

John Muir Correspondence (PDFs)

---

1906-02-16

Letter from Morten P. Porsild to John Muir, 1906 Feb 16.

Morten P. Porsild

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

---

Recommended Citation

Porsild, Morten P., "Letter from Morten P. Porsild to John Muir, 1906 Feb 16." (1906). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 3486.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/3486>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

DEN DANSKE ARKTISKE STATION.
DISKO, GRØNLAND.

d. febr. 16th 1906.

Sir,

In the summer of the present year a permanent Station for the Study of Arctic Science will be established on the South-coast of Disco-Island in Danish West-Greenland. The cost of the foundation is defrayed by a gift from Mr. A.HOLCK, Counsellor of Justice, of Copenhagen, and the Danish Government has promised an annual grant of kroner 10.000 ( £ 600 ) towards its maintenance.

A laboratory, equipped with appliances and instruments, especially for biological researches, will be attached to the Station, and work-places will be furnished for visiting naturalists, Foreign as well as Danish. The establishment of two such places is contemplated at present. The visitors will obtain the free use of the instruments, travelling outfit and library of the Station; lodging will be free and a small fee will be charged only for board. Cheap fare to and from the Station, via Copenhagen will be provided. The first visitors can be received in 1907, and notices, inviting application, will be issued in due course.

03695

Greenland

A Library of Arctic Literature is to be founded at the Station and to be made as complete as possible, but in view of the limited resources of the Station and the vastness of the arctic literature, only a small proportion of it can be purchased. As the designed leader of the Station, I venture to ask you therefore, to be good enough to come to its assistance by giving to its library such Works on Arctic (and Antarctic) Nature, and especially on Arctic Biology as you may have published or are going to publish in the future. The publications of the Station will, of course, be sent to you in return, and the Station and its leader will be glad to render you any service in our power.

In view of the arrangements to be made for the purchase of books, I would be very grateful to you, if you would inform me at the earliest possible date, whether the present appeal from the Danish Arctic Station will have the favour of your kind consideration.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient Servant

Morten P. Rossild

Preliminary Address: (to May 1st)

C o p e n h a g e n, S.

D e n m a r k.