My dear Muir:

I do not for the life of me understand your reference to the trouble in Washington about the Yosemite Park boundary. I am sure that Pinchot or Senator Perkins could put you on the track of the facts and would be much more likely to do so for you than for me.

I am waiting eagerly to hear of the passage of the Recession bill, after which I hope to write a Recessional in the spirit of Kipling.

Thank you very much for the inclosures. You are fighting a big fight and I wish I were in it, but it is altogether best that I have nothing to do with it—at least on the surface.

Faithfully yours,

Mr. John Muir,
Martinez, Cal.

Owen's book starts off well with a lot of complimentary letters from authors. Some time when you are in San Francisco kindly ask how it is going there at the book stores.
