PRESS CLUB OF CHICAGO

Dec. 19, 1895.

Professor John Muir:

My dear Sir--

I do not know whether you will remember me or not; but I met you once in 1889 at the house of Mr. Swett in San Francisco, and was introduced to you by his lovely daughter Emily, since deceased.

My table last summer had on it your interesting book, "The Mountains of California," of which I made a notice and from which I made extracts, which I inclose to you, thinking you might like to see them.

Very respectfully yours,

Earl Marble
