December 9 Set For Winter Formal; Monthly Senate Meet Decides All

December 9 has been chosen as the date for the Winter Formal, announced Joyce Brooks, social chairman at the Senate meeting, early this week. Bob Crosby and his Bob-Cats are scheduled to play and danceable music has been included in the contract.

It was definitely decided by the Athletic Board of Control that 60 percent of the FSA money used for athletics will be used for COP sports and the remaining 40 percent will be absorbed by the Stockton College sports department.

Eddie LeBaron, COP football star, has been chosen as next year's Mardi Gras chairman. Eddie announced that plans are already being formed.

Mary Lou Shanley, Drives chairman for the FSA, reported that the GAB Week (Give A Buck) drive now going on will end Wednesday, November 23.

As of Wednesday evening, three living groups had reached their quotas.

The Purchase Card Plan now in committee was reported upon and will be brought up for final consideration at the December meeting. Under this plan students will receive a discount from five to 15 percent on purchases made from certain merchants.

Bob Haaker, Weekly business manager, reported that under the present financial budget the Weekly would probably have to discontinue publication for two issues in order not to exceed the planned budget.

Lee Atwater, Student Affairs Committee Chairman, announced a new plan regarding the loud-speaker system. The system must be checked out from Lee and a charge of five dollars per day of overtime will be enforced.

The December meeting of the Senate will be open to the student body. It is to be held in music C. The Constitution Committee will bring forth matters to be considered by the students of both colleges.

By, Welsh Co-Authors of 'Understanding Radio'

Herbert Welsh, Instructor of Industrial Arts, feels "Understanding Radio", which he co-authored with George Eby, Instructor of Science, takes the mystery out of radio.

This text is written in terms a beginner may understand. The plan of the book is to learn one principle of radio at a time, and learn by doing.

Mr. Welsh and Mr. Eby worked on this book, which was first published in 1940, for 7 years. After its publication, technical schools, high schools and universities used it as a text. It was used during the war for the servicemen, who didn't have any radio experience.

The long literary association between Mr. Eby and Mr. Welsh started when both were teaching at a Richmond high school. They began to collaborate on two books, "Understanding Radio", and the college textbook, "Physical Science". Both books were accepted by the publishers within two days of each other.

Last After-game Dance Honors Football Team

"Football Review", the last after-game dance of the season, will be held after the Fresno-COP game tonight from 10:30 to 12:30 in the COP gym.

The dance is being sponsored by the senior men's and women's honorary societies with the members of the 1949 football team as special guests.

Although there is no charge for the evening, students planning to attend the dance will have to present their student body cards in advance at the FSA office to pick up tickets for the dance.

Music is being furnished under the auspices of the Musician's Recording Fund of the American Federation of Musicians by Dan Terry and his orchestra.

Sunday, November 20, 1-3 p.m. is the date and time set for Tau Kappa's annual parents' banquet.

Chairmen, who will see that the event goes off without a hitch, are Pat White, general chairman; Joyce Brooks, program; Pat Jarvis, food; Virginia Allen, pre-set up; Jeannine Hill, Set up; and Betty Nisson, decorations.

COP Education Profs. Attend Yosemite Confab

Dr. J. Marc Jantzen, Dean of the School of Education, Dr. Walter R. Gore, Director of Secondary Education, and Dr. Lawrence E. Turner, Director of Educational Administration, will represent the College of Pacific at the Education Conference to be held at Yosemite, November 17, 18 and 19.

Dr. Jantzen will serve on the Master's Degree Program Committee and the Directed Teaching Committee at the council.

Janice Comstock Is Homecom'g Sweetheart

JANICE COMSTOCK

Janice Comstock, 17-year-old Stockton College beauty from West Hall, was the lucky girl chosen by Pacific to be their 1949 Homecoming Sweetheart. Janice, who hails from Walnut Creek, is a petite 5 feet 3 inches tall, with brown hair and pretty big brown eyes, and has all the attributes which go to make a very charming sweetheart indeed.

Her major is music, and it seems she is very talented in her chosen field. She has been playing the flute since she was nine years old, now playing it in the SC-COP orchestra; she's a member of the A Cappella Choir, and a charter member of the Pacific Music Camp. Janie plans to go on to COP, majoring in public school music and voice.

Besides all this musical ability, Janie has talent in other directions. She spent last summer as a photographic model. Her hobby, of course, is music, with drawing a close second. She loves swimming and watching baseball games, and thinks it is wonderful to be a sweetheart!

Campus Chest Fund Presents GAB Week

Officially beginning last Monday and ending Wednesday, November 23, GAB week has arrived. "GIVE A BUCK" is the official slogan for the biggest drive of the year. This one gigantic drive will replace the many smaller drives that were in evidence in other years. The funds donated to this Campus Chest Fund will be apportioned to the following drives: WSSF, $500; Anderson Y, $675; Community Chest, $500; Foreign Students, $500; and Miscellaneous (Polio, Cancer, UN Relief), $325. The total amount to be raised will be $2500.

Seventeen campus groups have been given quotas to meet. Archania was first to reach the 100% mark, followed by Alpha Theta Tau. These groups have the opportunity of asking service of the faculty. Dean Betz was the choice of Archania while Dean Monroe was given the dubious honor of acting as waterboy at the Fresno State game.

Last Wednesday night a jazz concert was given by the Wayne Morrill Trio at Omega Phi Alpha. Among the members of the Trio were the Be-Boppers, a jazz group from the Bay Area. Accompanying this group was Bob Smith on the trombone and Gloria Ruckers, campus singing favorite. This jazz concert was a big success, and all those who went to Omega Phi to hear it were certainly pleased.

Next Monday, in the Pacific gymnasium, a variety show, sponsored by the GAB will be given. All living groups on campus will be participating in this show by presenting their best talent. The show will be free with a GAB card. Those without one will be asked to pay a dollar admission. Mary Lou Shanley is chairman of the "Give A Buck Week", while Jim Coburn will be in charge of entertainment.

Dunlap's to Present 'Fashions in the News'

"Fashions in the News" will be the theme for "Campus Daily", a unique fashion show to be presented by Dunlap's Stockton Dry Goods in the COP auditorium December 7 at 8 p.m.

Newspapers will border the stage on which fashions will be shown by 25 COP coeds and 10 boys who will be chosen from different living groups. Music will be provided by SC-COP orchestra.

Admission for the program will be $1.00, tax included; with all proceeds going to the Drake Relay Fund, thus enabling the COP track team to attend the Drake Relays.

Patsy Graves, whose picture appears on the cover of the December "Today's Woman" and in the December issue of "Harper's Bazaar" will direct the same show which was recently presented at the Curran in San Francisco. About 40 people attended the program which received a favorable write-up in the San Francisco Chronicle.

New Classes To Adult Education

Several new classes in Adult Education have been opened up recently. Among these new classes is a journalism class under the instruction of Miss Joan Emmett from the editorial department of the Stockton Record. This class will be held every Monday and Wednesday nights through January 25. However, individuals may enroll for one night a week. Two units of Junior College credit will be given for those that wish it. Its main purpose is to help individuals and organizations of Stockton by explaining what is news, how to know it and how to write it, and to help individuals publicize themselves through letters and personal contacts. There is a $1.00 registration fee to cover materials.

Also a course in wood-carving has been set up with Ward Gregg, one of the best craftsmen in the country, as instructor. Classes will be held every Monday and Wednesday nights from 7:30 'til 10:00 and will continue until Feb. 1. The fee will be $2.00 for registration, and tools and materials will be furnished at cost.

The course will include carving and whittling of many types of wood objects. Its main purpose is to make ornamental and useful articles for the home, for gifts, etc., and learn about wood and their various grains, qualities, unique beauty and to originate designs.

A course in Navigation will open on November 21 and continue through February with Gerald Lee, a training officer in the U.S. Coast Guard, as instructor. The outline of this course will include rules of the road, lights and signals, inshore navigation and chart reading to mention a few. The instruction will be in the form of lectures supplemented with movies and discussions. The enrollment fee (Continued on Page 6)

Pacific Ski Club to Hold First Meeting of Term

The Pacific Ski Club will have its first meeting next Tuesday, Nov. 22, in Bannister Hall, room 109.

All old members and new members are invited to attend. Election of new officers and ski movies are on the agenda for that night.

The Pacific Ski teams will meet in the gym on Tuesday at 11:00. Any skiers interested in competing in ski events for the College of Pacific are requested to be at this meeting.

Four varsity skiers are returning for this year's team. They are Bob MacMahon, Roger Wickman, Elton Murphy, and Edy Kaupila. The Pacific ski team loses its team captain, Bob Wilson who has been the spark plug of the ski team for the past two years. Bob led the team to the Pacific Coast Cross Country championship last season.

The ski team has received an invitation to compete in Cal's Vanderbilt meet. The meet will be held at the newly developed Squaw Valley, located between Donner Summit and Lake Tahoe.

FRESNO BULLDOGS BARK AT TIGERS TONIGHT

Mustangs Wind Up Grid Season

Thoroughly disgusted with themselves after blowing a 14-7 decision to an inferior Menlo team last Friday, the Stockton College Mustangs last night took on dangerous San Francisco City College in Cox Stadium, San Francisco. We can't know the outcome at this writing, but it's a pretty good bet that Stockton won. If they didn't, they won't feel much like coming to school today.

Coaches Earl Klapstein, Gene Stagnaro and Collie Kidwell were fit to be tied after the game Friday afternoon, after a flat, spiritless band of Mustangs were shoved about rather easily by the Oaks, who had size, spirit and not much else.

KENDLEY STARS

The afternoon was not quite a total loss, however. A previously unnoticed reserve, Ralph Kendley of Santa Clara, shifted into the second-string right half spot the week before the game, ripped the Menlo line to shreds in the second half with some of the nicest bit of running seen in the junior college ranks this season. After the Oaks had turned two pass interceptions into a 14-0 lead, Kendley shook loose for all sorts of gains through the right side of the visitors' forward wall, averaging over 13 yards a crack in eight carries, and tallying the lone Stockton score on a 30-yard sprint early in the fourth quarter.

It was Kendley, along with halfbacks John Cobb, John Burdue and fullback Joe Nicholau upon whom the Mustang mentors were counting for offensive punch last night.

Stockton winds up the season next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, with a 2 p.m. battle in Baxter Stadium against Vallejo J.C.

SIGMA DELTA PSI TESTING NOW

Potential candidates for membership to Sigma Delta Psi, the national athletic fraternity, have been running, jumping, climbing, throwing, and swimming this past week and will continue to do so throughout next week.

Dr. Carl Voltmer is in charge of the testing, which is being conducted by members of Coach Jackson's Track Class. Anyone who is passing in 10 units of "C" work is eligible to try his hand at passing the various qualifications. A varsity letter or an intramural championship in any sport may serve as a substitute for any one requirement with the exception of swimming.

Only four C.O.P. students, Don Driggs, Ray Coykendall, John Tofflemire, and Bob McMahon, have qualified for membership.

Following is a list of the requirements for membership: 100-yard dash (11 3/5 sec.), 120-yard low hurdles (16 sec.), running high jump (5 ft.), running broad jump (17 ft.), 16-pound shot put (30 ft.), 20-foot rope climb (12 sec.), baseball throw (250 ft.) or javelin throw (130 ft.), football punt (120 ft.), 100-yard swim (1 min. 45 sec.), 1-mile run (6 min.), front handspring (land on feet), hand stand (10 sec.), fence vault (chin high).

HARDEY, CAMPORA JOIN PLAYER OF WEEK RANK

Don Hardey and Don "Tiny" Campora received the Stockton Quarterback Club's "Player of the Week" award at the meeting of the group held Monday in the Stockton Hotel.

Both men received a John Ball sweater in conjunction with the honor, and their names will go ing his powerhouse tactics before the home town fans for the last time in tonight's Fresno encounter.

Hardey is in his second year under the Pacific banner. Last year the 175-pound fullback was one of the leading backfield aces in the Bengal scene, and this season he down with the other Pacific greats of 1949 who have made this season's Tigers one of the Coast's strongest elevens.

Campora, the massive 245-pound tackle for the Larry Siemering gridiron stalwarts, has been one of the mainstays in the Bengal forward wall for the last three campaigns.

His steady and dependable line play has marked him as one of the most reliable members of the Pacific front line that has ridden rough shod over all opposition.

The big tackle hails from Linden, California and received his high school pigskin experience at Stockton High School. Now in his final season for the Orange and Black, he will be demonstrat-has come into his own as he leads the Tiger ground gainers.

Thus far in the 1949 campaign, Hardey has amassed a total of 430 yards gained from scrimmage for a 6.6 per carry average.

Don doesn't confine his athletic activities to the pigskin sport, however. He was one of the stars for Coach Earl Jackson's thin-clads last spring, being the team's outstanding sprinter. His 9.6 century mark ranks him as this institution's fastest track man over the short distances.

Tonight both "Players of the Week" will be out to surpass their previous performances as they assume important roles in the COP football scheme when the Bengals meet their traditional rivals from Fresno.

COP To Use Double Post

COP has switched to the double post offense for the 1949-50 basketball season. The move was made to get the most value out of pivotmen Howard Pearce and Bill Wirt.

Under the new system Pearce's tip-in abilities and Wirt's hook shots will add twenty-five percent more baskets to the Tiger scoring. Rounding out the first five will be Jim Enos, Jim Denton, guards, and Hank Pfister, speedy forward.

Men pressing these five for son.

starting berths are Britt Smith, Don Mitchler, Len Dietrick, Tom Mitchael, Gene Law, Don Nottoli, Gil Sells, Dave Gerber, John Madrid, and Francis Wilkinson.

Smith and Mitchler will give the Tigers the added punch for a fast break, Dietrick will spell Pearce at center and Nottoli's two-handed long shots make him a constant threat. Mitchler and Madrid were stars of the Shmoos, one of the top clubs in the Intramural Major League of last sea-

Bengal Seniors Bid Aloha In Last Game Appearance

Twenty-one College of the Pacific Seniors will dig their cleats into the Baxter Stadium turf for the last time tonight when the Tigers host their old rivals, the Fresno State Bulldogs. Approximately 9,000 loyal Stockton fans and Pacific students will be on hand to get one last look at the men that made Pacific what it is today.

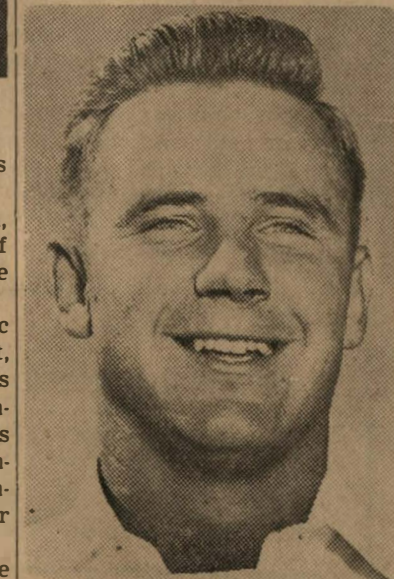

BALL AND CHAIN WINS NORTH HALL TOO

North Hall added to its undefeated record with a 19-7 winning performance over Quonset C&D in the next-to-last round of intramural football play. In other games, Ball and Chain defeated Quonset F&G and Quonset C&D registered an 8-0 score against Archania.

In the North Hall vs. C&D contest Bill (Slingin' Sammy) Stewart starred for the winners by passing for two of the touchdowns and running one over by himself. In the first play from scrimmage in the game Stewart intercepted Elton Murphy's pass and trotted over the goal line for the first score. In the second quarter he tossed one to Buddy Jones who scored, and then passed again for a TD in the fourth quarter, this one to Wally Dietrich.

The Archania vs. C&D game featured a volley ball play in the second quarter when C&D's Elton Murphy threw a pass which was intended for Don Curtis. Curtis couldn't quite handle it but Bob Hudson bobbled it for a second before it could hit the ground and then Ellis Artis caught it to score C&D's only touchdown.

SENIORS

BRUCE ORVIS

JOHN ROHDE

Coach Larry Siemering plans to start an all-senior outfit as well as to give all the graduating men plenty of chance to show their wares to the home town folks.

Proudest possession of the Tiger gridiron is the Pacific line. Fourteen of Pacific's finest will make the opponent give ground for the last time. They are: Art Waldorf, Joe Rhin, Bob Franceschini, Bob Klein, Pete Gambetta, Ted Toomay, Don Beaver, Phil Ortez, Dick Brien, John Rohde, Harry Kane, John Poulos, Ken Johnson and Don Campora.

Eight backs will cavort over the enemy's goal for the last time under Baxter Stadium lights tonight to the delight of the rabid Tiger rooters. Those who will trade the pigskin in for a sheepskin are Don Brown, Don McCormick, Jim Price, Ernie Bobson, Bruce Orvis, Eddie LeBaron, Paul Williams and Bill McFarland.

ON TAP

Probably least heralded and most valuable in time of need has been McFarland. His five consecutive conversions gave Pacific a 35-35 tie with Hardin-Simmons last year and kept the Tigers' bowl record clean. Bill's timely conversion against the Dons in this season's opener started Pacific on its greatest victory string.

GOOD WILL

But most missed of all will be Eddie LeBaron. For the little guy's sorcery has made Pacific the most talked about team in the nation. Thanks to LeBaron and his mates Pacific may never again have to worry about finding eleven men to start the game.

COP FOOTBALL

Fresno State will come to town dripping with tradition, but lacking in victories. The Bulldogs have had a tough season and taken some horrible pastings by big clubs. Santa Clara whipped them 53-0, while Loyola snowed them under, 52-13. Losses to Santa Barbara, San Diego State and Nevada haven't helped things either.

TWO WINS

On the bright side the Bulldogs hold convincing 20-7 wins over Cal Poly and Pepperdine. Fresno State has little chance of stopping the rampaging Tigers, but the men from the Yosemite foothills are primed to put a big dent in the Tigers' defensive record.

At any rate this is a traditional game and Pacific had better realize it. Fresno State doesn't intend to give up without a fight. They feel it would be quite a feather in their cap to stop the Bengal scoring parade.

MANAGER'S MEETING

Intramural basketball managers will meet with Dr. Voltmer, Tuesday at 4:15 in the gym to draw up schedules for this season. Be there!

POW WOW

By Ed Powell

How powerful is public opinion? It is said that William Randolph Hearst, through the medium of newspapers, molded public opinion against the people's better judgment and caused the Spanish-American War. This country's attitude toward Russia has changed several times depending on whose side the Big Bear was fighting on.

Yet here, now, in California we have a situation unparalleled in public opinion. Never before have so many people been for one purpose so strongly and yet have so little chance of seeing their wishes granted. Yes, we are referring to a game between California and Pacific.

The game itself would be a natural. Two undefeated teams led by two great quarterbacks meeting for supremacy of football on the Western slope, as well as deciding the All-American issue.

The question arises, why are those in control of the California athletic destinies against the game? Although we will admit that some of their arguments are good, none are justifiable to suppress the people's demand. Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt admits that there is nothing in the code to prevent such a game, but there is a definite policy against such games. If he is inferring that because California wouldn't decide the Conference championship in 1948 with a playoff game against Oregon, it shouldn't slight Oregon now by playing Pacific, then we disagree.

In our opinion, California was wrong by not playing Oregon and they will be wrong by not playing Pacific. Two wrongs don't make a right. In the same token the Army, Notre Dame teams of the Blanchard, Davis era were wrong.

An excerpt from the Daily Californian editorial says, "Of course the first reaction of every follower of the Blue and Gold is an indignant 'why should we play COP after our regular season when they are not even in our Conference?' We repeat, Oregon was in the Conference. Why didn't you play them, Cal? We'll tell you why you should play COP. Because the fans want you to, the players of both teams want you to, the press wants you to and COP dares you to. California, by playing, you will be setting a precedent that other schools will look up to."

Of course the big question of prestige begins to blossom its ugly head. California acts as if a loss to Pacific would kill the State University's prestige throughout the world. We would like to remind the Berkeley gentlemen that this is only a football game and that their great scholastic standing among American Universities will remain unscathed, no matter what the outcome of the game.

California adherents claim that the Bears have more to lose than Pacific. This may be true, but we doubt it. Suppose that Cal gets by Stanford tomorrow. In that case the Bears would be automatically in the Rose Bowl. On the other hand look at Pacific's predicament. A game between the two schools would mean that the Tigers would have to prove themselves to get a major bowl bid. Pacific would have to beat the Bears. A 35-0 loss to Cal would eliminate Pacific from all bowl bids of any stature.

California has had undefeated, untied seasons before, Pacific hasn't. The Tigers might never come up with as well-balanced a team as this year's. They may never have another undefeated season with a tougher schedule ahead of them as each year passes.

Some Bear enthusiasts believe a loss to Pacific would make the Cal team look weak nationally. True, it would make Cal only second best on the Coast, but many sport authorities think Pacific is tops right now. Why would Cal look weaker when the Tigers would be unbeaten with a list of fifteen major teams that had a chance to take on the Bengals but didn't?

Frankly we believe that neither team has anything to lose except a possible injury to a key player.

We believe the real reason the California authorities don't want the game is because they remember the David and Goliath story. They just couldn't bear to hear the Great California Alumni say, "We told you so."

7 TEAMS HERE

Pacific Invitational Meet Today

The Pacific Tigers will be the host for the College of the Pacific Invitational Cross Country Meet that takes place this afternoon at 4 p.m. on the Baxter Stadium course.

The meet will be the largest in the state with seven schools competing for top honors. Besides the Tigers, runners from Cal. Aggies, Cal. Poly., Fresno State, San Francisco State, San Jose State, and Sacramento J.C. will test their endurance over the three and one-quarter mile course. The field will be large with some of the top distance runners in Northern California pushing each other towards a new record. Three men to watch will be Holden of San Francisco State, Purdy of San Jose State, and Kirkpatrick of Pacific.

Campus station KCVN and a public address system will keep those interested informed of the progress of the race. Practically the entire course is visible from the North-West stands of the Stadium.

Pacific dropped a close encounter to San Francisco State last Friday on the Lake Merced course. The Gators eked out a 27-28 win with Holden of State turning in one of the fastest times of the season. The Gator flash toured the Bay City course in 15:46. Kirkpatrick of Pacific finished second. Other Tigers to place were Wickman fourth, Drew fifth, Garmire seventh, Butler tenth. Rayce Mason's services were sadly missed as he could have cinched the meet for Pacific. The 440 flash was ill at the time.

Tigers Swamp El Camino

In a warm-up to the P.A.A. Water Polo Tournament, presently being held at the San Francisco Olympic Club Pool, the Pacific mermen thoroughly enjoyed an easy 11-2 victory over El Camino College last Saturday afternoon in their final home engagement of the current season.

Entered in the P.A.A. Tournament, which is Northern California's outstanding water polo event of the year, are teams from the Olympic Club, the University of California, the University of California Faculty, Stanford, San Jose State, California Agricultural at Davis, and C.O.P.

The tournament got underway Wednesday night, but the Tigers drew a bye for the opening round and didn't get any action until last night when they tangled with the winner of the Olympic Club-Cal Aggie match. The affair terminates tonight with the two remaining unbeaten teams playing for the championship at 8 p.m., while the third place consolation winner will be decided at 9 p.m.

LEHMAN SCORES

In the El Camino game last Saturday, Frank Poucher, as usual, led the Bengal attack although he played only half the contest. He poured five goals into the net, while Dick Cullenward and Gary Lehman threw in two apiece, and Ralph Johnson and Dick Polentz scored one each.

CLEARED BENCH

The southland water boys provided little more than a practice session for the strong Orange and Black team as Coach Anttila used his entire 12-man squad, the most that have played thus far this year. Names like Gene Nyquist, Paul Morelang, and Don Kent appeared on the Pacific scorebook for the first time this season.

Sick Cars Restored To Efficiency At Stockton College Auto Shops

By GEORGE NEAL

Is your car having a nervous breakdown? Is it flipping and flopping, when it should be zipping and zapping? Was it mistreated when young? Perhaps it has had a frustrated love affair. Well, regardless, don't despair, take it to the modern garage on the south campus, and have it psychoanalyzed. There the auto-psychologists will stick a tube on the tail pipe, attach a machine that not only gives the white blood cell count, but will tell how much power your motor is capable of giving.

They will listen to the motor with their stethoscopes and analyze which artery is hardening. After detecting which response isn't responding, these automobile doctors will send it to surgery, where the actual repairing will be done. There the automobile will be given a correct overhaul, even receiving a plastic surgery job if need be.

TAYLOR AND JONES

After all of the automobiles neuroses and allergies have been cured, you will receive a bill to the amount of the cost of the parts replaced, plus ten percent service charge, a bargain anyone can afford. You can rest assured that the job has been competently done too, for these future mechanics take pride in the quality of their work, and have set high standards to work to.

They have received able instruction from Mr. Morris D. Taylor and Mr. Charles W. Jones, both of whom can analyze a motor's trouble almost as fast as a doctor can take a patient's temperature. These two instructors supervise two classes a day, that are made up of students of Units II and III, who usually spend at least two years in the auto shops first learning how to tear down an automobile and re-assemble it so that it purrs, and then develop the skill of trouble shooting on motors.

An illustration of the quality of the instruction, and how well the students learn their automobiles is the fact that the trade union allows a year off of the required apprentice training for becoming a journeyman mechanic.

Student Court To Enforce Rules On Stockton College Campus

By TED PHILLIPS

Feel like having a drag race in front of Stockton College? Well, curb the impulse. The student court of SC is dedicated to prevent just such actions within the bounds of the campus.

This is a body that is unknown to most of the students on campus. It is composed of a board of students whose purpose is to enforce traffic ordinances, non-smoking, and any other small actions that are regarded as against the rules of SC.

ADMINISTRATION

Presided over by the Dean of Student Activities, Mr. Garlington, a chief justice, two associate justices, a prosecutor, and a clerk complete the court administration.

The chief justice is Frank Wolfe of Unit II, the prosecutor, Doug Taylor, also of Unit II. The clerk is John Dehann of Unit I. The legal advisor is the advisor of the state department of education.

The fines for any of these offenses are rarely over $5.00 and are used for the Student Welfare Fund. The traffic fines are much lower than those administered by the police on the COP campus. The fine for smoking on the campus is 50 cents for the first offense. If you park in a space reserved for faculty members, it will probably cost you $1.00. The fines are proportionally heavier for violations involving moving vehicles.

SMALL CHANCE

The chances of getting away from these officers are rather small. All they need is the license number of your car to give to the city police who will track you down and give you an invitation to appear before the Student Court.

When you do get caught, you have the option of paying the fine or visiting Dean Garlington and working it out some other way. Practically all students pay the fines which makes this example of student government a successful one.

CHOSEN BY

The Student Court is chosen by the Student Affairs Commission. A police patrolman usually sits in on trials, but only in an advisory capacity. Doug Taylor, has the background for prosecutor, having worked for the highway patrol for two summers. Most traffic judgments are based on the vehicle code.

An Open Letter To a Bendix

By S. RHODE

An Open Letter to a Bendix—Namely the one in South Hall.

Dear Mr. Bendix:

As I sit here looking at my buttonless blouse, my mind wanders back to the good old days of wash tub and scrub board. When a woman was happy scrubbing away the dirt and grime off a pair of abh—shirt. The women didn't worry how they were going to spend their extra time. They didn't have any, and because they didn't have any, we didn't have any soap operas, Duz, Betty Crocker's quick-mixed recipes, or Queen for a Day. She was happy. She knew nothing else.

Then you came along and "wha' hoppin'?" Women are now an unhappy lot. Their washing is done in nothing flat. Their work is done, and where do we find the women of today—sweating over a hot novel.

Some washing machines are not even satisfied with wrecking your clothes, they insist on washing the floor. All you have to do to get this little extra service is put a drop too much soap in the top of the wonder washer and wait—with mop in hand.

Not that I don't appreciate your efforts, Mr. Bendix, it's just that why does your pride-and-joy have to be out of order when I need it most?

Ah, Yes How I Love To Swim

By G. NEAL

Blue noses, stiffened joints, red skin, purple ears, and chattering teeth, all are the results of diving into the warmer water of the Pacific pool at eight o'clock in the morning.

The water, advertised as pre-heated to body temperature, (body temperature of an ice cube) is considered to be very healthy and good for blood circulation if enjoyed at this early morning hour.

The students having the rare privilege of bathing at this hour—of morning darkness—say that they have only one gripe. They feel that the pool should be dredged and the icebergs removed before they are required to dive into the water. The faculty has a point in that the freezing temperature is healing to hangovers, but they are slightly wrong in their logic, for what college student drinks? The students have found one solution for this problem. Allowing twenty cuts, and praying for six weeks of rain or

Radio Highlights

By JERRY MULLIN

In today's column, we deviate a little from the usual pattern of talking about a show and the personality behind it. Instead we will discuss just a personality. You can very truthfully say that he is the personality behind every show because he is KAE0's Program Director, Jim "Roundo No. 2" Hodges.

Jim is a senior who transferred here last year from Sacramento, J.C. Like Caesar, "he came, he saw, he conquered." He came to be a radio major, saw our equipment, set up and stayed to take over. In a moment of inspiration, he took his first step to success by becoming the originator of "Event of the Week." This writing and producing chore he created during his first semester here. Since then he has managed to make himself generally indispensable.

During the summer, he managed to keep all "vacationing" radio men posted on the latest goings on and to inform us of our preschool meeting. During the preschool activity, when KAE0 was put in proper operating order for you, the work was made easier by his advance preparation. For the first six weeks of this semester, he was elected station manager and put into practice ideas for our operation that he had been planning all summer. For the next six weeks he was elected program director and along came more changes, the quality you can observe for yourself.

Letters to Editor

The College of Pacific-Stockton College band is terrific! They are not only excellent musicians, but their marching, their formations, and their musical arrangements are outstanding. They have been doing marvelous work all semester, but at the Homecoming game Saturday night they couldn't be beaten.

It is very disappointing to us that this fine group of students has received little or no recognition from any college groups.

The Tigers may be the best football team on the coast, but we'll put our money on the COP-SC band as one of the top five in the nation.

Let's give the group the credit it deserves. They're great!

Poor Jerry Mullins, nobody understands him. At a recent radio frat (AEO) meeting, he was discussing the type of jackets the fraternity should get. In an effort to get over his style jacket he kept bringing up the fact it was made of virgin wool. This kept up for a while till finally Don Rodewald cracked, "We are here to discuss the various styles of jackets, not the immorality of sheep" . . .

Our pretty little Sophomore Miss hails from Oakland and is the pride and joy of South Hall. She's a sociology major who doesn't hesitate to say marriage when our career question came up. Our 19-year co-ed used to own long tresses but she ruefully admits she succumbed to new styles and now has what she claims is a "Butchy Bang." An armful of champagne bubbles, Mouseie Chan is a decided asset to fair Pacific.

From The President's Desk

By MO HESS

There are two or three things that I would like to bring to your attention this week. First of all, Fresno considers this game tonight as their BIG GAME of the year, and so with a full train of rooters they are going to be playing their best game of the season. According to the dope sheets we should win handily, but rooters count!

And speaking of rooters, Gov. Warren doesn't do too badly by us. Depending on how things go tomorrow at the Big Game, we still might have a chance to play against California. Rest assured that the College Administration, Athletic Staff, and the F.S.A. officers are trying their best to get this game. It's a natural!

This paper is full of news about the campus chest, but it really is going to do quite a job this year if all of you help. It only requires one dollar from each of you, and you'll not be asked to contribute to other drives again this year. You're giving once for all! Mary Shanley, Pat Malloy, and their committee have been doing a terrific job on this drive, and it really deserves your support.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Students of the College of the Pacific and Stockton College:

Your caravan to the East Bay and San Francisco was a glorious success. Why? Because you conducted yourselves as ladies and gentlemen. As I look back on my undergraduate days I can honestly say that we could not have done as well. Some one or some group would have gotten out of hand, and the whole mission would have failed.

Your chapter in school history will long be remembered. Congratulations!

Very sincerely yours,
KENNETH E. STOWELL,

MY MISTAKE

In last week's story on the car caravan I unintentionally omitted Bill Ross as originator of the idea for the Frisco expedition. This omission was entirely unintentional and was nothing more than an oversight on my part. To Bill, go my apologies.

PHIL GUTHRIE

YELL LEADERS

It is about time that some response be made to recent letters in the Weekly in reference to the yell leaders and our school spirit.

The showing made at the San Jose and Utah games should be enough to squelch any further criticism. It is a difficult job for yell leaders to arouse spirit among the rooters when scores become as lopsided as all our latest have been, but no one can possibly be dissatisfied with the job done last week, and at the San Jose game.

The yell leading and the spirit displayed are possibly the best in several years and certainly worthy of this year's team.

Another thing that should be thought of seriously by the student body is the absence of the yell leaders at games away from home.

A Double-Jointed Elbow

The College of the Pacific students, with much able assistance from Stockton College students, deserve a pat on the back for the splendid show of clean, well-directed enthusiasm shown on the now famous "San Francisco Expedition".

Perhaps we need a double-jointed elbow in order to pat ourselves on the back for our fine spirit. Whether we do or not, we accomplished miracles; miracles that is, in the way we handled ourselves, and miracles in the results we obtained.

We doubt if anyone of us, including Bill Ross, who, as far as we can ascertain, was the originator of the venture, even dreamed such success would be forthcoming. But don't think it was just the fact that we went to the "City" in force that made our success. If we had been a rowdy group of college jerks, we doubt it such great success would have come off it.

The Weekly did some moaning and groaning, as did the Stockton Record, about the poor coverage of Pacific activities in the Bay Area papers in several issues. Speaking for the Weekly, we're not sorry we made them. They were the truth. Look now at the papers from down around the Seven Hills . . . for the past eleven days COP has appeared in at least one write-up, and sometimes two or even three.

We give a vote of thanks to these Bay Area papers, and especially to the Chronicle and Bill Leiser, who have taken up the cry for a Pacific-California game. Mr. Leiser has been wonderful to us, and we give him a special thank you.

As for our Eddie LeBaron being All-American, just get us a game with Cal; we'll give you "Proof Positive"!

COP-SC Band Does A Fine Job

Like multi-colored jewels on a vast canvas of black, the College of the Pacific—Stockton College Band strode onto the field of the Lodi stadium Saturday night and created an overwhelming sensation. Climaxing a season of spectacular half-time performances, featuring intricate formations and brilliant music, the Band outdid itself for the Homecoming crowd of 17,000. The entire stunt was performed in the dark with only small lights on the hat and feet of each player. After spelling out UTAH, the Band formed a peace-pipe for the Redskins and played "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes". They did a precision drill in the center of the field, and then formed HI GRAD for the Alumni. In honor of the Homecoming Queen the Band finished their stunt by forming a queen's crown.

The performances this year have ranged from excellent to superb. Some of the outstanding formations have been a locomotive with moving wheels, a paddle-wheel steamer with a moving paddle-wheel. The Band has used helium-filled balloons and special lights very effectively. Some of the stunts which used these were a jack-o-lantern in lights with eyes that moved, a nose that revolved, and a mouth that opened and closed; a sardine with a mouth that opened and closed and spouted bubbles, and a champagne glass which was outlined in white lights with bubbling blue champagne in it.

The fame of the Band has spread throughout the West and while last year it was rated one of the top three bands on the Pacific Coast, it is considered by many to have surpassed all competition this year. In a recent issue of the Oakland Tribune, Alan Ward said, "Every college band on the Pacific Coast can take a lot of lessons from the Tiger Band. The only place you'll find half-time activities rivaling those of the Stockton school is in the Midwest, and probably the reason that they excel in the latter territory is because schools there have more students."

Much of the music the Band uses to accompany its stunts is arranged especially for the occasion by Bill Autry, a graduate student. Graham Frost is the Drum Major, Bob Stegman twirls the baton, Bob Corra is Band Manager, and Dick Grubbs is Student Conductor.
