ALUMNI RETURN FOR HOMECOMING

EDITORIALS

Meet the Alumni . . .

Have you met the Knoles?
Come Again Sometime
Yeast A'Worryin'
for You

We are having ravishing weather, the alfalfa is thriving in its best style, the lawns are shaved and trimmed—in fact, everything has been cleaned and pressed in honor of that valiant body, the Alumni. Having disentangled their "Welcome Alumni" signs from the cobwebs, all the houses are prepared to keep the homefires burning, in spite of the lack of the filial bonfire.

Some of the great gods of campus mythology are coming back to assert their claims upon reality. Among whom are the omniscient Knoles. You never can get around them. Just when you think you have disposed of seven-eighths of one generation, they all come trooping back to see how we're making out. It's not as though we couldn't use a Knoles here and there, but somehow we did manage to find captains for our teams, leads for our plays, members for our choir, editors for our publications, presidents for our clubs, and soloists for our oratorios—and not a single Knoles to choose from this year. Ah well, before long little Leslie will take up the family collegiate history where temperamental Tully left it. And after that we can look forward to a long line of the house of Knoles—little Peters and Dorothys, Gordons and Audreys, Georges and Amadeuses, Tullys and Beatrices.

There are probably other alumni more famous, but the Knoles' collective reputation overwhelms us. Ah, me! We're sorry, but that, children, is all about the alumni for this time.

The paper, in a solicitous moment, wishes to recommend that Glen Hallik eat yeast before breakfast, and after every meal.

Rah! Rah! Rah! for the lad who wrote the "Pacific Hall" editorial for last week. We feel the same way about the usual student body rendition of that devotional selection. But don't you think blablah sounds rather well, considering the nature of the tune? And since people find it difficult to learn the words, we propose that the doxology be sung instead.

We are obliged to accept with deep regret Dr. Eiselen's refusal to make political stump speeches in front of the cub house. He declined for the reason that his soap-box would certainly collapse at a crucial moment, occasioning criticisms of his weak platform. Judging from last Tuesday's polls, we fear that Communism is being neglected on the campus. Only three votes being cast for that obscure gentleman, Mr. Foster. Perhaps Schilpp could be induced to abandon his affiliations and support the feebler cause.

In regard to the above mentioned superior weather, we wish to add that no responsibility is taken by the editor for any later barometric whimsicalities. Weather conditions on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday may be expressible in superlatives, but we will not venture to predict their nature.

Have a good time, all you alumnuses. Be sure and present your respects to Walter Geisele Norman Thomas Schilpp before you go.

160 CINCH CARDS DISTRIBUTED LAST WEEK

Out of a total of 614 students, excluding students of applied music only, a total number of 160 students received cinches. 101 students received 1 card, 10 students received 2 cards, 15 students received 3 cards, and 4 students received 4 cards.

A total of 242 cards were sent out, 189 of these yellow cards, and 53 of these blue.

Twenty-six per cent of the student body received cinch cards. This is a ratio of .39 of the number of cards to the total number of students.

Freshmen, who are 27 per cent of the student body, and who total 104 in number, excluding students of applied music, received 41 cards, or 27 per cent of all cards sent out to the student body.

Twenty-five of the freshmen students received 1 card, 10 received 2 cards, 3 each received 3 and 4 cards. A ratio of .63 of the number of cinch cards sent out were sent to the freshmen.

Fifty-one yellow cards were sent out to freshmen, constituting 27 per cent of all yellow cards sent out to the student body. 15 blue cards were sent out to the lower classmen, which is 28 per cent of all blue cards sent out to the student body.

Sorority members and pledges make up 23 per cent of the student body. Twenty-five per cent of all cards sent to the student body were received by these members. Fraternity members and pledges compose 20 per cent of the student body. 36 per cent of all cards sent out to the student body were received by these members.

Hoover Leads In Straw Ballot With Majority Of 199

A straw vote held after assembly last Tuesday resulted in a majority of 121 votes for Hoover, with Roosevelt inconspicuously seconding him with 139 less votes. Out of a total of 320 votes cast, Hoover received 199; Roosevelt 60, Thomas 58, and Foster 3.

The fact that the Socialist party polled only two votes less than the Democratic party is an adequate reflection of the influence of Pacific political advocates. The three Communist votes do not indicate a prevalence of Russian sympathy. It is apparent that the Republican party is still strong in California, in spite of Democratic agitation to the contrary.

During assembly Dr. Malcolm Eiselen spoke concerning the three party candidates and their platforms. His lecture briefly outlined the public careers of the three candidates and their party platforms, including the questions of the tariff, unemployment relief, prohibition, and agriculture.

Business District Declares Holiday

The tonsorial chisler, Mr. King, and the book peddler, Mr. White, wish to announce that their respective shops will be closed on November 5, the day of the Santa Clara-Pacific game. Mr. King hopes to assist in giving the opposition a trimming, and Mr. White will be around to see them get thoroughly stamped on.

Prof. Eiselen was the speaker last Sunday evening at a community meeting in Patterson, under the auspices of the "Retention of the Wright Act Club." Several churches canceled their regular services to attend the meeting.

Notice!

The office of Debate and Oratory has been moved from the third floor of the Administration to the lower floor of the Conservatory. Professor Orton, debate coach, can be found there, in the room just next to the meeting place of College Man and Society.

Season's First Drama Opens Tomorrow

Hod Bailey, Little Theatre Editor

Tomorrow afternoon the curtain will rise on one of the most interesting shows done on the Pacific stage, Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal classic of before the war South, "Uncle Tom's Cabin, or Life Among the Lowly."

Just eighty years ago Little Eva was wafted into Heaven for the first time in Troy Museum in New York. Since that time the show has been continuously presented and this year is the first year that some road company is not including it in its repertoire.

DeMarcus Brown, director of the Little Theatre, is striving to produce the show in as near its original form as possible. When "Uncle Tom" was first presented, it happened to be the age of the grand drama. All of the plays were overacted and the heroes and heroines were as pure as lilies and the villains were as black as night. Mr. Brown has designed the sets in keeping with the play and the audiences will see a show that is as near like an old-time Opey House drama as possible.

The final rehearsal before the show was held last night and if the effect produced on the pre-performance audience is any indication of the success of the show, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will play to packed houses.

The cast for the play is one of the most experienced ever to appear in one production. All of the actors who have principal character parts have had wide experience on the stage. Chief among these are Leslie Heath and Robert Patterson. Heath has appeared not only on the Pacific stage with great success, but also behind the Fresno State and Stanford footlights. Patterson is a home town boy and a product of Stockton High School. He appeared in many of the high school plays before coming to Pacific and has made a name for himself here as the best character man in Players.

It is with extreme pleasure that Pacific Little Theatre presents for your approval "Uncle Tom's Cabin" with an all-star cast.

The Pacific Review, magazine published by the Alumni Association, was off the press last Saturday and mailed to the alumni announcing Pacific's ninth annual Homecoming this weekend.

Miss Bernice Fiola, alumni secretary, is editor of the magazine which contains material on Homecoming, football games, the alumni scholarship fund, San Joaquin alumni meets, personals, the activities of the Little Theatre, and news on and off the campus.

Many Reservations Are Made For Luncheon Saturday

More than 200 alumni are expected to attend the annual Homecoming at Pacific this week-end which will be featured with numerous entertainments in honor of the graduates.

The event will start officially at 11:30 o'clock Saturday noon with a luncheon in Anderson Social Hall. An address of welcome will be given by President Tully C. Knoles, and a football skit, written by Yancy Smith, will be presented by Howard Bailey and Rhea Duttie. Arthur Farey directed the comedy skit. Coach "Swede" Righter will speak on "Tiger Football."

George M. Hench, president of the Pacific Alumni Association, will preside at the luncheon.

A rally in celebration of the game with Fresno State College Saturday afternoon will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the boys' gymnasium. The general public is invited to attend the rally, and the dance which will follow.

Speeches will be given by Dr. Tully C. Knoles, Peter Knoles, the football coaches and the captain of the team, and all members of the football squad will be introduced. Miss Elsie Orsi will give a tap dance, and novelty numbers will be played by Wally Wood's orchestra. Miss Carol Carter will sing, and the Mu Zeta Rho trio, of Misses Eleanor Stevens, Dorothy Noonan and Gene Cady, will also participate in the program.

Songs will be sung with the band accompanying, and yells will be given, under the leadership of Mel Matheny, head yell leader. Clark Briggs has been appointed master of ceremonies.

Miss Virginia Badger, general chairman of the rally, is assisted by members of the rally committee. Preceding the rally, a down-town parade will be held, with the band leading the procession through the main streets.

The Homecoming bonfire, the predominating feature in previous rallies, will not be held this year due to the decision of the executive and rally committees to give the wood to the Salvation Army. Members of the freshman class collected the large amount of wood under the direction of Wally Wood, chairman of the bonfire committee.

Following the game Saturday afternoon, receptions will be held by all houses and by the Pacific Club for the alumni. In the evening the final presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by the Pacific Players, will be attended.

Among those who have made reservations for the Homecoming luncheon Saturday noon are: Dr. and Mrs. Tully C. Knoles, Miss Lorraine Knoles, Mr. and Mrs. George Knoles, Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Knoles, Mr. and Mrs. Erford McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Knoles, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Righter, Merlin W. Porter, Lois Porter, and Carolyn Brothers.

State Bulldogs Confident Of Victory

By SPURAGEON AVAKIAN
Sports Editor Fresno State Collegian

Accompanied by a trainload of enthusiastic rooters, Fresno State's fighting Bulldog pack will entrain for Stockton Saturday morning to do battle with the Tiger of Pacific in the traditional Big Game contest of the two rivals. Turned back for three consecutive years, the Bengals this year stand a good chance of gaining revenge and at the same time staying in the race for Far Western Conference honors. The Staters are hopelessly out of the conference race with one defeat and one tie in two games and with only two conference games remaining.

Early Record

Although making an impressive showing in the first two games of the season, when they defeated the San Diego Marines by 12-0 and held the West Coast Army to a 7-6 score, the Bulldogs have shown a gross lack of offense in the two conference games played thus far. The Cal Aggies, victims of the Tigers, defeated Fresno 3-0, while San Jose was held to a scoreless tie, although the Spartans outplayed the Bulldogs in every department of the game.

A Heavy Line

Boasting a heavy line that has allowed only one score during the season and a secondary that has stopped all aerial attacks thus far, Coach Borsleske has little to worry about on the defensive end of the game. Outstanding in the line are Homer Shimmis, a fast-charging, 195-pound guard; Marty Kaufman, giant tackle; and Winslow Wickstrom, playing his first year of college football, end. From tackle to weight, including the ends, the average is 194 pounds. Wickstrom and Spivey at ends, Kaufman and Lewis at tackles, Feichtmeir and Shimmis at guards, and Niswander at center are the men who compose this first string line.

Faculty Minstrel Show To Be Repeated At Assembly Tues.

Dr. Knoles is the interlocutor in the Faculty Minstrel Show to be given next Tuesday in assembly by the gentlemen of Faculty Club.

The professors will be seen at their best in the program at assembly Tuesday. This program is being sponsored by the Asilomar Fund in order to raise money to send several students to the Conference held at Asilomar during Christmas vacation.

You can see members of the faculty in new roles for the nominal admission price of 20 cents.

Boat Ride Will Bring Crowd To San. Clara Game

Featuring the Santa Clara-Pacific game on November 5, will be the boat trip, sponsored by the Rally Committee. The boat will leave Friday night at 7:00 o'clock, and will arrive early Saturday morning. The return trip will start Saturday night at 8:00 from San Francisco, and arrive here Sunday morning.

Dancing in the large dining room, games, and various deck devices are being offered as inducements and entertainment for the trip.

It was decided at the Executive Committee meeting on Monday, that the Band would go down on the boat with the students.

Reservations are being made at the book store, and there are still a number open for students and faculty. One hundred passages are being offered at the price of two dollars and a half including berths. The Rally Committee has requested that everyone sign up before Friday noon so that the final arrangements can be made with the Steamer Company.

Students Are Urged To Have Naranjado Pictures Taken Soon

At the meeting of the Publications Committee last Tuesday after chapel, it was brought to attention that very few students have as yet had pictures taken for the Naranjado. Pictures are now being taken for the annual, and an early completion of that obligation is urged. If pictures are taken early, there will be little or no difficulty in making reservations. Clarkson's Studio, where pictures are being taken, is located on 131 North Street.

In discussing current business of the committee, Robert Branch, business manager of the Weekly, made the proposal that some protective measure be taken against non-publication advertisers who place bulletins and handbills on the campus. After some discussion, Branch was given sanction to proceed with direct action.

Gene Cady, secretary of the committee, next brought up the matter of the Scroll and Stylus publication, the Hieroglyph. That literary club wishes their annual magazine to be recognized as a campus publication, and to have it listed as an optional purchase on student bills. A motion was passed to the effect that the Hieroglyph be put under the jurisdiction of the Publications committee, and that such action be recommended to the Ex. Committee.

Pacific Meets Saint Mary's Tonight In Debate

The first debate of the year will be held tonight at St. Mary's College between freshmen teams from the two schools.

George Capurro and Ernest Poletti will debate for Pacific on the question: Resolved, That this house favors the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This will be the first appearance of both of these debaters in an interschool debate, but both have shown promise of developing into good varsity material.

There will not be any specific people to judge the debate but a poll will be taken of the audience, both before and after the speeches, in order to find out how many people's opinions were changed by the material presented to them during the contest.

"Y" Group Visits Sugar Refinery

The members of the Student in Industry group and Community Relations group of the Y. W. C. A. made a trip to the Holly Sugar Refinery at Tracy last Saturday afternoon. Miss Deering and Mrs. Brown made arrangements for the trip. Many new and interesting things were learned about the sugar refining business.

The Student in Industry group is planning many more of these trips to various local manufacturing concerns.

NEW COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY WRIGHT

A consideration of plans for bettering living organizations on the Campus, and possibly a revision of the present Fraternity and Sorority system, are to be placed in the hands of a committee of representative students. These plans center on the willingness of the administration to take over the debts and financial management of the houses.

President Robert Wright stated his desire to bring this problem before the student body for discussion, as it composed a dominant part of the platform upon which he was elected to office last June.

The committee will consist of the following people: Helen Cottrell, president of A. W. S.; Carol Carrington, vice president of the Student Body; Marge Crumney, president of Pan-Hellenic; Evert Peterson, chairman of the Publications Committee; Brad Crittenden, Sport Editor of the Weekly; and Bob Wright.

This Committee will make a survey of conditions on other campuses of this approximate size, with special emphasis on those who have recently replaced local houses with a more loosely organized type of living group.

Naranjado Staff Selected; Modern Theme To Be Used

A modern motif will be used as the theme of the 1932-33 Naranjado, announces Tom Cotter, editor. Yearbook covers are being designed by the art classes now and the one selected will determine the exact theme of the book. There is a possibility that the book will be increased to a size of nine by twelve inches as contrasted to the eight by eleven size of last year's book.

Most of the members of the staff have already been selected and are receiving their assignments. Evert Peterson is associate editor.

John Allen and Elson Paddock are art editors, and Jewel Waltz is secretary. The remainder of the tentative staff includes Winifred Wilson, classes; Frank Wilbur, dramatics; Elsie Mae Graves, administration and student government; Clayton Leonhart, athletics; Ruth Kent, women's athletics; Howard Bailey, rallies; Carol Carrington and Leo Tanquary, snaps; Ernie Lonsdale and Bolton Hertzog, photographer.

Elbert Leisy is manager but has not yet selected his assistants. The Clarkson Studio is handling the individual photos this year and students are urged to take their portraits as soon as possible. The date is set at December the first as the last time to have them taken.

Honor Biological Group Initiation Held Last Night

Four new members were taken into Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biological science fraternity, last evening. The new members are Nancy Jane Toms, Ruth Garden, Dr. Owen Williams, and Elsie Mae Graves. The initiation ceremony was held at Hotel Clark at 6:30 and was followed by an informal dinner. Later a short business meeting was held to elect new officers for this semester. Kenneth Stocking, president, presided.

Ex. Committee Lowers Prices

What a break! What a break! All ye students and Alumni. At the last meeting of the Ex. Committee they finally broke down and reduced the price of the game. The price for Saturday afternoon will be 75 cents—no more, no less. With the bargain of a dollar ten game for six-bits you-all ought to come out. We'll see you there—REMEMBER 75 CENTS.

THE RETURN OF THE NATIVES

The College of the Pacific Alumni are coming back this week-end to retrace the paths of their college careers. Paths which, not exactly strewn with roses, are as interesting and pleasant as the accounts of one's own Boswell. The paths of college life are, according to the best authorities, paved the finest of any on the roads to fame and happiness. If this be true, the alumni are in a position to understand.

They are coming back to these, the scenes of their happiest hours and most satisfying relationships, to relive for one or two days their college years. They will reinforce their receding memories, and identify the present with the past.

College memories, like all memories, cannot be completely perfect. Memories are invariably tinged with shadowy shades of regret, regret for old associations never to be revived, for knocks of opportunity never answered, for past customs never again to be effected. But these regrets are submerged in the deluge of actual reminiscences. If we cannot overcome unhappiness in the present, we can at least select the best in the past for commemoration.

So they are coming back. Many, like DeSoto, to imbibe the waters of retreating youth, to feel anew the initial ambition to conquer the world. May they find in us, the new generation, a stimulus and a source of pride in the college to whose development they contributed.

We, their hosts, welcome the alumni. We hope that our entertainment will leave nothing to be desired except the wish for the recurrence of actual college days in the College of the Pacific.

ADVOCATION OF STOCKTON BOOSTING CAMPAIGN

Since Swede Righter's recent resignation, he has taken advantage of a remarkable opportunity to create an open question of the relations between Pacific and the Stockton people. In explaining the reasons for his withdrawal, he made seven decisive statements.

His first reason given was the lack of interest in Pacific athletics by Stockton people, in addition to their apparent lack of respect for Pacific teams. The college feels, in regard to these accusations, that Righter is to be congratulated for his honesty in summing up the situation, although his opinions may not be those held by the majority of Pacific people. Lack of financial support by local employers, loss of American Legion football support, and the unsympathetic attitude of Tarzan coaches illustrate the situation as interpreted by Righter in the Stockton Record.

In answer to these exposures of Pacific-Stockton relations, the people defended themselves in a later issue of the same paper. The high cost of Pacific games in comparison to high school games was pointed out as an obvious reason for precedence of the Tarzan athletics. Certainly a superficial and rationalistic criticism, it is perhaps justifiable as a hindrance to an arousal of a more substantial interest. Further, the paper demanded, how can Stockton people be expected to support the college when the college students do not support it themselves?

If that last attack is legitimate, then Pacific students ought to be ashamed to admit it even to themselves. Pacific, more now than ever since its establishment in Stockton, needs the unqualified support of all its students. Destructive criticism is venomous in its slanderous expanse, and more harm can be wrought by knocking than by any other method of advertising eloquence.

We cannot deny that there are many who contrive to give an unfavorable impression of Pacific. Even the Weekly, the official news organ of the college, has been guilty of a lamentable lack of tact, if not of appreciation. Then there are students with homes in Stockton who are resentful towards the college because they are unable to attend a college in another city. Although there are some instances deserving of sympathy, there are no logical reasons why dislike should be aimed at the college.

Pacific needs boosting. Boosting in the paper, boosting in all bull sessions, and in all conversational opportunities. Not the simple-minded, prejudiced, chauvinistic type of boosting, but a wholesome, wholehearted moral push. And if there are any with an ingrown predilection to kicking, they are requested to control themselves as a special favor to those who have learned to respect Pacific.

—P. L. M.

A SUPPLEMENTARY BOOST

Although Pacific's Stockton supporters are among the minority, we wish to thank them for their good will. In an effort to meet our local critics half way, and to acknowledge a basis for their counter attacks, the prices of Pacific home games are being lowered. Instead of charging $1.10 for admission as formerly, the rate is now 75 cents.

We don't want to fight with Stockton. But we'd like a little co-operation.

EXCHANGE
EXCERPTS—

At last American humor has been analyzed. Professor Carl G. Gaum of Rutgers places high in his list, American satire, characterized as the expression of disillusion. "I consider this bitter humor of the day as a natural accompaniment of existing conditions," states the professor. Then far down in the bottom of the list we find that the professor has reluctantly included the inimitable expression of a fiendish mind, known as the snicker which is classified as a "snake-in-the-grass" of laughter. Considering his conclusion "It doesn't matter who makes the nation's law, if the right people can make its laughter," I wonder how the professor would classify college humor.

Caught between a cross-fire of praise and criticism, Professor Harry C. Steinmetz of the San Diego State College Psychology department this week sought to clarify his recent challenge to non-daters. In an editorial appearing in the State College Aztec, he had urged timid souls to "make yourself attractive to the opposite sex, do a little flirting, and get a date." Following the publication, one student asked the professor to submit a list of inexpensive entertainments other than free lectures and to give solutions to problems pertaining to lack of clothing, transportation, and other material difficulties. To this question Professor Steinmetz replied that "he was simply trying to encourage frank consideration of fundamental problems which few schools are facing." With that the professor retired to his scientific observation of gorillas in the San Diego zoo.

Chicago University has recently completed construction work amounting to three million dollars on a new center for international understanding. The main building, International House, includes a club, a theater, and a home for men and women students from foreign countries. Nearly a year ago, a new dormitory for men was completed across from the campus on University avenue. Since the university receives many large endowments these enable it to expand quite materially from year to year.

At Syracuse University, with rushing and pledging at its close, the pledges find fraternity life cold and quite full of reality. Passing by one chapter house, a junior was said to have heard two recent acquisitions who were engaged in deed conversation saying "And they told me this was the best house on the Hill, and I didn't come to college to study gardening, either." "I'd like to murder the guy who invented rakes," groaned another. "I never saw them doing this in the movies." A third pledge was found to be using truck driver's English as he fumbled here and there with the shrubs and bushes. "I don't understand what made the boys in the house change so much after rushing was over," he ventured, turning to his co-worker.

Sacramento Saturday
Club Is Presenting
Four Famous Artists

The Sacramento Saturday Club, musical organization, has announced for the first program of the season, Charles Couhoun, Belgian organist. This will be on Thursday, November 17th.

Lotte Lehmann, soprano, sings on December 15th. From the NBC artists they borrow Gunnar Johansen, Danish pianist, for January 20th. It will be remembered that Mr. Johansen played at the college last year.

Concluding the season with Continental talent, Joseph Szegeti, violinist of Hungary, will perform on March 23rd.

The recitals are to be given at the Tuesday Club House, on 28th and L streets, Sacramento. Associate member tickets for the season are $6.00, student season tickets $3.00. Admission may be obtained to individual performances.

Fraternities
Decide On New
Meet Policy

The Inter-fraternity Council has decided that a new plan of carrying out the program of Fireside Sessions in the various fraternity houses will be more beneficial. Instead of holding meetings in each living group for the pledges of that group only, under the new plan meetings will be held in the different houses with the pledges from all the groups attending each one.

It is believed by the council that this method will foster a better spirit of inter-fraternity than has existed under the former plan.

Jim Bainbridge is the "Y" chairman of the Fireside Committee.

Library Has Installed
New System For Magazines

A new aid to readers of magazines has been installed in the magazine room of the library. Lists of magazines for each shelf have been posted near by, which can be consulted in the shortest time possible. Shelves are labelled according to subject, and the magazines should be returned to their respective shelves to facilitate order. To this end, lists have been posted as a help not only in finding what is wanted, but to make sure in the proper replacement.

All magazines returned to the desk for checking in should be deposited in the slot marked "Drop magazines here."

Since it is often found that the article wanted is brief enough to be read in the library, and a loss of a magazine is often a serious matter, the use of magazines is confined to the library, except in very special cases. In cases of overdue periodicals when this privilege is given, the usual fine of five cents a day is due upon return.

State Bulldogs Are Confident

same name, is not content with sitting in a corner, is the shining light of the Bulldogs. Backing up the line on defense, Horner figures in almost every play. On offense, Horner, playing the fullback position, is a hard man to stop.

The punting duties of Fresno will fall largely on Sym Mathiesen, lanky halfback, who occasionally gets one off for fifty or sixty yards, but who has been very unsteady all season, many of his punts in the San Jose game going only twenty-five or thirty yards. Mathiesen is a triple-threat man.

Captain Walt Glenn, diminutive quarterback, takes care of the signal-calling duties. He rarely carries the ball, blocking being his main duty on offense.

Carrying the brunt of the ball carrying duties under the modified Notre Dame system used by Borleske is the right halfback, Jiggs Payne, a tricky 140-pounder who is also a triple-threat man, will probably get the call at this position, although he is pressed hard by two other men, Gib Rambo and Bob Parr. The latter is a husky player of the slashing type, while Rambo is one of the fastest men on the squad. Both are passers and Parr is a punter as well.

Although Pacific rules as favorite on the basis of comparative scores, the Bulldogs seem determined to make a fight out of it. Should they break up the Tiger passing attack, anything may happen.

Addresses A.W.S.

Miss Lorraine Knoles addressed the Associated Women Students on "Shades In History" at the monthly night meeting in Social Hall last Thursday.

The program, arranged by Helen Reische, consisted of several vocal numbers by Virginia Gardner, accompanied on the piano by Dorothy Rite; a reading by Adeline Read, and a tap dance by Althea Schaffer.

Mae Francis has been selected as song leader, with Alice Peterson and Dorothy Corley as substitutes.

Y.W. Cabinet Honors
Faculty Members

On last Sunday afternoon, the Y. W. C. A. cabinet honored the women of the faculty and wives of faculty members at a lovely informal tea. The affair was held in the "Y" rooms.

"Uncle Tom"

Fourteen persons who witnessed the original production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" here in 1888 have been placed on the list of those who will be guests of De Marcus Brown when the old favorite is reproduced in the Pacific Little Theater, October 28 and 29.

Brown, two weeks ago, offered complimentary tickets to people who witnessed the production here in 1888. He did so because of his desire to know more about the original presentation and to produce the coming offering as near like it as possible. And in staging the play he wanted some real critics in his audience.

Interesting comments have been made by players who witnessed the 1888 production. Those who have claimed tickets are agreed that the play was a wonderful offering "in those days," but not up to the standards of the modern stage. They state because of this great difference De Marcus Brown's production should command unusual interest. Witnesses of modern productions of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" need not expect to see the same play at the Pacific Little Theater. Because the production is like the original, there will be no bloodhounds and the costumes will be far different in style.

Those who have been placed on the list for complimentary tickets are: Mrs. M. L. McKenzie, Mrs. A. T. Wood, Harry Lee Simms, Mrs. L. M. Remington, Mrs. M. H. Grattan, T. A. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Kelley, Mrs. Belle Klinger, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gruwell, W. P. Merrill, Mrs. J. B. Poynor, Mrs. Kate Leiginger and Miss Ellie Leiginger.

Does Mr. Elliott play post office or does Mr. Elliott play post office? I did "The Gentleman at the Key-hole" last Thursday night while the faculty boys were putting on their hilarious minstrel show. As you probably know, Dr. Eiselen wrote all the lines—well, when it came his turn to recite his little piece, he just stood up with that wonderful smile of his, and couldn't remember one of his own cracks—the prompter practically read his lines for him. Elliott? Well, ask him!

Now that the weekly scandal is out of the way, I'm going to turn over the rest of the space to a really fine columnist, Dr. MacDougall, who writes for the Diapason. He gives the following on the inspired idiot, and clownish genius of the piano world, De Pachmann:

"De Pachmann is getting to be merely a word, not a name; yet it is not long since that he played in our great cities. A wonderful pianist! I heard him play the Chopin etude on the black keys so brilliantly that he was encored; he repeated the etude with the nuancing entirely changed, aesthetically bad, but, as a tour de force, very very difficult. The first time I heard De Pachmann was in the Crystal Palace, London; he chose the Third Concerto of Beethoven, forgetting his notes soon after the first movement began; the orchestra stopped and the performance began again. When he played Wellseley, he kept the students in roars of laughter or applause, both spontaneous and genuine. For an encore he played the Beethoven 'Caprice on a Lost Penny,' prefacing the playing with 'There's only one man beside me who can play this, and he's dead!'"

Homecoming Rally And Dance In The Gym Tonight

The traditional Bonfire Rally will be held tonight, but the only evidence of a bonfire will be in the decorations. The Rally Committee decided that a bonfire was absolutely necessary in some manner, shape, or form, so decided to have an imitation one which will be placed in the middle of the floor.

The parade will begin at a quarter to seven. From Anderson Hall the cars will go downtown where the principal streets will be covered. The band will be on a truck, and will lead the parade.

At eight o'clock the rally in the gym will start. Clark Briggs is to be Master of Ceremonies and will introduce the speakers, including all the coaches, Dr. Knoles, Pete Knoles, a former Pacific Captain, and Mr. Ed. Vollmann, representing the Downtown Business Men's Association.

Quite elaborate plans have been made for the program by Virginia Badger, the chairman. Wally Wood's orchestra will furnish the music for the program as well as for the dancing. Carol Carter and the Mu Zeta Rho trio are going to furnish the singing, and Elsie Orsi is going to dance. There will be a short skit, the nature of which is being kept a secret.

Special permission to dance until eleven o'clock has been granted by the administration.

Mrs. Lynch spent the week-end in Chico.

Miss Janet Baker and Miss Nancy Flynn spent the week-end at Miss Baker's home in Richmond.

Tau Kappa Kappa Gives Third Honor Tea For Pledges

The third of the autumn honor teas was given last Sunday afternoon by Tau Kappa Kappa sorority, complimenting the house hostess and new pledges. The home on Pacific avenue was the setting for the affair.

White tapers in candleabra were used throughout the reception rooms. The serving table, presided over by Mrs. B. L. Van Gilder and Miss Ethel Mae Hill, was covered by a cut-work lincloth and centered by a great bronze bowl holding pond lilies.

Miss Denise Minahan was general chairman, and she was assisted by the Misses Elinor James, Laura Lee Berryman, Ruth Nix, and Hester Busick. In the receiving line were: Miss Ruth Dodge, house president; Mrs. John Clark, house hostess; and Misses Elizabeth Abbott, Marian Pease, Mae Francis, Betty Blean, Rosalie West, Doris Allenberg, Muriel Van Gilder, and Emma Lou Polenske.

Audience Enthusiastic At Bowerman-Halik Recital Tuesday

John Gilchrist Elliott

A large crowd enthused with genuine warmth at the outstanding artistry displayed by Frances Bowerman and Glen Halik last night at the college auditorium. The occasion was the second faculty recital, in which every one of the fifteen numbers was of genuine musical merit and interest.

Reports had it that Miss Bowerman was suffering from a cold, but there was no evidence of it when she reached into the stratospheric ranges of the voice and delivered tones that were thrillingly clear. Miss Bowerman's diction was so flawless that not one word was lost to the audience. "Joy", by Wintter Watts, and the aria "Depuis le jour" from Charpentier's opera "Louise" were received with particular enthusiasm.

Mr. Halik played a long and difficult program and proved anew that as a violinist, he is unrivalled in this locality. Several years ago, the writer heard Mr. Halik play in Chicago to a packed Orchestra Hall, and win a much deserved ovation. The recital last night revealed that his artistry has developed with the years. The Wieniawski concerto in D minor with its exacting technical difficulties was received with prolonged applause, as was the "Spanish Dance" by Sarasate.

Dormitory Women Entertain At Informal Teas

At the first meeting of the new women in the dormitory held last Monday evening, Dr. Gertrude Sibley, house mother, announced plans for a series of teas. These will be held to promote a unanimity and friendship among the girls in Women's Hall.

The first of these informal social affairs was held Tuesday night after the recital. Those present were: Jean Voorhies, Marie Crumney, Margaret Ritter, Dorothy Corley, Louise Buckner, Barbara Welti, Doris Allenberg, Margaret Snider, Esther Webster and Dorothy Eastler.

Miss Marion Roseberry attended the Stanford-U. S. C. game last week-end.

Miss Jean Webster was a visitor in San Francisco last week-end.

Miss Frances Robinson visited her home in Chico last week-end.

Homecoming Guests Are To Be Feted By Living Groups At Buffet Suppers

The social calendar for the week-end is filled to overflowing with events planned for the entertainment of the Homecoming guests. All the houses are following the traditionally prescribed series of affairs, and the Pacific Club and Women's Hall are to hold receptions for the first Homecoming week-end since the original one nine years ago.

Alpha Theta Tau plans an alumnae cabinet meeting Saturday morning, and a buffet supper after the game. Misses Clare Ellis, Adeline Read, and Virginia Burr are arranging the supper.

Tau Kappa Kappa will serve a buffet supper after the game to alumnae and guests, after which the groups will attend the play. Misses Jessie Robinson, Virginia Ames, and Winifred Wilson are handling arrangements.

The Pacific Club is holding a reception in Anderson Hall for unaffiliated guests and members. A program is being arranged by Miss Pauline Moller.

Mu Zeta Rho is to hold open house before and after the game, and there is to be dancing after the play. Rosalie Carrington is in charge of the buffet supper.

Women's Hall is to hold a reception for returning Pacific women who lived there. This is the revival of a custom dropped three years ago. Marjorie Hounon is arranging the affair.

Omega Phi Alpha's Mothers' Club is to meet immediately after the game with Mrs. T. C. Knoles presiding. After the dinner, the members and guests are to attend the play in a body.

Alpha Kappa Phi plans an alumni meeting after the game, after which a dinner is to be served guests. Charles Webster is chairman for the affair.

Rho Lambda Phi is to hold open house. Don Roscelli, Tom Cotter, and Bill Geary are working out arrangements.

Omega Phi Pledges Entertain At Waffle Feed

Omega Phi pledges entertained the members and guests last Thursday, October 20, at the annual waffle feed held each year after pledging. Some fifty couples from the campus attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gulick were patron and patroness. Ward Drury acted as general chairman, and he was assisted by the other pledges, Frank Smith, Bob Hamilton, Dud Bowers, Wally Wood, Bob Keystone, Ernest Pozzi, Bill Strummel, Kenneth Bayless, Maurice Edwards, and Carl Truex.

A.W.S. Invites Men To Next Meeting

The Associated Women Students are arranging their meeting for next Thursday in the form of a rally for the Santa Clara football game. A brief business meeting is scheduled for the members and following that the men students are to be invited to attend a short program and dancing.

Pacific Club To Hold Reception For Unaffiliateds

A full day's program is planned by the Pacific Club for Homecoming. An informal dinner for unaffiliated alumni will be given this Saturday evening at 6:15 at the Basque Hotel. Dr. Bawden, adviser, and Miriam Gealey, president, will be the speakers to relate the history of the group and outline its purpose, ideals and plans. Following the dinner several of the group plan to attend the play together.

The Pacific Club and unaffiliated alumni are to attend the game in a group. Following that a reception is to be held in Anderson Hall for these alumni. A varied program, arranged by Pauline Moller, will be presented; at the conclusion of which the group will go to the hotel for the dinner.

A business meeting of the club was held last night to complete details for the first Homecoming activities in which the organization has participated.

Men Entertain Women At Faculty Club Thursday

The men of the Faculty Club of the College of the Pacific entertained the women members at the last meeting on Thursday evening, October 20. A minstrel show was presented which had as its subject a satire on the coming presidential election. Mr. Cunningham was in charge of the program, and De Marcus Brown supervised the decorations.

The costumes and speaking lines were very clever and original. Dr. Knoles acted as interlocutor and such college luminaries, as Mr. Van Oppen, Dr. Wilmarth, Mr. Elliot, Prof. Corbin, and Dean Farley responded. Prof. Collier delivered a Negro sermon which climaxed the occasion.

Music was rendered by a quartette composed of Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Welton, Mr. Corson, and Dean Dennis. Strenuous methods of persuasion are being brought to bear on the performers to induce them to repeat the program for a Tuesday chapel service. However, so far there has been a negative response.

Bids Sent To Four By Mu Phi Epsilon

Four girls were bid last Thursday to Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority. Girls who received bids are: Lois Ashton, Roberta Ritchie, Gene Cady, and Laura Lee Berryman. Initiation services will be held this year on November 14, instead of on Founders' Day, the 13th, since that day falls on Sunday. Services and a dinner will be held in the dining hall. Heta Shimmitt, president, will preside during the ceremonies.

Members are elected to Mu Phi Epsilon on the basis of musicianship, scholarship, and class standing. A member must be of the junior or senior class, and hold a B average for the entire college course.

BENGAL VARSITY IS UNDERDOG SATURDAY GAME

Showing Against Cal. Aggies May Make Tigers Too Sure Of Fresno

Homecoming game. A spirit of meriment prevailing on the campus as alumni and students once again meet and renew old acquaintances and friendships. The Pacific team having a wonderful time and enjoying the praise that is coming to them from ardent admirers of big strong football players. The greatest team that Pacific has ever produced, having already won everlasting praise and success, due to a sensational victory over the strong Cal Aggie eleven, are content to listen to what they have done. The future—well, let's not talk about that. But say, our readers should have heard the funny jokes that these Pacific heroes have been cracking this last week in practice. Really good ones, so good that the smart wise crackers must have stayed up a good deal later than ten-thirty to think them up.

Lee Fulgham

Ah, these fighting Tigers. These heroes of the Orange and Black. If someone would only remind them of promises that were made at the start of the present season. If someone could bring back to their memory the Homecoming game of last year. Lee Fulgham, a real hero, the kind of fellow that fought and fought for Pacific, not for personal gain. The kind of fellow that when responsibility was placed on his back did not take time to reflect in the past, but who delivered in the present crisis. We know that he will not be with us in person on next Saturday's fracas, but his spirit will again be in the Pacific line, and I am forced to wonder at a time such as this, just what the effect his presence will be to eleven men who have the privilege of

Teams Attitude Toward Students Told By Scribe

By the Gentleman on the Bench
Win, lose, or draw in its game with Fresno State this week, the Bengal varsity will be fighting for recognition next Saturday when they meet the highly touted Santa Clara Broncos in Kezar Stadium.

The Broncos will be overwhelming favorites. Why shouldn't they be? They took California, they have a squad twice the size of Pacific's, and they have a classy outfit. But, does that mean that every mother's son and daughter attending this institution (alumni included) should stay home and mourn for the team? No! Get out and support your team, wearers of the Orange and Black.

Pacific students have seen what determination can do already this year. Many stayed home from the Aggie game because they thought the Bengals were due for a licking.

If ever a team needed support it will be on Saturday, November 5, when the "little school from up Stockton" takes on an outfit heralded as the greatest to ever represent that institution.

By region fans, San Franciscans particularly, will be watching Pacific after the events of the past three weeks. They will be out to see what kind of support a team that takes on Santa Clara gets. They will be watching for a frenzied band of scrappy Pacific rooters, sticking by this team and coach to the end, be it defeat or victory.

representing our school next Saturday against one of the greatest teams Fresno State has ever produced.

Time will not be taken in this article to elaborate on the wonders of the team far superior to anything that the Far Western Conference has to offer for the present year. No, there is no need for that; our outfit has had far too much of that sort of thing already. We shall tell of a group of men who repre-

Bev Barron '31 Has Good Year

Winning fifty per cent of your games the first year football is introduced into your school is not such a bad record. This is just what Bev Barron, captain of the Pacific football varsity in 1930-'31, has done this year. Winning twice from Auburn and losing twice he has made a good showing with boys who up to this year had never played competitive football.

sent Fresno State. Of a group of men who will arrive in Stockton Saturday with a determination and purpose quite similar to that displayed by Lee Fulgham in last year's Homecoming.

Fresno Varsity

Briefly, the personnel of the team is as follows: Glenn, quarterback, playing his fourth year of varsity competition. A heady field general and also adept at packing the ball. Horner, fullback, likes the going and will be in the thick of every play. Rambo, halfback, specializes in broken field running and can step plenty. Mathiesen, halfback, another four-year man and one of the coast's best punters. Kaufman, tackle, one of the best, will see plenty of action. Feichtmeier, guard, all-conference last year and improved this year. Niswander, center, big and fast. Schlebaum, end, headed for all-conference this year, watch him. Wickstrom, end, possesses plenty of ability. Shimmmin, guard, is another big and fast player. Lewis, tackle, veteran who always gives Pacific plenty of trouble.

Stadium May Have "Hot Dogs &" Yet

An item of interest is the fact that the interests which have charge of the concessions in the Sacramento Memorial Stadium are dickering with Graduate Manager Ralph "Doc" Francis for all concessions at all games played in Baxter Stadium. Nothing definite has been decided as yet.

SPLINTERS from the BENCH

By BRAD

Well it won't be long now before the place will be cluttered up with alumni, Fresno State, and Uncle Tom. According to advance reports Fresno is coming up in force—special train n'everything. And we can't even work up enough spirit to fill one train when we meet Santa Clara—Tch, Tch—Student Body—Tch Tch—Perhaps the Gentleman on the Bench is right after all.

When the cat's away the mice will play. We looked in on practice and observed that only about half of the stalwarts were out. Of course we know that they really don't need the practice, but it might be a good idea to limber up once in a while. Maybe they all went to San Jose to see the game—and again, maybe not.

We don't know about the team, but we're sure the Swede would greatly appreciate it if the alumni coaches would give him a break. In other words, "LAY OFF THE VARSITY!" If they don't know enough by the time you get here it's too late for you to tell them. We hope we haven't hurt your feelings, but we would like to see a Homecoming win.

The old town kind of gets a break this week-end. Six-bit rates for a dollar ten game. Well—well—well.

We have been requested to announce that the burnside's Ol' Bill Bailey is sporting are for Uncle Tom. And all the time we thought there was a monetary interest back of them. Guess Bill would die for dear old Pacific.

Seems to us this inter-class baseball is a right good idea. The school has the material—no one has made a block in baseball—a great many more men can play it than can engage in other sports—and there seems to be a lot of interest. Let's get behind it—what do you think?

The games of the tournament will be played each afternoon at 4:20, except Friday, until the first round is completed. All dates for this round have been scheduled. Next week's issue will announce the second round.

A permanent trophy is to be awarded to the class winning the tourney. This will be something in the way of a goal which has never before been supplied.

This plan will allow for many more men getting into athletics. Men out for football and lettermen are ineligible. The men will play with the class in which they are socially recognized.

Interest Strong

The interest in basketball has been very keen, while plans were being formed. Teams for every class have been formed, but more men are needed. They should report at once to their class manager. Managers are as follows: Seniors, Wright; Juniors, Crumney; Sophomores, Ruse; Freshmen, Hoyt and White. Fifth-year men and varsity lettermen will act as referees.

Baseball

If interclass interest keeps up, it will be possible to make plans for a baseball tournament. This would be something Pacific has never had before. But whether or not it is planned depends upon the interest shown between now and the end of the basketball tournament.

All Conference Teams Play Sat.

All conference teams will be active this week-end with many crucial games scheduled. Nevada will travel to Berkeley where they will meet the University of California varsity in their annual game. Of course the Bears are strong favorites to win.

Chico plays her first conference game against San Jose. The Spartans are favorites to win the conference and should win from Chico.

Pacific and Fresno meet in another conference tilt. The dopesters give the edge to Fresno, but both teams are confident of winning.

The Aggie Mustangs meet Sacramento Junior College at Sacramento. This game is very important in Sacramento but the outcome has little bearing on the outside teams.

FRESHMAN TEAM BEATS MODESTO BY LARGE SCORE

Grier Features With A 60 Run; Whole Squad Plays Best Game Of Season

Jim Corson is feeling fine this week. The Frosh eleven, doped to receive their worst beating of the year in a return game with the Modesto goofs last Thursday, sprung a big surprise by making two touchdowns in the first three minutes of play. The Tiger Cubs rallied twice during the rest of the game and left the field with a final score of 27-0.

First Score

The Modesto second string arrived confident of an easy victory, but the Frosh got a break at the start and played superior football the rest of the time. In the first play after the kick-off, Modesto fumbled and Democopolis, playing end for the Cubs, recovered on the 10-yard line. Randall bucked the ball over the zero line, but it was recalled because of an offside. Then Bowers went through for a touchdown. The conversion play that won the Nevada game, a pass from Randall to Pozzi, worked perfectly.

Second—Third

By this time the Modesto men were so bewildered that they hardly noticed Bowers when he snagged a thirty-yard pass from Randall and stepped over the goal line. A place kick by Randall went wide of the mark. Then the Goofs tightened defensively, but toward the end of the half, Randall passed over the goal line. As it was ruled a touchdown and the Frosh wanted six more points, they blocked Modesto's punt and Hoyt, playing end, fell on the ball for a touchdown. Pozzi, on a fake dropkick, bucked the ball over for the extra point.

Grier's Run

In the third quarter, Grier intercepted a long Modesto pass and ran 60 yards, right along the side line, for a touchdown. It was a beautiful run and the rest of the team helped with good blocking.

Last Quarter

The fourth quarter was a draw with neither side threatening. The whole game was featured by the playing of the "Splinter Squad," supposedly second string players, who did some of the finest defensive work seen this year.

So youngsters will envy
His custom built chest.
