RUDOLPH GANZ SCORES TREMENDOUS SUCCESS AT PACIFIC CONCERT

Rudolph Ganz scored a tremendous success in San Jose last night in his first appearance at the College of the Pacific. A large and appreciative audience of local music lovers greeted the Swiss pianist and encored his playing repeatedly.

The critics all agree that no pianist ever heard on this coast plays with such manly, sane style as Ganz exhibited in his playing and few musical artists are capable of giving such real pleasure to their hearers.

The "Etude-Caprice" and "The Pensive Spinner," both composed by Mr. Ganz, held the audience in a delightful spell hardly equalled by any other of his offerings.

At first some were disappointed by the straightforward simplicity of this genius who played with all those characteristics of manner not expected in so eminent a musician and failed to manifest any of those attributes usually associated with long-haired musicians. Their disappointment, however, was soon changed to attentive admiration as the great artist caught them in the charm of his playing.

The "Sonnette del Petrarca" in A flat, from Liszt, was particularly well received, as was also the Sonata in D Major by Haydn.

Mr. Ganz program in full was as follows: (a) Chaconne, Bach-Busoni, (b) Sonata in D major, Haydn; (a) Fantasy in F minor, (b) Two Etudes, (c) Nocturne in F sharp, (d) Polonaise in A flat, Chopin; (a) Etude-Caprice, Ganz, (b) The Pensive Spinner, Ganz, (c) Serenade, Blauchet, (d) La fille aux Cheveux de lin, Debussy, (e) The Elves' Dance, Korngold, (f) Sonnette del Petrarca in A flat, F. Liszt, (g) Ra Roczy March, F. Liszt.

GLEE CLUB TO SING AT COLLEGE PARK CHURCH

The Girls' Glee Club of San Jose High School will sing at a joint meeting of College Park Senior and Intermediate Leagues next Sunday evening. The club is composed of twenty-eight S. J. H. girls, organized and trained by Mrs. K. C. Wood. Their program will include: "Once Again the Day Hath Flown," by Abt; "Sweet the Angelus is Ringing," from Henry Smart; a selected solo or two; and Berthold Tours' glorious "The Stars Beyond the Cloud." Please be in the church and ready to listen by 6:30. The program must begin on time.

CALIFORNIA - STANFORD GAME PLAYED THIS WEEK END

With the coming of November 14th the big game looms up and all the eyes of the Rugby world are naturally focusing on Berkeley, the scene of the encounter between Stanford and California. Are you going? Who is going to win? These are the questions of the day.

About three weeks ago Stanford met and defeated the Santa Clara squad by a score of 13-0. Last Saturday California met the same team and beat them 25-0. According to this dope the chances for the Blue and Gold ruggers have taken a sudden leap and California's prospect for victory looks "rosy." It is generally admitted that as individual players the Stanford men have the edge on the Blue and Gold bunch. But a team of individual stars does not always win. The team that plays together has many advantages.

Dope has had it that Stanford would win, and the outlook is still good, but it will be a game more closely contested than many Cardinal supporters expect. It will be a good game and a hard game.

More than seventy-five per cent of the students at Pacific have already secured tickets and insure a good representation from Pacific on both sides of the turf.

ARCHANIA.

The Archanians spent a most enjoyable and profitable evening in their hall last Friday evening. The program for the evening was as follows: Reading, "A Yankee in Love," Mr. McNary; Declamation, "The Lorelei," Mr. Ring; Piano solo, Mr. J. Dyche; Discussion, "The Philosophy of Henri Bergson," Mr. Nichols. The debate was "Resolved, that the present Democratic administration is successfully dealing with the present national problems." The affirmative was hotly upheld by Messrs. Tidmarsh and Roberts; Messrs. Jurgensmeyer and Francisco, defended the negative with an equal ardor. The negative won the debate.

The program was enlivened by a couple of the "latest rags" played by Ring.

ARCHANIA OPEN MEETING.

Archania invites the faculty and students of the school to an open meeting to be held in the Conservatory Parlors next Friday evening, at 8:00 o'clock P. M. Every one welcome.

TURF FIELD NEXT SEASON FOR PACIFIC RUGBY AGGREGATION

It is reported around the campus that a turf for next foot-ball season is practically assured. All that this will mean to the students and school it is impossible to estimate. Unquestionably it would be the biggest factor that could be introduced to insure a large class of '19, and the return of the men of '18, '17 and '16.

The plan now is to have the turf put in largely by student labor, thus making the expense as light as possible. It is rumored that the men's class in physical culture will adjourn to the field and that spades and picks will be wielded in place of indian clubs and dumb-bells, gym credit being allowed for this rather than for the routine gym work. The idea seems a good one and with proper coordination between faculty and students, as well as between the men themselves it ought to be an easy matter to have the next season played on a turf. The work will, of course, be entirely under the direction of someone who is acquainted with the preparation and seeding of such a field.

The step will be the greatest made in the athletic history of the college, and, with the addition of improved training quarters, will make Pacific fully equipped to turn out winning teams in years to come.

SHOCKING EVENING ON CAMPUS SUNDAY

Not a little excitement was caused by a slight earthquake shock last Sunday evening at about seven-thirty. The tremor was sufficient to cause the buildings, especially East Hall, to vibrate for some time, and students could be seen scurrying from all the dormitories.

Both the horizontal and vertical seismographs registered shakes of about eight seconds duration, the swing being principally in a northerly and southerly direction. As far as could be learned no damage was done on the college grounds.

CLIFF HESS LEAVES

His many friends will be sorry to learn that Hess '17, has been forced to leave school, due to a recent operation performed on a broken shoulder. While he is doing quite nicely at present he does not expect to resume his studies, but will probably return to his home in Indiana.

ALL-STAR RUGBY TEAM LOSE 11-5 TO INVINCIBLES

The Invincibles proved themselves to be "invincible" last Wednesday by defeating a classy aggregation of "All-Stars" with a 11-5 total. The game was one of the fastest ever witnessed in these parts, abounding in star plays from beginning to end. The key-note of the entire contest was "harmony and concord," not a loud word or bit of unnecessary "roughness" being heard during the afternoon. The gentlemanly demeanor of the combatants came as a distinct surprise to the on-lookers, who had come in expectation of seeing something resembling a "free-for-all."

The solitary score of the "All-Stars" was made by Butterfield and converted from a difficult angle by Burgess. The tallies of the "Unconquerables" were made by Springsteen, Meese and Hamm, only one being converted.

The feature of the game was the lively interest evinced by the bleachers. Once more the Coeds distinguished themselves by their spirited yelling—the support being fifty-fifty between the two teams.

The Play.

The kick-off was answered by a "lady-tigers." A "give-em-the-axe" was returned and a little back and forth work followed. Shrieks of excitement punctuated the play while a "Ray! Ray! Ray! Invincibles!!" was frequently heard. Several times the ball approached the goals of both teams, but each time the bleachers rallied and the catastrophe was averted.

At last, however, Butterfield, borne on the wings of a "Sky-rocket," went over and the half ended in frenzied pandemonium.

The second opened with the Invincible backers determined to take a brace and capture to dove of victory. Soon after the kick a song proved effective and Ham and Meese scored in quick succession. The "All-Stars" recovered quickly and carried the ball from the danger zone with a chorus of yells and supplications.

Several "All-Stars" deserting to the Invincible ranks gave the latter greater volume, and it was not long before Springsteen was propelled down the turf for the concluding try. Well-placed screams diverted the conversions, however, with the result that only one out of three were filled, and the game ended with a score of 11-5.

Lloyd Shafer succeeded in making himself heard in the role of referee.

TRADITIONS

New traditions are usually hard to start and easy to kill—they are to be avoided.

Some traditions arise because a real need for them exists—a need that has been brewing for time immemorial and is suddenly tangibly recognized. But sometimes there are traditions which arise from the mere artificial restlessness that exists in some people's minds; for these there is no need and they accomplish no end.

Such a tradition the practice of placing numerals on the campus may become. It serves no purpose, requires no originality and tends to vandalism. Numeral daubers should not be the best representatives of any class. "Prep" boys vaunt besmeared signs pompously, but college men should discourage such barbarisms.

Throwing water from the third floor windows of East Hall is also another tradition, for which there is little excuse, in fact in some cases it has been a positive disgrace to the men living in the hall. But the men in the hall are not altogether to blame in as much as they discourage the practice and punish any outside offender. Academy lads and Freshmen from off the campus may easily put the reputation of the East Hall men in disfavor by a recurrence of such tricks.

The men on the campus should see to it that no further depredations occur, the blame for which could in any way be laid at their doors. Stringent measures may be necessary, but should be resorted to in such a case. Let only those who are worthy the third floor visit there.

DO YOUR PART

The students' campaign for the new dining-hall appears to be progressing splendidly and although no figures have been made public as yet, we are informed from reliable sources, that everything is going very well indeed. The girls' societies of college and academy seem to have entered especially well into the spirit of the thing, and it will give the men's societies a hard go to keep them from carrying off the trophy at the end of the contest.

This is as it should be, as members of the College of Pacific owe it to our school to give it our support in this crisis. It probably don't mean much to you to write a few letters, or interview a few people, but if every student did so it would help very materially.

So, even if the campaign hasn't been getting the publicity that it should, don't let your interest wane, but keep things moving at high speed so that next commencement we will be able to show old students a new dining-hall built partly by the efforts of a loyal unified student-body.

CARTESIA.

Quotations from Hiram Johnson opened Cartesia's literary meeting last Friday evening. The attendance was nearly 100 per cent and the program rendered was of an unusual good order. Following a reading by Harry Meredith, Donald MacChesney exhibited his oratorical powers with a Declamation, "An Overworked Word." A discussion, "The History of the Progressive Party", by Dick Wright, was well received. Several good impromptus were given. Rees Dudley speaking on "Life at a Military Academy", and D. MacChesney speaking on "The Difference Between Whistler's and Chase's Art." An original short story, "A Drunken Life-saver," by Clark MacChesney, was followed by ten minutes of Parliamentary Law conducted by Warren Telfer. The debate concluded the program. Lawrence Adams and Rees Dudley successfully upheld the affirmative of the subject, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abrogated." The negative speakers were Waldo Telfer and Harold Hestwood.

DEAN MORRIS RECOVERED.

Dean B. J. Morris has returned to his office and is now meeting all of his classes in West Hall. For some time he has been confined to his home with a peculiarly dangerous ailment

Y. W. C. A.

More of the women should attend the splendid meetings of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday afternoons at 4:30 o'clock. Last Tuesday afternoon Dr. Willard of the First Congregational Church addressed them, his subject being "Music, and Its Relation to Human Life." In it he brought out six main points: law, possibility, the quality of timber, resonance, symphony and concert pitch, giving them first as applied to music and then to human life. It was an interesting and instructive meeting.

This week is the week of prayer. Meetings are being held each evening, except Tuesday, from 7 to 7:30. Tuesday at 4:30 o'clock.

"SLOMY JANE" IS BIG SUCCESS.

Photoplay at the Liberty Is Written from Bret Harte's Stirring '49 Romance.

"Slomy Jane," the photoplay of Bret Harte's romance, stage for photographing amid the reed woods of Marin County, is being shown at the Liberty Theatre, and Beartriz Michelena, in the title role, is scoring a nightly hit by picture proxy. House Peters played the leading man's role in the production and he and Miss Michelena were surrounded by a group of "Movies" actors who fit well into the background with their picturesque costumes of the days of '49.

This photoplay is one of the most typically Californian produced here and the 6000 feet of films reel out a series of strikingly beautiful as well as swiftly active pictures. The engagement of this picture closes tomorrow night.

BANQUET GIVEN PACIFIC PLAYERS

The football banquet of the year took place last Wednesday in the dining hall. The men were gathered around a long table, in the centre of the room, which was hung with appropriate decorations of orange streamers and foot-balls. The places were marked with little place-cards decorated with foot-balls in relief.

All the resources of the dining hall had been called upon and the result was a sumptuous bill of fare, which was worthy of the appetites of the players. The meal was broken up with staccato yells for "All-Stars!"
and "Invincibles!" as well as the old Pacific yells in which all united.

Miss Chase was the artist at the piano and proved equal to the occasion with numberless new songs and pieces—all the very latest song-hits.

MacChesney served well in the double role of Yell-leader and Toastmaster, and after the last course he called on Manager Ham for a few words.

Mr. Ham in a few sentences attributed the success of the season largely to Coach Fletcher, and ended by presented him with a silver loving-cup on behalf of the 1914 squad of the College of the Pacific.

In response Mr. Fletcher expressed his gratification at the spirit shown and the work done, by the men under him. He stated that the handling of this team had changed with him from a purely business proposition, to a pleasure.

Captain Hansen was the next called
on. In a few well chosen remarks, he expressed the pleasure that it had been to him to captain such a team.
Captain-elect Wright followed him,
and stated that his motto for the year to at least equal the showing for this year—five out of nine won—and if possible to excell it.

President then was called upon and gave an informal little talk on the relation of foot-ball to life. He said that the foot-ball attitude was one which stayed by a man through life, sustaining him and helping him to fight harder.

Winning was the last man to speak.
For the team and the squad as a whole, expressed the satisfaction of the fellows with the captain and coach and put forth the hope that next year will be able to look back upon as successful a season as this.

ed the affirmative to the question for the inter-society debate, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abrogated." The debate between Adelphia and Cartesia, will occur some time in the early part of next semester.

If you haven't money in the bank it is your own fault. The country is full of money, and you have or can earn lots of it. The trouble is to keep it when you get it.

Of course, it is a little sacrifice at used to the habit, and then you are on the road to being a millionaire.

BASKET BALL SQUAD SHOWS VETERAN TEAM RETURNED

The season in basket-ball this year bids fair to be as successful as the foot-ball season just past. The prospects at the beginning of the year are as good as have been seen for many years.

The strong team of last year is back in force and will be sure to follow up the good showing made last season with a much improved game. Hansen, the husky center of last spring, will be as good as ever. The forward division will be ably headed by Ham, last year's captain, and one of the most accurate men ever seen on local courts, and Beckstrom, captain for the present season, who probably made the best showing of any on the floor last year.

The guards show an exceptionally strong front. Lyons, Meese, MacChesney and Burgess, all made excellent showings last year and it will be very hard to choose between them in filling the positions. Weidemann also is back and is expected to show up well.

Among the new men Wells and Rowe come especially well recommended. Both made good records on their high-school fives and will prove a help in forming the 1915 Tigers.

NEW TRAINING QUARTERS OFFERED PACIFIC SQUAD

A knotty problem regarding the coming basket-ball season appears to have been solved by a generous offer made to Manager Ham by Mr. Saxton yesterday. Mr. Saxton is head physical director at the San Jose Y. M. C. A. and has been prominent in local athletic circles for several years, having had great success as a basket-ball coach.

Mr. Saxton offers Pacific the use of the Y. M. C. A. basket-ball court, one of the best in the city, for the

SUNDAY LUNCH ABANDONED IN COLLEGE DINING HALL.

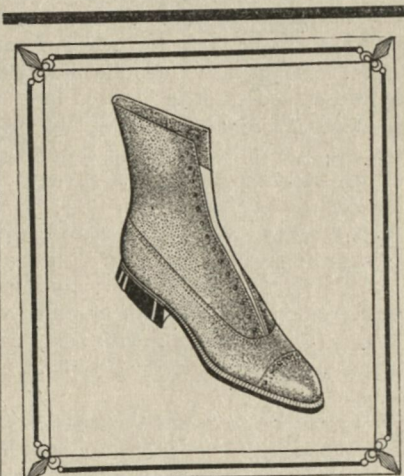

"No longer will lunch be served in the dining hall on Sunday evening," declared Mrs. Deyoe following a request from the student help that they be excused during that hour of each week.

In place of the regular meal, crackers, cheese and apples may be carried from the hall to the dormitories and saved till the time for the evening repast. Water may be secured in all the rooms.

The system so far has been an unqualified success in that it makes the evening so home-like for the fellows.

use of two teams during specified hours every night in the week. This, of course, includes the hot showers, plunge and all the other conveniences of this most modern gymnasium. The court could be used for all the regularly scheduled games during the season, and the gate receipts secured from outsiders would soon make up the small amount asked.

Besides the use of the floor Mr. Saxton offers to serve in the capacity of coach, and it is this that makes the offer especially attractive. He has had great success in the last two or three years in bringing out winning teams, and, with the material that Pacific affords, it should be an easy matter for so competent a coach to train up a winning team.
