"MERTON OF THE MOVIES" TO BE STAGED NOV. 6

Screen and Stage Hit Is to Be Presented By Pacific Players

BROWN IN CHARGE

Leads Are to Be Played by Verna Hanna and Lucian Scott

Pacific Players will present on November 6, in the auditorium, Glenn Hunter's version of "Merton of the Movies." This is an uproariously humorous comedy and is a satire on movie life in America. As a stage play and also as a movie, it has been very successful.

The leading characters will be played by Verna Hanna as Flips and Lucian Scott as Merton. Miss Hanna comes from Sacramento Junior College and has had experience there in dramatics. This is Mr. Scott's second year at Pacific, and he shows a great deal of promise in the Players. The entire cast for the play will appear in next week's issue of the Weekly.

There are four acts in the play and six scenes. The acts, however, are short and as comedies are usually given at a fast rate, the play will not be longer than the average.

The technical staff is composed of the following people: Wesley Henderson, manager; Elizabeth Myatt, stage manager; Earl Swift, electrician; William McArdle, properties; Esther Jacoby, costumer; and Blythe Mainmou-sky, librarian.

Interstate Debate Conference To Be Organized This Fall

Coach Miller has received a letter inviting Pacific to become a member of a new debate league which will cover five states with the following colleges and universities represented: College of Idaho, Colorado College, Pomona College, Pacific University (Oregon), Reed College (Oregon), Willamette University and Pacific.

It is proposed that these colleges arrange a series of annual debates covering a period of five years; that each year teams representing two of these institutions travel to the other colleges, so that during the five year period a team representing each institution would have an opportunity to make the circuit of the five states.

The traveling expenses each year are to be shared pro rata by all of the institutions, thus minimizing the expenses of all the colleges concerned. Each team will have a distinct subject which it will debate with each of the other schools. It is further planned to have a women's team which will cover the same territory as the men's teams.

The debate coach and debate manager and the large number of schools which Pacific will meet at home and on the various tours throughout neighboring states, the debate manager has found it necessary to appoint a manager for women's debate and a manager for men's debate.

Miss Rosalie Williams, a sophomore, and member of Pi Kappa Delta, is to take charge of all debates for women. She is highly elated with this proposition, for it shows that Pacific is being recognized as an institution in the foremost ranks of debate, in the middle-west and on the Pacific coast.

Appointments
Due to increased interest in debate, Clifton Frisbie, a freshman, and well known from the local high school debate squad, will assume his duties as manager of freshman debate.

There is still an opening for an assistant debate manager, and any student with sophomore standing, or above, who feels himself qualified, is requested to see the debate manager about it as soon as possible.

PROF. STUART GIVES GIFT TO PHILOSOPHICAL CLUB

The unexpected, sometimes happens. It is not always the discouragingly unexpected either. "One never knows," and yet the reason for the beaming faces seen on the "philosophers" for the last few days has not been due to anything other than the very unexpected.

Ever since last Thursday, all the members of the Philosophical Club have been looking at each other and smiling, not secretly but almost tri-

Bleacher Rally Friday 4 P. M.

To learn perfectly the songs and yells and to arouse interest in the Chico game is the purpose of the bleacher rally to be held in the Stadium tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 p. m. The rally will be held under the supervision of the newly formed rally committee, who will have charge of the publicity and the program.

According to Coach C. E. Righter, too little interest is being displayed in Saturday's contest. That the Teachers are coming down with great intentions of beating Pacific is not to be doubted, nor is the strength of their team to be questioned. And so as Cliff Harrington, the chairman of the new committee, expresses it: "Only through the combined efforts of the team and the rooters can the Orange and Black hope for a victory."

Since there will be no game a week from Saturday, it is hoped that no students will deem it necessary to go home for this week-end, and that all will stay and attend not only the game, but the rally as well. Stockton students are especially urged to remember the bleacher rally and to turn out 100 per cent.

Tennis Tournament Moving Slowly

The second week of the women's tennis tournament shows little change in the places from those originally drawn. The more experienced players are beginning to push their way to the top, but the tournament is going much too slowly according to Margaret Reyburn, tennis manager. There is but one week remaining for the tournament, and Miss Reyburn urges all women to challenge their opponents, and to play them immediately.

Following is the present standing of the women:

1, Jean Stoutmeyer; 2, Myra Keplinger; 3, Elizabeth Matthews; 4, Margaret Gealey; 5, Ezelda Vieira; 6, Alice Fellers; 7, Mary Salbe; 8, Olive Hanger; 9, Elizabeth Evans; 10, Josephine Cronin; 11, Hazel Kelly; 12, Winifred Humphries; 13, Miriam Hartzel; 14, Alva Albritton; 15, Helen Cameron; 16, Helen Godsil; 17, Arlene Haskill; 18, Margaret Jackson; 19, Miriam Beall; 20, Gladys Thompson; 21, Alice Bunting; 22, Mildred Sharp; 23, Margaret Beattie; 24, Maureen Moore; 25, Mildred Jackson; 26, Ruth Smeland; 27, Bernice Jones; 28, Florence Van Orsdale; 29, Virginia Kaufman; 30, Margaret Reyburn; 31, Betty Jones; 32, Eleanor Ferguson; 33, Myra Parsons; 34, Marion Hart.

unphantly. It has all been due to the unexpected surprise the speaker of last week, Dr. Henry Stuart, gave them.

Many people see their checks come back endorsed, but always cashed. Few ever get them back endorsed but not cashed. Endorsed in a new and startling fashion, was the check the Philosophical Club had paid to Dr. Stuart for his lecture on Wednesday night, when he returned it to them.

It bore the following inscription, "To be paid to the librarian of the College of the Pacific, that it be expended on philosophical books for the school library."

Various Professions Call Class of '25 Many Teaching, Others in Business

In the old fairy stories, the hero always went to seek his fortune, and there strange things befell him. And so when our graduates go out into the world, we are very much interested in how their fortune is progressing. We find that many of them are trying to impart some of the information they acquired here, to the younger generation, in fact most of them are. Some of them have married, but so far none of them have fallen heir to fifty thousand dollars.

Frances Sage and Cornelia Harper are teaching grammar school in Yuba City, Iowa. Cunningham in Dinuba, and Ethel Aldrich in Escalon.

Harold Milnes, Dorothy Pinkerton, Kenneth McKenzie, Lillian Troxell, Lucille Huffaker, Mildred Smith, Pete and Edith Knoles are taking graduate work here. Harold Cunningham and Pete are helping coach football, and Harold is also helping in the engineering department.

Jane Shambaugh, Lillian Clark and Lucy Woodhouse are teaching in the Stockton schools. Dorothy Whalley teaches music in Modesto High, and Grace Connor is a teacher at the Junior High School there.

Bernice Rose is a school mistress at Rodeo. David Hackett teaches music at the High School in Antioch, and Rosemary Wilcox has a position at Anderson.

Margaret Crump is now Mrs. Moore, and is living very happily in San Jose. Esther Hornaday is also married and is Mrs. Ed Harker. Her home is in Honolulu.

George Burcham is in charge of athletics at Los Banos, and has started a football team there. Bradley Cozens is working for his father at San Jose, and Howard Derby is working in the signal department of the Southern Pacific. Ralph Gilman is working on his father's ranch near San Jose.

Mary Louise Hennen is at her home in Panama, doing some biological work. Blanche Haugner has Mildred Page's position as cashier for the College. Ruth Mahoney, Marjorie Williams, and Marjorie Ayre are all teaching. Frances Dufur has a school position about thirteen miles from here, and her sister Gladys Dufur is teaching English at Liveoak High School. Josephine Gardner is at her home in Pacific Grove.

Dr. Reinhart Guest At Chapel Monday

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhart, president of Mills College, in speaking on Motivations of Education for Women, stressed these motives: 1, for citizenship; 2, organization for philanthropic good; 3, the economic; 4, motherhood. She pointed out the fact that women have had little time in which to think of motives in education, for it has been only within recent years that collegiate institutions have opened their doors to women. The early motives of women in college were twofold; for religion and for teaching.

The change to socialized family life and factory life has meant that women are now engaged in 310 occupations. "Women are doing everything," said Dr. Reinhart. "There are 5,000 women in this country who are registered as farmers. Other occupations number their women workers by the thousands."

Dr. Reinhart stated that her occupation of education is for life rather than for living.

Alpha Theta Tau House Warming

Alpha Theta Tau Sorority extends a cordial invitation to all Pacific students, members of the faculty, and wives of the faculty men, to be present at its House Warming exercises, on Saturday evening, October 24th, at 8:30 o'clock.

This recently completed house has been designed and built by the Davis-Heller-Pearce Co., and furnished by the John Breuer Co. Besides welcoming their guests, the girls of the sorority will entertain with a short program.

Epsilon House Is Formally Opened

Epsilon Lambda Sigma's House Warming was an unusually delightful affair. It was attended by a large number of interested friends, who came to express their congratulations on the completion of the new home.

As the guests arrived, they were conducted throughout the various rooms of the building, and all who saw it marveled at its beauty and homelike atmosphere. Throughout the rooms there were many bouquets and presents given to the Sorority by friends.

Miss Martha Fugate, president of Epsilon Lambda Sigma, gave the address of welcome. Mrs. H. E. Milnes, spoke on behalf of the Alumni. Miss Miriam Burton played a piano solo. Mr. Carpenter, designer and builder, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation given to him by the different committees, and congratulated the members of the Sorority on the completion of their new home. After the hostess, Miss Ruth Baun, was introduced, the House Blessing was given, and the Sorority song was sung by the members. The program ended with the singing of Pacific Hail.

Season Tickets For Concerts On Sale

In order that there be no misunderstanding among the students concerning the Artist Series which is to open on the evening of October 26 in the college auditorium, Dean Dennis wishes to announce that single admission tickets are not being sold. If a student wishes to attend the concert, it will be necessary for him to buy the season ticket which includes a series of six nationally and internationally famous artists for $4.00. Tickets are available at the office of the Dean of the Conservatory.

PACIFIC PLAYERS WELCOME MANY NEW STUDENTS

At the formal reception of Pacific Players in Social Hall, last Monday night, thirty-seven new members were pledged to the organization by means of an impressive ritual service. These new members enter a period of probation extending over ten weeks time. During this time they will prove their worthiness to belong to the Players. Fifteen of these members were accepted as technical workers, and will be given positions as stage managers, lighting managers and such like. The large number of members in the organization will be much needed because of the long list of plays, many with large casts, which has been planned for the remainder of the season. Several of the new members are already working as members of the technical staff of the cast of "Merton of the Movies."

The list of new members is as follows: Elizabeth Walker, Ruth Farey, Arthur Farey, Betty Jones, Elizabeth Matthews, Earl MacDonald, Verna Hannah, Robert Harry, Dorothy Brown, Albert Matthews, Mrs. Florence Van Gilder, Nanna Garrett, Miss Passovoy, Virginia Williams, William Klein, Clarence Mossman, Edgar Jacobs, Earle Swift, Flora Spafford, Elna Miller, Eugene Farr, Helen Trent, Floyd Russell, Olive Hanger, Rosa Shambaugh, Doris Fry, Marian Hartzell, Alfred Wong, Anna Louise Keck, Nettie Burney, Mildred Tumelty, Douglas Beattie, Dorothy Carrow, Myriam Beall, Marian Van Gilder, Gladys Reyes and Gordon Knoles.

Miss Rogers and Mr. Halik Please In Joint Recital

A very delightful recital was given by Nella Rogers and Glen Halik, last Tuesday night, in the auditorium. This was the fourth faculty recital of this year. Miss Rogers has been on the faculty longer than any other member of the conservatory faculty, and Mr. Halik was heard last year for the first time on the faculty of the College of the Pacific. Both have great ability for their respective branches of the art of music.

Mr. Halik opened the program with by Wieniaski. His selections were well chosen to please the musical critic as well as the average music lover, a brilliant number, "The Russian Airs." His delicacy of touch and his perfection of intonation, indispensable to the violinist, especially in the very difficult passages of harmonics, charmed his hearers.

Miss Rogers presented two groups of two different types of songs. The first group consisted of four very difficult numbers, profound and of great depth. Perhaps the most enjoyable of these was the "Sapphic Ode" by Brahms. Her last group was composed of several shorter songs of lighter mood, none the less enjoyable, however.

Miriam Burton and Jules Moullet were the accompanists of Mr. Halik and Miss Rogers, and proved very capable of their responsibility.

WEST MEMORIAL INFIRMARY GIFT OF MRS. JACKSON

Modern Equipment Is to Be Installed In the Infirmary

WORK BEGINS SOON

West Side of Campus to Receive the Newest Building

Mrs. Harriet R. Jackson, of Stockton, has very generously given a large fund to the College of the Pacific to be used in the building of an infirmary. The building is to be one of the most beautiful of the College group, and is to be named, "The West Memorial Infirmary" in memory of Mrs. Jackson's family, who were early pioneers of Stockton and El Pinal.

Plans Drawn

The plans for the infirmary have already been drawn by the Davis-Heller-Pearce Co., of Stockton. "It will be one of the most modern infirmaries in this part of the country," stated H. Y. Davis of that firm. The West Memorial Infirmary is designed in collegiate gothic architecture to harmonize with the other buildings on the campus. The building trimmings, and is to have a slate roof.

The cost of the infirmary will be about $30,000 and construction of the building is to begin immediately. The infirmary will be erected west of the dining hall in the same block. The entrance will face the gymnasium and stadium.

The funds for current expenditures of "The West Memorial Infirmary" are to be provided by student body fees. This plan of maintaining an infirmary has proven successful at the University of California and other colleges.

Description of Building

The infirmary will be large and spacious, for the plan contemplates a two story structure, fifty by one hundred feet. The building will be especially fire resistant, as the interior of the building will be of "Duro" fire-proof lath and plaster. The foundation and basement are to be constructed of reinforced concrete.

According to the plans of the building, the lower floor will include a large reception hall, four patients' rooms, laboratory and drug room, X-ray and dark room, two doctors' offices and dressing rooms, two consulting rooms for special eye, ear, nose and throat treatment, a nurse's room with bath, and a kitchen.

On the second floor there will be nine rooms for patients, a large solarium porch, a kitchen, nurse's room with bath, general utility rooms, and store rooms.

The floors will be covered with linoleum with the exception of the reception room, which is to be of oak. The interior walls will be finished in natural and subdued tones of various colors. This is a splendid feature of the infirmary, because it will be a departure from the usual white walls of the average hospital. The walls and floors of the operating, bath, and shower rooms are to be of tile.

The infirmary is to be completely equipped electrically as provisions will be made for the special electrical appliances and devices. The building will be heated by steam from the power house.

The reception room and the solarium are both to have a large fireplace.

Dr. Legge, head of the University of California Hospital, has inspected (Continued on page 2.)

New Quartets Being Rounded Into Shape

Because the former quartet was completely dissolved, Professor Bodley has had difficulty in bringing the new quartet to a point of perfection which will equal that of the old Pacific quartet. There was not a single member of the old left to form a pivot around which to build the new quartet. It will therefore take time to decide upon the best combination of voices for the official quartet.

Mr. Bodley is now working with two quartets. They are practicing the same music and when they have "learned their stuff," some of the many calls for their services will be answered. The members of the present quartets are as follows:

First: bass, Miller; baritone, Roehr; second tenor, Lawson; first tenor, Woods.

Second: bass, Corson; baritone, Farr; second tenor, Carr; first tenor, Atkeson.

There will be no class quartets this year, owing to the absence of material necessary to fill the positions.

Faculty Popular Speakers Before Stockton Clubs

The popularity of members of the Pacific faculty, as speakers in Stockton, is apparent by glancing at the programs of the various organizations in this city, during the past two weeks. The following faculty members addressed clubs:

Dr. Bonner, who spoke on "Idylls of the King," before the Stockton order of the Knights of the Round Table. At a Rotary Club luncheon Dr. Knoles gave a report of the present enrollment of the College, and some other interesting facts concerning our school; Bob Breeden spoke on the Tiger Athletic program for this year; Dean Dennis called attention to the weekly recitals of the Conservatory students, in his brief address; and Professor De Marcus Brown spoke on Dramatics. Mr. Brown was also chief speaker at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, this week. His address was on the subject of the "Little Theatre." On the program of the Annual Convention of the California Real Estate Association, we find the name of Dr. Tully C. Knoles, and as a former president of the Rotary Club at San Jose, our College President gave the main address before the Rotary Club here, last Wednesday. This week, also, Miss Lorrain Knoles gave an account of the information secured through a school survey, for the benefit of the High School P. T. A.

Dr. Burcham Leaves For Y Conferences

Dr. Burcham left, last Sunday, for Washington, D. C., to attend the forty-second international convention of the Y. M. C. A. He is going as a delegate representing the Y. M. C. A. organization in the valley regions, from Fresno to Marysville and the east-bay sections.

Dr. Burcham will be one of the principal speakers at the convention. He is a member of the Washington Y. Dr. Burcham is also an alternate delegate to represent this territory in the national council. He will probably join the national council this year. Representation on the national council is the highest office in the national Y. M. C. A., that a layman can attain. The convention extends from the 24th of October to the 29th. Dr. Burcham will be away for three weeks. He will visit the General Education Board (Rockefeller Foundation), in New York, on business for the college. He will visit Pacific Alumni in Chicago, on the way home.

MISS CARTER BACK FROM SECRETARIES' CONFERENCE

Miss Grace Carter, secretary to Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific, has returned from Pasadena, where she attended a conference of appointment secretaries of California teacher-training institutions, among which is the College of the Pacific. The secretaries met in connection with the state convention of the city and county public school superintendents. The appointment secretaries attend to the placement of teachers. Discussion took place on the proposal of a central clearing house for placement of teachers.

Miss Carter is the teacher appointment secretary for Pacific, whose placement bureau has been in existence a year, during which a proposition has been found for everyone who has applied. The service is given free by the college, so that applicants may obtain positions without paying the 5 per cent fee usually charged by the teachers' placement bureaus.

Finished Program Given By Students

A most entertaining program was presented in the chapel hour last Friday by several Conservatory students. It was a varied musical program composed of excellent numbers and was one which appealed greatly to the student-faculty audience.

The first number on the program was a piano solo "Polonaise" by MacDowell, played by Edith Gilbert. Miss Gilbert played her well-chosen number in a very impressive manner.

The announcement that Douglas Beattie was to be the next on the program was greeted by an appreciative gasp which was as feminine as it was noticeable. Mr. Beattie sang "Trade Winds" by Keel, "Romeo in Georgia" by Scott, and Joyce Kilmer's "Trees" with music by Rasbach. As an encore he sang "Keep on Hopin'" by Stanton. Mr. Beattie's pleasing and well-trained baritone voice, his charming interpretations of his songs, and his attractive personality won for him the commendation of all. Although the greeting was entirely feminine, the encore was noticeably supported by the masculine element of the audience.

As the concluding number on the program the Aeolian Trio, composed of Miss Margaret Sloan, violinist; Miss Georgia Pressy, cellist; and Miss Leota Totten, pianist, played a group of three numbers. The group included "Chanson sans Paroles" by Tchaikowski, "Movements Musical" by Schubert, and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" arranged by Bland. This most creditable stringed trio is a new musical organization at Pacific and is a decided asset to the music development of the college.

Pacific DEMPSEY SPEAKS ABOUT PACIFIC

While visiting in Stockton during the past week, Chairman Dempsey of the Congressional Rivers and Harbors Committee, spoke of his impressions of Stockton and the delta. Speaking of the College he said, "My impressions of your city were heightened as I came into Stockton in seeing your College of Pacific. I was impressed by its beauty, but I was

Pacific Statistics By Dr. Knoles

Before the Stockton Rotary Club Dr. Knoles last week disclosed some very interesting and significant facts concerning the college. Dr. Knoles pointed out that the present enrollment is 670 students. He stated that 120 students were denied admission this year because of limited accommodations. This is proving the most popular year in the history of the college.

The student body is representative of forty-seven counties of this state and of nineteen other states and foreign countries or foreign possessions of the United States. There are 331 students from San Joaquin County. Other counties of the state, which, together with San Joaquin, are represented by 636 students, are as follows:

Miss Coman Speaks to Sociology Class

At the invitation of Professor Root, Miss Coman, of the Associated Charities of San Joaquin County, addressed the class in Poverty and Dependency, last Monday. Miss Coman gave a brief resume of the organization and work of the Board since its beginning in 1891. She stated that an average of from seven hundred and fifty to nine hundred persons receive aid from the Board each month, in the form of grocery orders, clothing, fuel, rent, or medical care. The placing of children in boarding homes and the aiding of the ward for old people at the county farm are also included in the numerous activities of the Board.

A brief open forum was held following Miss Coman's talk, during which the students were given an opportunity to ask any questions which they might have concerning this type of work.

FORMER PACIFIC GRAD IS WRITING LIFE OF BENTHAM

A senior at the College of the Pacific in 1920, John Warren Everett is now in England preparing a biography of Jeremy Bentham. Everett has been awarded a fellowship for two years of independent study by Columbia University. The expenses of writing his biographical work are met by the American Council of Social Sciences. The book will probably be completed within his two years of fellowship study.

While a senior at Pacific, Mr. Everett was offered an instructorship in English at Washington University, St. Louis. The summer of the same year he attended the University of Iowa, where the present dean of Pacific's school of education, Dr. J. William Harris, was then teaching, and Mr. Everett obtained his diploma there. He taught for three years at Washington University after winning a fellowship for two years of English, graduate study, and English instructorship at Columbia University. He spent the summer of 1924 in study in England so profitably that he won the commendation of John Dewey, eminent psychologist of Columbia University.

West Memorial

The plans and states that the building is well arranged and designed. Expert advice and assistance on the planning of the infirmary was given by Dr. Broderick, an authority on hospital construction, who is in charge of the building of the Alameda hospital.

Memorial to Pioneers
Mrs. Harriet R. Jackson, the donor of the West Memorial Infirmary, is the daughter of the late George West who came to California in 1850, locating about two miles and a half due east of the present site of the College of the Pacific. This splendid infirmary will stand as a memorial to one of the best known pioneer families of this region. George, William B. and Fred M. West—heads of the families to which the memorial is to be dedicated, were pioneers in the nursery and viticultural industry of California and fathers of raisin culture in the San Joaquin Valley. The West family has long been identified with the best things in San Joaquin's social, civic, industrial, and business life.

doubly impressed when I learned that Stockton alone and single handed had contributed 40 acres of land, and $600,000 in money to aid in building this institution. Few places in my experience have done such a thing. It is marvelous not only for the accomplishment, but for what it means."

DEAN DENNIS SPEAKER AT TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

As one of the principal speakers of the convention of California Teachers' Association, Northern Section, being held at Sacramento October 19-24, Dean Dennis is delivering a group of three lectures. On Wednesday afternoon he addressed the group on "The Value of Music as An Educational Subject." On Thursday, at a special meeting of the music teachers he will lecture twice; his subjects being: "The Relation of Public School Music to the Community," and "The Adolescent Voice."

DR. ALLEN OF U. C. TO BE GUEST OF CLASSICAL CLUB

James T. Allen, head of the Department of Greek, at the University of California, will speak before the newly organized Classical Club, of Stockton, which meets at the home of Dr. Farley, on Friday evening, at 8:15. Mr. Allen's address will be on the "Changing and Unchanging Greece."

STRONG STATERS INVADE STOCKTON

Art Acker's Chico TIGERS GIVE SAGEHENS BATTLE Wildcats No Cinch

REMARKABLE SHOWING OF NORTHERNERS

THIS YEAR, CAUSES WORRY IN TIGER QUARTERS

Feline vs. Feline! Tiger against Wildcat! Never before has such a furry situation presented itself in Stockton in the wild, hungry dash for a pigskin!

The Orange and Black Cat will have its sabers and claws full when it takes on the ferocity of the North, which comes in the form of the Chico State grid eleven. The Wildcats are out for a long desired win.

Chico will never have a better chance to beat Pacific than it will have next Saturday afternoon. With a team of veterans from stem to stern, Coach Acker has pointed his Wildcats all year for this game. He is not backward in predicting that his "thundering herd" has the stuff that will make the Tigers say "uncle."

But Pacific also has no mean outfit, despite its weak spot. There is no harder hitting fullback in the Far Western conference than "Pop" Stoltz, and we use that statement advisedly. In the Nevada game, the smashing game of Righter's fullback stood out above anything on the field. With a good line in front of him, there is no telling what this husky boy from Lone could do. As it is he is one of the bright stars of the team.

Dope favors the Chico boys to win over their ancient athletic rivals by a comfortable margin. When the Chico State team played St. Ignatius at San Francisco two weeks ago the Wildcat players were doped to lose by at least two touchdowns against the seasoned Jesuit outfit. Instead, Coach Acker's Wildcats ripped into the San Francisco team and won the contest on straight football by a score of 23-0.

A week later the Wildcats went to Santa Rosa for the first conference game and the Butte county boys literally smashed the Santa Rosans to pieces, winning 47-0, after all of the Chico substitutes had been sent in for a workout.

St. Ignatius College was defeated by the University of Nevada, 7-0, while the Wolf Pack had little difficulty in beating the Tigers 14-0 last week at Reno. Comparative scores would indicate that St. Ignatius is stronger than College of Pacific, and with Chico's impressive win over the Jesuits in the local boys' first game of the season, there should be little doubt in the minds of fans that Coach Acker has a powerful football machine this year. The University of California Aggies were able only to score a 3-0 victory over the St. Ignatians, which would indicate that Chico State is 20 points stronger than the Aggies.

Should the Wildcats defeat College of Pacific, that will make the Chico State College varsity the strongest eleven in the northern section of the State. The Chico college reserve

SCARED NEVADA

squad has played four games this season without defeat. Coach Acker has been using his reserve men each night in scrimmages against the varsity, thus accounting for the unusual showing of the Wildcats at the start of the season.

The big Tiger weakness, the inability to stop a forward passing attack with any degree of success, will be the big thing that they must overcome this week, as the Wildcats possess one of the nearest passing games in the northern part of the state. In the two opening games against Modesto Juniors and Nevada the greater part of the ground gained by the opposition was by means of the forward pass, and for the most part the Tigers were ineffective in breaking them up.

Last year when the Tigers barely nosed out the Chico eleven in the northern city, 7 to 0, a forward passing attack from Colledge to Spicer continually threatened the Tigers and kept them on the defensive most of the time. It was only through valiant and strenuous efforts that the Staters were kept from a score.

Not only does Chico come with a passing game of some note, but in the person of Johnny Colledge the Teachers have a backfield man that can do most everything, and do it well. Colledge hits the line plenty hard, can circle the ends like a ten flat man, throws a bullet-like pass, and punts with the best of them.

Besides Colledge, the Staters have in the backfield one Spicer, the perpetual quarterback—a very fast man and who shines best on the receiving end of a forward pass. He has plenty of luck grabbing them, but also combines with this a high degree of skill. He often leaves his feet on catching the pass while he is parallel with the ground. According to reports, the Chico Staters have a veteran team, losing only one man, Lee, an end, from last year's team, which won the California Coast Conference championship from Fresno State.

FROSH BASKET MEN TAKE NOTICE

All Freshmen wishing to try out for the freshman basket ball squad meet in the gym at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon, according to an announcement made today by Coach Righter. Although football is still in progress, the new men will be put to work under the supervision of Charles Easterbrook and Marlitt Stark, varsity center and forward, respectively.

This year the freshmen will have a separate team, which will play some of the stronger high schools of the valley and perhaps some lightweight college teams. Graduate Manager Bob Breeden is at work on a schedule for this squad.

According to Coach Righter, every man who knows anything at all about the game is urged to come out. Both Easterbrook and Stark have played two years under Righter's coaching and are well able to handle the new material.

Husky Lodi Squad Noses Out Pacific Seconds

Not until the final period did the powerful Lodi High School Flames gather enough power to beat the Orange and Black "Four Horsemen," when the two football teams met in combat last Friday afternoon on the Tokay turf. The two touchdowns made by the Northern San Joaquin boys came after the local reserves had made a gallant effort to stop the Lodi boys, and the score of 13 to 0 does not indicate much difference in strength between the two squads.

If the Tigers had had two strong halfbacks, the Bengals would have won the hotly contested game. However, considering that Lodi has one of the best prep school aggregations in the state this year, the Tiger showing was not bad. Dutch Stouffer and his courageous bunch held the prep boys throughout the best part of the game.

Nevada's Passing Game Beats Hard Hitting Pacificites

WEARING DOWN EFFECT OF ALTITUDE WEAKENS TIGERS FOR 14-0 LOSS

BUCK SHAW'S ELEVEN FIND BENGALS. NO WEAK SISTER OF F. W. C.

This year's Pacific-Nevada football fracas was not the set-up it was in former years. Nevada, going into the game, slight favorites, had a very difficult time in holding that edge. It was not Nevada's game all the way as the score might lead some to believe, but was rather a see-saw struggle with both rooting sections excitedly awaiting the outcome.

Pacific held the candle the first half. The line held like a rock on the defense, and the Tiger backs were stopping the play continually at the line of scrimmage. After an exchange of punts Pacific took the ball to Nevada's four-yard line and Pacific supporters were clamoring for a touchdown. Stoltz was smashing the Nevada forward wall for consistent gains and six points loomed for the Stockton collegians. But Woods was informed that there were only thirty seconds to go till half time, so he decided to pass. The pass was missed by inches and grounded over the goal line, thus giving the Wolves the ball on their own twenty-yard line. In reality there were two minutes left for play and had Ruben known this it probably would have resulted in a Tiger score.

The second half began almost as a repetition of the first but Nevada began to open up and soon found Pacific's weakness against the forward pass attack. The Wolves completed five out of seven passes and these contributed largely to their score.

The Bengals were not so slow at using the pass themselves. They tried twenty-five and completed ten, thus showing that they have a good aerial attack but a poor defense.

Pop Stoltz played a great game for the Orange and Black. The "Iron Horse" was on time Saturday and smashed and battered the Nevada line in a manner that would do credit to any coast college back. He plugged up the holes in the line and tackled everything with a vengeance.

The big surprise of the day was "Tiny Shenendoah" Corson. The big boy knocked the Nevada line down like nine-pins and was often the first man down under punts. In fact, he twice tackled the safety man in his tracks. He made a long stride toward a steady position at tackle in Saturday's game.

The Sagehens laid for Captain King and when he carried the ball they all sought to prove his merit as a soft cushion or a tackling dummy. That they feared him and were out to get him was apparent from the first time he carried the ball. Consequently, he did not get much chance to show.

The game showed many promises and many weak spots, and Righter will endeavor to eliminate the latter before Saturday's dispute with the Chico Wildcats.

It is hoped that Nevada will be induced to come to Stockton next year and perhaps the Tigers will reverse the score. Every team going to Nevada plays under a strenuous handicap due to the high altitude. A team may show its worth the first half but is usually used up in the second. Therefore it is hoped that the next game may be played under more normal conditions.

No one is downhearted over the defeat and all are working hard to hand the Chico Teachers a severe lacing next Saturday. Be there with a sportsman's mind, a pair of hard-hitting lungs and a rooters' cap.

THE WEST MEMORIAL INFIRMARY

Pacific is the recipient of another invaluable gift, the West Memorial Infirmary. This gift, from Mrs. Harriet R. Jackson, is a fitting memorial to her father and other members of her family who were pioneers in the San Joaquin valley.

Last year there were many illnesses on the campus, some of which were treated in the city hospitals, while others of a less serious nature remained in the dormitories when they should have been segregated. The spread of the contagious flu germs and of colds last year showed that an infirmary was a necessity. The infirmary will be able to give expert medical attention to all students, segregating them from the remainder of the campus, and thus preventing the spread of any contagious diseases.

It is quite possible that a new department may develop in the next few years which would add greatly to the prestige and honor of Pacific. It should not be long before Pacific incorporates a medical school as part of her curriculum. The infirmary is the nucleus around which this new department will grow.

Besides its utility value, the infirmary will be an adornment to the campus. Built of brick, the infirmary will conform to the Collegiate Gothic style of architecture and will add greatly to beautifying the campus.

It seems as if Dr. Knoles' prophecy that the sound of the carpenter's tools would always be heard on this campus is about to come true. No sooner has work been completed on the north side of the campus on the fraternity and sorority group, than work on this new unit will begin.

The thanks of the college go out to Mrs. Jackson, who has made this dream come true.

BE ON THE BLEACHERS SATURDAY

Is Pacific spirit lacking on the bleachers? At the first Varsity game more than a week ago there was a scarcity of men rooters in the rooting section. Rows of vacant seats met the eye of the most casual observer. People are led to believe from this that the students are not supporting the team.

Something should be done about these vacant seats. Every man on the campus who is not playing football should be in the rooting section, presenting a unified front for spectators. If there are not enough men on the campus to fill this space, it should not be reserved for them. Many of the men who should be in the bleachers wander about the field with an air of importance, but who in reality do nothing except show off dirty cords and senior hats. The first conference game to be played here will be this Saturday. Let there be no yawning chasm in the bleachers this week.

A number of friends of Martha Fugate were surprised to hear of her engagement to Rev. Pitman of San Francisco, at an enjoyable dinner last Thursday in the Dining Hall. Ribbons reaching to the individual places disclosed the little triumph of Cupid. Martha, who is a senior and a member of Epsilon Lambda Sigma, has been very active in college affairs.

And so, as the river said, as the beavers started to work, "Well, I'll be dammed!"

The Conservatory was the setting for a parody on Romeo and Juliet's balcony scene the other day when Edith Gilbert talked from one of the windows to Dean Dennis. It was a very distressed Juliet who talked from above, and her words were quite different than those Shakespeare ascribed to her. Edith had just received some advice from Professor Bacon concerning the number she was to play in Chapel the following period, and then Professor Bacon left the room, locking the door after him. After considerable effort, she got Dean Dennis to come to her rescue.

From an editorial in the Quaker Campus, on the race problem, we take the following:

If people would only wake up, study other races, become familiar with their folk-lore, with their ideals, with their love of home life, their appreciation of beauty, understand them and realize that there are other human beings upon this earth besides Americans, or Englishmen, or Germans, or Spaniards; if people could see that humanity has no color line or dead line of any nature, we might then be ready for internationalism and a lasting peace.

College Entrance Less Rigid—Fitness Now Emphasized

In a report on the trend of college entrance requirements, issued by the United States Bureau of Education, Harry C. McKown of the University of Pittsburgh brings out the fact that although college entrance requirements in this country are becoming less rigid as regards to the kind and amount of preparatory work necessary, more attention is being given to general intelligence and to moral and physical fitness.

The original requirement was an examination. Today, according to Professor McKown, academic entrance requirements are far more liberal, although the selective process going on in colleges is really tightening up, a condition largely due to the increase in the number of students going to college.

The old-time examination plan has been supplanted by nine other plans which are now in general use. The two outstanding developments in college requirements, are, in Professor McKown's estimation, the adoption of the so-called "comprehensive examination" plan of admission, which has been called by Dean Briggs, "Harvard's most important act in many years," combined with examination as an entrance requirement, the candidate's former school record. This lessened the emphasis which has been placed on examinations and gave students from the country at large a chance to enter.

Although entrance requirements vary somewhat according to the sections of the country in which the colleges are located, Professor McKown found that there seems to be a general agreement as to the amount of English and mathematics that is required. The New England colleges require social science slightly more often than do colleges in other sections, whereas natural science is required more frequently by colleges in western and north-central states than by those in New England and the middle states. In the East and South Latin is much more often an entrance requirement for the A. B. degree than in other sections.

Colleges in all sections show decreases in the percentage of degrees requiring two foreign languages for entrance, whereas in all sections there is an increase in the percentage allowing unrestricted choice.

Eccentric Night Prowler Visits Faculty Homes

Prowling night visitors, unhinged doors, a stolen pie, footprints in the dew, are all evidences of a thrilling night in the Manor. No one can say that the days of adventure are over, that a deep mystery could not be found right here near our own campus. Some budding detective might take it upon himself to find out who it is, and why it is, he might take a little glass and follow those trails. He might need some information concerning the happening so here it is.

Someone has been interested in visiting the home of Dean Dennis, but he has taken great care not to announce his visits. The first one was this past summer when no one was at home, and several suits were taken. Last Sunday morning Mrs. Dennis discovered that the back door had been removed, and upon further investigation it was then found that a shaving brush and a pair of pliers were missing. He (the visitor) had probably unfastened the back screen door, unhinged the back door, and propped about the house. He went to the room that he had robbed during the summer, but took nothing but a shaving brush. Then he must have gone to the garage, for a pair of pliers was gone. Something must have frightened him for he had dropped a few things. No silver or jewels were touched, and no one can decide why he makes such strange robberies.

This person was perhaps the same one who removed a pie from Mrs. Corbin's back porch, the same evening. Anyway we hope that he had a good feed and shave.
