Dear Muir:

Wm. Lloyd Garrison is, I think, just starting North, judging by a farewell letter I had from him this morning. I don't know his plans now, as he is unexpectedly hurried; but I have just written him that if it is possible when he is North I want him and you to encounter. It will be a joy on both sides, and by reflection a great pleasure to me to have two such men come together. So, if he can set a date for meeting you at Keith's, do keep it.

I wish there was some earthly use in asking you to come down here, but I am afraid there is not. Turbese sends her love.

With all kind remembrances to the whole family,

Hastily but Always sincerely yours,

Chas. F. Sumner
