all other social functions on the campus," states Loomis. "They have set a mighty high standard for this year's committee to shoot at, but from tentative plans, we can't miss having the greatest Mardi Gras yet."

TRADITIONAL

As of tradition, the Mardi Gras has been carried from Europe to New Orleans, and for the past five years, to Pacific's own campus. The Mardi Gras is a carnival dance on a big scale. It features a big name band, a radio broadcast over a large network, prizes for costumes, colorful decorations and refreshments—and it is climaxed with the crowning of the queen, a queen chosen by secret ballot from candidates sponsored by sororities and other women's groups on the campus.

The name of her royal highness is kept secret until the last moment, adding to the zest and excitement of the evening. Between 11 and 12 p. m., the queen is escorted to the auditorium stage, where she is crowned by the president of the P. S. A.

COMMITTEES

Following his appointment by President Bill Biddick, Dick Loomis has in turn appointed his important committees. Mardi Gras decorations have always been outstanding and will continue to be so this year with Dick Stebbins heading the decorations committee. The queen committee will be made up of Aaron Rempel, Bob Monagan and Gene Rotsch, while Tom Bowe will head the publicity department.

Jim Ross, in charge of the musical part of the Mardi Gras, has already started contacting nationally known dance orchestras. Costumes, imported from San Francisco for celebrants who are not able to improvise their own, will be available. Melba Jean Lloyd has charge of this committee. Bettie Meyer and Sam Chaney are co-chairmen of the bid committee, and Jean Ferguson will arrange for chaperones.

PENNY-PINCHER

Finance? One of Mr. Ritter's most capable business administration majors, Tony Ficovich, will watch the pennies.

The Mardi Gras is another incentive to buy a PSA card, for admission to the dance will be by student body card only. The more cards sold, the bigger the dance, the better the orchestra, and the more the dancers.

OBITUARY OF WEEKLY

On accounts we poor souls on the WEEKLY have to take finals and register, too, this will be the last issue of the WEEKLY for two weeks.

The next issue of the paper will be in PSA card holders hands on Valentine's Day, February 14.

GRAS HEAD

DICK LOOMIS has been chosen by P. S. A. prexy, Bill Biddick, to head activities for Pacific's annual Mardi Gras, to be held this year on April 25.

Miss Ward Offers New Course

Many students of Pacific will be happy to hear of the announcement which Miss Ward of the art department made today.

"Beginning this coming semester," she said, "a course in silk-screen stencil will be offered from 8:55 to 11:40, every Monday and Wednesday. Silk-screen is much used in textiles, poster work and in all forms of advertising."

"And not only that," she continued, "but the course in leather tooling and bookbinding, which was left off the schedule last semester, will be reinstated on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:00 to 11:40. I would like to encourage any student who is interested in crafts work to take it. He need not be an art major to do so."

DR. KNOLES WILL PREACH

Dr. Tully C. Knoles will preach at the first Methodist Church at Sacramento on Sunday morning, and at the Slide Memorial Church in San Francisco at 2:30 on Monday afternoon.

On Wednesday evening he will appear at the public forum discussion in Ukiah. Last Wednesday evening he spoke at the first Baptist Church in Oakland on the Flight of Protestantism.

Springtime "Birds" Enroll Now

Stockton Junior College is now receiving applications for Civil Aeronautics flight training for the spring semester opening February 3, President Dwayne Orton announces. College officials have been notified that a quota of 40 new beginning flyers has been awarded and that recommendations have been forwarded to Washington for a quota of 20 advanced trainees. Physical examinations are now being given and prospective flyers should file their applications with Mr. Roscoe Bancroft, aviation instructor, or Mr. A. T. Baldwin, C. A. A. coordinator.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of 19 and 26. Applicant who are undergraduates, still in college, must be fully matriculated for a degree and must have satisfactorily completed at least one full year of accredited college work or 24 semester units. Those who are no longer enrolled in college must have satisfactory completed at least two full years of accredited college work. If they are under 21 years of age, they must have written consent from parent or legal guardian.

All aviation courses leading to both the private pilot's license and the commercial license have been scheduled for evenings for the second semester. These courses will meet between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m.

"CHUCK" WOOD TO STUDY VOICE IN N. Y.

Charles "Chuck" Wood, noted tenor in the College of the Pacific A Cappella Choir and member of Rho Lambda Phi, will leave for New York to study voice immediately after final week.

Giovanni Zenatello, teacher of such internationally known operatic stars and Nino Martini, Lily Pons and Bruna Castagna, will instruct Mr. Wood.

Naranjado Drive On

The Naranjado sales campaign got under way yesterday and is to continue throughout today. Set aside during final week, the campaign will be taken up again with the start of the new semester.

Arrangements for the purchase of the yearbook may be made in the main hall of the Administration Building all day today. As a special offer to students who wish to reserve a Naranjado, but have not the ready cash, Tom Bowe, business manager of the book, has made the following arrangements.

1. Anyone with a senior college account in the Comptroller's Office may have the price of the book put down on his bill.

2. Deferred payments may be made through the business manager or through the hall salesmen.

Band Frolic, Full Swing Tonight

Rhizomia, Phi Mu, Tau Kappa,
Omega Phi, Epsilon in Finals

Tonight's the last night of the thirteenth annual Band Frolic, so come one come all; it's good stuff.

In the opinion of the judges, Mrs. T. E. Connolly, Virginia Short, DeMarcus Brown, Dean Corson and Alden Smith, the five best skits presented at the Tuesday performance, and to be skited tonight, were Ah, Wilderness, Rho Lambda Phi; The Barber of Seville or Clippings from Figaro's Life, Phi Mu Alpha; and Life in a Sorority or Epsilon Bombs, Epsilon Lambda Sigma.

MARCH OF DIMS DRIVE ON

The annual March of Dimes is now in progress and will be so until January 30.

BENEFITS

Pacificites may well realize the benefits that are derived through the annual drive when they remember Doris Marsh. Miss Marsh was sent to a Warm Springs last year for treatment and as a consequence is able to resume her studies at Pacific next semester.

Your contribution will help. There are thousands of Doris Marshes throughout the country.

Prexy Bill Biddick is in charge of the campus campaign, sponsored by the Stockton Infantile Paralysis committee, and is aided by Eleanor Powell, in charge of publicity; Francis Branstad, buttons, and Miss Margaret Campbell, of S. C. A. renown, in charge of the wishing wells.

BUTTONS

The March of Dime Buttons are available for the small sum of ten cents, the tenth part of a dollar. Wishing wells are located at convenient spots about the campus and any sum will be greatly appreciated. Memberships in the drive are available for one dollar. Do your bit.

POSERS PICK PROOFS

Juniors and seniors not only responded over four hundred strong to being snapped for portraits in the yearbook, but photographer Bob Bastian took forty-five more students' pictures than are registered in the College of Pacific as juniors or seniors! Certainly this yearbook promises to have the largest representation of College of Pacific students.

Proofs will be handed out in the Administration Building next Tuesday, and selection is to be made of the favorite pose.

Fenix' Class Goes On Excursion

The business management class of Robert Fenix spends much of its time getting angles on the practical side of business. Throughout the year they take trips to places of business in Stockton. Last Wednesday they made a very interesting survey of the Port of Stockton.

FIBREBOARD

They visited the Fibreboard Products Incorporated buildings and learned their detailed functions from the carefully instructed guides. The main products of the company were discussed and the business problems that come up in such an establishment were pointed out.

They went also to the Port of Stockton where they visited the transit sheds and saw merchandise on the move from field to factory. At the time the dock hands were loading the freighter Matthew Luckenbach with sugar from the San Joaquin Valley. The load was bound for eastern ports along the Atlantic Seaboard.

MACHINES

Next they viewed the great cotton compresses that stand near the port. These complicated machines were pressing cotton to be sent to the Atlantic coast.

• NO UTOPIA PROMISED

Crackpot schemes occasionally appear which purport to solve all problems and establish a Utopia for the world or some portion of it. Many suggestions bordering on the hopeless and foolish have been made to accomplish the Utopian for our Pacific Student Association. Such a blueprint for perfection obviously does not exist, but many minor difficulties would disappear and most major ones diminish, if a single condition which now exists were to be altered.

If all the students who manage to get hold of the WEEKLY read the suggestion to be offered, and accepted it, the PSA would be able to bring seven name bands to the campus this spring, or give away Naranjados, or establish a baseball team, or sponsor countless rallies with featured outside entertainment. Such suggestions are without limit, and they all depend on a single mass action, the membership of all students on the campus in the campus student organization.

The individual will agree that he would buy a card if this ideal student association existed. He would join if all others joined, but he doubts that they will. This mass inertia, if it affected a large enough portion of the students, could blight the entire extra-curricular life of the campus and destroy the program which gives our dual organization its distinctiveness. It is seemingly inconceivable that a persistent minority of students will refuse to participate in and support a program which influenced their decision to come to this campus and which in return will enhance the value of whatever education or degree they receive from our schools.

These words are not a plea for membership based on the financial value of each card. That monetary return has been stressed again and again. Suffice it to say that each membership in actual exchange value for admissions, subscriptions and the like, is worth over $15 exclusive of the right of participation in any or all of the activities of the PSA. But the idea which gives structure to this editorial is the interdependence of the schools and the student structure, the importance of the student-body in determining the character of the school.

The new semester again puts the challenge squarely up to the individual. The Pacific Student Association is not a divine institution, nor even a philanthropic one. Its foundation is in individual student support and only you who read this can give it that support.

TIGER RAG

Mr. A. C. Gerould, librarian
College of the Pacific
Stockton, Calif.

Dear Mr. Gerould,

During my year and a half at Pacific, I have attempted to find a place to study in quiet. I spent my first year studying alternately in the library upstairs and in some vacant room in the Ad. building. The noise in the library was sufficient to discourage any concentration on my part. I think that most of the students who do wish to really study in the library will agree with me in that respect.

At the first of the semester, I obtained a card to use the downstairs room of the library for study. I presumed it would be quiet there. I found, quite to the contrary, that my presumption was wrong. Senior college students are supposed to have enough social intelligence to take into consideration the feelings of others about them. If the downstairs study serves as a criterion, then those students should be taught a little more etiquette than they already possess.

The point is this, when three or four students get together and have a bull session in the basement of the library, they make it difficult and unpleasant for everyone concerned, on their side of the building. If those same students made that much noise upstairs they would be politely told to leave. Why is it they get away with it downstairs?

I always believed that those students who work in the library should cooperate in maintaining quiet when they were using the building for study, as they should understand the problem best. However, it has become strikingly obvious that it is those very students who create the most noise.

I would like to know why it is that nothing has or is being done to make and keep the downstairs of the library conducive to good study. I am not a grouch, but this unnecessary situation has annoyed me enough during this semester to send in this complaint, with

RUG CUTTINGS

By Sapiro

By HERM SAPIRO

The motion picture industry is finally coming around to the realization that name bands are box office attractions. In the past few months, the bands of Bob Crosby, Tommy Dorsey, Artie Shaw, and Kay Kayser have been featured in the flickers, and there are lots more bands due to cash in on the boom.

Listen in on KPO almost any day at 3:00 p. m. and grab yourself an earful of the new Charlie Spivak combo. This bunch is definitely not the best of the air today, but we admire their ability to put out fairly listenable programs in the face of the lousy tunes they are forced to play. Spivak's gang gets around the ASCAP ban by featuring a lot of tunes written by members of the orchestra, and some of them aren't bad. They are mostly riff tunes (one phrase repeated until exhaustion sets in), but at least the change from "There I Go," and "I Hear a Rhapsody" is welcome. In our estimation, the best of the Spivak tunes is "Hey, Sit Down, Bud."

SPIVAK'S TECHNIQUE

Spivak is a little guy, who, at one time or another, has played lead trumpet for almost every big name leader. He has a pleasing personality and is evidently well liked by his musicians. Last, but not least, Charlie really plays a mess of horn, and displays a beautiful tone coupled with astonishing range and technique.

We just can't figure what the Camel Caravan is coming to. After hiring some of the finest swing crews for years, the Camels decided on Xavier Cugat to take over. Now, we'll grant that Cugat has the best South American arrangements in the game, but a whole program of that stuff is, to borrow a Bodley favorite, like a double chocolate sundae with molasses on it. Surely, there are enough fine swing combos to satisfy the cigarette manufacturers. Jimmy Dorsey and Glenn Miller

BREED'S CONTEMPS

By ALLEN BREED

Last Monday something happened that ten years ago no one would have dreamed could or would take place in this democratic nation of ours. A man was inaugurated for a third time to hold the highest chair in the government of the U. S. A. Last week I raised the question of just what our future national defense program should be. In his inauguration speech Pres. Roosevelt answered the question that was in every one's mind by telling the thousands that listened to him that "the preservation of the spirit and faith of the nation does, and will furnish the highest justification for every sacrifice that we may make in the cause of national defense. In the face of great perils never before encountered, our strong purpose is to protect and to perpetuate the integrity of democracy."

CHALLENGE

"To those of us here in America the words are a challenge to make every sacrifice possible for our own continued safety. To those so-called 'enslaved' groups in Europe, our President's words were as a life saver to a drowning man. Now the problem is just how this aid is going to be given to England. Much opposition to the Lease-Lend Bill has arisen before the House Foreign Affairs Committee and was climaxed by Joseph P. Kennedy, the retiring ambassador to London, who declared he was against the bill in its present form. The general opposition to the bill seems to be that too much power is being placed in the hands of the President.

CONFAB

But while our representatives were and are deciding our future foreign policy, another meeting of distinguished gentlemen was being held "some place" in Europe. The gentlemen were Hitler and Mussolini, the occasion, no one knows—and the outcome was displayed only in a communique which tells us that the meeting "came off in a spirit of heartfelt friendship." I used to play a game called "cops and robbers" and the only time the leaders of one side meet together was when something wasn't going quite right. The only logical reason why the two dictators came together was because something had gone wrong in their plans. One can picture the looks of frustration on the respective men as they asked each other why their plans had failed to materialize into success. One must not think this period of perplexity on the part of the dictators necessarily represents the coming of their downfall. But rather the world should be even more alert for their next move. One thing is certain though, and that is the Nazi and Fascist states must look forward and start planning for a third winter unless complete victory is in their hands this summer.

RESPECT

America always has been known for its lawlessness, and it was exemplified in the action of two U. S. sailors who wanted to play hero. The occasion took place in San Francisco when a large crowd gathered around the German consulate where according to all the treaties, and recognized by international law, the German consul had rightfully raised the German Reich flag over his office. The two sailors dressed in civilian clothes climbed ten stories and cut the flag down. Disregarding the breach of international relations caused by such childish action, the part that hurts is that during a year and a half of war in Europe the British emblem has been untouched in Berlin, Germany. The U. S. flag has always been given complete respect by Germany, and it is only fair that as long as we continue relations with a foreign country we should give their flag that same respect.

After 38 years in public life, John N. Garner administered the oath of office to Vice-Pres Wallace, and then retired not only from the present administration, but from all public life. For many years he had served in Texas, then in Congress and he has just concluded two terms as Vice-President. He will be missed not only for his clear cut viewpoints on national and international subjects, but because the Texan was just well-liked.

Gene Harter Heads P.S.A. Drive

Student Body Cards On Sale, Starting Feb. 3

The sale of Pacific Student Association Cards will officially begin Monday, February 3, and will continue throughout the week. In contrast to the usual campaign conducted by the Ex-Committee, a special sub-committee, headed by Gene Harter will be in charge of sales this semester.

GALS BUSY

Throughout the first week of school, you will see the pretty co-eds of the school selling from a desk in the main hall of the Ad building. The girls' living groups will cooperate and each living quarter will take care of sales for one day.

A new system of individual salesman will be inaugurated this semester under the direction of James Johnstone. This will give those students who would like to receive a free card a chance to try their hand at selling. All students wishing to act as salesmen should file their applications in the information office.

WORK AVAILABLE

For those who desire to participate in the regular PSA work program, blanks are available at the Dean's office and should be filed by 5 o'clock this afternoon.

As other features of the card drive, Doug Powell's Rally Committee presented a student-body card rally in Thursday's assembly. Also the campus will be gaily festooned with PSA posters reminding the students to purchase their cards early.

SOCIAL END

Jean Strong is working on preparations for a dance the first week-end of school, with a theme centering around PSA card purchases. Admission to the dance will be secured by a special program in the form of a student body card receipt.

During the first week of school, the Ex-Committee will keep its office open for students desiring to secure their permanent cards. These cards, it is promised by the Committee will bring out something new in student body card designs.

Archite Mothers Plan Party

Archania house will be the scene of a festive dessert bridge party at 1:30 in the afternoon, Saturday, January 25. The Mothers Club has planned for individual tables so that each table may play as it pleases.

Mrs. J. F. Zeigler is general chairman for the occasion. She has planned for Miss Mae Marrow to sing during the afternoon. Serving on the reservation committee are Mrs. J. F. Blinn, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. J. F. Wilson, and Mrs. J. F. Zeigler. Other details have been taken care of by Mrs. Jeanette Rose, music; Mrs. B. Learned, refreshments; Mrs. David Smith, publicity; Mrs. R. G. James, prizes; Mrs. J. F. Blinn, decorations.

WHY WE GO TO COLLEGE

Part of the hilarity of the BAND FROLIC has been preserved for posterity in these four pictures taken at the initial performance last Tuesday night.

Sales Class Visits S. F. Stores

Members of the sales practice class and their instructor, Kathleen L. Seagraves, made a tour of some of the representative retail stores in San Francisco last Friday.

At the Emporium they were shown "behind the scenes," given explanations of store organization and policy, and were guests of The Emporium at luncheon. At Roos Brothers, Ransohoffs, and Bullock and Jones, they were also given generous attention.

The group concluded the day with visits to Nelly Gaffney, Inc., Maison Mendessolle, and I. Magnin and Co., whose store displays and store layout were studied.

STAGE- STRUCK

By HUNI

This column's over
It's all through;
What's in here been said
Has all been true.

In other words, after sixteen weeks of reviewing the Little Theatre (why, we'll never know), this shall be the last column of Huni. Less news and more gossip seems to accumulate between the cracks of the stake boards, so the latter might as well go unsaid.

If the advice of im Kiefty were followed a good-bye speech would be quoted, but as quotes are only repetitions, we shall just say that until a better column is written, this one shall remain unwritten.

Congratulations and HUNI-cakes to the four new members of Theta Alpha Phi—the honorary dramatic society—ane O'Connor, Bill Ramsey, Lillian Kahan, and Dr. McCall.

QUESTION

A word to the wise: Can the Dr. really cackle like a hen laying an egg? Or does he save that ability just for his classes only?

Remark of the Week: "Who set this ancient quarrel new abroad?" said in seventeen-eleven different octaves.

Is it true that Clarabel Coffman, Max Gobel and Herm

Spindt have a date with TOVARICH?

Mars seems to have come to Pacific's Little Theatre, for all in the cast of ROMEO AND JULIET are spending their leisure time practicing the dangerous sport of fencing. During rehearsals, the Green Room resounds and echos and then resounds again with the sound of clashing blades. Whose eye will be the first to go?

The Year in Summary through the Eyes of Youknowwho:

The first month found an irate turbaned woman—who finally lost her voice, regained it again and turned in a marvelous performance in the seasonal play, END OF SUMMER.

SOLVE PROBLEMS

The second month found the student directors running around in circles trying to solve technical problems for their studio Theatre productions, which they did.

The third month found Jack Holmes losing and gaining weight; ditto with Tony, the Romeo, and his femme friends; unquotable quotes dropping from the mouths of (not babes) but directors.

The fourth month was cluttered up with La Tulla and her cast.

ROMEO COMING

And the fifth month is now rounding out with rehearsals for ROMEO AND JULIET. And will that be something!!!

Will the actors have to go some to beat the Band Frolic actors? No, I don't think so.

So, until the time when the Theatre can start laughing at itself once again, let them read Tolstoi; and as for me, I gotta lab.

Mother's Club Hears Reading

Members of Alpha Theta Tau's Mother's Club met last Tuesday afternoon for their regular meeting at the sorority house. Mrs. Bishop, president of the club, presided over the meeting, which was followed by a reading of William Saroyan's book, "My Name Is Aram," by Mrs. Fred Ellis. Serving of refreshments concluded the afternoon.

COLLEGIANA

By Adele Scoble

KOPY KAT

A $360,000 appropriation for a new Fresno State College gymnasium is being sought by Hugh M. Burns, Fresno assemblyman. The request will be included in a "little budget bill" of $5,000,000 for construction work at the seven state colleges, which will be presented by a group of legislators . . . Can it be that WE set the mode for THEM, by having a new gym built on our dear 'ole almy mammy—they expect Burns to help them as BURNING helped us!

BONERS!

Eight students from the University of Oklahoma, who were broke forged a note to the manager of a local theater saying they were students at the Oklahoma school for the deaf and dumb, and could they be admitted to the theater free of charge. He let them in. All would have been well, but they had to laugh at the picture. He threw them out—Chinookian.

BLACKOUT!

"Lights out," might have been the sharp command of the dorm prexy on Saint Mary's campus last week, but it wasn't. Though far removed from Europe's battlefield, said academic city had its blackout when the cable supplying power to the dormitories shorted, cutting off all electricity for those who inhabited the campus prior to the opening of the semester. . . By the amount of FUSS raised, we can only guess that the Gaels are either 'fraid of the dark or they don't like being in it ALONE!

Dear Sir:

In the first place I want to thank you for taking the trouble to write me on this important subject. It is one that has worried me constantly since I took up my duties here two years ago. I could only wish that you had signed your name to your letter so that we might have had the chance to talk the matter over together.

Part of the trouble with the library is, I will admit, mine. I am kept pretty busy in my office and I am not in the reading room and downstairs enough to be really aware, perhaps, of what is going on. But part of the fault lies with the student body itself. You have a student government; you have a student affairs committee. And evidently there are some people who really want it quiet in the library.

It would be possible of course

Summer Resident Profs Announced

Five-week Session Begins June 23;
Varied Curriculum Is Offered

The most comprehensive curriculum ever offered at College of Pacific's Summer Sessions, mark the plans to be executed by the administration in its 16th annual short session beginning June 23. With each class period lengthened to meet the time requirements, courses will be offered to embrace practically all departments of both the College and the Conservatory of Music.

Students of all phases of theatrical arts will join together to put forth three productions on Pacific's three stages for the entertainment of the community of Stockton and the Summer Session students.

The Summer Conservatory also offers an extensive curriculum, including a course for supervisors and teachers of public schools in order to acquaint them with recent developments in teaching methods and materials.

ADVANCED COURSES

There are also advanced courses in piano, organ and voice—designed for public performers who wish to strengthen individual performing ability. There will be theory courses ranging from non-professional standard to highly specialized upper division courses, in the summer conservatory this season.

A list of 26 resident instructors will offer courses in the department of ancient languages, botany, chemistry, economics and sociology, education and psychology, English, graphic arts, geology, history and political science, modern languages, music, physical education, physical science and speech.

Jean Strong Heads PSA Dance

The executive committee at their meeting last Wednesday night appointed Jean Strong to be in charge of the P. S. A. dance to be held on February 7th. This will be the first social affair of the new semester and only those who have purchased their spring semester P. S. A. cards will be admitted to the dance.

It was decided to unofficially sell the March of Dimes buttons on the campus. Buy your button from any member of the executive committee.

Chairman Dick Loomis submitted a tentative budget for the Mardi Gras. It will be considered further when more of the big name bands available have been contacted.

In the future the Board of Athletic control will handle the buying of both the freshman and sophomore sweaters. This will take much responsibility from the heads of the respective classes and leave the matter to the more experienced hands of the Athletic Board.

George Washington university is starting a $950,000 auditorium. Prof. C. B. Farrington is in his fortieth year as a faculty member of Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, Texas.

*ALPHA THETA'S PRESIDENT IS FRAN BRANSTAD

Members of Alpha Theta Tau, last night, witnessed the impressive ceremony of installing the president for the coming semester, Frances Branstad. Fran has been a member of the house for three years, having held the responsible position of house manager and vice president.

She will be assisted next semester by Lois Fenstermacher, vice-president; Virginia Wirth, recording secretary; Barbara Gibbons, corresponding secretary, and Jane Grey, treasurer.

Other officers are Jackie Parker, social chairman; Fran Hull, chaplain; Leslie Knoles, reporter; Nickie Ficovich, sergeant at arms; Alice Boyer, custodian; Ann Hodgkins, historian; Barbara McKenzie, musician; Jean Strong, rush chairman.

Joyce Wiggins Will Be Mu Zeta Prexy

Miss Joyce Wiggins is the newly elected president of Mu Zeta Rho, succeeding Miss Janice Morrill. The election of officers was held at the regular meeting on January 17. Other officers elected were Phyllis Grimshaw, vice president; Ellen Colvan, recording secretary; Mary Joyce Whitlock, treasurer; Ellen Jayne Harrington, corresponding secretary; Janice Morrill, house manager; Jane Switzer, chaplain; Joan Edwards, directress; Harriett Davidson, recorder, and Janice Morrill, fire warden.

Installation was held last Thursday night at an impressive formal service.

Art Students Give "Open House"

A fascinating preview to the "Open House" exhibit to be shown in April should be the "Midsemester," which will be on display Thursday and Friday of next week.

The best work of Pacific and Stockton Junior College art students will be arranged in rooms 221 and 217 of Weber, respectively. It will include renderings in lettering and layout; artistic anatomy, painting and wood sculpture, as well as quite a bit of attractive work in metal crafts, jewelry and bookbinding.

Everyone who is interested is invited to come.

Dick Toms To Head Archania

The political question has been settled for another semester at Archania, for last Thursday night officers for the ensuing year were elected.

Richard Toms was elected president. Toms is well known in the science department, being president of the Honorary Science Society. He is a senior in College of Pacific and will graduate this June. He is also well known by local business men, for he is also active in Stockton's Lions Club.

J. Wesley Thornton will be vice president. With this position is added the capacity of social chairman. Therefore, Thornton will be in charge of all of Alpha Kappa Phi's social functions. He is also a town man, a member of the rally committee, and a high junior.

The remaining offices are filled by Wardell Piccardo, treasurer; Bob Meyer, recording secretary; Fred Abbott, corresponding secretary; Willie Rempfer, sergeant at arms; Bruce Moorehead, historian, and Art Smith, reporter.

Installation ceremonies were held last night, inducting the new officers into their respective positions. The outgoing president, Willie Rempfer, was presented with a president's key by the rest of the house, in appreciation of his services during the past semester.

Class Friends Honor Frances

Frances Newcomb, newly-betrothed Pacific girl, was guest of honor at an impromptu party given by the members of her section of Miss Wein's food class last Wednesday.

The semester's work was culminated by this party, which served to give Frances presents from her friends.

Those who attended were Sarah Cameron, Sally Jones, Ruby Huff, Maxine Heikens, Phyllis Hamaker, Nadine Prothers, Jean Galvin, Dotty Frances and Virginia Newman.

Mu Zeta Club Holds Meeting

The Mothers and Patronesses club of Mu Zeta Rho met last Monday at the sorority house. A "Talent and Gadget" sale climaxed the meeting. Each woman brought either a home made dish or a household gadget. These were sold among the members at less than a dollar each. Mrs. Eva Ulrey, president, presided over the meeting. Refreshments were served.

MU ZETA GIVES FORMAL

Poinsettias were used effectively as the theme of Mu Zeta Rho's annual winter formal dance given last Saturday night. Large poinsettias covered the walls, and tapering candles were used for lighting purposes.

General chairman of the dance was Mary Ranney, who was assisted by Phyllis Grimshaw and Ellen Jayne Harrington in charge of decoration. Jane Switzer headed the refreshment committee, and Harriet Davidson, the music. Herman Sapiro's orchestra played for dancing from 9 until 1.

Patrons and patronesses were Miss Florence Klaer, Dr. and Mrs. J. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. L. Windmiller, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Connelly.

Omega Phi Installs New Officers

In semi formal ceremonies Omega Phi Alpha Fraternity installed its new semester officers last Thursday night. The occasion served for the induction of President Irving Fritz and his fellow officers, and was held in the fraternity house.

Fritz, who succeeds Hugh McWilliams, into the leading fraternity position, has served as vice president and social chairman during the current semester, and has held a number of other house positions, including that of secretary.

Other fraternity officers elected and installed include: Bob Monagan, vice president; Sam Chaney, secretary; Howard Lewis, treasurer; Al Philp, chaplain; George Kapel, reporter; Bob Thode, recorder, and Al Irwin, guard. Bill Toland was elected house manager, replacing Bob Cook, who is leaving school.

Tau Kappa Initiates Three At Ceremony

Three initiates including Doris Wudell of Placerville, Jessie Hannay of Stockton, and Claire Sandrock of Roseville were welcomed into Tau Kappa Kappa last evening with a formal candlelit ceremony.

Conducting the rites were Melba Jean Loyd, president; Ethel Stark, sergeant-at-arms; Gloria Hopps, chaplain, and Dixie Butler, pianist.

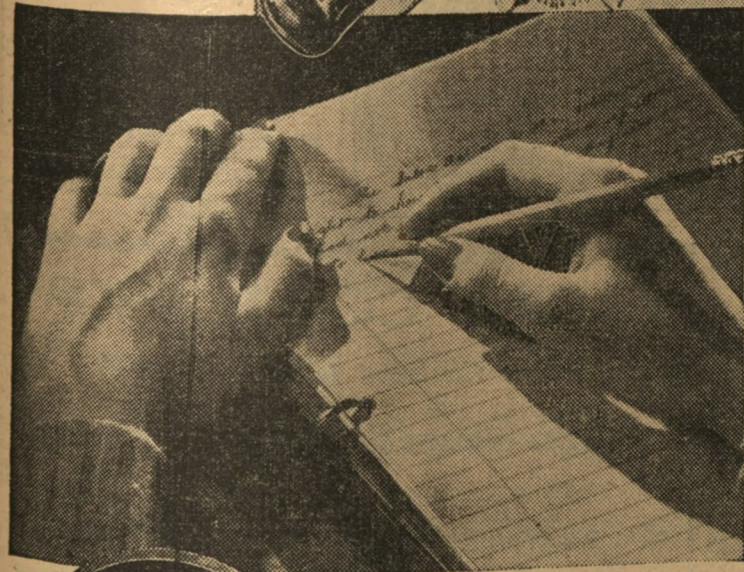

Upon receiving initiation, initiates were presented with corsages of house colors.

Preceding initiation a formal dinner was held with Miss Ellen Deering as honored guest.

Among 400 beginning students at Brown university is Trajano Pupo Netto, a law graduate of the University of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

History of Pacific's Sound Effects

Treasure Island Donates Equipment to Campus Radio Studio Use

Radio is exciting! And you can't deny its popularity—We'll admit that the ASCAP-BMI feud isn't soothing to our ears but we'll hope for the best and maybe it won't last too long. But no amount of controversy can keep down the spirits of those of us who are following John Crabbe's radio classes this year. If you're wondering why our enthusiasm grows and grows drop into the studio sometime and we'll show you.

When you walk in, you won't know what that car door is doing mounted on a black, hard wood frame. And you'll know still less when you turn it around and find a house door opposite. All for the sake of sound effect! You may think that's silly, but we've used both doors time and time again for our weekly radio drama—which, by the way, comes Wednesday nights at 9:30 over KWG through our campus studio.

AVOID HOLLOW SOUND

Our sound effect doors are no flimsy structures. They're the real honest-to-goodness thing and came from the California building on Treasure Island. The whole mounting is set on rollers so it can be moved about in the studio—and its heavy enough to make you push a second time. It has to be heavy in order to quell the sound as a door is slammed shut. Otherwise the sound will come over the air, hollow or "boomy."

There is another piece of equipment which was added to our Campus Studio at the same time our doors were brought in. It is a big black cabinet called a sound track. That's exactly what it is—a track for sound. The top lifts up and exposes three turn tables—to you that's a gadget for the purpose of holding such things as those funny little black disks you have to make for speech classes—commonly called recordings. These three turn tables look innocent enough, but try manipulating them with the button system at the front of the cabinet top. Once you have comprehended the system you are handling same sort of sound that is handled in professional studios.

To hold the needles for these turn tables there are four "arms". Why four? Well, that's a neat angle you'd like to know about. If you're working up to a climax on a "storm recording" for a radio drama, and you see that you are coming to the end of the record, you can set the arm back at the beginning, bring up the volume by way of the control button, take out the volume of the first arm by the same means, and the storm continues without hesitation. It is an invaluable addition to the radio technical world.

CRABBE

JOHN CRABBE, head of Pacific's Campus Studio, reveals the story behind the radio department's sound effects.

MOTOR EASILY ADJUSTED

Another nice feature about this sound track is that the "place of business" namely the motor is behind a couple of wide doors that open easily and allow a technician to perform any repairs or adjustments needed.

Both of these pieces become the possession of the Campus Studio at the time of the Treasure Island auction, and both were used in official coast-to-coast broadcasting, as well as in local programs. They are a great deal of value to us—and as a Collegiate Studio, we are proud to be able to use them and call them our own.

Senior College Class Plans Menu

Many students, who are batching it on the campus, allow only $1.50 per week for food per person. The Senior College nutrition class has worked out a week's menu on that amount.

This diet is sufficient in most ways for women students, but it would be more satisfactory if more meat and fat could be added, although these would contribute to the expense.

STUDENTS HAVE A VOICE

Students who are planning to take Dr. Clair C. Olson's course in Medieval Literature will have quite a say in the method of presentation this next semester. Before this semester, the reading assignments have been made in the original Middle English but this year if the students desire they may do their reading in translation.

Dr. Olson's Chaucer course is a prerequisite to Medieval Literature.

Play for Fun, And Receive Credit for It

Mr. Lawton D. Harris, outstanding leader in recreational activities, will give two courses in this field during the spring semester. The first course will deal with game leadership with considerable emphasis on folk games of advanced type, the second course with craft techniques and materials.

Following the plan of the past, Mr. Harris will be on the campus on Wednesday afternoon and evening and the first course will be given from 4:15 to 6, and the second from 7:15 to 9. If there is sufficient demand a third course on camping will be given for one hour at 3:20 p. m.

The above work is carried on

Golden Tigers Dine At Epsilon

Continuing with the annual dinner in honor of Pacific's Golden Tigers, Epsilon Lambda Sigma entertained the football players and their trainers and coaches at dinner last evening. Following dinner a program was presented by the members of the sorority, and it was called an evening with the boys leaving for their respective fraternity meetings.

under the direction of the department of religious education which has pioneered in this field. It gives much promise in the future. Prof. Colliver, department head, will be glad to answer any questions concerning the courses to be given by Mr. Harris.

Varsity Whips Champs

Pacific Ski Club In Competition For First Time

With the ending of finals this next week a team comprised of skiers from the College of Pacific Ski club will enter the University of Nevada's Invitational Winter Carnival at Reno and Galena Creek.

This will mark the first time in the history of the winter sports organization on the college campus that they have ever entered competition. The team will enter the slalom downhill and cross-country. The jumps will be left out this year by the C. O. P. group as they have no experienced jumpers.

During the last meeting of the Ski club it was announced by Ski Miester Hal Monaghan that an election for secretary of the club would be held as the present incumbent Annabelle Patterson is leaving school for the spring semester.

Due to a condition beyond the control of the club, the ski jaunt to Norden was called off, but not to be outdone an intrepid trio, consisting of Bob Buck, Samuel Morris and Rollo Romo trekked up to Mt. Lassen to investigate snow conditions and facilities for a group trip. A definite trip will be made by the club to Norden sugar bowl area February 14, on the Southern Pacific snow special with a stop over in Sacramento for ice skating.

Next meeting of the C. O. P. group will be held on February

AGGIES GIVEN FIRST CONFERENCE DEFEAT

Purring like a sixteen cylinder motor car, the smooth and precisioned movements of the Tiger quintet humbled a floundering Cal Aggie basket five last Tuesday evening 44-23 in the Pacific Pavilion.

At the opening tip-off the Farmmen captured the ball and worked it down court with a rush where Guard Dick Jones flicked in the first Aggie tally, only to be followed in quick succession by Clare Slaughter and Joe Johns of the Tiger squad, putting Pacific out in front with a 4-2 lead. They were never headed throughout the remainder of the game. Half time score stood at 24-11 in favor of Pacific.

CAGER

COACH RALPH FRANCIS' varsity hoopsters are coming through with a record number of wins this season. The smiling mentor has instilled a new appreciation of basketball in the college students.

10, the first week after the opening of the spring semester, 8:00 p. m., room 111, Weber hall.

NO POINTS

During the last half of the game the Tigers limited the visitors to 3 points in sixteen minutes of play, while they ran up a total of 18.

High point man for the Pacific five was "Shootin'" Bob Monagan, who flicked in eight points. Showing up well also was Rogers, Slaughter and Nikkel. Outstanding floor men for the California Aggies were Hedegard, Forbes and Johnathan Johns.

FIRST LOSS

This win over the Aggie aggregation was the first game the Farmers have lost in two years of Conference play, and the first time the Bengalmen have won from the Aggies in three years.

The next Pacific home game will be played Saturday, January 25, when the Tigers play hosts to the Auburn P. S. E. A. at 8:30 p. m.

J. C. Basket Squad Tied Up

Chris Kjeldsen's floundering Tiger Cubs took another disheartening lacing at the hands of the fast-breaking Sacramento Junior College basketball quintet. Even on their own court, the best the Cubs could do was swear hopelessly under their breaths and watch the score mount dizzily. The final gun stemmed the flow of points and the final score stood 62-19.

SHARPSHOOTERS

The unfamiliar shape and size of the backboards did not stop or even hinder slightly the steady scoring of the Panthers. In fact their accuracy in sharpshooting seemed only intensified by the fan-shaped backers.

This debacle of the Cubs marked their fourth defeat of the season in six starts. However, this dismal aspect has a slight, though hardly visible, silver lining, for all four defeats have come at the hands of the two highest ranking Jay-see quintets in the state and possibly in the nation.

NO SOFT TOUCHES

From now on the locals are matched with the lesser Junior colleges in the circuit. It is still a possibility that they will grab third place honors in the final standings.

The oldest ski known to man was unearthed in northern Sweden, and is now in the Nerdiska, Stockholm, and is estimated to be about 4,000 years old.

Current gym problems include the acquiring of a timer and a scoreboard for basketball contests. This condition was made quite acute when the local high school, owners of the former electric timer (which, by the way, was won by Betty Dixon, a Pacific graduate, while still in high school), decided to move it to the Auditorium for their games.

WHAT TIME?

At the present time, Timer Clyde King uses two stop watches, the spectators are always in the dark as to what part of the game has been played. Squad men have only occasional notices from the officials of the time remaining in a tilt, which may effect their mode of play.

And the scoreboard—there just isn't any. What serves the purpose is a small section of a blackboard, with chalk marks serving to represent the respective tallies. It is not visible to half the spectators, and is continually in the way of the basketball. The scorer usually happens to be anyone who will do the task.

COMBINATION

Consequently, the athletic powers are dickering for a combined scoreboard and timer, to be operated from the press box. The scoreboard will consist of several blocks of lights, making possible any combination of numerals. It is similar to the tote boards used at race tracks.

In addition, it will contain the most modern timing equipment available. The total price, including installation, will approximate $250. This will give Pacific Pavilion the best apparatus of this type in this section. It will antiquate the equipment now in use for high school games.

If this machine is not purchased, the school will have to purchase a cheaper one in the very near future, according to Doc Brendon, sports director.

"Big time" San Jose has split another series, this time with San Diego. This, coupled with their twin loss last week to Santa Barbara, drops the Spartans into the cellar in the C. A. A. conference.

AGGIES LOSE

Bengals Meet Auburn; Jaysees Begin Conference Tilts Soon

CUBS ENGAGE PIRATES AFTER FINAL WEEK

After finals, the Kjeldsen-coached Jaysee Cubs begin their conference contests in earnest. Encouraging is the fact that they will launch themselves in these games with the added impetus of several new men.

Among these new players, to whom is left the task of converting the Cubs into a winning aggregation, is one Del Goodman, former Lodi High school standout guard.

MODESTO AGAIN

However, the task of these newcomers seems almost insurmountable for on February 1, the Saturday immediately following finals, the Cubs clash with Modesto, state champions by virtue of their victory in the casaba tournament sponsored by Modesto.

In two previous games the Stocktonians have been severely drubbed by the tall fast Pirates. However, with his characteristic smile of optimism Chris Kjeldsen expresses the opinion that the over-confident Pirates are ripe for an upset.

THEN SALINAS

On February 7, the Cubs meet Salinas Junior College, a strong hard-fighting team which reached the finals of the consolation tournament at Modesto. Last year the Cubs were beaten by them in a close contest. Each Cub player holds a private grudge against Salinas, and win or lose the game will be interesting to watch.

night they lost their first conference game in two years, their first to Pacific in three. And what a rout! Not all the blame can be laid upon the Mustangs, however. This present Tiger squad is running up a record surpassing the previous few years.

They are now in a favorable position to capture the conference crown. The grid squad has already brought that laurel to Pacific. With cooperation from the track squad, the Bengals may sweep the three major sports. This is okay for the Tigers, but what about the Far Western? Something may happen.

KELLY FRETS

Pacific student Dave Kelly, the coach of the St. Marys Rams, is having his difficulties. His squad, hampered by the unavailability of several key men, is taking a drubbing at each outing; however together with the Lenz-men they continue to pack the Civic auditorium each Friday eve. Another double feature is in the offing to night.

CUBS WHIP YUBANS

Stockton's Jaysee's fast-break, stop-start offensive began to snap for the first time this year Wednesday night as the Tiger Cubs rolled to a conference victory over Yuba Jaysee at Yuba, 35-32.

The Cubs were led in points by the clever hands of Don Sullivan, who plunked seven field goals. However, the whole team showed remarkable ability and fight and the passing was commendable. Most instrumental in the victory were Joe Law, Don Sullivan, Jack Toomay, Bert Mason and Kiyoshi Shimasaki.

CUB TENNIS TEAM TO BE HOT

Opening its 1941 season with much better prospects than last year, the J. C. tennis squad is scheduled to meet Marin Junior College at Kentfield on February 15.

Indications of a victorious season are especially evident in the performances of Netmen Chet Covey and Jim Kaffin, who provide a nucleus around which a crack team may be constructed.

Following their tilt with the Marin squad on February 15, the Cubs will meet the following teams: February 22, Stockton vs. San Mateo at San Mateo; March 1, Stockton vs. San Francisco at Stockton; March 8, open; March 15, Stockton vs. Menlo at Menlo Park; March 22, Stockton vs. Sacramento at Sacramento; March 29, Stockton vs. Placer at Auburn; April 5, Stockton vs. Salinas at Stockton; April 12, open; April 19, Stockton vs. Yuba at Stockton; April 26, Stockton vs. Modesto at Stockton; May 3, Stockton vs. Santa Rosa at Stockton; May 10, Conference Tournament at Sacramento.

SWIMMERS PRACTICE DAILY

Day after day since Christmas, storm or sun, the casual observer has seen human beings swimming up and down the pool, lap after lap, in the bleak cold of the winter afternoon. The hardihood of these souls is staggering to contemplate.

SQUAD TRAINS

But their goal warrants their efforts, for they are training themselves for Chris Kjeldsen's 1941 Tiger Cub swimming team. It is a hard task, especially this season, for the competition is stiff and the desired schedule is murderous if it is ever realized.

Under Coach Kjeldsen's wing is Ralph Wright, fastest freshman breast stroker in the world last year, who by all pre-season predictions will shatter numerous existing records in the free style. Then too he watches over Fred Taioli, former Lodi High school 220 champion in the free

BRONCOS RECEIVE C. O. P. SQUAD FEBRUARY FIRST

The roaring College of the Pacific Tiger basketball team plays the Auburn P. S. E. A. team in a practice game in Pacific Pavilion tomorrow night.

Victors in seven out of nine games, a record which already exceeds their total number of wins for all of last season, the team will seek to add the Auburn team to their list of victims.

AUBURN SQUAD

After their sensational win over the California Aggies last Tuesday night the C. O. P. squad hopes to continue their fine play against the Auburn team. The visiting squad is made up of former Placer High School, Placer J. C. and other college players, and is presently playing in the Northern California A. A. U. League. This is the same league that the local Amblers Club is leading.

After their game tomorrow night the Francis men take time out for finals; then will play their first game of a two-game series with the Santa Clara Bronco team. The game will be played at Santa Clara Saturday night, February 1.

BRONCOS HOT

Although the Bronco quintet dropped the Tigers by 16 and 17 point margins last year, the local team is much stronger than the casaba team of last winter. It will be necessary for the Pacific squad to stop the sharp shooting Santa Clara forward, Bruce Hale, and the tall S. C. Center, Jim Rickert. It was these two men along with Toddy Gianinni, now with the Olympic Club, who snowed the Tigers under last season.

Following their away-from-home contest with the Broncos the Tigers play host to the Nevada Wolves in Friday and Saturday night games, February 7 and 8. Although a non-conference series, the Nevada team having relinquished rights in the F. W. C., it holds much interest for the Tigers who split their Reno series last year in two overtime games. The Nevada team split their current series with the California Aggies two week-ends ago.

INTRAMURAL CAGE PROGRESSES

Coming along in fine shape the basketball intramural games run by Coaches Earl Jackson and Chris Kjeldsen are making rapid progress.

During the past week Manor lost to Omega Phi by a one-sided score of 39-8, East Town won a thriller from West Town 17-19 with Del Goodman making all points except 4 for the winners. Rhizomia whizzed past Men's Dorm 28-24.

The schedule for week after finals will be: Friday, February 7, 4:30 p. m., Rhizomia vs. Archania; Saturday, February 8, 10 a. m., Manor vs. Dorm; 11 a. m., Omega Phi vs. Archania; Friday, February 14, 8:00 p. m., Manor vs. Rhizomia; 9:00 p. m., East Town vs. Archania.

Lockers

The College of the Pacific is now installing steel lockers in the gymnasium hallway for the use of students and faculty who do not have other places in which to store their books, coats and other belongings.

At the present time thirty-two lockers are being installed, and more will be purchased if there is a demand. The lockers will rent for $1.00 each for a semester, and can be obtained by calling at the physical education office.
