Rel. Emphasis Week Starts Sunday; Program to Represent Three Faiths

Sunday will mark the beginning of this year's Religious Emphasis Week. During the week four excellent speakers representing the Jewish, Protestant and Catholic religions will bring inspirational messages to their audiences. An extensive program of lesser meetings has been scheduled around the four principal services.

At the Sunday morning Chapel service J. Roger Dias, Executive Secretary of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at San Francisco, will speak on the theme "Gods of my Campus." Several who have heard Dias speak before say that they are eagerly awaiting his Sunday morning message. His talk during Religious Emphasis Week last March was said to have been superb.

Monday at 10:00 a.m. classes will be excused for Convocation at the Chapel. Rabbi Joseph Gitin of the Temple Israel, Stockton, will be the speaker. His topic: "False Gods." Unit III director, Mo Hess will be student leader. Music will be provided by the A Cappella Choir under the direction of J. Russell Bodley.

The third featured meeting will be at Tuesday Chapel hour. Dr. David Eitzen, Pastoral Counselor at USC will speak about "Faith." A large group is expected to hear Dr. Eitzen at this service.

During the regular Thursday Assembly hour Father Mark J. Hurley of San Francisco will deliver the week's last major address. This service will be lead by Bob McLaughlin.

In addition to these large services will be daily Catholic Masses in the Anderson Y Center at 6:45 a.m. daily. Morning Watch services in the chapel at 7:00, daily Catholic retreats at 4:15 p.m., daily Bull Sessions in the chapel also at 4:15 and at 7:30 each night in the chapel, Vesper services.

Of special note is the movie "Prejudice" to be shown at the Monday night Vesper service, the chance to meet Dr. Eitzen at 2:15 Tuesday in 109 B.

Block "P" Plans Season Activities

The Block P activities are being organized and are already well under way for this year under the able direction of President Bob Heck. This coming Monday there will be another meeting to finish up elections of Block P officers for the executive board. ## Governor Negotiating For California Stadium

Baylor will meet the College of Pacific in a post-season football game IF a stadium can be secured for the contest, according to COP President Robert Burns.

As of 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, negotiations were still in progress. The Memorial Stadium at Berkeley was under consideration for the December 26 date and Kezar for January 2nd.

After a flood of rumors all week, the wire services announced at noon yesterday that Baylor had accepted the San Francisco Press Club invitation. Official confirmation of these reports was held up because of the stadium problem.

Baylor is a member of the highly respected Southwest Conference, and this season was runner-up for the conference crown. The Bears have been defeated twice this season, being dumped by Texas U. and the bowl-bound Rice team.

Christmas Formal Has 'Nappy' Lamare's Band Former Bob Crosby's

"Nappy" Lamare and his "Bobcats" will furnish the music for the FSA's Christmas Formal to be held next Friday, December 9, in the Civic Auditorium from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The "Bobcats," Bob Crosby's former orchestra, were taken over by Lamare when Bing's younger brother decided to abandon an orchestra career for a more profitable one as a crooner. Bob Crosby now has his own radio show on CBS for Pet Milk.

Lamare's band has just finished an engagement in downtown Stockton. He has played in top-flight ballrooms across the nation. Lamare has been nicknamed "Mr. Dixieland" by many top popular music critics. His band has been gaining popularity and it is considered as one of the nation's future greats.

CHRISTMAS

A Christmas Tree will adorn the center of the floor, and dancing couples will be surrounded with gay and Christmasy decorations. A spirit of Christmas will flourish, and happiness and jollity, symbolic of Yuletide, will be maintained throughout the evening.

Marianne Stadler, chairman of the dance, and the committee are working hard to make this one of the most successful formals in the history of COP.

Ogden Nash, Light Verse Writer, Speaks Tonight at Lecture Series

Ogden Nash, famed American writer of light verse, will be presented in Stockton tonight, December 2, by the College of the Pacific public lecture series. The event is set for Stockton High School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

OGDEN NASH

Mr. Nash, who "trips the light fantastic" in verse through the pages of the New Yorker, Saturday Evening Post and other national magazines as well as through some ten books of poetry, will recite a number of his classic verses and comment on the turn of events in his life that caused their creation.

Quoting from autobiographical paragraphs Nash relates: "I went to New York to make my fortune as a bond salesman and in two years sold one bond — to my god-mother. Then went to work writing car cards for a leading advertising agency. After two years of that I landed in the advertising department of Doubleday Page, the publishing house. That was in 1925 and I doubledayed until the beginning of 1931."

Incidentally, it was while he was at this job that Ogden Nash got the inspiration for his particular brand of light verse. Doodling at his desk one day, he came up with the very first sample of Nashism:

"I sit in an office
at 244 Madison Avenue,
And say to myself,
'You have a responsible job, havenue?'"

Admission to the Nash lecture is by season ticket or general admission on sale at the door.

Sugar, Orange, Cotton Bowls Neglect Pacific Tigers

Undefeated, untied, and uninvited has been a phrase used to describe many of the nation's top football teams during the past years. This year this same phrase is an excellent example of the bowl fortunes of the College of Pacific Tigers. The Battling Bengals who have amassed a total of 500 points in winning their ten encounters seemed to have been neglected by the so-called top bowls. The latter seem to favor beaten teams who have to waive conference rules to participate and teams whose stellar attraction is one man.

Last year the Southeastern Conference decided to crack down on the so-called professionalism of the schools in their conference. One regulation passed by the members of the conference, limited their teams to the four major bowls. Thus far this rule has not been violated. Another rule passed limited members participating in these bowls to teams who have won three-fourths of their conference games. The first year this regulation was in effect (this year) it was waived to permit Louisiana State with a conference record of four wins, and two losses to play in the Sugar Bowl. Why did the Southeastern Conference pass such a rule if they intend to waive it? It's true that Louisiana State ended their season in

The play deals with the Catholic Church in Ireland. Its theme lies in the ramification of faith that has drifted from its deepest moorings, and it shows a young girl's efforts to bring the contentious back to first principles.

Marcia Lou, a senior, has been in many productions here including "Dream Girl," "Years Ago," and "First Lady." While at Sacramento College, Tom had many roles, the most recent of them being "Macbeth." He attended a dramatic school in New England during a recent summer and appeared in "Nothing But The Truth," "Chicken Every Sunday," and other productions while in the East.

Glen Huling is the village schoolmaster and Penny Fitzgerald, a junior, has an important role. She is remembered for her performance in "Dark of the Moon" last semester. Glen was in "Power Without Glory," "King Richard III," and others. Paul Vieregge, who has done studio theater work and been stage manager, is in the cast. He appeared in "The Winslow Boy."

Three sophomores acting in "Shadow and Substance," the second Pacific Theatre production of the current 26th season, are Frank Smith, Joanne Bernard and Virginia Graham.

Fire Alarm Announces Naill-Forbes Betrothal

A mock fire drill, which routed West Hall girls out of their beds at 11:15 p.m., served as the method of assemblage to announce Evelyn Naill's engagement to Richard Forbes, November 28.

Arriving in a pajamaed horde in the lobby, the girls were amazed to find a large cardboard Santa Claus with Evelyn's and Richard's names in his pack.

Evelyn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Naill of Kingsburg, is a senior majoring in elementary education. She is chairman of the Sunday chapel committee, a member of the all-college honor society, and treasurer of West Hall.

Richard is a senior majoring in business administration at Fresno State College. Previous to the beginning of work on his college education he served in the Coast Guard for three years. He is the son of Mrs. Ethel Knutson of Santa Cruz.

The couple met when they attended Reedley Junior College. Wedding plans are indefinite.

BENGALS HOST AMBLERS TOMORROW NIGHT

Vallejo Falls To Mustangs

The Mustangs of Stockton College finished out their 1949 football season on a satisfying note last Thursday when they turned back an ambitious Vallejo Redskin, 28-14 in Baxter Stadium.

Concluding the season with a record of four wins, three of them in conference competition, and six defeats, the Earl Klapstein-Gene Stagnaro charges did not distinguish themselves as a great team, but proved on occasion they have what it takes to become a top-flight contender.

Choosing Jim Fairchild and Wes Parsons as co-captains and Fairchild as their most valuable player, the Mustangs formally rang down the curtain on their season this week.

Although the Vallejo encounter was not their best game of the year, the Mustangs showed plenty in spots. Joe Nicolau tallied twice in the first period and Frances Gumm added a pair of conversions to hand the home team a 14-0 advantage. Ralph Kendley scored in the second quarter, Gumm again converted, and Stockton held a 21-7 lead at the half.

BERNDT SNAGS ONE

The Redskins scored quickly in period three, but with their 21-14 lead in danger, Stockton wrapped up the ball game, Harlan Berndt intercepting a pass for the final tally. Gumm made it a perfect day by booting his fourth straight conversion.

Although Stockton finished fourth in NCJCC standings with a 3-3 record, Mustang players were a little chagrined at the season's end to see San Mateo, the team that defeated them 28-0, dumped by Monterey, 44-6 Stockton victims, and subsequent losers of the Southern Division title to Menlo, a club the Mustangs should have murdered. Two seven-point losses, one to Menlo, 14-7, the other to San Francisco 26-19, knocked the Mustangs out of a shot at the Vallejo Gold Dust Bowl.

As for next year, it's hard to predict just how the Mustangs will fare. One thing for sure though, they'll have many more returning lettermen than this year's club. Together with some talented high school material and a little luck, the Stockton Mustang could purloin the NCJCC crown his second time out.

'Fashions In the News' For Drake Relays

In order to enable a College of Pacific track representation to attend the Drake Relays at Drake University in the spring, a unique fashion show will be presented by Dunlap's Stockton Dry Goods in the COP Auditorium December 7 at 8:00 p.m. with proceeds to go to the track team.

A group of six of the following members of the Pacific thinclads will be chosen to attend: Mason, Macon, Stokes, Cope, Mudd, Hess, Kirkpatrick, and/or Butler.

Word from Coach Earl Jackson has it, "We should be able to beat both times, the mile and two-mile records made by the college class relay teams."

Pacific Sports

The Mustangs show their downfield blocking in the Vallejo Turkey Day game as Wes Parsons (71) and Henry Welch (69) clear the way for back Ralph Kendley. The Mustangs finished a successful season winning 28-14.

MUSTANGS DROP OPENER TO POWERFUL AMBLERS

The Stockton College Mustangs officially opened their '49-'50 basketball season Monday night in the Stockton Auditorium when the strong Amblers Club turned back Van Sweet's young hopefuls 70-44.

The SC quintet was much more potent than the score would indicate. They had only a six point deficit at half time. A few minutes later they made the score 30 to the Amblers 31. A series of bad passes and an impotent man-to-man all over the court defense accounted for the rather decisive final score.

Coach Van Sweet said that this year's ball club is potentially the best in Stockton College history. Monday night the boys rebounded consistently and most of the time had a quite sound defense. Sweet is working to eliminate bad passes and to raise the scoring potential.

Veteran Del King and ex-Ambler Rod Detrick performed superbly on both offense and defense. Their efforts were offset by the very experienced playing of Amblers Bud Proulx, Jerry Haines, Grant Dunlap, and Jack Woods who each contributed at least 14 points to their cause.

The two teams will meet in the Auditorium again December 6. A summary of Stockton College scoring follows:

PACIFIC PLACED 10th; WAITS FOR BAYLOR NEWS

By DAVID GERBER

To Bowl or not to Bowl, that is the question. The Pacific Tigers, placed number 10th in the nation, is in the ironic situation of being snubbed by a major bowl, despite an undefeated team that ranks with the powerhouse teams of the nation.

Small-time schedule, big time politics or just plain fear are some of the reasons the Tiger is still roaming in his own lair. However at this writing (written last Tuesday) there are various stories of having Pacific play a major opponent in the Bay Area or at Sacramento. So far T.C.U. and Villanova have turned down bids by the San Francisco Press Club. A new feeler is being extended to Baylor University.

The time is mentioned for either Dec. 31st or Jan. 2nd. The reason game rumors are still strong is because of the many fans we've gained this year who believe we could hold our own with the best in the nation and want to pit us against a formidable foe.

But before you wear out your chins against the ground let's look at the bright side of the ledger. This year has pulled us right out of the small college level and gave C.O.P. more publicity than the school ever dreamed of before. The valley people, the Bay Area people and in general, all up and down the coast and throughout the nation, many people tried to help our cause because they were taken by the big time playing and spirit shown by a small college. The climb of Ed LeBaron and Pacific to national notice upon a great combination of students, team, and supporters has become a saga of human endeavor in the annals of sport. You can't

Local Undefeated Club Quintet Test Tigers Double Post

Pacific will host the Stockton Amblers Club in the COP gym tomorrow night at 8 p.m. The Tigers opened their 1949 season last night down on the Farm against the Stanford Indians.

C.O.P. Tankmen End Successful Season

By Norwood Mitchell

Although they were beaten in the final stanza of the PAA Tournament by the Pacific Coast Conference champs, Cal's Golden Bears, Pacific's mermen finished the season in a blaze of glory the day before Thanksgiving by drubbing Cal Poly 7-2 at the loser's pool.

Thus endeth the greatest season in Pacific's short water polo history — it has existed but two years — for the Tiger tank team lost only to Cal twice, one an 8-7 heartbreaker in a double overtime contest, and won all the remaining games on their schedule. The current campaign was certainly the most successful one for Coach Bill Anttila since his arrival at C.O.P. about three and a half years ago. The Orange and Black copped second place honors at the PAA extravaganza despite the efforts of Charley Walker, erstwhile San Jose State mentor, to persuade officials to award the runner-up spot to his beloved Spartans.

As a result of the disagreement, it was decided that the winner of the S.J. State-Olympic Club playoff match would also be designated as second-place winners in a tie with the C.O.P. team. But, in the meantime, 10 members of our water polo team will receive silver medals for their effort in the tournament.

Apparently the mighty Golden Bear's domination in sports is not limited to football, because the water boys from Berkeley were able to defeat a strong Bengal aggregation 7-5 for the PAA championship on Friday night November 18 at the San Francisco Olympic Club pool. The bitter-fought contest was a close battle all the way as only one goal was scored in the second half, the halftime score being 6-5 in favor of the Bears.

Forward Frank Poucher again

The Amblers boast an undefeated record this season and will present a club loaded with former Pacific stars. Highlighting the Club quintet are Bud Proulx, Grant Dunlap, Jerry Haines and Stan McWilliams. Proulx, ace forward of last season's Tiger cagers garnered 15 points against the Stockton College Mustangs Monday night.

The game will be the first home showing of the new streamlined Tigers working with the double post. Howard Pearce and Bill Wirt will handle the pivot spots with Hank Pfister, Jim Enos and Jim Denton rounding out the starting five.

BLACKS VS. TERRORS

An added attraction will feature a preliminary game between the Pacific Blacks and the Red Terrors of the city league. The Terrors are also loaded with former Pacific and Stockton College players such as Al Levy, John Totten, Bud Rose, Bob Thomas, and Bob MacLaughlin. The Blacks, who are the official Pacific reserve team promise strong opposition with Don Mitchler, Len Dietrick, John Madrid, John McCandless, Gene Law, Francis Wilkinson, Gil Sells, Tom Mitchell and Dave Gerber.

led the way for Pacific, pouring in three goals, while the Gold and Blue's attack was spearheaded by Dale Webster, Jim Howe, and Bill Phillips, former Stockton College athlete.

Senior Don Driggs led the Tigers to an easy victory over the Mustangs of San Luis Obispo by scoring three times and thereby writing finis to his water polo days at Pacific. Other seniors who have worn the Orange and Black for C.O.P.'s water polo team for the last time include forwards Frank Poucher and Bob Brown, goalie Graham Christie, and guard John MacCandless.

In that contest Poucher followed Driggs in the scoring column by pushing two into the net, while Gary Lehmen and Dick Cullenward made one each. All 11 men on the Tiger squad who made the trip had an opportunity to get playing time in.

Jack Kirkpatrick, Pacific's stellar distance man, turned in the best official time of his career in the three and a quarter mile run, 17:01.5, to win the first Pacific Invitational Cross Country Meet as Cal Poly took the team title by placing second, third and fourth at Baxter Stadium Saturday, November 18.

Cards Stop COP Quint By 75-49 Dunking

Pacific's debut in basketball began with their defeat at the hands of the Stanford Cards. The boys on the farm got off to an early start and led the Tiger Quintet 33-20 at the half. The second half showed Stanford's superiority over the Tigers by The Red downing the Stockton Club 75 to 49.

Hank Pfister led the Tigers with 13 points followed by Howie Pierce with 11.

POW WOW

By Ed Powell

We are truly sorry, gang, that you were not invited to one of the major bowl games, which you rightfully deserved. The Pacific Weekly staff did everything possible with a typewriter and special delivery stamps to make a New Year's game yours.

Even though you won't be playing in a bowl game, you can finish the season assured that the people of California and the student body of COP are proud of the contribution you have made towards better football on the Pacific slope. While other Western teams fell by the wayside the Tigers won game after game turning in the best seasonal performance in the school's history.

For three years you have given the student body the brand of football we enjoy. Thanks, gang.

DON'T LET THEM DOWN

Two years ago the Stockton College basketball team was eligible to play in the Junior College National Basketball Tournament. The team was a good one and deserved a trip that a college student could remember for the rest of his life. Unfortunately the people of Stockton and the students of this campus never got off the dime to furnish the money necessary for the trip. The result was that Marin J.C., sent by the people of Mill Valley, came home with the National Title. Stockton had defeated Marin during that season and could just as well have brought home the crown.

The students of the College of the Pacific and the people of Stockton have another chance to send an excellent team after a coveted crown. The famous Drake Relays are waiting for the Pacific relay team to bring home the College class trophy to this campus.

If you have any doubt about the Tigers' abilities in this field just ask Coach Jackson. He is confident that Pacific will top both the mile and two-mile times set in the relays by Loyola and Pepperdine. If the team progresses fast enough Jackson may enter them in the University class. The team will be practicing hard in anticipation of a crack at the crown.

To give them this chance all the students have to do is enjoy themselves by going to the Fashion Show in the Pacific Auditorium next Wednesday night. The latest men's and women's fashions plus entertainment by leading San Francisco models all for one dollar. Remember, only you can stop the Tigers from showing what they can do against major competition.

North Hall Champions All Stars Chosen

North Hall grabbed the title spot in the Intramural Football League by defeating second place Rhizomia in the final game of the season. The North Hall grid machine, which went through an untied, undefeated season, announced that any bowl bids would be accepted.

The final team standings were

1. North Hall
2. Rhizomia
3. Quonset C&D
4. Omega Phi
5. Quonset A&B
6. Archania
7. Quonset F&G
8. Ball and Chain
9. AEO

Using a poll of the players as well as the selections of the staff, the Pacific Weekly picks as its All-Intramural team the following men. The team was picked regardless of the positions played, as most teams used all of their players in each of the positions at one time or another.

Bill Stewart, North Hall
Wally Dietrich, North Hall
Buddy Jones, North Hall
Pete Divanis, Rhizomia
Herb Baxter, Rhizomia
Elton Murphy, Quonset C&D
Dan Derby, Quonset C&D
Morrie Edelstien, Omega Phi
Cliff Gambs, Archania

Honorable mention goes to Darrel Winrich, North Hall; Bob Howe, Quonset C&D; Carl Carlensen, Rhizomia; and Dick Soulsby, Archania.

Joe: "I'd sure like to stop off for that drink, Bill, but I have to go home and explain to my wife."

Bill: "Explain what?"

Joe: "How should I know? I'm not home yet."

Chinchio (3), Dunlap (6), McWilliams (13) of the Amblers go up for the ball against Detrick (13) and an unidentifiable player of the Stockton College Mustangs in the Monday night at the Civic Auditorium. The Amblers pulled away in the second half to win 70-44.

KLEIN, ROHDE ROUND OUT PLAYER OF WEEK PICKS

John Rohde received the Stockton Quarterback Club "Player of the Week" award for the Fresno State game and Bob Klein was named for his performance in last week's Cal Poly walk-away.

Rohde, who has been tagged as "the great white swan" by Stockton journalists, has been a star for Larry Siemer's Bengals for the past three campaigns, and he played his first collegiate ball under Amos Alonzo Stagg in 1946.

The six feet four inch, 212-pound left end is a native of San Jose, and during his prep school days he was hailed as the greatest end prospect ever to come out of the land of the Spartan.

This season John has made the honorable mention lists of several All-American and All-Coast selections and is one of the top draft choices for the San Francisco 49ers.

Bob Klein is known as the grand old man of the COP club although he admits to seeing only twenty-two summers. His waining hairline probably has something to do with the fact that Pacific fans are skeptical about that twenty-two figure.

Klein, a 205-pound tackle from Berkeley, is a three-year letterman at Pacific, and this season he has been among the big guns in a Tiger forward-wall that has allowed the combined opposition only 66 tallies.

Kirkpatrick Wins Cross Country

In the cross country scoring in which the low team wins, Cal Poly had 41 points, San Jose had 43, Pacific totaled 74, Fresno State finished with 86, Sacramento had 104 and Cal Aggies ran up 117.

Kirkpatrick preferred to remain in obscurity throughout the greater portion of the race, which was directed over the levee area behind Baxter Stadium and finished with one lap around the stadium track, but on the final turn before entering the stadium, the "Flying Swede" turned on the heat and pulled away from the field of 35 to finish far ahead of the nearest competitor.

Cal Poly's Walt Boehm was the second-place man in 17:08.3, followed by teammates John Lesley at 17:25.5 and Walter Jones at 17:29.5.

San Jose State placed seven men in the first fourteen, but only the first five counted and Cal Poly's three runner-up places were too much to overcome. Medals were awarded to the first five place winners.

Tiger Roger Wickman placed 13th in the meet, while Preston Garmire finished 18th, Ray Drew was 25th and ended up 26th for the Orange and Black.

Bengal Coach Earl Jackson was well pleased with the outcome of the meet and plans to have a similar event about this time next year.

Bowl Game On Tap For Pacific Football

In a statement made this week, Graduate Manager of Athletics Bob Monagan announced what Pacific's policy has been in regards to post-season bowl games. Monagan stated, "We were honored to be considered for the Sugar Bowl and it is unfortunate that we were unable to get the game. We are not considering any minor bowl games in which we would be unable to meet a major opponents."

'Red Shoes' at Sierra Acad. Award Winner

Lauded by critics here and abroad as one of the "Year's Five Best," J. Arthur Rank's "The Red Shoes" will close at the Sierra Theatre Sunday, December 4. The first British Technicolor feature ever to win three Academy Awards, it will be shown twice daily, 2:30 and 8:30, with extra matinees on Saturday and Sunday.

Based on Hans Christian Andersen's classic, "The Red Shoes" is the first picture to present a full-length ballet in its entirety.

Among the many massive interior settings are exact replicas of Covent Garden Opera, London, and the State Opera House, Paris. Exteriors were filmed in their authentic locales—London, Paris, Monte Carlo, Cannes, Nice and the Maritime Alps—all in transcendent Technicolor.

More than a year in the making "The Red Shoes" was co-written, produced and directed by Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger, makers of the "Black Narcissus". Co-starred are Anton Walbrook, Marius Goring, Moira Shearer.

Tickets are now on sale at the Sierra Theatre box office and must be reserved. Admission prices for matinees will be $1.20, $1.50 and $1.80; for evening seats will be priced at $1.20, $1.80 and $2.40. Students and teachers will be admitted to all week-day performances at reduced rates.

Introducing T. Toomay Pac. Weekly Cartoonist

Let us pause a moment in our deliberations this week for a thumb-nail review of Ted Toomay, the man's man who is the creator of those curvacious cartoons in the weekly. Ted, who is now completing his senior year in COP as an English major, has been serving the paper for 3 semesters. His intentions however are to stay in school until he receives a general secondary credential.

The Toomay's, it might be noted, have turned this college into somewhat of a family situation. Back in '46, Jack, the oldest brother, made All-Coast honors as a center on Pacific's greatest court team. At present Ted is a sub right end for Coach Siemerling while the youngest of the flock represents Van Sweet in basketball.

Ted has been married for three and a half years now and lives off campus with his wife and 13 month old boy.

Stud. Court Functions Efficiently Adds to SC Student Welfare Fund

By CHICK CHIDESTER

"Judges are apt to be naive, simple-minded men," once said Oliver Wendell Holmes.

This generalization would have soon been dispelled upon beholding the Stockton College Student Traffic Court.

At 11 a.m. each Tuesday he who breaks a rule—be it reckless driving, kicking up dust, tossing garbage, smoking or generally obnoxious behavior—is arraigned before Chief Justice Frank Wolfe and his associate justices, Kurt Mayer and Jack Schmidt.

Here in the courtroom of the Barn Chief Justice Wolfe, balances the scales of justice and usually adds a bit to the Stockton College Student Welfare Fund.

While arrests are made by Student Control members within the perimeter of the campus only, reckless drivers who have their drag races down Alpine hadn't better consider themselves out of bounds. For these extreme cases a fine check-up device, radio, is used and communication with the State Police in Sacramento soon establishes identity of the vehicle titleholder. Since many of the students drive cars registered in a parent's name, it's easy to see why fellows usually hurry to court "to take the rap."

And what, you may ask, does the student himself think of this system? According to Phil Garlington, associate Dean of Men, the court is highly successful as a part of Student Control. Entirely in the hands of Unit I and II students, the goals of the court are to show the student his error and help him avoid future misconduct and thoughtlessness.

Tempering sagacity with a minimum fine, the court has found it unnecessary to have contact with faculty or civil officers. Although privileged to appeal the decision of the court, Dean Garlington—who sits in on the proceedings but avoids participation—says the faculty is pleased with the court record and not one student has lodged a complaint against the decisions of their student officers.

Civil Service Jobs Open To Qualified Applicants

The U.S. Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Physical Science Aid to fill positions paying from $2,200 to $3,100 in various Federal agencies in Washington, D.C., and vicinity. The optional branches covered by this examination are chemistry, physics, metallurgy, geology, mathematics, and other branches of physical science except meteorology.

To qualify for these positions, all applicants will be required to take a written test. In addition, for positions paying $2,450 and above, they must have had from one to four years of appropriate experience in the physical sciences. For the higher grades, part of this experience must have been in a specific branch of physical science, depending upon the position for which the application is made. Pertinent education may be substituted for the required experience.

The age limits, 18 to 62 years, will be waived for veterans.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from most first and second class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. Applications must be received in the Commission's Washington office not later than December 13, 1949.

last activity was policing and running the concessions on the rooters train to San Jose.

At present, Block P is trying to work up a benefit basketball game with COP and one of the eastern colleges that will be coming out here this year. The funds collected from the game would go toward more Block P jackets for the spring semester athletes.

The president also announces that the new Tiger jackets will be distributed around December eleventh.

NOTICE!

By RHODE

It has been reported that there is an epidemic spreading through the different living groups. Medical circles have classified this strange malady as short-sheetitis.

It generally starts as the poor victim is wearily climbing into bed. He is then overcome with a feeling that either he outgrew his sheets or his sheets had miraculously shrunk in his absence. A warning has been sent through the school that this epidemic is contagious, so look out, you may be the next victim!

Pacific Is Invited to Bridge Tournament

C.O.P. is one of the more than 300 colleges invited to compete in the 1950 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. Invitations and entry blanks were received last week by college officials from Kenney L. Ford of Kansas State College, Chairman of the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee.

Only undergraduates are eligible to play in the duplicate Contract Bridge event for the title and trophy. A preliminary round will be played by mail in February, and the sixteen highest ranking pairs will meet for the face-to-face finals at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on April 21 and 22, with their expenses paid by the Tournament Committee.

In last year's Intercollegiate tournament, which was won by the team from Wayne University, 1306 students representing 163 colleges in 45 states played in the round-by-mail. To insure representation of all parts of the country in the finals, the country is divided into eight zones, with two pairs from each zone qualifying for the finals.

The Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee, which supports the event so that there is no cost to the competing colleges or the players, is a group of college alumni and officials interested in developing Contract Bridge as an intercollegiate sport in which men and women can compete on an equal basis.

The Committee requires that the approval of the dean or a corresponding authority be given before a college can be regarded as officially entered in the tournament.

MORE ABOUT THE BOWL GAMES

a blaze of glory, and perhaps they do deserve a bowl bid, but why then did that school vote for such a ruling? Did the Southeastern Conference intend for this rule to be violated? Was it just a scrap to throw to the wolves who were hollering "Professionalism?"

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas seemed to prefer North Carolina as an opponent for the Southwestern Conference Champion over COP. The Cotton Bowl selection committee selected North Carolina in spite of the fact that they have tasted defeat three times during the past season. Two of those defeats were, shall we say, a little convincing. Notre Dame smashed the Tarheels, 42-6, and Tennessee showed their superiority by a 35-6 count. We can't deny that North Carolina gave the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame a terrific struggle for the first half, but if that is a basis for choosing bowl teams, then Michigan State should be in the Rose Bowl and Iowa should be in the Sugar Bowl. Ira Blue, KGO Sportcaster, summed up the picture pretty well in his broadcast of Saturday night when he said that North Carolina was invited because of one player, Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice, not because of their team accomplishment. The ironic part of the situation is that C.O.P. has on its team one of the biggest drawing attractions of modern football in their All-American quarterback, Eddie LeBaron. Returning to Ira Blue, the famed sportcaster then said that a bowl game is supposed to be between two teams who earned the postseason plum on the merit of the respective teams as a whole not on the ability of one man.

There is no need to point out how much better Pacific's record is than Santa Clara's. Comparative scores overwhelmingly favor the Tigers.

The great College of Pacific football team of 1949 is unbeaten, untied, and uninvited by the major bowls. All one can do is hope that some day the Southern Bowls will awaken and discover that other sections of the country play football, and perhaps they'll learn that an undefeated team can be an asset not a liability.

From The President's Desk

By MO HESS

There are two important items that I should like to bring to your attention this week. First of all as you undoubtedly know, next week is Religion in Life week. During my three and a half years here I've seen this week come and go—and nothing happen. It seems rather futile to lay emphasis upon Religion—or anything else—just once a year, and expect it to carry over during the rest of the year. Personally, I would rather leave out the word "Religion" this year and during next week try to see the ways in which we—you and I—can live so that we will be a friend to SOMEONE every day during the next year. For Religion per se has no meaning without personality—and personality in this connection is accentuated as a "spirit" pervades each one of us.

Pacific has long been regarded as a friendly college by visitors from here and there, and I think that the Pacific "spirit" is in truth the recipient of this praise. In our living groups it isn't the guy or gal interested in himself only, or books, or any other singular object that we call our friend. But the exemplar of our Pacific "spirit"—our friend, is the one who is interested in us. Perhaps then, if this next week has a job to do, that job (in my opinion) would be to see that the true Pacific Spirit is caught and kept by Pacificites who are in truth "a friend" to others.

Secondly, and by no means in this same train of thought, I would like to remind all of you of the open Senate meeting to be held in Music "C" on Monday, December 12. I think that there will be one item on the agenda concerning the organization of the FSA that will be of interest to every COP and SC student. This is your chance to have your opinion heard, so it's the twelfth at 7:00 P. M.

Radio Highlights

By JERRY MULLIN

Last week end at Stanford, there was held the Fall meeting of the Western Region of IBS, the inter-collegiate-broadcasting system. There, Pacific radio men had a chance to compare and contrast their efforts with those of other college stations.

IBS is a mutual co-operation group which aims toward the betterment of college radio. It strives to accomplish this means by mutual understanding, knowledge, and co-operation of all college radio stations. Not all college stations belong but the vast majority of active and progressive stations do. Through their mutual endeavors, they strive to help one another on such problems as sufficient operating expenses, adequate programing to compete with local stations, and obtaining licenses from the FCC. (Federal Communications Commission.)

The meeting brought together delegates from USC, Saint Marys, University of Idaho, Brigham Young University, California, Stanford, and College of the Pacific. Together in general session for two days, they met to discuss individual and group problems and means to overcome same.

As Pacific's delegates, which included Jim Hodges, Worley Evans, Dick Claus, Harry Uhlenburg, and myself, sat around exchanging ideas and information with the other delegates we became very conscious of a single fact—just how far advanced was radio at COP. In every phase we compared favorably to others, and in many phases we had a slight edge.

Conscious as we are of our benefits, we are even more conscious of our short comings. We do our utmost to remedy these, but we need help. So if you feel you're not getting what you want or you desire some particular type of program you're not getting, why not drop us a line and let us know?

Grapenuts, No Sheets, Clocks—What Next? Life in the Quonsets

By TED PHILLIPS

If there is any experience in college that is unusual and unique it is living in the quonsets. This does a better job of adjusting one to college than would a dozen College and Life courses.

If you live through the first weeks of alarm clocks going off at all times of the morning, you have what it takes. Add to this the experience of sleeping with grapenuts placed in your bed by a practical joker, or maybe you have been shortsheeted. (Ask any quonset man what shortsheeting is.)

The series of judo and rough and tumble fighting always adds to the enjoyment. Then if you have a test in the morning there is bound to be a group of bull-session artists talking until 2:00 a.m.

Of course, there is always a resident for every two quonsets, but there are fifteen men in a quonset and what chance does one have against thirty?

SENIOR SONATA

By G. NEAL

Thanks for the memory of the night you beat Fresno State and slaughtered San Jose and ran so wild and rampant in Oregon that day Oh thank you so much

Thanks for the memory of the touchdowns you have made and the games you have played the many times you've won a good job well done Oh thank you so much

Manys the winnings you gave us manys the thrills we have had and now that we are parting you leave us oh so sad That is, everyone except Santa Clara They're glad.

GUYS 'n GALS

By DAVID GERBER

No need to elaborate about the great name this year's football team gave to Pacific and to Stockton, everybody knows the great story. But we wonder if our school or the city itself will present the squad some token of esteem that will long be a keepsake for the boys . . .

Plug Dept.: Pacific Theatre opening tomorrow night with Shadow and Substance starring Mike Brown and Tom Rosqui—should hit a new high on the stage boards with this great show.

Oh yeah, we surround you on Monday night via the air lanes at 9:15 with scenes behind the scenes of Pacific life. Our producer, Ed LeBaron, told us anything goes and it usually does . . .

When Sonny Adkins was asked about his Thanksgiving holiday he replied with a complacent smile, "Well, I took my gal to dinner for turkey and then we talked turkey . . . When one drama hopeful said I'd like to be a producer, Marilyn Brum cracked, "You should, you make enough plays on campus" . . .

Jim Hodges, man about microphone, had a wrong commercial handed to him on his program. It was a plug for girls sweaters. Hodges wasn't phased a bit as he explained, "I've been over that material before" . . . What's this about Don Mahaney of North Hall being called continuously by some West Hall gals. And they told us he was bashful. Well, look what some touchdowns did for Tennessee Williams . . .

DeAnzia lawyers contacted the school for damages incurred by students after the San Jose game. They didn't know exactly who they were except that the people who wore those little Black and Orange hats were the ones responsible . . .

Special Bouquet dept.: Mr. Berry of Berkeley, a Board of Trustees member should be loudly applauded by all Pacific for his great try to push COP into a major Bowl bid. His telegrams, phone calls and trip to New Orleans was all his own doing for Pacific. He told school authorities that he liked this school and was going to do all in his power to put it on the map. Thanks, Mr. Berry . . .

GAL OF THE WEEK: If you see one of our stalwart men stop suddenly with eyes stretching outward, hair standing on end and a gurgling sound emanating from his throat you know he's been bewitched by our curvaceous Gal of the Week Helen Graham. Our brunette beauty is a sophomore (excuse me, a 14th grader) who currently resides at Maggies Hostelry (West Hall) and is now an Epsilon pledge.

Pacific's answer to the Petty and Varga elements is a Business Ad major in the Don't Knock stage of her future. That's what they all say till that Knight in Armour shows up. Our San Francisco gal has 110 pounds spun delectably on a 5' 3½" frame that could melt a Russian cold war.

Yep, she is nigh on perfect except she has to own up to having J.C. track coach Boyd Thompson as brother-in-law. Her sister, Virginia, works as secretary in the science building and when they both meet there, never has science seen such wonderfully made Atoms and Molecules . . .

"Nature has been very kind to you, Miss Bretson. You have a very marvelous mind."
