

John Muir Correspondence (PDFs)

1903-01-26

Letter from Sarah M. Galloway to [John Muir], 1903 Jan 26.

Sarah M. Galloway

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

Recommended Citation

Galloway, Sarah M., "Letter from Sarah M. Galloway to [John Muir], 1903 Jan 26." (1903). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 2506.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/2506>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

Seaside, Oregon.
Jan-26-1903

Dear Brother John:-

Here is the letter

I received from Dan - and thought there are few particulars I thought you might like to see it. Mary's letter came yesterday which I will also enclose, you will see she was only in time for the funeral, but it is such a comfort that they could both be there. I suppose Mary would not know how seriously ill Annie was until she received the Telegram announcing her death, when she must have started at once.

I will also enclose this letter from Mrs Laura Owen, Abbott. she is a daughter of the Mrs Owen who is in Annie's house. and tells how Annie

The Telegram
telling of Annie's
death came with a shock for I thought she was getting well
again.

If convenient
you might
return the
letter as Leticia
might like to see them when she comes.

My time will
do when you
are writing.

was before Dan came. I am so thankful Dan could be with her these last few days, and it was such a comfort to her to know he was coming. In a letter from another friend who was with her, she said "Dan will take me in his big strong arms, and make me so comfortable, he loves me."

Perhaps you have had letters too.
One of the friends sent me a small box of flowers that had been brought to the funeral. They were carnations and a rose bud, with some sprays of delicate green. I pressed them.

I hope you are all keeping well these winter days. All are pretty well here. Love to all from Sarah M. Yellowley.

Scappoose, Oregon,
Jan. 26, 1903.

Dear Brother John:

Here is the letter I received from Dan, and though there are few particulars I thought you might like to see it. Mary's letter came yesterday which I will also enclose. You will see she was only in time for the funeral, but it is such a comfort that they could both be there. I suppose Mary would not know how seriously ill Annie was until she received the telegram announcing her death, when she must have started at once.

I will also enclose this letter from Mrs. Laura Owen, Abbott. She is a daughter of the Mrs. Owen who is in Annie's house, and tells how Annie was before Dan came. I am so thankful Dan could be with her these last few days, and it was such a comfort to her to know he was coming. In a letter from another friend who was with her, she said, "Dan will take me in his big strong arms, and make me so comfortable, he loves me." Perhaps you have had letters too. One of the friends sent me a small box of flowers that had been brought to the funeral. They were carnations and a rosebud, with some sprays of delicate green. I pressed them.

I hope you are all keeping well these winter days. All are pretty well here.

Love to all from

Sarah M. Galleway

The telegram telling of Annie's death came with a shock, for I thought she was getting well again. If convenient you might return the letters as Celia might like to see them when she comes. Any time will do when you are writing.

RELIANCE BOND

03751